MUSICIANS MEET.

Told by Anti-"Mormon" Falsifiers.

HE CITES SOME EXAMPLES.

Discusses Case of Reed Smoot and Says Utah Business Men Will not Stand for Slander.

The Davenport, 1a., Times, of Jan. 20, contains an interview on conditions in Utah with Mr. V. S. Peet, who has donmuch of late to disabuse the public mind concerning the real state of affairs in this section. In some places visited, Mr. Peet has been quoted as saying he was a representative of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association. This, he says, is not correct, as he has never at any time made such a representation. although he is in hearty accord with the purpose for which it was organized, viz., that of building up Utah and inducing capital to seek investment in this state. The interview in the Times is as follows:

PEET NOT A MORMON.

"I am not a Mormon, and have no-sympathy with that religion. I am a Utab business man and I am sent here by the business men of Salt Lake City and the state to protest against the slanderous stories circulated about the country about us and our people." These were the words of a quick acting, quick speaking, well dressed man of medium stature, who walked into the Times editorial offices in Dav-enport. He gave his name as V. S. Peet of Salt Lake City, Mr. Peet had his rec-ommendations with him and a scrap ommendations with him and a scra book containing stories from papers al over the country where he has visiteon his mission

"Rev. T. C. Hiff was here in Daven-port, Dec. 18," continued Mr. Peet, "and he made some statements that I want to contradict. I have an offer of $1,000 to contradict. I have an offer of $1,000 posted, the money to become the prop-erty of anyone who can prove a plural marriage in Utah since the abolition of the custom in 1890. This offer is en-dorsed by C. E. Loose, state senator and Republican national committeeman from Utah," and he showed Mr. Loose's endorsement in a pamphlet issued by the business men of Utah.

ILIFF A FALSIFIER.

"Mr. Hiff stated that plural or polygamous marriages were increasing in the state and the doctrine was spread-ing to other neighboring states. I want to deny the statement. Mormonism should not be made to stand for assertions of this kind, which are utterly false

"The younger generation of the Mormon people is in no way sympathetic to the polygamous idea.

"Then the plea that the Mormons are usurping all power and forming an emthings to their religion, is the veriest nonsense. Party lines are drawn be-tween Mormons just the same as they are between the members of other re-ligions throughout the country.

CASE OF REED SMOOT.

"Take, for instance, the case of Reed moot. The charges against him were Smoot. the greatest calumny ever heaped on a man. They were inspired by some una man. They were inspired by some un-successful gentile preachers in Utah. di-rectly contrary to their promise to sup-port a good Mormon if he were elected. Nothing was proved against Smoot. It was shown that he was a good, honest man, working for the best interests of his country. Why! Smoot is one of the rock-ribbed, high strung, high tariff Republicans who would no more think of voting for a Democrat, even though of voting for a Democrat, even though he were a Mornon, than he would of harming one of his six children, which by the way, are the children of one wife only. That's the only thing I have against him. I am a Democrat. "Of course, many of the offlee-holders are Mormons. Why shouldn't they be, if they are on the square. But they are not polygamists. WILL NOT STAND FOR SLANDER.

"We business men of Utah, non-Mormon as well as Mormon, are not going to stand for being slandered in this way before our countrymen in other states. We are Americans just as well as the rest of you are. We know the American principle of giv-ne mends a sugare deal and we are know the American principle of giv-ing people a square deal and we are systematically following up this slan-der, denying the accusations made against us, and rest assured that we will be given a hearing and consider-ation by the people. "It is easy enough for these lec-turers to go about the country making necusations, but we call on them to prove their assertions. If any of them come this way, ask them about them come this way, ask them about my offer and why they don't take it

"We love Utah just as much as you people of the tri-cities love lowa and lilinois. The religion of Utah people no more conflicts with Americanism than your religion or other religions

RELIGIOUS HATRED.

Theirs is the same kind of a class hatred crusade that was started against the Roman Catholics and the Masons. Here is some literature T against the Roman Catholics and the Massns. Here is some literature I picked up in the east along that line." And he showed some pamphlets on "The Evils of the Confessional" and "The Menace of Masonry." "This fight against Utah and Mor-monism is in the same class. "No, I am not giving lectures and passing around the hat," answered Mr. Peet in response to a question. "I am doing my work through the news-papers and the business men of Utah are putting up the money for my expenses, I am asking the papers which presented Rev. Hiff's statements, in a spirit of fairness, to give us the same kind of a show."

The lecturer explained that as the brain tissues are built up they become more specialized, so that the things that one is in the habit of doing come to be done igenanically it is on the thinking part of the brain that sanity depends. Civili-aztion will never be as high as it ought until people realize how serious it is to start a soul on its voyage to eternify. And here the lecturer emphasized the incon-sistency of hedging a girl carefully with every safeguard, and at the same time allowing a boy to find out the ways of the world for himself. He also called at-tention to what he heid to be a faut that of all the curses laid on a young man, the greatest is the realization of lost op-portunities. The audience was much im-pressed when he said. "The arm of pro-tection is placed around our daughters by society, but society lies to its sons. Society should make prodigal sons im-possible."

society should make prodigal sons intro-possible." Prof. DeMotte was emphatic, though careful in the language used to denounce the social traitor by whose hands the hapless maid fails and in doing which he' pulls to pieces the petals of an American Beauty rose. And he concluded this refer-ence by declaring. "Who missed that girl when she died of her shame? It was you, it was I-it was society." The professor made it more plain than ever to his audience that youth is the time to mould character, when the mind is plastic.
