

OUR GREAT
SEMI-ANNUAL

CLEARANCE SALE!

AN ALLIANCE OF MATCHLESS VALUES LOW
PRICES AND DESIRABLE STOCKS.

EVERY DEPARTMENT is conducting a terrific cut price sale, any one of which is a star attraction in itself, and when combined into one great whole as they are in this remarkable selling event, you cannot help but realize that such a strong and magnificent combination of special sales must resolve itself into the GREATEST OF ALL CLEARANCE SALES.

Don't Forget Real Estate Day—June 29th.

DRY GOODS STORE
222-224 MAIN ST

YOUNG RESIGNS AND GOES NORTH.

Retiring Member of City School Board Leaves for His New Home in Alberta, Canada.

MAKES A FAREWELL ADDRESS.

Names of E. G. Woolley Jr. and Mathonah Thomas Suggested to Fill the Vacancy.

At the removal of B. S. Young to Alberta, Canada, the city school board has one of its most valuable members, at the municipality a good, useful and genial citizen. Mr. Young left for his new home last evening, but before he did so he tendered his resignation as a member of the school board. The resignation was formally accepted at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, and the name of E. G. Woolley Jr., was suggested as his successor. So also was the name of Mathonah Thomas, but when in the matter was deferred till the July meeting.

After the formal presentation of his resignation, Mr. Young addressed the members of the board as follows: "Mr. President, members of the board and friends: It pains me more than I can say to be compelled to sever my connection with the board of education, but that condition has arisen in my life where it seems best under the circumstances that I take my residence in a new country, and for that purpose I am about to leave, and offer my resignation to this board, and I want to thank the members with whom I have been so long associated."

"I have now been a member of the board five and one-half years, and I want to say to you, gentlemen, that there has been nothing in all my life that has given me the same opportunity for experience as I have had as a member of the board of education. And I was elected a member of the board of education I had not half the opportunities that I have today among the men who represent the best of the community and the best of the city, and I have served with satisfaction to me, whether I am not only satisfied, but I am thankful."

"In severing my connection with you I am severing ties that are almost as dear to me as if they were family ties, and in separating myself from the board of education I am giving up that which is dear to my heart. I love every one of you, and you are very dear to me. The courtesies that have been extended to me at the hands of these gentlemen with whom I have been associated I can never forget, because I would be forgetting some of the most pleasant memories of my life. It is with deep regret that I separate myself from you, and if it were not a necessity I would still remain with you. I am sorry that all of the members of the board are not here so that I could say to them what I feel for them."

"The welfare of the board of education of Salt Lake City and its success will always be a particular object of solicitude to me, whether I am here or whether I am elsewhere."

"I thank you for your uniform kindness, and I say God bless the schools and the men who conduct the business of them."

"By reason of the laws that have been passed and by reason of some of the deep regrets that I have, I have been unable to meet you at the meeting when men will agree sufficiently well to be able to all classes and the idea of a farewell of duty may be made a part of public education."

"After several members of the board had replied to the remarks of Mr. Young, in which they expressed profound regret at his removal, Mr. George presented the name of E. G. Woolley Jr. to fill the vacancy, but as the point was raised that the meeting was simply for the purpose of formally accepting the resignation of Mr. Young and not for choosing his successor, the matter was deferred until the next meeting. Judge Henderson in the meantime proposed the name of Mathonah Thomas, who, he thought, would be a suitable man to fill the vacancy. At the meeting the board agreed to prepare a suitable resolution, thanking Mr. Young for his past services, and Messrs. Geoghegan, Cummings and

Henderson were named as a committee to draft the same and have it suitably engrossed.

HEALTHY MOTHERS.

Motherhood should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boesche's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25¢; large size, 75¢. At all druggists. G. G. GREEN, Woodbury, N. J.

Strick & Zeldner Pianos
Are still the admiration of all beholders.
BESLEY MUSIC CO., sole agents.

JULY WEATHER.

Bulletin Showing What It Has Been For Past Thirty Years.

