FINE POULTRY EXHIBIT.

Show is a Great Improvement Over All Previous Efforts.

fore Recruits for Uncle Sam's Navy Post Office Order Forgery-Railroader Hurt.

The poultry show opened today in fine large room on the second floor of the Boyle block. The exhibits are more satisfactory from every viewpoint than at any previous exhibition. The increased number of fowls betokens more widespread interest, and in quality, too, the birds tank much higher than herepofore. One exhibit of particular interest is a brooder of 60 little chicks of the white leghorn breed, hatched yes. the white region of the difference of J.
M. Bishop, who placed $5 eggs in one tray of the incubator and hatched over tray of the inclusion and instead over the per cant, a very good average con-sidering the fact that the eggs were gathered in the cold spell about Christmas time.

The birds on show are grouped in the birds on the birds on the birds on the birds of the birds on the birds of the birds the birds on snow are grouped in classes, each class by itself and attendants are present to show visitors around. Besides the birds on show there is in the rear of the hall birds in sales classes, and the fancier can be just as good stock as can b find just as good stock as can be imfind just as good stock as can be imported from the east. Among the exhibitors are Mrs. M. J. Hewitt, the Keegh boys, J. M. Bishop, Mr. Larsen, Mr. Shibley, Mr. Dinsmore, Frank and Arthur Faulger, Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Poulter, Mr. Morrison, Ray Wilson and Geo. M. Kelly.

The recruiting station in the federal courroom of the Utah National bank building, in charge of Lieut. Miller of the United States navy, yesterday rethe United States navy, yesterday re-ceived 10 more enlistments for service in the navy of Uncle Sam. The boys' names are: Cameron Albert Carring-ton, Fred Fisher, Robert Brown, Mil-lard J. Morrison, John C. Carlson (of Sait Lake), Arvid Erick Larsen, Willis J. Hedges, David Parley, Arnold Colbeck, James Henry Alwys. With the makes 14 for the first three days of the cruiting squad's work.

A form of swindling new in this locality was revealed yesterday when Beeson & Brown, proprietors of the Toggery, presented at the post-office a money order purport-ing to be from the office at Terrace, for $25, but which investigation revea el had been issued for 25 cents and raised to $25. The forger had removed the original figures by means of acid and inserted the larger amount. The order did not correspond with the letter of advice written to the Ogden posteffice by the postmaster of Terrace, and Assistant Postmaster Garner at once detected the fraud. The clerk at the Toggery has given a good description of the man who cashed the order to the officers.

FRANKLIN, IDAHO. FATAL SNOWSLIDE.

Joseph Moser, Jr. and His Brother Albert Killed in an Avalanche. Special Correspondence.

Franklin, Onelda Co., Ida., Jan. 21 .--A fatal snowslide occurred in Cub River canyon, near here, today. Joseph Moser, Jr., and Albert Moser, two young men of Whitney, Ida., were out getting firewood with their brother Alma, and two boys named Winward, all of whom live in Whitney, Early this morning, while at work, the slide came down and buried the two first named, the other three having a narrow escape, being partly covered by the snow. After excavating themselves and finding it impossible to locate the two burled men, they hurried to their home. A party of rescuers went out Estimating the honey to be worth 1/2 home. BUTTER WRAPPERS.

The quality of butter preduced on the

the past few years, and many farmers' wives are now producing an article that gives the dairy product a close race for excellence. This is due, to a great extent, to the practical information which has been imparted in the columns of the agricultural papers, one of which now visits almost every farmhouse in the land. But there is one feature, says the Drover's Journal, which often causes farm-made butter to be rejected in favor of the dairy article, and that is the manner in which it is wrapped. The consumer has been supported by wrapped. The consumer has a prejudice against butter wrapped in rags, because he does not know the genealogy or history of the cloth and has no means of knowing as to what. though useful purpose it may have bee put previous to being utilized as butter wrapper. The farm butter make should study the methods of the be-dairymen and adopt them if they wis to capture the best class of trade as secure the best prices for their produc For butter wrappers nothing should b used but parchment paper, which giv the rolls or prints a nice appearance protects them from germs and prever hem from being contaminated with th sold. Ordinary paper will not answer the purpose, as it will often impart more or less bad taste to the butt The parchment paper can be bought many cities and all the large Chicag mailorder houses will furnish it. price is so reasonable that no farme wife who takes pride in her skill as butter maker can afford to be withou In buying, however, care should ! taken to get the genuine article, there are imitations on the marker which are but little better than ordinary wrapping paper, Makes Fine Showing-Scarlet Fever Abating-Claims One Victim. Special Correspondence. Orangeville, Emery Co., Jan. 20.-The Emery County Bee-Keepers' association held an important meeting here on the 17th and elected their officers for the ensuing year, and listened to the reports of the secretary and treasurer. It was estimated, that not over onehalf the bee interests of the county, were included in the report which shows that there were 649 stands of bees last spring, and the fall count shows 963 stands; 107,252 pounds honey was produced, making a little over 165 pounds to the colony, spring count, and giving an increase of nearly 50 per cent in bees; 1,208 pounds of bees wax, and 450 gallons of vinegar, were also produced from the apiaries. as much more, we have a fair showing ago. for the industry, one that would lead year ago.

us to think it worth encouraging.

The scarlet fever epidemic has dwindled down to about two families, and there has been but one death, that one, s fine little son of Ferd and Lydia Stilson. The Stake academy teachers and associates from Castle Dale, brought four or five wagon loads of children up here or the wason loads of children up here last evening, and presented, in a very interesting manner. "Cinderella" to the great delight of the greater part of Orangeville's young people.

For a long time, we have had cold nights and beautiful warm days, with no wind—a most delightful winter.
