

FIGHT IN COURT AGAINST SCHEME

Removal of "Red Light" District
To West Side Will Be Resisted.

SEEKING RESTRAINING ORDER.

Property Owners in Neighborhood
Employ Counsel to Upset Plans of Citizens' Investment Company.

The crusade against the removal of the so-called "red light district" to the west side, is now in the courts. Saturday afternoon a complaint was filed in the Third district court protesting against the buildings that have been erected and others contemplated in the region bounded by First and Second South and Fourth and Fifth West streets, designed as homes for fallen women. The complaint is signed by John Lloyd, administrator of the estate of William J. Lloyd, the Commercial Savings Bank company, David R. Parry, D. M. Parry, T. Parry and Mary A. Schraven, and the defendants named are Dora P. Topham, M. M. Wolinger, Emil Pichard, Alfred Bowles, C. E. Raybould and the Citizens' Investment company.

After describing the property owned by some of the complainants the brief set forth that the block described above is intended as a "red light district." Such a condition would greatly deprecate adjoining property, say the plaintiffs, and render it unfit as residences of respectable people. A restraining order is asked for by complainants, and it is requested that defendants be compelled to show cause why they should not be enjoined from using the property on the block indicated for the alleged purposes. The attorneys for the plaintiffs are Powers & Marleneaux, Moyle & Van Cott and E. C. Ashton.

INTIMIDATION CHARGED.

Witnesses in Murder Trial Said to Have Been Warned.

A sensation seemed imminent in the Marovich murder case Saturday morning, but it turned out to be a tempest in a teapot. The defense complained that Judge Armstrong had friends of Popovich, the victim of Marovich's revolver, had intimidated or endeavored to intimidate witnesses in the corridor of the building. Upon the opening of court at 10 o'clock, Judge Armstrong excused the jury from the room and made an investigation of the charges.

One of the men complained of was John Zoromani, who had previously testified in behalf of the state. It was claimed that he had used rather violent language against men who warned him to give evidence in behalf of the accused. The other man who was said to have intimidated witnesses was John G. Walskstein. The latter sits close to the attorneys for the state and acts as their "coach" in the way of interpreter. It was alleged that he had warned one witness not to tell too much on the stand or he would be in jail. Walskstein was put upon the stand to explain his conduct. He said that he had merely told the witness in question that he was a jailbird, and should be on the stand to have anything to say. Zoromani made explanation that he had been discussing the situation with a member of the opposing faction when he had used rather strong language in expressing his opinion. In other words his offense consisted of swearing at the other man.

Judge Armstrong warned both the

Poor Tools And A Good Worker

That Is What Makes Indigestion
Dyspepsia, Sour Taste, Foul
Breath and Catarrh.

The stomach is a good strong vital organ, which is constantly protecting and feeding every other organ of the body.

It is the most abused, neglected and scorned member of man also. Most men abuse their stomach with undercooked food, high living, alcohol, tobacco, pastries and scores of other unhealthy practices.

When the stomach at last sickens of all this abuse and cannot do its full duty, most men are not warned but in the midst of the trouble they strike back and cry for help. Man by his own abuse has taken away from the stomach the tools to work with. These tools are the gastric juices which go to make up the digestive agents. From 7 to 35 pounds of gastric juice are turned into the stomach every day.

When poor poisonous food consumes this juice, dilutes it, robs it of its strength and throws it out, the result is indigestion, of course there is just that much of the gastric fluid which cannot be readily supplied by the blood.

When food comes into a stomach filled with depleted fluids lacking of power to do their part, the good strong stomach is using poor tools and, of course, cannot succeed in its work. A condition which often prevails is that which takes place when the gastric juice contains too much alkali. If the juice were wholly alkaline it would not only fail to digest the food but would eat and digest the stomach itself. Such gastric fluid does the digestion no good and the walls of the stomach making them raw and sore and setting up inflammation and irritation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will strengthen a stomach filled with poor gastric juice. They will remove any abnormal alkaline condition, allay irritation, sweeten the breath, remove catarrhal conditions and act as a tonic to the stomach as acted before.

