LIVING FLAG REVIEW.

When the committee on children met yesterday afternoon in the office of Supt. D. H. Christensen to work out the details of the plans adopted for giving President Taft a demonstration, the Watson Transfer company offered to transport the children from the outside districts to the meeting place on Brigham street free of charge. It is probable that the children will be asked to meet at the schoolhouses and from those points they will be loaded into wagons and conveyed to the meeting place. Now that the Watson Transfer company has come to the front, it is believed that others will volunteer the services of their wagons and possibly automobiles. The children of the children will be given at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

The children who are taking part in the living flag met for the first time yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall and held a drill. The children will assemble Wednesday evening on the grounds at B street and South Temple street, where the flag will be stationed and give a drill.

Adjutant General R. A. Wedgwood, who is in charge of the military reception to President Taft, issued the following order last night:

CADETS IN DISCOST.

"The battalion of High school cadets and band, under the command of Capt. Webb, will participate in the exercises attending the reception of President Taft. They will constitute part of the escort receiving the president at the Rio Grande depot upon his arrival Friday, and also part of the escort at Liberty park on the afternoon of Saturday.

"The full military escort at the park will probably consist of a battalion of the Fifteenth Infantry, four companies of the National Guard and the four companies of the cadet battalion.

"Upon entering the park, the president will be preceded by the mounted orderlies of the Fifteenth Infantry, and the organizations above named will be drawn up on each side of the driveway from the gate to the speakers' stand, standing at present arms as the president and party pass through their lines."

Held's band will have 50 men at the serenade to be given the president in front of the University club, Saturday evening.

QUARANTINE RULE AMENDED.

CLASSY ELEVEN
FOR UNIVERSITY

At Practice Many Good Men Show Up And Maddock Is Confident of Developing Stars.

The first call to arms at the university yesterday afternoon brought out some 30 odd candidates for the eleven places on the varsity football team. In all, there had been 30 suits issued, but as yet, a number of the men are engaged in hunting rooms and otherwise getting settled. By the end of the week, however, fully 50 aspirants will have donned their war tags.

The initial practice, which was not unlike the next three or four, consisted of running down punts, passing and catching the ball. After an hour of this sort of thing, the men were divided into squads of 11 and drilled in making and running some of the more easy formations. Though, as could only be expected, the practice was only simple and in fact, somewhat crude, yet it was sufficient to show that several of the men are made of the right stuff and also that the coach has a powerfully big job on his hands.

"You can say for me," said coach Maddock, as he signaled the squads, "that time was up, but the situation is brightening; yes, the clouds are slowly clearing away."

Though there has been a score or more of new recruits, they are, as yet, by no means all there. Among those to register late yesterday afternoon were Ross Rosendahl, "Peter" Peterson and Kenneth Campbell. Kelley comes from the B. Y. C. of Logan where, in the state meet last spring he and his 194 pounds of avoirdupois won first in the hurdles. Besides being a good track man, Kelley has won quite a reputation as a basketball player. In fact, he is a genuine, all-around athlete. Peterson, it will be remembered, was third best man in the 320 dash at the last state meet. Though he weighs 174 pounds, he has plenty of speed with which he will try for end or full back. Campbell won his laurels as left half-back on the '07 and '08 Ogden High school teams. As to whether he will get into the "varsity" game is, as yet, unknown.

Word has just been received that "Bill" Hunt will be back to school this year. Hunt has held several state records both on the field and track, played full back on the '07 and '08 "scrub" team, and delighted more than one audience with his clever tumbling and kicking stunts. Bill, no doubt, will be a strong candidate for end.

Another good man is Loell who is in every play with plenty of ginger and speed. Loell is a star. Peterson of the B. Y. C. weighs 160 pounds and Romner, formerly of the High school, at the same weight, is making a splendid showing for half back or end. Horsfall is a good drop kicker and played for a position at end and undoubtedly will make good.