The following data, covering a period of 30 years, have been compiled from the weather bureau records at Salt Lake City, Utah. They are issued to show the conditions that have prevailed, during the month in question, for the above period of years, but must not be construed as a forecast of the weather conditions for the coming month.

Temperature—Mean or normal temperature, 73 degrees. The warmest month was that of 1901, with an average of 80 degrees. The coldest month was that of 1897, with an average of 72 degrees. The highest temperature was 102 degrees, on July 20, 1899. The lowest temperature was 42 degrees on July 3, 1902. The earliest date on which first "killing" frost occurred in autumn, Sept. 22. Average date on which first "killing" frost occurred in autumn, Oct. 18. Average date on which last "killing" frost occurred in spring, April 23. The latest date on which last "killing" frost occurred in spring, June 18.

Precipitation (rain or melted snow)—Average for the month, 51 inch. Average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, four. The greatest monthly precipitation was 2.42 inches in 1874. The least monthly precipitation was trace in 1886 and 1892. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was .77 inch on July 29, 1893.

Clouds and Weather—Average number of clear days, 17; partly cloudy days, 11; cloudy days, 3.

Wind—The prevailing winds have been from the southeast. The average hourly velocity of the wind is 5.9 miles per hour. The highest velocity of the wind was 46 miles from the southeast, on July 10, 1887.

R. J. YATT,
Local Forecaster.

TEMPLE NOTICES.

The Salt Lake Temple will close on Friday evening, July 15, and reopen on Monday morning, Aug. 8, 1904.

JOSEPH E. SMITH,
The Manti Temple will close Friday evening, July 15, 1904, and re-open Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 8 a. m.

JOHN D. T. McALLISTER,
The Logan Temple will close on Friday, July 23, and reopen on Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 8 a. m.

M. W. MERRILL, President.

FOOD FACTS

What an M. D. Learned.
A prominent physician of Rome, Georgia, went through a food experience which he makes public:

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients that the food is a wonderful rest-builder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight very rapidly."

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely and go to the mountains of this state, but two months there did not improve me. In fact I was not quite as well as when I left home. My food absolutely refused to sustain me and it became plain that I must change, then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without the least fatigue and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life."

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Trial to days on Grape-Nuts when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body and work miracles.

"There's a reason."

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

SOUTH TEMPLE WILL BE PAVED.

Council Passes Ordinance Creating
New District and Levying Assessment.

FROM STATE TO SEVENTH EAST.

Asphalt the Material to be Used—
City Sealer Richards Gets a Rig—Other Matters.

Final action was taken by the city council last night in regard to the paving of east South Temple street from State to Seventh East street. By a unanimous vote the council passed the ordinance creating the paving district and levying an assessment upon the abutting property, to pay for the improvement. The street will be paved with asphalt, according to the plan submitted by City Engineer Snow, and as soon as the work is completed as far as Seventh East street, another district will be created running from that street to Tenth East, which will probably be paved with macadam.

This action will certainly meet with the approval of nearly all of the property owners on that street, and will give much satisfaction to the public in general, which has been desirous of seeing a boulevard made of the principal residence street of the city. Work will be commenced on the improvement as soon as bids can be obtained, and the contract let, but it is very doubtful if anything more than the preliminary work is done this year. By cutting out the district east of Seventh East street until the other work is completed, the residents on that end of the street will not have to pay anything on the tax this year, otherwise they would have been compelled to make their first payment at once, just the same as those who are now included in the district.

RICHARDS GETS A RIG.
Mayor Morris' veto of the report of the markets committee in relation to authorizing City Sealer of Weights and Measures Richards to hire a horse and buggy for use in his department, was again sustained by the council. The mayor still insisted that Mr. Richards be allowed to purchase a horse and buggy for use in his department.

