

FOURTEEN BOYS TO BE RELEASED

Board of Trustees of State Industrial School so Decides Today.

FOLLOWING COURT DECISION.

Action Taken in Accordance With Habeas Corpus Proceedings Taken Last Week in District Court.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, April 23.—At a special meeting of the board of trustees of the state industrial school decided to release 14 inmates of that institution, who had been committed during the past year from various juvenile courts. This action was taken in accordance with a decision last week of Judge Howell in the habeas corpus proceedings of Goldie B. Malin and a boy named Stone. Judge Howell held that the boys were irregularly sent to the industrial school, in that the judges had in some cases failed to keep a docket and had also omitted to provide the superintendent of the institution with the proper commitment papers.

Some of the boys released are the most hardened of the inmates, but the board could do nothing else than order their release, as there were two more habeas corpus proceedings pending and others were contemplated.

NO NEGLIGENCE PROVED.

In the district court this morning, Judge Howell granted a motion for a non-suit in the case of Lottie C. Marshall against the Union Pacific Railway company. The action grew out of the death of plaintiff's husband last year in Wyoming, while riding a velocipede along the track of defendant company. The main ground for the non-suit was the lack of evidence of negligence on the part of the railroad.

ANOTHER RESORT.

A new corporation to be known as the Sylvan Park Amusement company will be incorporated in a day or two by local business men and some eastern capitalists. They have purchased land on the north bank of Ogden river, west of Washington avenue, where Riverside park now stands, and will provide a wholesome amusement, well adapted for the entertainment of women and children.

M. LEVY ARRAIGNED.

Enters Plea of Not Guilty to Charge of Receiving Stolen Property.

M. Levy was arraigned before Judge Armstrong today in the criminal division of the district court on the charge of receiving stolen property and entered a plea of not guilty. He also entered a plea of former jeopardy on the ground that he had been tried on the same charge before a jury in the district court and acquitted on June 29, 1906. Levy is charged with receiving stolen brass of the value of $400 from Harry McKay and Bert Miller, both of whom are serving a term in the state prison for stealing the metal from the Oregon Short Line Railroad company.

FIRE AT MURRAY.

Home of August Larson Wiped Out by Flames This Morning.

The home of August Larson, who resides on the west side of Murray, was totally destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock this morning. How the blaze started is not definitely known, but it is supposed that it was the result of a defective flue. The loss was $1,500, and there was insurance not to exceed $500. The fire department arrived too late to be of any service.

What makes the occurrence all the more unfortunate is the fact that Mr. Larson is fast becoming blind, and as he is a laboring man he already finds it very difficult to earn a living. All Murray business houses will be closed tomorrow, in order that many persons as desire may go on the excursion to Logan.

RALEIGH ISSUES EDICT.

People Dumping Grass and Brush in Gutter Will Be Arrested.

The practice of dumping grass cut from lawns and limbs from trees into the gutters and ditches in the residence district of the city will have to stop. Such is the edict of the city street department and Supervisor Raleigh has issued an order for the arrest of any person caught in the act of doing such things. It is claimed that the grass and limbs are carried down the gutters

DAUGHTERS OF REVOLUTION.

Some Details Regarding the General Convention at Wheeling, W. Va.

Mrs. P. T. Farnsworth has received a letter from the chairman of the committee of the Daughters of the Revolution in relation to the sixteenth annual meeting, which will be held at Wheeling, West Virginia, on May 2 and 3, with official headquarters at McClellan's hotel.

The letter states that delegates will leave New York by the Pennsylvania railroad on Tuesday, April 30, at 8 a. m., reaching Wheeling at 8:45 p. m. Credentials will be received on Wednesday morning and on Wednesday evening the greetings of the West Virginia society will take the form of a reception tendered to all visiting members by Mrs. Platt Zane at Hotel Stratford, Woodlawn.

The convention will open on Thursday for the reception of reports, election of 10 members to the board of managers and other business, followed by a banquet of the general society, Thursday evening.

The business session will close on Friday—on Friday evening, by invitation of the Elizabeth Zane Chapter D. R., the delegates will enjoy a theater party at the Court theater, and will be the guests of the country club on Saturday.

