

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 11.

Another Bereavement.

It will be observed by notice elsewhere that Brother and Sister Brown have been bereaved by the death of another child, a sweet little girl. This is the fifth out of six of Brother Brown's children or his present wife that has passed away, the only survivor being a little boy. With other friends of the family we tender our sincere sympathy.

The North Bound Excursion.

The excursion from Salt Lake, Provo, Ogden, Park City, etc., to points in Northern Utah and Southern Idaho, went north this morning. It numbered about 450 persons, making it the largest excursion of the season. Messrs. Baxter and Buckle conducted it. They were accompanied by their wives. No doubt all participating will thoroughly enjoy themselves.

Ogden and the Depot.

And now it is stated on what seems good authority that the Ogden people will not get that union depot for which they have yearned so long and which they have been promised so often. If this should actually be the case, it is a piece of faith-breaking that has rarely been equaled in the business circles of this community. The construction of permanent houses at Ogden by the Transcontinental roads would do much to attract and retain investors there, whereas their refusal to do so will be construed as an announcement that the terminal of the roads are not to remain where they are and those who intended investing will hold back.

From Australia.

Yesterday Elder Andrew Corey, of Cedar City, Iron County, reached this city on his return from a mission to Australia. He left Utah on the 5th of January last and landed first in New Zealand, but being appointed to labor in Australia he proceeded to Melbourne, and labored in that vicinity until released. His health was very poor, and on this account he was honorably released to return home. His companion was Elder John L. Blythe, President of the Australian Mission, and the two baptized six persons while laboring together. They encountered some opposition, the people of that section being very prejudiced. A few, however, show a spirit of inquiry. Elder Corey's health is still very poor. He will proceed homeward to-day.

Bad Luck.

Green River seems to be an unlucky place for the Union Pacific lately, says the Boomerang. A few evenings ago the second section of train 21 ran into the rear end of the first section, three miles east of Green River. In some way the engine attached to the first section was damaged, and it was uncoupled from the train while being fixed. It then started down the grade on its own hook at a terrific gait. A fireman at Green River saw it coming, threw a switch and sidetracked it, its forty miles an hour speed being checked by the opposition of several locomotives that stood in the yard. The passenger train was just due from the west and but for the timely action of the fireman would have come in collision with the wild engine and probably caused a loss of life.

A Curfew Ordinance.

Provo is wrestling with the curfew ordinance question, as we learn from the Inquirer. The following bill was introduced at the last session of the City Council:

"SEC. 1.—Be it ordained by the City Council of Provo City, that it shall be unlawful for any male person under 16 years of age, or female person under 14 years of age, to be found on the streets or public grounds of this city after the hour of 9 p. m. and before 5 a. m. of any day without the written consent of his or her parent or guardian, unless in company or under the charge of some suitable person with the knowledge and consent of such parent or guardian.

SEC. 2.—Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of an offense and liable to a fine of not more than five dollars or imprisonment not to exceed five days."

Salt Lake took up the question once, but dropped it because it was deemed infeasible.

HUNTED DOWN.*A Leadville Desperado Compelled to Throw Up His Hands.

A special to the Denver News dated Leadville, Col., August 8th, says: After a desperate running fight in which a number of shots were exchanged between the fugitive and the sheriff's posse, Dan Pickens, the fellow who attempted to murder the boarding house keeper, was captured and placed in jail this evening. Pickens' exploits within the last forty-eight hours show him up as a merciless desperado. Not satisfied with his murderous assault on William Brinker, he went to McWilliams' ranch on the Arkansas River and with a weapon, the contents of which had been emptied, beat that gentleman over the head until the latter escaped and sought protection in a neighboring cabin. Shortly after this he took possession of Tom Murphy's ranch where Sheriff Lampking and Captain Flood found him about 10 o'clock Sunday. Rushing from the cabin he opened a running fire, that was responded to until his disappearance in the timber. Previous to that time he had attempted the murder of Mr. Gale, a ranchman, for his horses, by which he expected to effect his escape. About 2 o'clock this morning Sheriff Lampking, Marshal Phelps and a party armed with Winchester's renewed the search, and finally overtook Pickens near the Clark ranch. He had discarded his weapons, and throwing up both hands, surrendered without resistance to his captors.

TUNNEL FINISHED.*Heavy Piece of Work in a Pioneer Settlement.

The following letter from Jos. Evans, dated Muddy, Emery County, August 6th, tells of the completion of an important enterprise:

There have been many anxious eyes looking this way to see the water run through the wonderful 1,240 foot tunnel, made by poor men through solid rock, which is now completed. The water passes through it to-day at 12 o'clock, flowing out on a beautiful tract of fertile soil. We have lost some labor on account of poor judgment, but nevertheless we have accomplished the object and are sure to win the prize by our industry and perseverance. Our big dam proved a failure, after which we went to work with better judgment and made the canal in another place only having to flume about 100 feet over a wash. The cost has been less than one-fifth what the dam cost. We think our experiment in making a

FISH POND 35 FEET DEEP.

