Loose as delegate to the national Republican convention to be held at Chicago June 21, 199. Thomas E. Steele of American Fork moved to amend the resolutions prsented by striking out the clause pledging the Utah county delegation to Mr. Loose. A vote was taken on the amendment without any discussion, resulting in 59 for the amendment and 128 agrinst. The resolutions were then adopted as presented.
Delegates to the state convention were then amend by the chairman of each delegation, according to the number apportioned to each precinct by the committee on permanent organization and order of business.

Thomas Dallin, one of the Springville nominees , obtained the floor to speak to a point of personal privilege, and de-clined to serve on the grounds that he did not endorse, and would not serve as a delegate under the resolution instructing for Loose. Mr. Dallin became very earn-est in his remarks, and expressed the be-liefg that McKinley and Roosevelt, point-ing to their pictures, would honor him for the position he took. He made reference to an editorial he had read, which was to the effect that none but Latter-day Saints need apply. Here he was invited to "sit down" by delegates from many parts of the house. He expressed his willingneas to do so, and did sit down, not, however, before he had warned the party that dire results would follow the adoption of the Loose resolution. F. R. Candland was then named t ofill the vacany occasioned by Mr. Dallin's declination. Mrs. Amelia M. Singleton died Saturday at Springville at the home of her son Hubert, as a direct result of old age. The deceased was born at Winshon, Somer-setshire, England, April 7. 1827, and be-came a member of the Church in 1848, coming to Utah in 1854. While crossing the plains her husband and one son died On her arrival here she located in Spring-ville, which has been her home ever since. In early days she taught school and has also heen actively engaged in Primary and other Church work. She leaves four children, among them Albert Singleton of Provo; also 50 grandchildren and 37 great-grandchildren. The funcral was held at Springville today. GARDEN CITY NOTES. Heber City, March 28 .- Attys, C. W. L. Stevens and W. H. Hatteroth were in Heber today for the purpose of tak-ing a deposition in the case of John G. Gibson vs the Union Pacific Coal company. The witness, Mr. Gibson, upon whose behalf the testimony was taken, was injured at Springvalley in mine No. 1, March, 1901, while employed for the Union Pacific Coal company. He was struck in the small of the back by a lump of coal weighing about 75 pounds, from which he rethought to be in a dying condition and it was desired to take his deposi-tion, to be used in the damage suit filed against the coal company by his father for $50,000. A Warm Time Expected - Livingston Puts Up a Good Fight.

Special Correspondence. Mt. Pleasant, March 27 .- The political situation is beginning to warm up, and the political pot is beginning to boil. The Republicans met in the city hall last evening for the purpose of electing five delegates to attend the judicial convention to be held here on April 9 and also nine to attend the county convention to be held at Manti, March 31. The following were elected: W. D. Candland, F. C. Jensen, C. W. Soren-sen, Rasmus Anderson and Web Green for the judicial convention. For the county convention were the following: W. D. Candland, C. W. Sorensen, F. C. Jensen, Rasmus Anderson, F. Clark, Joseph Monson, S. E. Jensen, A. John-son and O. N. Clemensen. It begins to look as if Judge John-son, who is a candidate for the third time, is going to have a hard time to land the nomination. W. D. Living-ston of Manti, is making a hard fight for the nomination, and it would seem is going into the convention with a very strong following.

Judge Johnson will have the strength of the Mt. Pleasant delegation in the convention. With politics warming up this way, so early, we may expect lively times from now till election.

Bloomington, Ida., March 26.-Since last writing March winds have been prevailing, and part of the time with a vengeance. Yesterday we had a wind-storm which concluded with a genuine rain and hailstorm, but today it is clear and cold. The wind and rain of yester-day played havoc with our new schoolhouse, which had not yet been covered. The north gable was thrown down. The structure was tied with barbed wire, the result being that 10 of the upper joists were broken. The brick work fell out and down to the arch over the door and east window. So much for barb wire tying of your fine brick buildings! The Bloomington canal owners are cleaning out their ditch, but this stormy weather is making very wet work.

The snow is disappearing very fast or the surrounding mountains. Some think the freezes we have had lately have destroyed our early fruit.