These little tablets contain an ingredient, one grain of which will first perfectly 3,000 grains of food. They will digest an entire meal placed in a jar without the aid of any other force except themselves. They have demonstrated this time after time in stock. Price 50c, and 40,000 physicians use them in their practice. Send us your name and address and we will mail you at once a trial package free. Address: F. A. TEMPORARILY ORDER ISSUED.

By a decision rendered by Judge Morse in the case of the New State club against Perry E. Birmingham, et al., a temporary restraining order was issued, preventing defendants from passing up or down Jordan river on any land owned or leased by the gun club. Defendants are further restrained from erecting "blinds" upon the lake fronting the lands of the plaintiff at such places on the lake where boats will be moored or where they are compelled to pull or push boats in the mud. A bond was fixed in the sum of $1,000.

Defendants' counsel argued that any one might lawfully pass up and down a stream, such as the Jordan, but the court held that the stream is not properly navigable, and that stream and its banks do not come under the terms of the law governing navigable waters.

SUPREME COURT OPINION.

An opinion handed down by the supreme court Saturday directs that the default and judgment in the case of Max M. Aaron against O. S. Holmes be set aside and that defendant be permitted to answer.

Aaron secured a default judgment against Holmes for the sum of $1,000 for alleged wrongful ejectment from the premises known as 112 East Second South. Defendant afterwards asked that the judgment be vacated on the ground that the default occurred inadvertently, but the lower court, presided over by Judge Lewis, refused to set aside the default.

SUGAR WARD CONFERENCE.

Annual Gathering of Members Yesterday—Change in Bishopric.

The annual conference of the Sugar House ward was held in the assembly rooms, commencing at 10 a. m., yesterday. Present were Elder Francis M. Lyman, President Frank Y. Taylor and Counselor John M. Cannon of the stake presidency, and the following members of the high council: Wm. Bradford, Tobie Felkin, Harry Matthews, Theodore Tobison, Joseph W. Musser, Wm. Butterworth, Arthur P. Cummings, Edward H. Anderson and Stake Clerk Wm. McEwan. All the visiting elders attended the conference. The conference was held at the stake, after which they, together with all ward officers and auxiliary officers met in the Assembly hall.

The services in the afternoon commencing at 2 p. m. were conducted by Bishop John M. Whitaker. The choir under the direction of Edward H. Anderson, Jr., and the congregation sang. Prayer was offered by Patriarch James McGhee. The choir sang, "When dark and drear the skies appear."

Counselor John M. Cannon spoke briefly of the benefits of cultivating the spirit of the gospel, the gospel of freedom. William Bradford spoke up on the responsibility resting upon parents and the latter spoke of the splendid opportunities afforded for instructions in quorum work. Elder William H. Thompson rendered a violin solo followed by Joseph W. Musser who spoke on the Word of Wisdom and his pleasure in laboring among the lesser priesthood of the stake.

Stake Clerk William McEwan spoke upon the proper method of record keeping and then presented the general, stake and ward authorities, all of whom were unanimously sustained.

An important change in the ward occurred. Elder John Varley, formerly first counselor to Bishop Whitaker, took his transfer to West Bountiful, and John R. Smith, formerly second counselor, was set apart as the meeting place. Elder Francis M. Lyman, of the stake, and Elder Walter J. Burton, son of the late Bishop Robert T. Burton, was selected and set apart as second counselor by Elder Francis M. Lyman.

Elder Nichol Hood, who had been the energetic chairman of the amusement committee, tendered his resignation, and in accepting same a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him for his services. The selection of a new amusement committee was left for later consideration. Elder H. Anderson, Jr., rendered a song entitled "Oh Shining Light," assisted by the choir. President Frank Y. Taylor spoke of the many pleasant remembrances in Sugar House ward, where he formerly lived in early years to make his home. He especially urged the parents to care for their sons and daughters as the greatest treasure of earth, and to strictly observe the Word of Wisdom.

