

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Regular meeting of the City Council to-night.

The High Council will meet on Thursday evening.

Grand Masonic concert and ball on Thursday night.

See telegrams regarding a fearful conflagration in Polish Russia.

Evan Stephens will resume his music teaching in this city next Monday.

Jen Mace and the Maori Slade give an exhibition at the Opera House to-night.

The clouded sky once more raises the drooping spirits of those who have sought for sale.

The next "Old-Time Reunion" party will come off at the Social Hall on Friday night.

W. Smith, a hunter of Glendive, Montana, is credited with killing 515 buffalo during his last hunting expedition.

There are messages at the Western Union Telegraph office for Mrs. Annie Reynolds, Willard Crawford, John Davies and G. W. Craft.

James B. Wilson announces that he will open a school in the Second Ward School-house on Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, to teach the art of bookkeeping.

An exchange says that J. W. Cassidy, of Missoula, is thought to be insane. He has been on a four weeks' spree, during which time he has never been in bed.

We have received No. 8, Vol. 2, of Tullidge's Quarterly Magazine. It is embellished with fine steel-engraving portraits of Hon. Lorenzo Shaw and Hon. John T. Caine, with accompanying sketches. Box Elder County and its leading citizens occupy a large proportion of the space of this number.

Dr. La Ker, of Berlin, presided over the peace convention at Brussels. It may yet be through Jewry that the peace of the earth, and the day brought about with the Jew shall be cast as with the lamb, without having the lamb tongue of him.—Jewish Times.

There is a society in the German capital composed of Jews and Christians in equal numbers, called the "Free Scientific Association." Its object is to evolve out of their own consciousness a new religion. The world awaits with wrapt attention to view the hybrid at its birth, and pronounce upon its features.—Ex.

Bishop Ryan, in a recent lecture in St. Louis on "Modern Religious Skepticism," said: "Religion, if it exists at all, is cast as always, as a system, either wholly true, as Christianity was, and Christianity is, or partly true and partly false, as the Jewish system is, and as paganism was in the day." This is a sort of "now you see it and now you don't see it" compliment.

Mr. S. R. Niles has issued a new edition of his Calendar for 1883. Which is very unique and convenient, and specially arranged for newspapers and advertisers. It gives the measure in lines and inches for both nonpareil and agate type, and the days of the year are so numbered that it can be seen at a glance how many insertions an advertisement has received between any given dates.—Boston Traveller.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Dramatic.—The Twenty-first Ward Dramatic Company purpose giving a performance for the benefit of the Ward brass band some time during this month. The bill will consist of "Daniel Druce," a drama never before played in this city, and the farce of "Good for Nothing."

A Thumb Biter.—Last night, on Commercial Street, S. Johnson, a carpenter, was making a disturbance with his wife and children, when a man named Martin interfered. The "party by the name of Johnson" then pitched upon the voluntary peacemaker. In the course of the fracas he got Martin's thumb in his mouth and munched it. Both men were considerably scared and scratched. The matter was to be investigated before Justice Spiers this afternoon.

Head Him Off.—Wiggins is a horribly windy name. He is the Canadian savant who predicts the tremendous universal gale on the 9th of March. Those who believe in Wiggins' wind should sew the buttons on their coats and have their hair cut short before the blow comes off. If the whistling bee comes off our Davis County friends will have a hard time corralling their horse-roads and haystacks, as horses are not easily baffled when he runs around in a rage and makes things rattle. To avert the impending blast, Vennor or Savage should come to the front and predict a hail-storm, and try to head off the prognostication of the wind-wise Wiggins.

Morgenstern.—No. 1, of vol. 2, of this popular magazine in the Danish language makes its appearance in a neat double cover. Among the usual interesting contents, the present number contains the commencement of the list of all the Utah Elders who have labored in or visited the Scandinavian Mission since the first introduction of the Gospel into that part of Europe. To gather up facts and dates to complete this list has cost a great deal of labor and expense and will be very valuable when published. In the present volume will also be published the Book of Abraham, and extracts from the Pearl of Great Price, which never before have been published in the Danish language.

Started in Business.—Brother H. A. Tuckett, for some years past connected with the Globe Bakery of this city, has gone into business on his own account and opened a bakery and candy manufactory in the 11th Ward. He manufactures various kinds of candies, including the celebrated caramels, which previously were imported from the East, also chocolate drops, etc. He makes a specialty of pop-corn, which he puts up in wrappers, uses home made boxes, and sells at prices to compete with Eastern made goods. He complains of a lack of good Utah raised pop-corn, most of that article having to be brought from Chicago.

Singular Homogeneity.—To-day, by request, we publish the report of an annual Bible meeting held at Provo. The many, appended to it present a refreshing mixture. Good "Mormons" and their hypocritical villifiers are interestingly entwined. Under the circumstances the association is remarkable, presenting on the "Mormon" side an instance of extreme amiability, and from the Methodist side of intensified hypocrisy, that are not often exhibited in combination in this sphere of mortality.