In loose soil, will last us into eternity. There are some who have labored and accumulated several shares of stock in the canal more than they need and will sell at a reasonable figure to those who come here and desire to settle with us. Facilities for fruit and grain raising are excellent. "Muddy Creek" is not an appropriate name; "Clear Creek" would be more so. But there are so many "Clear Creeks" in the Territory, and we have not yet decided what to name our city. There are upwards of 75 men interested in the canal.

We have a full civil and ecclesiastical organization. Our canal is incorporated and we have a full board of live officers, the right men in the right place. We see no reason who we should not succeed.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 12.

Crops in Bear Lake Valley.

A communication from Lake Town, Rich County, states that harvesting commenced there on Saturday last. Crops in that section were never earlier, and they are tolerably good. It is thought they will be harvested in time to escape the early frosts. Some of the grain is a little shrunken, but, as our correspondent remarks, it beats the frost-bitten article.

Hopt Buried.

Yesterday afternoon the body of Fred. Hopt was brought down from the penitentiary and placed in Wm. Skewes' undertaking establishment. There the face was uncovered, and all who were curious to get a glimpse of the dead body were permitted to do so. Hundreds of people reviewed the remains. At 10 o'clock this morning the corpse was conveyed to the Catholic cemetery, where it was interred by instruction of the officers of the Roman Catholic Church, into whose hands it had been given.

Before the execution there was considerable talk about the body being turned over to the doctors, but Hopt, having an idea that such a thing was possible, requested Mr. Hamilton to prevent it, and see that the remains were decently interred outside of the prison walls.

A Boy Hurt.

The festivities of the Odd Fellows at Lake Park yesterday, were marred by what, for a time, looked like a fatal accident. Among the sports was, it appears, a sort of race, in which the contestants were required to run up an inclined plane on to a platform from ten to fifteen feet above the ground, leap from it to the ground, and then run on. A boy named Alma D. Williams, aged fourteen years, but small for his age, entered the race. He ran on to the platform, but fell from it, instead of leaping, to the ground. He was picked up in an unconscious state, and it was some time before animation was restored. A physician present made an examination and found that there were no broken nor dislocated bones. The boy was, however, severely shaken up, the whole of one side of his face was scratched and contused, and his right wrist was badly sprained. A collection was made for him, aggregating about $25. He is up and around, but suffers considerably from his wrist.

Injured by a Runaway.

Late yesterday afternoon as E. N. Phelps, a jewelry agent from Salt Lake City, was driving along a short distance below Logan River bridge in a single horse rig, a pin which holds the shafts to the front axle broke, and let the shafts down on one side, causing the horse to run away. He was thrown from the buggy, and in falling, his leg caught in the wheel and he was dragged some distance. A number of serious gashes and wounds were made on his head, while his body was also bruised in a number of places. He got free from the buggy and arose, but was so stunned that on regaining his feet he fell to the ground again. Presently he managed to get up, and washed his head in some water near by, and was soon after found and taken to the People's Hotel in a buggy. His wounds were dressed and he was made quite comfortable. The horse ran a short distance and it became tangled in the harness until it could run no further. It was secured soon after, and the shafts and harness were found to be badly damaged. This was the only loss.—Utah Journal, Aug. 10.

The Latest Railroad Rumor.

Railroad rumors are rampant now-a-days. The latest is one not altogether congenial to Ogden people, says the Herald; that paper, however, is not prepared to give it any authenticity, although its informant is a responsible person; it only records it as a matter of news. The report is that the Union Pacific Railroad Company intends to make Evanston the distributing point for the Union Pacific; to run a new line across by Park City into Salt Lake, thence by a southern route on to the Pacific Coast. From Ogden to Evanston an accommodation train will be run. The gentleman says that as all the large fall shipments to Ogden are in, there will be no hurry in the matter of the new depot, and the promise about something being done in the sweet bye and bye, etc., will be made. The gentleman through whom the report comes also says that two railroads coming from the east to connect with the C. P. will undoubtedly be the builders of the depot, and recommend that any changes not for the good of Ogden should be watched vigilantly, and shippers should govern themselves accordingly.

Held For Forgery.

