THE ALLIANCA CASE.

A Semi-Official Spanish Paper Volunteers Some Advice.

SPAIN'S FLEET UNCONQUERABLE

and Not to Be Bamboozled With—Another Eye Would Like to Fight the Cubs.

LONDON, March 20.—La Epoca (Madrid), in the semi-official newspaper it favors, reviews the Alliança affair at length and gives the opinion that if the vessel was really sent by the Spanish commander in the Philippines, it was one deserving very severe punishment. It says the Spanish navy is unconquerable and invincible and it would be well for the United States to bear this in mind. It says that Spain has now become reconciled to the new tariff of the United States to go into effect here, and that the Spanish people have come to the conclusion that the United States is not to be allowed to dictate to Spain what she shall do with her own colonies. It says that Spain would welcome such a war as that with the United States, and that the Spanish navy is ready for the fray. It says that Spain would not be afraid of the United States, and that the latter would be wise to remember that Spain is not a weak power.

SPAIN PUTS WORDS TO USE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.—Senator Frye was seen today about the report of the purpose of an American vessel of the Alliança line to run the blockade of Cuba. He said: "Unfortunately it must be if Spain does not withdraw her orders. I regret that Spain would construe such a proceeding as an act of war, as we have simply the right of the United States to go and take possession of Cuba. We have simply said in time that we will not allow any European power to interfere with the affairs of the United States in the western hemisphere, and we will maintain the position we have taken. We have no desire to acquire Cuba.

"Inasmuch as Frye is a member of the senate committee on foreign relations his statement carries a material significance, indicating an early period of difficulty.

A TIGHT CAPSIZER.

Going to Demand Was a Former Trooper Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The Tribune of London, of March 7, contains a report of the capsizing of a boat in the East river, Perth, West Australia, March 4. Among those interviewed was Edward Fox, who said he was a Melbourne reporter, and a correspondent of the New York Herald in the Soudan. After the accident a number of persons congregated on the wharf to see the survivors brought to shore. Fox demanded a boat in the name of the Herald, and when he was refused he threatened to sue the owners of the boat for damages. He was a former trooper in the Victorian mounted rifles.

The Canada Pacific Declaration.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Premier Abbott of the latter, speaking of the recent declaration in Canada, New Zealand likely that early last month had no information from there on the subject. As far as Premier Abbott's declaration was concerned, he had no doubt from the tone of it that steps will be taken in that direction.

THE ALLIANCA AGAIN.

No Definite Action Yet Has Been Taken by the Administration.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The steamship Alliança, which was fired upon by a Spanish gunboat, will sail on Thursday for Port Tampa to receive the load of horses and mules which she was unloading at the time of the firing. The company will not withdraw the vessel from the service on account of the difficulty. It is a perfectly legitimate business and will be so kept.
