BREVITIES.

Some sailors would make capital dragoons, they charge so.

A bad hat taken to an evening party frequently comes out as good as new.

Fond du Lac ladies, when they collide on the sidewalks, bayonet one another with their parasols.

A snake got into bed with a young man at Hannibal the other night, and the young man got out.

A ripe tomato is the best known remedy for bee stings. One application is sufficient.

In consequence of the explosion of a pistol, the only son of the Sultan of Turkey has lost one of his eyes.

The Grand Duke Alexis is a prey to melancholy, and his visit to America is intended to cheer him up.

The world is now being swept by hurricanes and suicides—the suicides a little ahead at last accounts.

An Irishman said he did not come to this country for want. He had abundance of that at home.

The Hon. Teresa Yelverton is going to Japan and China, if nothing happens. We earnestly hope nothing will happen.—&c.

This generation has grown so lazy that it is proposed to have elevators in the churches to take the people up into the galleries.

A Michigan man dislocated his arm the other day in putting on a clean shirt. He had not tried it for so long a time that he had entirely lost the "knack" of the thing.

Ministers are rapidly taking rank in New York as men of the world. They speculate, and are silent partners in divers affairs, mercantile and domestic.

"Now, my little boys and girls," said a teacher, "I want you to be very still, so still that you can hear a pin drop." In a moment all was silent; when a little boy shrieked out, "Let her drop."

An English farmer condensed his practical experience into this rule: "Feed your land before it is hungry, rest it before it is weary, and weed it before it is foul."

Poor-pay debtors in Canada are writing complaints to the papers that their remorseless creditors send them duns on open postal cards, which all who care may read.

The Abyssinian stretch has superseded the Grecian bend and the kangaroo droop among the belles of fashion. It is supposed that this will have a short run as the Madagascar flutter and the Fijian sprawl are waiting to be adopted.

A curate having been overhauled by his Bishop for attending a ball, the former replied:

"My Lord, I wore a mask."

"Oh, well!" returned the Bishop, "that puts a new face on the affair."

By having his wits about him and a plentiful supply of eggs, a man succeeded in saving the life of his wife last week, in Portland, who in a fit of abstraction, had swallowed a dose of corrosive sublimate, thinking it was laudanum. Given over by the frightened neighbors for as good as dead, her husband at once administered to the terrified victim the whites of fifteen eggs, which completely neutralized the effects of the poison.

In a Western village a charming, well preserved widow had been courted and won by a physician. She had children; among them a crippled boy, who had been petted, and, if not spoiled, certainly allowed great "freedom in debate." The wedding day was approaching, and it was time the children should know they were to have a new father. Calling the crippled boy the widow said:

"George, I am going to do something before long that I would like to talk about with you. I am intending to marry Dr. Jones in a few days, and—"

"Bully for you, Ma! Does Dr. Jones know it?"

Ma caught her breath, but failed to articulate a response.

There is hardly another sight in the world so pretty as that of a company of young girls, almost women grown, at play, and so giving themselves up to their airy impulse that their tiptoes barely touched the ground. Girls are so incomparably wilder and more effervescent than boys, more untameable, and regardless of rule or limit, with an ever-shifting variety, breaking continually into new modes of fun, yet with a harmonious propriety through all. Their steps, their voices, appear as free as the wind, but keep consonance with a strain of music inaudible to us. Young men and boys, on the other hand, play according to recognised law, old traditionary games permitting no caprices of fancy, but with scope enough for the outbreak of savage instinct; for, young or old, in play, man is prone to be a brute.—Hawthorne's Blithdale Romance.

A Split in the Republican Ranks!

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, 10.—A report published, charging the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Douglas, with being a defaulter to the amount of $3,000 while collector of the 19th district of Pennsylvania, originated in the embezzlement by one of Douglas' deputies of $17,000, all of which, except $1,600, has been settled by Douglas, part having been collected from the deputy's bondsmen, and the balance being paid by Douglas himself.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, 10.—A boiler at the Brooklyn navy yard exploded yesterday, but nobody was hurt. The officials are very reticent about the affair.

The Freeman's Journal, the leading Catholic organ, to-day in an editorial on the proposed Italian procession on the 25th inst., says there is not the least danger of assault, and advises every respectable Catholic to avoid looking at it, but to let it die in its nastiness.

The Evening Express, in an article on the city credit, says the credit of New York city is good, notwithstanding the persistent efforts of a radical clique to break it down.

An appeal has been received from Buenos Ayres, setting forth the terrible ravages of the yellow fever in that country, and asking donations in aid of the sufferers.