Later in the evening Councilman Wells introduced a resolution providing that the sealer of weights and measures be authorized to purchase a horse and buggy for use in his department at a cost of not to exceed $50. He also submitted a communication from the Retail Grocers' association, which was read to the council, and which urged that the sealer be given authority to purchase a horse and buggy in order to more effectively carry on the good work which has been started by him. After some little discussion the resolution was adopted by the council by a vote of 8 to 6. President Hewitt and Councilman Freese voting with the six Democrats in favor of the resolution.

GROCERS AS POLICEMEN.
Upon recommendation of the Retail Grocers' association, Chief of Police Lynch submitted the appointments of the following grocers as special police without pay from the city: E. C. Allen, Thomas Davis, F. H. Weirich, Lorenzo Jensen, Benjamin Fuller, Bob White, J. W. Bowditch, Samuel Christensen and Richard Papworth. Mr. Black and Fernstrom opposed the appointments, because they did not believe in appointing these grocers as officers to spy on the business of their competitors, the peddlers. The matter was referred to the police and prison committee.

BIKE ORDINANCE AMENDED.

When the mayor's veto of the amended bicycle ordinance was read, an amendment to the ordinance was made by Black that the restricted bicycle district be extended from Sixth South and Sixth East streets, as in the proposed ordinance, north to Third South, thence east to Sixth East; thence north to Tenth East street, and thence east to South Temple, and then proceed west to the original boundary. The amendment was passed, and the ordinance, as amended, was then finally passed. The mayor suggested in his veto that the district be extended on Sixth South to Tenth East, and then north to South Temple. It was said that the mayor would approve the ordinance, as amended.

WILL HAVE TO MAKE GOOD.

Mayor Morris was also sustained in his veto of the report of the police and fire committees, recommending the payment of the balance due on P. J. Moran's contract for installing the heating plant at the new jail and the fire station. Moran failed to put in a stoker, as provided in his contract, and the mayor is of the opinion that he should be held to his contract, and the balance of the contract price should not be paid until the stoker is installed.

WATER FOR POPPERTON.

The sum of $2,000 was appropriated to connect the waterpipes on M street between Sixth and Tenth streets, in order to supply the people on the east bench and Poperton place with water. Under the present system they are at times entirely without water. Such was the case yesterday, and hence it was imperative that immediate action be taken in the matter.

MELLEN GETS CONTRACT.

A resolution was introduced by Councilman E. H. Davis, providing that the contract for the grading of East Temple street from First to Second North streets, be awarded to J. W. Mellen, upon his bid of $500. The resolution was adopted.

INSPECTORS BOUNCED.

Health Commissioner Wilcox again recommended that the services of four of the special sanitary inspectors be dispensed with, retaining Inspector Korth to push the sewer connections. Black and Martin urged that the inspectors be retained, as they had not completed their work. Hardestein moved that the recommendation of the health commissioner be concurred in. Wells and Fernstrom favored the motion, and urged that the recommendation be concurred in. When the roll was called the vote was 11 to 3 in favor of the motion of Hardestein.

HUSBANDS FUNNY.

The following self-explanatory communication was read to the council, and ordered filed:

"I hereby make application for position as chaplain, to accompany your honorable body to St. Louis, etc. Having great regard for your welfare in all matters, especially spiritual, I think you should have some one ever with you to look after your interest in that direction."

"My supplications shall be strictly orthodox, and I guarantee my utterances shall be non-partisan in character, so that neither Republican or Democrat will take any exception, and in consequence will ever be effective and certainly of great benefit to the honorable council."

"Respectfully and Devoutly Yours, WILLIAM HUSBANDS."

FREE LIBRARY BOARD.

The appointments submitted by Mayor Morris, of Alfie Young, Mrs. Stanley H. Clawson, and William J. Balem, as directors of the free public library, to succeed themselves, and to serve until July 1, 1907, were confirmed by the council.

KNUTSFORD CHANGES.

Hotel to be Enlarged to Meet the Requirements of the City.

Landlord G. S. Holmes of the Knutsford is preparing to make extensive improvements at the hotel, and S. T. Peterson, representing Sylvester Cunningham of Gloucester, Mass., owner of the Knutsford building, will be in town shortly to confer with Mr. Holmes with reference to the extent of these improvements. Mr. Cunningham was intending to visit Salt Lake last fall, but his business partner, ex-Gov. Charles P. Thompson died, and after the estate was administered upon, Mr. Cunningham himself fell sick and has been unable to make the intended western trip.

Mr. Holmes has the growth of Salt Lake much at heart, and feels certain that the railroad companies would do well, if they would arrange to allow tourists to remain over 24 hours in this city, so as to look around with a view of investing. It is investments from outside sources that must be relied upon to build up Salt Lake, and if inducements are offered to travelers to stop over, they will be sure to see much to interest them outside of the traditional attractions, and thus contribute capital and investments are liable to find their way in here. Mr. Holmes believes that if the present of Salt Lake were considered with special reference to the future, rather than the future without regard for the present, it would be better for the town. To regard the future alone is vague and indefinite; to regard the present and the future together as inseparably connected, and the latter as directly dependent upon well directed and intelligent present action, would pay amply in the end.

Mr. Holmes says there are 2,000 houses under construction all the time in Los Angeles, and he would that the same condition of things obtained in this city.

Three Physicians Treated Him Without Success.

W. L. Yancy, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Kentucky treated me without success. I then took Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief, and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy." F. J. Hill Drug Co.

DODGE GROWS REMINISCENT.

Railroad Builder and Pioneer Tells Something of the Founding Of Cheyenne.

CITY WAS ONCE A GRAVEYARD.

Located on the Resting Place of Three
"Mormons" Who Were Killed
By Indians.

The following story, clipped from the Denver Post, is credited to General Granville M. Dodge, railroad builder and pioneer, who often lapses into a reminiscent mood and tells things that are really interesting:

General Dodge is now chairman of the directorate of the Colorado & Southern railway system, and has been visiting Denver and vicinity for the past week. A day or two ago he visited the scene of his great triumph—Wyoming—where he met his greatest engineering difficulties in 1867-8, while constructing the Union Pacific road.

E. H. Harriman and other railroad magnates were anxious that the veteran—he is now 73 years of age—should see the changes that had been made in the Union Pacific in Wyoming, such as the Sherman hill cut-off and other great works, which altogether cost the railroad one-third of the sum needed to build the line from Omaha to Ogden. There is hardly a foot of ground in southern Wyoming unknown to General Dodge, and he examined the improvements in the road with great interest, and pointed out to the Denver railroad men who accompanied him the spots where memorable incidents had happened to the pioneer builders who had defied Indians and nature in laying the bands of steel across the continent.

Colorado owes General Dodge considerable in many ways. It was he who, with ex-Governor John Evans and others built the Denver Pacific, now the Union Pacific, line from Denver to Cheyenne. Then the people of Denver and Colorado feared they would be cut off from all railroad connection, the Union Pacific surveyors had decided upon Wyoming rather than Colorado as the most feasible transcontinental route, and the situation appeared to be "Up Cheyenne" down Denver.

"We certainly tried to push the road through this state," said General Dodge, "but the Lord appeared to have willed otherwise, and we took the route through the mountains which He had apparently selected. As it was, we gave Governor Evans all the assistance we could in building his line from Cheyenne to Denver. It was certainly to our interests to do so. That was long before the Kansas Pacific had entered, or even thought of entering Denver, and it was something of a necessity for this city at that time."

CHEYENNE'S ORIGIN.

"Cheyenne? Yes, I remember Cheyenne well from its inception. In fact, its location was determined by three dead Mormons. Sounds peculiar, eh? But that was the way of it."

"We had pushed through from Sidney, Neb., with the usual camp-following population, and the military detachment which was always with us for our protection. A Mormon train was ahead, going down Cheyenne pass toward Crow creek, when a band of Indians appeared and attacked the train, trying to steal horses and provisions and hoping to get away before our party came up. The Mormons naturally objected to such summary seizure and a fight followed in which three Mormons were killed. A grave-digger was hired to improve the bodies, and the graves were marked with stones. The Mormons were so interested and around that little cemetery the capital of Wyoming was built."

"It was for me to decide on the eastern base of operations in that division, and I fixed on Cheyenne, and it has been such ever since."

"Incidentally, that Mormon killing also decided the location of Fort A. D. Russell, as General Sherman had said that wherever I selected an eastern base there would be a military post for that section of the country."

THE FOURTH CELEBRATED.

"That was on July 4, 1887, and a great day it was. Imagine a Fourth of July celebration on the open plains, with one and a good one, General John A. Rawlins, after whom Rawlins, Wyo., was named, was there, and also General Auger, each with a fine staff, and we had the reading of the Declaration of Independence and several speeches to us motley and complex crowd as ever celebrated the Fourth in the good old style."

"A city of 10,000 souls quickly sprang up at Cheyenne and for a time that was the high water mark, but it has since passed those figures. All the riff-raff of the Mississippi and Missouri river valleys was with us—gamblers, bad men, camp hangers-on—a tough lot, as you may imagine. So had become the people that I ordered the officer commanding the military to establish a skirmish line and with his soldiers he swept them out of the city. But they accompanied us to Promontory, Utah, where we met the Pacific road builders from the west."

A GREAT COUNTRY.

"That was certainly a great country. Many men have told more eloquently than I can the immense amount of game on the plains at that time, the hundreds of thousands of buffalo, the antelope and the deer. We never wanted for fresh meat, but a yearning for roast beef as raised and cooked in the east often overcame us. Buffalo meat did not appeal when we could get antelope and venison, and when we reached the Laramie plains we found elk in abundance."

"Winter and summer we worked that road and our success has been handed down to posterity. I certainly feel a pride when I think of what we accomplished and the hardships we endured. Winter and summer we worked and there were times in the mountains of Utah when dynamite was used on dirt as on rock, so hard was the ground frozen."

"The rapidity with which the road was built caused many assertions that it was not properly built. The work done in the past three years by the Union Pacific in repairs and improvements is a refutation of that."

"The grades of the road have been reduced to the maximum of 43 feet a mile, the curvature has been decreased and the line has been shortened 37 miles. This cost the company one-third of the sum expended in the construction of the entire road."

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

(DO YOU REMEMBER?)

The candidacy of Samuel J. Tilden for president was announced from New York.

Indians in Indian territory raided many ranches and took down all fences.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY.

Cassimer-Perier was elected president of France.

The Pullman car system was tied up by a tremendous strike.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY.

Gen. Otis ordered the reopening of the Philippine ports closed when war broke out.

Wm. Goebel received the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky.

Clogged-up

Doctor's Bills
too often result from foul sinks. Red Seal Lye keeps drain-pipes sweet; kills all germs and saves doctor's bills.

Plumber's Bills
for clogged drains, etc., can positively be prevented by an occasional sifting into the sinks of Red Seal Lye—the plumber's persistent foe.

RED SEAL LYE

Is the most powerful disinfectant you can use. It goes where even chloride of lime can't reach. It routs out everything dangerous and uncleanly and establishes sanitary conditions that give you feeling of absolute safety. Good for every household use. Sold everywhere.

Get the best you get RED SEAL LYE.
P. C. TOMSON & CO., Mfgs.
Philadelphia, Pa.

July Fourth

Don't forget that the nation's greatest holiday—FOURTH OF JULY—falls on Monday this year. You'll have to get ready this week, as we will be Closed all day, July Fourth.

How about a new suit, a new Hat, some Soft Shirts, then Underwear, etc? If you outfit yourself here, you'll be comfortable, happy, and have money in your pocket.

AT BARTON'S STORE.

BARTON & CO.,

One Price to all
45-47 Main Street.

N. B. DON'T FORGET REAL ESTATE DAY, JUNE 29th, AT SALT LAKE.