George Carney, the stock broker who was arrested for forgery a few days ago, in endorsing the name of C. S. Springer on some mining stock, had an examination before Commissioner Norrell to-day. The evidence for the prosecution showed that Carney had received the certificate of stock, which was not endorsed, and that a few days after he disposed of it to O. P. Arnold, with Mr. Springer's name endorsed on it. Mr. Springer denied having signed his name. The defense then sought to prove that Carney had received power of attorney from Springer to affix the signature, but it was shown that his authority only reached to the transfer of the stock from Mr. Springer to Dr. Dart, either by having it endorsed by the former or issued direct to the latter. The evidence revealed the fact that neither of these steps had been taken by Carney, and instead of turning the stock over to Dr. Dart, he had disposed of it to Mr. Arnold. The Commissioner ruled that there was probable cause to believe Carney guilty of forgery, and fixed his bail at $500. In default of sureties he was sent to the penitentiary.

Thrown from a Buggy.

Last Saturday as Mrs. Carrie Robinson was driving in a buggy near the Deseret Flour Mills, the horse became frightened and quickly unmanageable. It dashed across the bridge over the canal in that locality and into the creek. The buggy was tipped over, and it is certainly a wonder that the affair did not result more serious. The inmate of the buggy were, the lady mentioned, her little baby, Miss Rachel and little Johnnie Edwards. They were thrown against the dashboard, breaking it, and out into the water. The baby was very nearly drowned, and had it not been for the prompt action of two or three men near by, it certainly would have been. Upon hearing the alarm given by Mrs. Robinson they immediately went to her assistance and seizing the baby held it up to let the water run from its stomach, and took other measures to bring it to its senses and were presently repaid by seeing it assume its natural condition. It had swallowed more than a pint of water, it is said. Mrs. Robinson and Miss Edwards were assisted out of the creek and the horse was secured, while the irrepressible little Johnnie crawled out from under the buggy with the utmost composure. Both ladies sustained a number of bruises, Mrs. Robinson having a severe one on her arm, and all were dripping wet. The only damage done the buggy was the breaking of the dashboard.—Utah Journal, August 10.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

Text Books and their Prices for District Schools.

County Superintendent of Schools, Wm. M. Stewart, requests us to publish the following:

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF SCHOOLS, SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, August 2d, 1887.

To the School Officers, Teachers and Public of Utah Territory:

At the School Book Convention, held at Salt Lake City, June 20 to 22, 1887:

the following text books were adopted for use in the District Schools for the period of five years:

Bancroft's Readers.

Harper's Spelling Blanks, Nos. 1 and 2.
Scribner's Geographical Readers.
Duff's Common School Book-keeping.

Parry's Supplements for School and Home Reading.
First Steps in Scientific Knowledge.
Hooker's Child's Book of Nature.
The terms of exchange and introduction of the books adopted are as follows, viz:

Bancroft's Readers are to be exchanged even for the corresponding numbers of the Independent Series of Readers.

In case the pupils have no Independent Readers to exchange, they are to be supplied with the Bancroft Series, during the time agreed upon for introduction, at the following rates:

Bancroft's First Reader, 10 cts.
Bancroft's Second Reader, 20 cts.
Bancroft's Third Reader, 25 cts.
Bancroft's Fourth Reader, 35 cts.
Bancroft's Fifth Reader, 45 cts.
Harrington's Spellers, Parts 1. and 11., complete, will be given in even exchange for Watson's Independent Speller; and the introductory price of the same is 15 cts.

Appleton's Geographies were simply re-adopted, and the publishers agree to give the Territory the benefit of any reduction in price which may be made during the period covered by the adoption.

The Spencerian Copy Books were also re-adopted, and the following prices guaranteed, to wit:

Common School Series, per copy, 10 cts.
Tracing Series, 1 to 4, per copy, 5 cts.
Shorter Course, 1 to 7 per copy, 5 cts.
Michael's Copy-book, per copy, 10 cts.
Michael's Compendiums, per copy, 50 cts.

Krusi's System of drawing had been previously adopted, but not having been used in all the schools, the publishers agreed to furnish them at the following special introductory rates, viz:

Krusi's Easy Drawing Lessons, cards, per package, 12 cts.
Krusi's Synthetic Series, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, per book, 12 cts.

Krusi's Synthetic Manual for Teachers, 52 cts.
Krusi's Analytic Manual for Teachers, 52 cts.
Krusi's Perspective Manual for Teachers, 40 cts.

The Pathfinder Series of Physiologies are to be introduced at the following rates, viz:

No. 1, Child's Health Primer, 50 cts.
No. 2, Hygiene for Young People, 40 cts.
No. 3, Steele's Hygienic Physiology, $1.00.

Barnes' Short Studies in English. Present edition in one volume. Exchange price for any Grammar or Language Lessons, 30 cts.; introductory and wholesale price, 50 cts.

Reed and Kellogg's Higher Lessons in English. Exchange price for any Grammar previously in use of similar grade, 30 cts. Introductory price, 60 cts.