The anthem, "Home of Our Youth," composed by Elder Edward H. Anderson, was rendered by the choir, after which Elder Francis M. Lyman delivered a most effective and splendid address on the observance of the Word of Wisdom, the proper observance of the Sabbath day and fidelity to God and the truth. After the closing anthem by the choir the benediction was pronounced by Theodore Tobison.

SYMPHONY IN REHEARSAL.

Fifty-six members of the Salt Lake Symphony orchestra participated in yesterday afternoon's rehearsal at the Salt Lake Theater, where the program included one movement from the Beethoven "Emperor" concerto, Nivins "Rosary," Rubinstein's "Melody in F," a movement from "Mme. Butterfly," and the Prelude to "Lohengrin." The orchestra did good work, winning repeated applause from friends who were present to listen. Prof. McClellan conducted. Spencer Skelton concert pianist, and George Skelton concertmaster. The instrumentation present was 12 first and 10 second violins, four violas, four cellos, five stringed basses, one horn, one trumpet, three slide trombones, four French horns, one tuba, tympani and drums.

A feature was a short talk given by Mr. Sontag, first viola of the Chicago in the city. He expressed his pleasure at having had the opportunity to listen to the Salt Lake Symphony orchestra, and hoped the musicians would continue in well doing. The presence of such an organization is a help in the education of any community, and as such, it properly called for the support and encouragement of the business men of the city. It was announced that, if possible next Sunday afternoon's rehearsal would be held in the Colonial Theater; otherwise it would be held in the Salt Lake Theater.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, WHO CHANCED TO BE

HORSETHIEF CAPTURED.

"Tex" Brown, Leader of Notorious Gang, Landed in Colorado.

"Tex" Brown, head of a notorious and daring band of horse thieves which has been operating in eastern Utah and western Colorado for some time past, was captured near Grand Junction, Colorado, by Sheriff Schraeder and Under Sheriff Wallace. The capture was made Nov. 10. The Grand Junction Sentinel of Nov. 11 contains the following account of the capture: "A few days ago the sheriff's office in this city received a letter from the sheriff at Vernal, Utah, stating that two or three men and a boy, the leader being 'Tex' Brown, quite a notorious character from all accounts, had been detected in the act of rounding up a band of horses and ponies on the White river. These ponies and horses had evidently been originally branded with some kind of a brand of which three links were component parts. However, the Vernal officers charge, the men who had rounded up the horses and ponies, had burned a bar across the three links, in order to deface the brand and to blot the brands out. It was thought that there were about 15 animals in the bunch, every one of which, it is alleged, had been stolen."

"The officers here were asked to keep a watch out for the animals and the men."

"Yesterday afternoon Under Sheriff Wallis noticed some suspicious looking individuals with some suspicious looking horses, and he kept a watch on them under surveillance. Today he arrested the men, after examining the horses and having confirmed his suspicions to the effect that the animals were the ones that had been rounded up on White river and driven from that country. He tracked the men to their camp on the desert near the city and took possession of the 15 horses they had. Every horse bore the mutilated 'three links' brand, and every one of the brands gave evidence of having just recently been mutilated or burned over."

"The big band of horses was taken to the Free corral for keeping and the two men men and the boy, the latter only about 15 years of age, are in jail. The Vernal sheriff was notified and he wires that he has started for Grand Junction to get the men and the horses."

"One of the men admitted that his name is 'Tex' Brown. The two men claim that the horses and ponies are rightfully theirs."

AUTOINTOXICATION FATAL.

Autointoxication is the name of a strange disease physicians pronounced as the cause of the death of Ellen Maria Gustafson, aged 25 years, of 17 West Seventh South street at 6 o'clock last evening.

