

BREVITIES.

The great international fair project in Washington has floundered.

Never remind other people of personal deformity, nor of relatives who have disgraced them.

Wear your learning like a watch, in a private pocket, and don't endeavor to show it unless you are asked what o'clock it is.

A French chemist, Mr. Hurtault, has invented a process for making petroleum inexpensive by mixing with it a small quantity of "amylalcohol."

Least hates the ocean, and refuses to cross it. He has been offered a fabulous price to come to America, but he "can't see it."

The earnings of Adeline Patti during the past season are 1,000,000 francs, to say nothing of the presents she has received. Her husband contributed 1,500 francs of her money to further the adoption of the Plebiscite.

A tea thousand dollar traffic for diamonds and plate will take place shortly in Brooklyn in aid of the Cuban cause. These fellows will do well at raffling diamonds and plate. They have certainly done well at raffling it.

Memory presides over the past; action over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tombs; the other has no shrine but duty, and yet walks the earth like a spirit.

Several young ladies in Hartford are under the surgeon's care, for distortion of the feet—supposed to be caused by wearing high heeled shoes, so fashionable with some silly women. A more ridiculous and hurtful fashion, never came from the brain of St. Crispin!

Several shallow fellows, who are weighed down with Erie stock, have used for dividends for the last two fiscal years.

Heavy shipments of wool and furs, from Utah and other western Territories, are being made east. A number of cars so loaded passed through Omaha last week.

Susan Anthony declares that she won't pay taxes; she will go to jail first, as Thoreau did; besides, she hasn't any property—but the new silk dress Anna Dickinson gave her.

"I've been a member of this church nigh on to forty years," said a pinched up liberal on Christianity, "and it hasn't cost me six and a quarter cents." "God bless your power, economical, withered-up soul," said a fervent brother in the corner.

Though Mr. Beecher does everything well, he can't be expected to do everything unaided and always. He has, therefore, been provided with an assistant, or curate, to help him preach, make calls, write for the Ledger and tend that Indiana cat.

Sunlight men, who have lived in the sun, are sturdier than men who are deprived of the sunlight. Statistics show that among men in unshaded quarters of barracks or hospitals, there is some twenty per cent. more mortality than in quarters where the sun rests the greater part of the day. The best medicine in the world is sunlight.

Never intentionally wound the feelings of anybody. The good opinion of the world is the very best thing you can have, and the more the better. The man or woman who says he or she does not care a pin what the world thinks or says, gives utterance to what they know is absolutely false. We do care, and it is well we do; and those who are gravely mistaken who say they do not.

A certain amount of opposition is a great help to a man. Kites rise against the wind, and not with the wind; even a head wind is better than none. No man ever worked his passage in a dead calm. Let no man be pale, therefore, because of opposition; opposition is what he wants and must have, to be good for anything. Hardship is the native soil of manhood and self-reliance. He who cannot abide the storm without flinching, lies down by the wayside to be overlooked or forgotten.

Education does not commence with the alphabet. It begins with a mother's look; a father's nod of approbation, or his sign of reproof; with a sister's gentle pressure of the hand, or a brother's noble act of forbearance; with a handful of flowers and daisy meadows; with a bird's nest admired but not touched; with pleasant walks in shady lanes; and with thoughts directed in sweet and kindly tones and words, to nature, beauty, to acts of benevolence, to deeds of virtue, and to the source of all good—God himself.

Roses were luxuries for the ancients. To enjoy the scent of roses, at meals, an abundance of roses were shaken on the table, so that the dishes were completely surrounded. By an artificial contrivance, roses during meals descended on the guests from above. Hellogabalus, in his folly, caused roses to be showered down upon his guests in such quantities that a number of them, being unable to extricate themselves, were suffocated in flowers. During meal times they reclined on cushions stuffed with rose leaves, or made a couch of the leaves themselves. The floor, too, was strewn with roses, and in this custom great luxury was displayed. Cleopatra, at an enormous expense, procured roses for a feast which she gave to Anthony, had them laid two cubits thick on the floor of the banquet room, and then caused nets to be spread over the flowers, in order to render the footing elastic. Hellogabalus caused not only the banquet rooms, but also the colonades that led to them, to be covered with roses, interspersed with lilies, violets, hyacinths and narcissi, and walked about upon the flowery platform.