Barnes' Primary History of the United States will be furnished in exchange for any other School History of the United States, at 35 cts., while the introductory and wholesale prices are 60 cts.

The prices of Stephen's Music Readers are 40 cts. each at retail, and $3.00 per dozen at wholesale; and in connection with their use, the author, Mr. E. Stephens, Salt Lake City, agrees to give instructions, by correspondence with teachers, as to the best method of using the book and teaching from it, free of charge.

Harper's Arithmetics are to be supplied as follows:

First Book in even exchange for Ray's New Elementary Arithmetic: introductory price, 25 cts.

Second Book, exchange price for any other Arithmetic that may have been in use, 30 cts.; introductory price, 50 cts., and retail price 60 cts.

The time for exchange and introduction of books in all cases extends to February 1, 1888.

P. L. WILLIAMS, Commissioner.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, AUG. 13.

Bail Fixed.

To-day Thomas F. Harris, the Ogden non-Mormon who is now serving a term in the penitentiary for unlawful cohabitation, was brought into the Third District Court. His attorney, Arthur Brown, asked that bail be fixed on the charge of polygamy against Harris, and Judge Zane named $1,000 as the amount.

The Suffragists of Kanosh.

A correspondent says that Kanosh, Millard County, has 78 votes, instead of 35 as given in a list of the precinct registration of the Territory, published in the News a short time since. The town cast 61 votes, only three of which were Constitution, No. There are in Kanosh about 30 widows who are real estate owners and tax payers, but who were disfranchised by the Edmunds-Tucker law.

A Burned Bridge.

The regular Union Pacific train due in Ogden at 5:40 p. m. yesterday, did not reach here till midnight. The cause of the delay was a burned bridge about 222 miles west of Kansas City. The burning of the bridge caused no mishap as it was discovered before any trains had to pass over it. The bridge was several yards in length and crossed a swamp. The regular train was delayed about 14 hours, and 7 hours were made up between that point and Ogden.—Ogden Herald, Aug. 13.

A Good Magazine.

Parry's Monthly Magazine has greatly improved since it first made its appearance. It fills a place of its own in Utah literature. Though its articles are chiefly selected, they are pure in tone and instructive as well as entertaining. The original matter is very commendable and the illustrations which occasionally adorn its pages are a pleasant feature. Brother W. R. Jones, of the Parry Company, has gone north in the interest of the magazine, and we can recommend it as a valuable substitute for the light reading matter which some people will have and much of which is not of the highest and most beneficial character. Parry's is always readable and always comes out on time.

Chance to Go East.

The eastern and European excursion now being gotten up by Messrs. Spence and Rooster, affords a fine opportunity for people in this section to pay a visit to New York and the Atlantic coast. The fare from this city to the eastern metropolis is only $35.30 and tickets are good for six months. Tickets must be purchased on or before the third of next month, and parties who contemplate going should secure them as soon as possible. On account of making arrangements for Pullman cars, etc., it is desirable for Messrs. Spence and Rooster to know as soon as possible how many are likely to want such accommodations. For further particulars see advertisement in the News.

Fatal Shooting.

In a quarrel over some hay land yesterday morning near Melrose, C. A. Clayton, who was defending himself against Charles Powers, J. Peterson and Z. C. Maddux, shot the latter in the left side, the ball passing through his body, and Powers in the right hand. The wounded men were removed to their homes, where Maddux has since died. Clayton at once took the delayed Utah & Northern train for Butte, and surrendered himself to Sheriff Lloyd, who placed him in confinement. He is well and favorably known in this county, and has lived in the Territory many years. He claims to have shot in self-defense, and as the other men came on his premises armed this seems more than probable.—Butte Miner, Aug. 12.

How Came the Errors?

Correspondents have called attention to several errors in the list of the precinct registration of the Territory as published in the News a few days ago. The proof of the list was carefully checked, before publication, with the figures in the office of the Utah Commission, and made to correspond therewith. But there are some material discrepancies between that list and the facts. The list gives Deep Creek 4 voters, while it actually has about four times that number. Kanosh is given, by the list, 23 voters, whereas it has 75, while Huntington, Emery County, has a registration of 80, instead of the paltry 38 credited to it by the list. Correspondents are indignant at such unseemly attempts to shroud up their towns. Such errors can hardly be clerical or typographical. Evidently imperfect or incorrect reports have been made to the Commission.

Third District Court.

Proceedings before Judge Zane, Saturday, August 13:
Pioneer Loan & Building Association vs. W. J. Kirby et al.; default and judgment as prayed for.
G. R. Jones vs. Rachel Golding et al., Rachel Golding appointed guardian ad litem for minor heirs.
Isador Morris vs. Joseph W. Watson; default and judgment.
F. C. Thurston et al. vs. H. Hill et al.; motion for commission to take