Captain W. F. Lyons, the well-known Irish patriot, died yesterday. He has been for some years past an editorial writer on the Herald.

MISSOURI.

Platform of the National Labor Convention.

ST. LOUIS, 10.—The National Labor convention have adopted a platform, as a political organization, upon which they propose to go before the country next year. It declares against all class legislation for the benefit of non-producers and to the injury of producers, that all able bodied, intelligent persons should contribute to the common stock, by useful industry, a sum or quantity equal to their own support, and that legislation should tend, as far as possible, to an equitable distribution of the surplus. It denounces the present relation of employer and employed as practically the same as formerly between master and slave. It stigmatises all aggregations of capital for any purpose, as monopolies, and classifies them as banking, railroad, manufacturing, land, commercial and grain monopolies. They propose as remedies for these evils the withdrawal of all currency not a full legal tender, and a governmental issuance of a paper currency which shall be a legal tender for the payment of all debts, public and private, duties on imports included, and interchangeable at the option of the holder, for three per cent. government bonds. It advocates paying the national debt in strict accordance with the laws under which it was originally contracted, in gold where that was specifically promised, but all other indebtedness, including the principal of the 5-20 bonds, to be paid at the earliest option of government in legal tenders, without funding in long bonds or in any way increasing the gold-paying or untaxed obligations of government; preserving inviolate the public domain to actual settlers; a tariff revenue alone; restraining, or if necessary abolishing, corporate monopolies; interdicting class legislation; subjecting the military to the civil authorities; reducing the army to a strictly peace standard, and confining its operations to national purposes alone; requiring the expenses of future wars to be collected from the wealth of the country; the Indian policy to be founded on natural justice; prohibiting the importation of coolies or other servile labor; encouraging the co-operation of effort in building up the manufacturing industries of the country; granting a general amnesty, and the immediate restoration of the Union on the basis of equality of rights and privileges to all classes and interests; the creation of a board of management of currency and revenue, to consist of such a number of intelligent business men, as may be necessary to transact the financial affairs of the Government in all its details, the same rule to be applied to the post office and interior departments as far as may be practicable; the secretaries of the respective departments to be presidents of such boards.

OHIO.

The Buffenberger poisoning case.

COLUMBUS, 10.—The coroner's jury in the Buffenberger poisoning case has concluded its investigation and rendered a verdict that arsenic was administered to Buffenberger by some person or persons unknown. Prof. Wormly and Dr. Collins were the only material witnesses. The former's testimony, divested of details, was that he found arsenic in the stomach, but not enough to cause death under ordinary circumstances.

LOUISIANA.

A Republican Split—A dastardly and malicious act.

NEW ORLEANS, 10.—A feud between the two wings of the Republican party resulted yesterday in the holding two separate conventions. The State central committee had called the regular convention to meet in the Custom House building, the entrance to which was guarded at an early hour by the U. S. Marshal and a number of deputies, together with two companies of the 8th U. S. infantry. Governor Warmouth and his followers were denied admission by the deputy marshal until the regular hour of meeting, and consequently organized another convention at Turner Hall, which elected Senator Pinckback president, and after strong speeches denouncing the action of the U. S. Marshal and custom house officers, a resolution was passed requesting Senator West to introduce into the next Session a resolution of inquiry directed to the President and other officers of the Government asking information with regard to the use of the Custom House for a convention and the authority given the U. S. troops to suppress the convention. Another resolution was referred, denouncing the removal of the U. S. officials here.

The Custom House convention, after bitter speeches on Warmouth, adopted resolutions guaranteeing to place in free schools every child, approving the limitation of the State debt to $25,000,000, calling upon the government to preserve peace, declaring that Governor Warmouth no longer enjoyed the confidence of the Republican party, instructing delegates to vote for Grant for his nomination at the next Republican convention, declaring the New Orleans Republican was no longer the organ of the Republican party, asking the administration to withdraw from it the Federal printing, and thanking President Grant for his protecting them.

The up train of the Houston Great Northern railroad, pushing two flats containing officers of the company, was thrown off the track by obstructions placed on it by malicious persons, fifteen miles above Houston, Texas. D. C. G. Young, President, and Mr. Wilson, assistant civil engineer, were killed. Turner, brakesman is probably fatally, C. E. Noble, chief engineer, and Supt. Worth were severely, and others slightly hurt.

The Warmouth Republican Convention met again to day, and passed a resolution condemning the action of the other wing of the party, endorsed the administration of Warmouth and the national administration of Grant, and requesting the latter to remove the Custom House party from federal offices and appoint true Republicans.
