SEWING MACHINES.

We have lately copied several articles from other papers relative to Sewing Machines. We confers that we had not investigated the business very closely, and may have misled the public as to the cost of machines. We have looked into the matter, and feel satisfied we have done an injustice to a great industry. If any mechanic will look at an of the the first-class machines (the Elias Howe for instance), he will see at a glance that the labor alone, upon such a machine, must necessarily be worth at least twenty to twenty-five dol-lars, as one man cannot possibly make a machine and finish it complete in less than seven to eight days. Then comes in the cost of material, wear and tear of machinery, insurance, taxes, freight to all parts of the country, office rents, derk hire, advertising, instruction in the use, and many other items which go to swell the cost. As we last year was received and referred now understand it, the Companies to the committee on fluance. Sevhave determined to reduce the eral amendments to the Constitution were proposed and hid over until next year. "God Save the Queen" was sung in honor of the Queen's birthday, and was received with cheers. "America" was given in return, and also three cheers for prices of machines only for cash trade. They claim that they never made any money on the lease or monthly instalment plan, and hence are determined to quit it.