From the practice yesterday afternoon when two teams were made up with Maddock bossing one half and "Tilly" Olson the other, Groeschke with his 160 pounds was in the line-up. The only thing, apparently, that he lacks is more ginger, but that will no doubt come when he gets further into the spirit of the game. Summers, formerly with the North Denver High though light, is good at either half or center, and Schewerter, 170 pounds, is another good one.

So far Coach Maddock has taken the boys through open play and few line formations. From the two teams the big eleven will be chosen and it is confidently expected that, within three or four days, the team will be practically completed and then comes the big campaign for the season of 1909-10.

George Coray, professor of economics, is representing the University at the convention of American Tax Collectors at Louisville, Kentucky.

Up to date, the graduate students of the engineering school are registered as follows: hydraulics and power-plant designs, 7; metallurgy, 2; electricity, 2; civil design, 1; are granted, 1. With but few exceptions, the men come from colleges of our own state.

It is said that the extra $2 imposed for late registration, was the cause of 200 students putting in their applications on time.

At a meeting of the "Regents" held yesterday, a committee of five was appointed to take charge of the annual class meet which will be held at within the next two weeks. Mac D. Burdison was then elected to act as sergeant-at-arms during the ensuing year.

Dr. Merrill, dean of the mining school, says that the several high school courses do not prescribe enough mathematics. This conclusion is reached after noting the number of first year men deficient in solid geometry and trigonometry.

Students not holders of normal scholarships will no longer be admitted to the first and second years of the secondary training school, the number already enrolled has reached the limit prescribed by law. In the third and fourth years of this school, however, there are yet a few places open, but these vacancies can only be filled by students coming from districts where fourth year high school is offered.

Major Richard W. Young, a member of the board of regents, was one of the many campus visitors yesterday.

The traffic bureau, with Commissioner Clark at its head, and Judge Day handling the case, is ready to go with a mass of testimony to present at the hearing, and it is probable that several days will be consumed in its presentation.

UNTIMELY DEATH.

Funeral Services Over Casket of William E. Green in Thirtieth Ward.

Laid to rest on his seventeenth birthday was one of the distinctive features marking the passing from mortality of William E. Green, son of Henry and the late Mary Pettit Green, whose funeral occurred yesterday afternoon.

Services were conducted in the Thirtieth ward chapel, Bishop Heber S. Cutler presiding. That the young man had a wide circle of friends was evidenced from the large attendance which taxed the hall to its capacity, while the casket was burdened with beautiful floral offerings, all testifying to the love for the deceased and heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved. Musical numbers were furnished by the "O My Father," with solo by Mrs. Mabel Poulton Kirk, "Some Day We'll Understand," and as a closing selection, "Shall We Meet Beyond the River." Mrs. Kirk also sang "Face to Face."

The opening and closing prayers were given by Elders B. H. Hollingsworth and J. W. Simpson respectively, while the special prayers were read by Francis of Morgan, Foster W. Jones, Thomas A. Williams, Charles Cottrell, Jr., and Bishop Cutler. All testified of the young man's sterling worth and expressed the conviction that his exaltation was assured. He had been active in ward affairs and when called home was one of the presidency of the Mormon church. He was an absolute faith in the gospel and exhibited the quality during the illness which culminated in death. He passed away at the home of his uncle, Thomas Turner, at Crockett, Utah, Sept. 15, when he had been taken during a period of convalescence. Heart failure was the cause of death. The remains were laid to rest in the city cemetery, where grave being dedicated by Elder Archibald Freebairn. Six uncles of the deceased acted as pallbearers.