The young woman has been afflicted with the peculiar disease for about two years and in her condition at times bled and vomited. She was taken to the Groves L. D. S. hospital about three weeks ago and was treated by an osteopath. In spite of all that could be done for her there was no improvement in her condition.

According to the physicians, auto-intoxication is a peculiar disease. It is a poison caused by the accumulation of toxin generated within the body.

Miss Gustafson lived with her sisters Annelia, Christina and Ida Gustafson. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Thirtieth ward meetinghouse.

SCALPER LANDS IN JAIL.

James Wagner, aged 24 years, was arrested yesterday afternoon in front of the Orpheum theater on the charge of ticket scalping. It is alleged that he had 25 cent tickets for which he asked 50 cents. The management has been greatly annoyed by this practice of late and reported the matter to the police.

SMASHES THINGS IN JAIL.

A woman named Nancy McDonald was placed under arrest for drunkenness yesterday afternoon and locked up in a cell. When she recovered sufficiently to learn where she was she proceeded to smash everything in the cell that was smashable. With a broom she broke the window, smashed the plate and then proceeded to break up the iron cot by battering one with the other. The woman was placed in a cell where there was nothing to break.

FIND THE LID TILTED.

A saloon at 146 west Second South street was raided by the police yesterday afternoon. They received a tip that the lid had been pried off and Detectives Schulze and Wheeling raided the place. A porter refused to admit the officers but they finally succeeded in getting into the place and placing the bartender and five others under arrest.

WANT NEW LAWS FOR THE COURT

Meeting Held Saturday Brings
Out Need for Improvement.

BELIEVE AGE LIMIT HIGH

Sixteen Years Instead of Eighteen
Thought to be a More Reasonable Line of Jurisdiction.

The meeting announced for Saturday in the interest of legislation affecting juvenile courts, convened at 3 o'clock on that day. Owing to the fact that there had been some misapprehension as to the hour of starting, the attendance was not as large as hoped for and expected. Those present, however, felt that an impetus had been given to the movement looking to needed amendments and additions to the statutes governing juvenile jurisdiction.

Governor-elect William Spry was chairman of the meeting. Short addresses were delivered by Judge A. A. Noon of Provo, County Attorney-elect Job P. Lyon and Judge E. G. Gowans. The first speaker was of the opinion that the age limit for juvenile court jurisdiction is too high, so far as it pertains to boys. He thought it should be 16 years, rather than 18. The establishment of a detention home in each district was strongly urged by Judge Noon.

The success of the probation system in New Zealand, New York and Massachusetts was referred to by Mr. Lyon. In New Zealand all persons under 30 years of age who offend against the law are placed under probation, and the result is that 95 per cent of wrongdoers are reclaimed. The success in New York and Massachusetts runs almost to the same percentage.

Judge Gowans was of the opinion that the state is less interested in looking to the moral training of boys and girls than it is in directing them in a material way. The appropriations for the first named phase, he said, are most meager as compared with the money advanced along the other lines. In other words it seemed to be of more value and importance to teach a boy how to feed pigs and measure the barn than to feed him the higher ways of life.

It was the consensus of the opinion of those present at the meeting that another session should be held between now and the convening of the legislature, and it was left with the clerk of the juvenile court board to arrange for such a gathering.

ROBBED BY HIS QUARRY.

Canadian Police Sergeant Suffers Peculiar Mishap.

The unique experience of being robbed by a member of a gang which he was seeking to break up, is that which befell Sergeant Major T. C. Jones of the Canadian police.

While on duty at the Ogden Jail, the identification papers, the fugitive's warrant and $175 in cash went with the thief.

For some time the mounted police have been engaged in breaking up a gang of desperate horse thieves, headed by a man named Leaven. The latter was arrested some time ago and was taken to the Ogden Jail. He was released after a few days, and was seen to be carrying a gun. He was seen to be carrying a gun. He was seen to be carrying a gun.