Naturalized citizens not allowed to vote—Bills introduced—Investigation of Georgia bribery—Subsidy for mail steamers—Bribery on the Georgia question.

Pomeroy presented a memorial from the naturalized citizens of Rhode Island, who said that they are denied the use of the ballot. He gave notice of a bill on the subject.

Sherman, from the finance committee, reported an amendment to the bill reducing taxation. The amendment authorizes the President, in his discretion, to discontinue or consolidate the Internal Revenue districts.

Ramsey, from the post office committee, reported a bill regulating the rates of postage with foreign countries with which international postal regulations are not established by treaty.

Sargent introduced a bill to regulate the transmission of Asiatic, Australian and European merchandise across the territory of the United States, proposing custom house facilities.

Senator Trumbull, to-day, reported the evidence taken in the investigation of the alleged bribery of Senators to vote against the Bingham amendment to the Georgia bill. It seems that money was offered, though not personally, for the votes of Carpenter and Tipton; but it does not appear that it was with the knowledge of the Governor or his friends.

The postal committee are expected to report in favor of granting a subsidy to the mail line to the coast of South America.

The foreign committee discussed the China cable bill, without any action.

The railroad committee have decided not to bring up the Northern Pacific railroad bill for a few days.

The Georgia bribery report submitted to the Senate, yesterday evening, cannot fail to exert a great influence in determining the Georgia question, when it comes up for final settlement. Voluminous testimony shows, beyond all cavil, that Bullock and his friends have been plentifully supplied with money and railroad bonds all the winter, and were not at all scrupulous in the manner of using the funds if votes could be obtained against the Bingham amendment.

The committee found that wholly unsuccessful attempts were made to buy Senators Tipton and Carpenter. The reports of outrages in Georgia were furnished to order and paid for by Bullock and his party, and that the influence of the Chronicle was purchased in a roundabout manner; that persons were hired to write letters for the purpose of influencing the judgment of Senators. The committee are unanimous in all these conclusions and strongly condemn the Chronicle for taking money and being very easy on Bullock.

New Democratic Paper—Smuggling trial outfit—Reduction of taxation—Must prevent hunting Indians—Glorious movement.

John Morriss, ex-Mayor of Berritt and Wallash, and other prominent local Democrats, are said to be among the stockholders. The managing editor is not yet known.

The reduction of taxation, under the bill reported by Sherman, is $43,528,174.

The President has peremptorily ordered the military commanders to prevent the militia and volunteer organizations hunting Indians.

Captain Wm. Hall, formerly of the steamer Pennsylvania, was arrested yesterday, on a charge of having smuggled young ladies' trial outfit into this port. He was held in $1,000 bail by Commissioner Osborne.

At the State's prison at Joliet, yesterday, a number of prisoners at work near a gate which was open for the escape of a team, made a rush and got out. They were fired on by the guards and two were killed and one wounded. They were all recaptured.

A number of convicts escaped from the jail at Des Moines, Iowa, last night.

Circuit Court of Iowa rendered a decision in the case involving the payment of railroad indebtedness by certain counties which refuse to pay, granting a motion to have the U. S. marshal collect the tax, as the State officers are unable to do so. The court says the people must understand that any hope of escaping the payment of these bonds is without foundation and that the officers of the court will be sustained by the power of the government.

Display of Temper.

LONDON.—The Lords, to-night, discussed and refused a second reading, by four majority, the bill legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister.

In the Commons, Lord Melton asked Gladstone about trade and licenses in the Red River and Saskatchewan districts; Stanfield rose to reply, when Melton took offense and left the House. Stanfield proceeded to explain that the Hudson's Bay Company, who still had control of the Territory, required no licenses. Melton having returned, gave notice that he would repeat the inquiry to Gladstone to-morrow. This exhibition of temper produced a sensation in the House.

Duke Grammont, the new French Foreign minister, is known to be an ally of Prussia in feeling and policy.