Delighted Crowds of Women Attend Banks' Millinery Opening— An Exhibition of Art

Well, the crowds were at Banks' Millinery parlors yesterday. They saw the luxurious beauty of expensive Parisian creations and feasted on the soft, capricious beauty of skilfully designed decorations. With abated breath and envious eyes women of fashion took keen inventory of the newest and latest whims of the world's renowned milliners. Everything from the artistic show-windows to the cozy parlor pattern apartment, teemed with everything in millinery that appeals so strongly to the feminine heart. It was a day, refreshing and exhilarating to the women of Salt Lake, this visit to Banks' Millinery Parlors, 116 Main St. It would be futile to attempt a minute description of all the handsomely arranged apartments and cleverly designed millinery, gowns, veils, flowers; everything in profusion, everything to satisfy the most fastidious; everything typifying the latest modes of dress from recognized fashion centers. Then, too, an inquiry of prices revealed the same fairness which has always characterized this institution. Indeed, the Fall opening at Banks' Millinery was a veritable exhibition of art.

RETURN FROM IDAHO.

G. K. Smith and D. S. Spencer of the Short Line are back from attendance on the land drawing at Milner, where 71 applications had been filed. If each applicant could have been answered in the affirmative, the total would have covered 90,000 acres. As it was, nearly 20,000 acres were drawn, the price paid being $5 per acre; and the most noticeable feature of the occasion was the great bulk of the purchasing was by Oakley, Bull, Burley and other neighboring people who knew the country and had implicit faith in it. Hereafter, these drawings and sales have been largely patronized by non-residents; but in this case, the unexpected happened. Among the buyers were Judge Budge of Idaho, M. S. Browning of Ogden, John Pingree, Ogden banker, Bishop John Watson, Angus T. Wright, David Hamer, Mark Austin of Sugar City, L. C. Wright of Pocatello, and other well known citizens. The drawing was

The new cut-off is 16 miles long and will lower the grade materially. A large force of men have been put to work already and more will be used as the season advances. It is stated that an expenditure of $300,000 will be necessary to complete the job.

STRINGING TROLLEY WIRES.

Work began yesterday stringing trolley wires on the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad. The feed and telephone wires are already in place.

OTHER HEARINGS SCHEDULED.

"After hearing the evidence here in Salt Lake, the commission will go to Spokane, where further testimony will be submitted in the rate case, instituted by the Spokane people. After that hearings will be held at Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Reno, after which the commission will return to Salt Lake in order to take further testimony or to hear arguments in regard to that already taken.

"The reason the Salt Lake hearing was taken first is because the case contains all the elements of controversy as to the adjustment of rates for the commodity rates. The principle represented by the rate case, whether the hearing is in Utah, Washington, California or Nevada. In Spokane, where further testimony will be submitted, the rate case will be heard. The rate case will be heard in the Spokane case which would effect a reduction in rates in connection with the commodity rates. The carriers concerned proposed a new adjustment for the commodity rates. In the full hearing of the rate case, the Spokane case which would effect a change in the other. The rate case, as the Spokane people, also, to be the Pacific coast terminal cities, who claimed they were entitled to the full benefit of water competition. Its advantages in rates regardless of any inland adjustment. At the last hearing of the matter in Washington it was agreed by the railroad carriers, Spokane people and the commission that the class rates passed upon by the commission should be made effective and that a further hearing should be had on the question of the manner of adjustment of the commodity rates in Spokane.

"October 4, was set for this hearing, but the Salt Lake case had not then appeared before the commission. Later the Salt Lake case developed, and everything being in readiness to take up the hearing here it was decided to come to Salt Lake first and go to Spokane afterward. In all likelihood Commissioner Proby will go to Spokane to conduct that hearing about Sept. 29, and I will remain here if the Salt Lake case requires that long a time to complete."

CLARK A RAILROADER.

Commissioner Clark is an old railroad man, having entered the service when a boy on the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern. He resigned to accept the chief executive office of the order of Railroad Conductors, which he held from 1888 to 1906, when he was named as one of the interstate commerce commissioners by the government. He is accompanied on his western trip by his sister, Mrs. C. E. Parker of Washington, D. C. His daughters are visiting on the north Pacific coast, and he expects to meet them when he arrives in Seattle. E. W. Phillips and D.