The signatures of Dr. H. D. Fisher and George E. Jayne were both appended to the notorious Ogden Methodist Conference Resolutions, comprising one of the most infamous, slanderous, malignant and lying documents ever palmed upon the public for an ulterior purpose. The monstrous falsehoods were probably partly manufactured, and at least endorsed by these two peculiar persons. As they have never retracted this connection, they still stand in the same position, and how, in the face of this fact, good Latter-day Saints can accept favors through such sources is a matter, as we have already stated, that must create some little surprise. When it is the falsifier and the hypocrite that resolves the favor from the upright and honest the situation is not difficult of comprehension, but when turned the other way it does look a little enigmatical. The time will surely come when the "Lamb and the lion shall lie down together," but the voluntary fraternization of the righteous with the hypocritical is so unusual as to be genuinely phenomenal.

A Trio of Accidents.—At the corner of Main and Galena streets yesterday afternoon, three accidents occurred within the space of half an hour. As one of Kirkendall's heavy freight trucks turned into East Galena Street, the wagon wheel slipped, and one side tipping up suddenly and throwing the driver from his high seat to the ground. He was considerably stunned and bruised, but no bones were broken. A few moments later a loaded wagon with a cord wood, was turning from Main street into West Galena, when the driver, while passing over the bridge, was thrown from the load of wood. He lay on the lines and was dragged some distance, the bolts slipping to one side and then the other, and striking his head with apparently sufficient force to break every bone in his corpus. He was severely injured in the left leg and arm besides bruises on the body. Not more than ten minutes had elapsed after this accident, as when Mr. As Cornforth with his wife were driving in a buggy from Galena street into Main, the forward kingbolt broke. The horses dashed forward with the fore-wheel, and the forward part of the buggy dropped to the ground, hurling the occupants into the street. Mr. Cornforth held on to the reins, and quickly gaining his feet controlled the horses. Mrs. Cornforth was assisted to a neighboring office, where she was attended to by a physician. It was hoped not seriously.—Butte Miner, Jan. 18th.

Book of Mormon in Danish.—The Book of Mormon was first published in the Danish language in the early part of 1851, in Copenhagen, Denmark, by Erasmus Snow. It was translated, under his supervision, by P. O. Hansen. The edition consisted of 3,000 copies. It was the first edition of the Book of Mormon published in a foreign language. A second edition of the book, also consisting of 3,000 copies, was published in 1853, by the late Hector C. Haight, who at that time presided over the Scandinavian mission. The last or third edition was published in the year 1881, after a thorough revision, dividing it into chapters and verses, and supplying it with foot notes or references, similar to the last English edition, the late President Niel Wilhelmson, together with Elder Andrew Jensen doing the labor with great perseverance and care. The last Danish edition is a very fine book, in clear type.

Successful Treatment.—On the 30th day of November last a little son of Brother Gunderson, of East Mill Creek, was thrown from a wagon, breaking his thigh bone close to the hip joint. Dr. Seymour B. Young placed the leg in a temporary dressing for about two weeks, then fixed the fractured limb in a splint plaster of Paris dressing, thus enabling the little fellow to get about the house by the aid of a crutch and stick. On the removal of the plaster at the end of six weeks after the injury, he was able to stand upright without aid, there being no apparent shortening of the broken one. At this date the little boy is wearing a splint to sustain the weakened muscles until the callos becomes perfectly hardened.

This is the sixth case of fracture of the lower extremity treated in the same vicinity by Dr. Young, and all with the most gratifying results.

Under the Hammer.—To-day at the assignee's sale of Needham & Springer's real estate, a number of people were made happy in the idea that they were buying themselves rich, in one instance a bolt of piece goods worth about $12 and a half cents a yard was sold at twenty cents. In another case a man bought a couple of bushels for fifty-five cents, of the same quality sold in the stores at two and a quarter a dozen. The persuasive and dulcet tones of the auctioneer, appeared to appeal directly to the seemingly pliant pockets of the bidders.

Broadening.—The New York wholesale clothing house of Thomas M. Argall has removed to more extensive and commodious premises at No. 63 Broadway, one block above the Grand Central Hotel. Increasing business necessitated the change. The house is well and favorably known in the West, having done business for a long time with leading Utah firms.

Brass Bands.—We learn from a member of the Twenty-first Ward Brass Band, that that organization is making good progress under the tuition of Prof. C. J. Thomas. For the present, for practicing purposes, it has amalgamated with the Sunday School Union band. The practices are held on Friday evenings, and the members feel much encouraged.

The Virginia City Verdict.

Temporary or Permanent?—The President of Virginia City, County of Washington.

Editor Dear Sir:—I enclose the following to correct errors I have observed in other papers:

At an inquest held in Virginia City over the body of Franklin Hunt, before A. J. Workman, J. P., the following verdict was returned:

The jurors upon oath do say that Franklin Hunt came to his death in Virginia City on the 2nd day of January, 1883, by a blow dealt on the head with a rock slake in the hands of James Jenson.