Upon arriving at the jail his valise was tampered with and the papers and money had been stolen. He felt certain that he had been watched by the number of the gang and that at the first opportunity he was robbed.

A man giving the name of Miles Gibson was arrested on suspicion of being a thief but after being questioned he was released, the police concluding they had made a mistake. Jones has sent for new papers and will continue the search for Murray.

AMUSEMENTS.

The man who doubts whether Salt Lake's reputation as a great show town is on the wane, would have done well to take a run about town Saturday night, as a member of the "News" staff did. He would have found at the theater a packed house, applauding Rose Stahl; at the Orpheum he would have witnessed people turning away from the box office disappointed at not being able to get a standing room; at the Grand there was a similar crush; at the Lyric the same story, and at every one of the eight or ten moving picture palaces, the sidewalks were crowded with people waiting for a chance to get inside. Added to all these, there were several thousand people who paid admission to the football game in the afternoon, and it can be set down as certain that Salt Lake's bill for amusements on Saturday amounted to a stupendous figure.

MILLER IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

Ex-Convict in the Toils in Butte for Robbery.

Bert Miller, well known to the police here, and who served a year in the state prison with Harry Lefloy for stealing brass from the O. S. L. company, is in trouble again at Butte. Miller, alias Lambert, was released from prison about a year ago and after hanging about Salt Lake for some time went to Butte, where he secured employment with a railway company. It seems that he got up to his old tricks and is in jail again. The Butte Inter-Mountain has the following to say about Miller:

"Another of the alleged gang of robbers who have been operating in and around this city for some time was captured in Missoula this morning by Police Lieut. Sinsel in the person of Tom Lambert, alias Bert Miller, alias T. J. Lambert. About one week ago William Gagnon, alias T. W. Smith, was arrested in this city with a loaded gun in his possession and Judge McGowan fined him $50 or 59 days in the city jail. The day following Smith's conviction Lambert disappeared, and then Lieut. Sinsel and Detective Williams, who had been shadowing him, took possession of Smith's room in the Stough block, on Utah avenue, and discovered enough wearing apparel of various kinds to convince them that Lambert and Smith knew all about the robberies committed through the breaking into freight cars of the Oregon Short Line and Great Northern railways."

"Both men are crooks of the first water," said Detective Joe Williams this morning. "This man Lambert, arrested by Sinsel this morning, is an ex-convict, having served time in the Utah state prison on a charge of grand larceny. In addition to the goods recovered in the room in the Stough block a large quantity of wearing apparel stolen from freight cars has been recovered by Sinsel and Williams under the platform near the Northern Pacific railway depot, all belonging to either the Connell or Hennessy stores. They have traced Smith to seven different blocks in this city, where he roomed for a short time in each."

"There are two women in the case," continued Williams, and they are both in Butte, Ida. There is no doubt in my mind that when they quit Butte they carried away with them a large quantity of the stolen goods. A short time ago I made a trip to Park City, Idaho, and also recovered some of the stolen property."

"Lambert has been employed as a switchman on the Great Northern and also the Northern Pacific railways, and is well known about the city."

TAMALE CAUSES TROUBLE.

Because a soldier took a tamale from his Commercial street stand yesterday afternoon, Gus Kauromonos seized a revolver and blazed away at the soldier. The bullet went wild but nearly struck George Spencer, who was walking along the street on Second South street. Pauline L. D. Lyon heard the shot and ran quickly to Commercial street, where he saw Kauromonos flourishing the gun. He placed the fellow under arrest on the charge of firing firearms within the city limits.

WAIVES REQUISITION.

Oliver Bates, the Idaho rancher from Burley, has been taken back to that place to answer to the charge of abducting 17-year-old Nettie Walker. Saturday night the man returned in charge of Sheriff Brackenbury, and the troubles of the latter have ceased so far as the Bates case is concerned.