There will be a vespers service at St. Matthew's church on Sunday and the week will close on Monday, May 6, with an excursion down the Ohio river to Blennerhassett island.

The West Virginia society is planning a most delightful week for its guests. The city is at its best at that time of the year, and the surrounding country, in its early tints of summer foliage and flowers, is a picture of marvelous beauty.

The trip down the Ohio river to Blennerhassett island—once a rendezvous of "treasure hunters"—is the highlight of the trip. The scenery is of a type which is not to be found elsewhere.

The summer temperature of Wheeling ranges from 70 to 75 degrees. It is hoped that all delegates from the east and west may respond to the cordial hospitality of our southern daughters and an enthusiastic and successful convention may be the result.

HANSON RELIEVED.

District Attorney Looftbourn Prosecutes the Case of State vs. Hoden.

The prosecution in the case of the State of Utah against Martin Hoden, charged with a statutory offense, took an unexpected turn today when Dist. Atty. Looftbourn took charge, relieving County Atty. Willard Hanson.

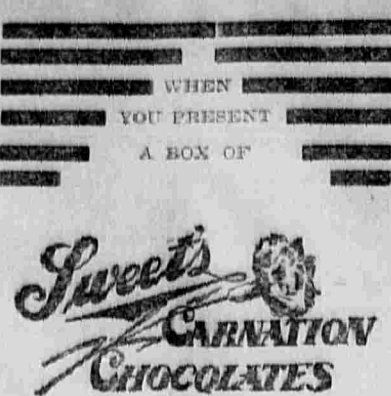

The move was the result of a disagreement between Atty. A. E. Edler and the county attorney, which involved the defendant with the result that he has been under arrest since last fall and still has stand in a preliminary hearing. Hoden was arrested at Bingham canyon last fall, and at his preliminary hearing A. E. Edler appeared to assist County Atty. Willard Hanson, who represented the relatives of Edna Thomas, the girl in the case. Hanson refused to allow Edler to assist him, and attempted to have him ejected from the court room. Failing in this he secured an indefinite postponement of the case.

Edler appeared before Judge Armstrong with a petition asking the district court to take charge on the grounds that the county attorney was guilty of neglect of duty in failing to give the defendant a preliminary hearing. On the promise to call the case up at once the petition was withdrawn, and today was set for the hearing, before Justice Williams at Bingham Junction. Asst. County Atty. David Hague was on hand to take charge for the county attorney, but Mr. Edler was also there with a petition signed by 900 residents of Bingham Canyon, asking the district attorney to take charge. Dist. Atty. Looftbourn notified Hague that his services would not be required, and secured a continuance for a length of time sufficient to familiarize himself with the case. It is expected that it will be called within a few days.

MORAN CASE IS ON.

Bonus Action Brought by Contractor Is On Trial Before Jury.

The bonus case brought by Contractor P. J. Moran against Salt Lake City is on trial again today before a jury in Judge Ritchie's court. Moran is suing to recover a bonus of $3,150 claimed to be due for completing the Big Cottonwood conduit ahead of contract time. The city board of public works considered his claim and decided that he was entitled to a bonus of $2,700, but the contractor refused to accept that amount and brought the suit to recover the larger sum. The case will not be concluded today, but will probably go to the jury tomorrow.

PROBATE COURT.

Emil Edler filed a petition on the probate division of the district court today asking for letters of administration of the estate of Ellen Edler, who died on Nov. 15, 1898. The estate consists of real property valued at $15,000 and personal property valued at $3,500. There are three heirs and they ask that letters of administration be issued to W. S. Chipman.

Thirty-four years were all that was left in his pocket and a sharp stab was intended to jump from a wharf and end his life in the ocean. Men at the foot of the pier saw him for the rail, but before he reached it, he was dead.

RESOURCES OF RICH COUNTY

Ideal Conditions for Stockraising, Grain and Vegetable Production in Northeast Utah.

WINTER COLD, SUMMER MILD.

Randolph, Argyle and Woodruff Towns and Their Surroundings in Bear River Valley—Fine Market Facilities.

Bear River Valley, Rich Co., April 17.—Bear River valley comprises about three-fourths of the tillable lands of Rich county, and includes the towns of Randolph, Argyle and Woodruff. Its altitude is about 6,400 feet. The temperature, though sometimes "frigid" during the winter months, is very pleasant during the summer, making the valley one of the most healthful spots in the state.

While the climatic conditions are not adapted to the successful raising of fruit and the more tender plants, the yield per acre and quality of the hardy crops, such as wheat, barley, potatoes, such as beets, carrots, lettuce, parsnips, radishes, cabbages, gooseberries, etc., is perhaps equal to that of any other section of the lower valleys. The average yield per acre of grain for the past two years was: Oats, 30 bushels, barley 30 bushels, wheat 45 bushels. The following table shows what any means the rule, shows what can be done by proper cultivation of the garden. The proceeds from a 14-acre garden at the Neponset Land & Canal company ranch last year, netted the sum of $1,000.

RANDOLPH.

Randolph is the county seat and has a population of about 800. It supports three general stores, one butcher shop, a hardware store, a shoe store, a printing office, one furniture store, two millinery stores, two doctors, two candy shops, etc., which do an annual business aggregating upwards of $100,000.

It has a creamery which last year manufactured 76,000 pounds of butter, also a large amount of cheese; pays to its patrons annually for milk, etc., $15,000 to $20,000, and pays to its stockholders annual dividends from 8 to 10 per cent. It has a fine brick schoolhouse, in which are employed four teachers; the Rich county courthouse, and just but not least, a magnificent ward barn, which is nearing completion at a cost of $15,000. Randolph and Argyle own about 16,000 head of cattle, and received during the last fall and winter from the sale of beef steers and cows $75,000. Last year 55,000 tons of hay was produced, most of which was sold to stockmen by the residents. Farmers raised 90,000 bushels of oats, wheat and barley last season.

A few miles northeast of Randolph are located about 25 phosphate claims, from which last year, in addition to doing an assessment work, was shipped 1,000 tons of phosphate. The claims are now let for shipping 2,000 tons in the near future. This product is hauled by team to Sage, a distance of six miles. It is rumored that a building a spur of the Oregon Short Line will be built to these properties, when something will be doing.

ARGYLE.

Argyle is a small town south and immediately contiguous to Randolph, with a population of about 125. This is a prosperous little community, and has a neat brick schoolhouse, the farm and ranch products are included with Randolph as above.

WOODRUFF.

Woodruff is situated 10 miles south of Randolph, the precinct occupying the south end of the county. The population is about 500. It has two general stores, a fine brick meeting house, which cost about $5,000, a magnificent brick schoolhouse, one of the best equipped in the state, a creamery which distributes to its patrons annually about $5,000. There was sold from this precinct, however, last year 3,700 head of beef steers and cows, which netted the owners approximately $60,000. The farmers there raised last year nearly 16,000 tons of hay, and fed mostly to stock; produced 50,000 bushels of wheat, barley and oats, a portion of which was fed to beef steers and hogs.

The California Iron & Copper Co. owns some extensive phosphate beds on Woodruff creek west of town and expended last year $1,000 in building a wagon road leading to the property.

BIG IRRIGATION PROJECT.

Several thousand dollars have been expended by some Evanston capitalists in making a survey for a large reservoir, to be constructed at the mouth of Bear River, 10 miles east of Woodruff, and about 125 miles from the mouth of the Snake. The project is to build a dam across the river at Cokeville, on each side of the river, and the water will cover 5,000 acres. The project is on good authority that construction work will commence during the summer.

The farmers of the valley, realizing the importance of raising only the best, have during the past few years invested thousands of dollars in thoroughbred horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, etc., etc.

The products of our farms and gardens find practically an unlimited market at Evanston, at the mining camps Kemmerer, Diamondville, Cumberland and Almy.

Classed Low.

Dr. W. C. Farabee, the noted Harvard ethnologist, complained quietly, one day before he set out on his ethnological investigations among the Indians at the head waters of the Amazon, about the slighting way in which the world still looks on sciences.

"Only in Germany," said Dr. Farabee, "does science get her due. In some countries she is so hardly used, indeed, that the deduction of the western trip-per comes to mind. This trapper, no-doubt a place where roots had been dug up, examined the spot and then said calmly, as he rose and brushed the dust from his knees: "This must have been done either by a wild hog or a botanist."