JEFFERSON WRIGHT, Foreman, JAMES HENDERSON, Jurors, WILLIAM HARRIS, Jurors, I. RICHARDS, Clerk.

High Council.—The members of the High Council are requested to meet in the Council House at 7 o'clock on Thursday evening, Jan. 18th.

W. W. TAYLOR, Clerk.

W. J. Oxpriing.—Information is wanted of the whereabouts of Wm. James Oxpriing, who emigrated from Nottingham, England, in 1877. When last heard of he was in Arizona. Any information will be gladly received by his aged mother, Elizabeth Oxpriing, Address, Post Office box, 1074, Salt Lake City.

"Rice" and "Pop."—The Ogden folks are to be regaled with a Mongolian feast to-morrow night. They are to have Rice at the Union Opera House. On Thursday night, the Salt Lake folks will have "Pop," but whether in the form of corn or ginger, they will have to go to the Theatre to find out. It will be dispensed by a "Surprise Party."

In Philadelphia.—We observe by a Philadelphia paper that Elder M. B. Shipps has been preaching in Calendon Hall, Pine Street, in that city. He is reported as making a defence of the Church against the groundless calumnies that are published broadcast regarding it. According to an alleged statement made by him he was not sanguine of making many converts in Philadelphia.

Musical Information.—The friends and especially the pupils of Brother Evan Stephens will be pleased to learn that he will be back from the north in time to resume his classes on and after Monday, Jan. 22d. He would be greatly obliged to Sunday School superintendents if they would kindly announce in the schools that he particularly desires to see the pupils of the last as well as the present term at their respective classes on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, as he has something specially to communicate that will be for their benefit.

Had a Good Time.—We learn from Sister Matilda Soren that on the evening of Jan. 10th the Salem, Utah County, Relief Society had a rousing time. There annual meeting was held in the school house, when 133 persons sat down to a sumptuous dinner. The tables literally groined under the load of good things. After dinner the president of the Society, sister Eliza B. Davis, made a nice opening address of welcome, when the Secretary was presented with a fine quilt as a token of respect for her services. Lauding, songs, etc., enlivened the scene until midnight, old and young alike tripped the fantastic toe. A trio entitled "Welcome," was sung by Charles Olsen and sisters Iverson and Nash in a manner reflecting credit on their abilities. Bishop C. D. Evans, who is recovering from a spell of sickness, was present.

Reader, you should go at once to your druggist and get a 25c. box of BROWN'S ANEMIA SALVE. If it fails once to cure any burn, cold sore, ulcer, frost bite or inflamed sore eye, your druggist will return your money. Positively warranted.

The Children often get burned or bruised, BROWN'S ANEMIA SALVE is warranted to cure at once. 25 cents.

A Huge Cinnamon Bear lacerated and lost Geo. Barker near Leadville last winter; Dr. W. K. Leonard said "I cured his cruel wounds with two boxes of BROWN'S ANEMIA SALVE, and without a scar." You should have a box of Brown's Anemia Salve always in the house; it cures inflammation and heals wounds, and cures other troubles. If your druggist does not have it, send 25c. in stamps to the Brown Medicine Co., Leavenworth, Kansas, and they will send a box by return mail. For sale by Z. C. M. Inst., A. C. Smith & Co., Godbe Pitts & Co., Stewart & Chislett, Moore Allen & Co., Evans, Baker, and others. Sold specially at the Salt Lake Surgical Institute, 130 Main St.

KORROSION ACID PHOSPHATE in Solution.—Prof. Adolph Old, New York, says: "It is for sale among the passengers, during a passage across the Atlantic. In the plurality of cases I saw the violent symptoms abate, and give way to a healthful action of the functions impaired." deod sw & w.

PETROLEUM V. NASHBY. D. Q. Locke, Petroleum V. Nashby (Editor Toledo Blade), writes: "I had on a forefinger of my right hand one of those pleasant pills, a 'Vaseline'—the finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable and swollen to nearly twice its natural size. A friend gave me HENRY'S CARBOLIC SALVE, and in twenty minutes the pain had so much subsided as to give me a fair night's rest, which I had not had before for a week. The inflammation left the finger in a day. I consider it a most valuable article for the household."

CURES THE EAR TOO. Edward Reintard, of New York, writes: "It gives me great pleasure to say that a single box of HENRY'S CARBOLIC SALVE cured my ear, which had been troubled for over a year, and which nothing else that I used would cure." deod sw & w.

Rheumatism is the most terrible disease that ever afflicted humanity, yet it instantly yields to the powerful drug that Kendall's Spanish Cure is composed of. Read adve.

Akron, Ohio, May 7th, 1880.—Some three years ago I had a horse become very lame from a sprain. I gave him a box of Kendall's Spanish Cure with marked success. Since then I have sold a good many bottles, and have heard of cures resulting from the use of it. I am glad to say I can cheerfully recommend it as an honest remedy. Yours truly, A. M. AMERSON.
