B. H. ROBERTS'S RESIGNATION.

He Retires from the Editorial Chair of the Herald, and Gives His Reasons.

In the issue of the Salt Lake Herald of Sunday, May 10, was an announcement of the intended policy of the paper under its new management. Appended to this was the following letter of resignation from Hon. B. H. Roberts, who has been chief editor of the Herald the past few months:

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah,
May 10, 1896.

To The Herald Company:

Gentlemen—I herewith respectfully tender to you my resignation as editor of The Herald. My reason for this step is that in the announcement of the editorial policy of the new company, published above, you say:

"The Herald will not concede to any church or the leaders thereof in this free State (admitted under the solemn pledge that it should remain free) the right to dictate or advise who of all its members may or may not engage in politics or become candidates for office; but the acknowledgment of such right and the toleration of its existence would sap the foundations of the free State, make it the tool of the church and in the end turn it into an instrument of its propaganda."

In the abstract I have no fault whatever to find with this declaration of policy, but considered in connection with recent events in this State, and the declaration made by the Mormon Church (of which I am a member and officer) at its late Conference in which is promulgated the rule I quote below, I cannot see my way clear to continue in the position of editor of the Herald, as I fear misunderstandings and unpleasantness would grow out of the rather complicated state of affairs which this announced policy would likely force upon me.

The Church rule above referred to as promulgated by the Church, and which I as an officer of the Church signed, is as follows:

We unanimously agree to and promulgate as a rule that should always be observed in the Church and by every leading official thereof, that before accepting any position, political or otherwise, which would interfere with the proper and complete discharge of his ecclesiastical duties, and before accepting a nomination or entering into engagements to perform new duties, said official should apply to the proper authorities and learn from them whether he can, consistently with the obligations already entered into with the Church upon assuming his office, take upon himself the added duties and labors and responsibilities of the new position. To maintain proper discipline and order in the Church, we deem this absolutely necessary; and in asserting this rule, we do not consider that we are infringing in the least degree upon the individual rights of the citizen.

This rule was promulgated "To maintain proper discipline and order in the Church;" and not for the purpose of controlling the politics of the State or of dominating the political parties therein; and therefore does not, as I believe, come in conflict really with the policy you lay down for your paper. But many will regard the policy you declare, as denying to the Church the right to make such a rule as that quoted above, and in effect it will be generally so considered, and the declaration of your policy is intended to deny to the Church the right to make that rule. You will therefore readily see the inconsistent position into which your declared policy would thrust me, and which I can only escape by the step now taken.

In justice to myself I ought to say that I believe now as firmly as ever in the non-union of church and state, and also that the church should not dominate the state nor interfere with its functions. But I also believe in the right of the church to make such rules for the regulation of its ministry as it may deem necessary for the efficiency of its legitimate church work, knowing that if these rules become burdensome they need be submitted to only so long than said officers will to submit to them; and if said rules are so executed as not merely "to maintain proper discipline and order in the church," but to dominate the affairs of the state, it will then be the duty of the citizens—and they will have the power—to resist such domination, and it is my belief they will resist it effectually.

I wish my responsibility as editor of The Herald to cease with this issue.

In conclusion let me say that my association with The Herald has been of the pleasantest character, both with the recent management and the present one, and it is with great regret that this resignation is tendered.

With kindest regards, I have the honor to be, most sincerely yours,

B. H. ROBERTS.

D. A. & M. SOCIETY.

The New Board of Directors Holds Its First Meeting.

The new board of directors of the D. A. and M. Society held a meeting on Saturday afternoon in the Constitution building, at which President Winder, who succeeded himself as such by the appointment of the Governor, presided. Nelson A. Empey was chosen as vice-president, Elias A. Smith, treasurer and George D. Pyper secretary. Routine business was transacted and President Winder announced that he would appoint standing committees at a later date. The executive committee as chosen at the meeting consists of S. W. Sears, chairman, N. A. Empey and Frank Jennings. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president.

ESLINGER DISMISSED.

Chief Pratt Gives the Sergeant Notice of His Discharge.

On Saturday evening Sergeant Eslinger of the police department was dismissed from the ranks in which he has served so long, by Chief Pratt. The cause of this action was brought about by the sergeant having apparently disobeyed orders, in that he went to the circus grounds on Friday evening without awaiting orders from his superior officer. He had been ordered by the chief to report that evening with his shift at the hour of six instead of 10:30 as usual. He did so, but as the chief was not there he told his men to remain at the station until he took a run around. He then repaired to the circus grounds, where he seemingly met the chief who saluted him in the usual manner but gave him no special orders.

On Saturday afternoon the sergeant was summoned before the chief and there asked why he had gone to the circus grounds without being so ordered. He replied that if he had done anything wrong he was very sorry for it and wished to offer an apology. Words, not of the most pleasant character, followed, which finally terminated in the chief saying, "You are dismissed, sir, for your impudence," and Officer Burbidge was put in charge of the dismissed sergeant's shift. The case will be laid before the fire and police board at its meeting tonight.

SHOOTING NEAR VERNAL.

It Results in the Killing of One Man and the Wounding of Two Others.

A shooting affray in which one man was killed and two others were badly wounded, took place near Vernal, Uintah county last Thursday. The parties to the scrape are nearly all known in this city, and the Vernal Express published on the date thereof gives the following account of it:

This morning early William Wall and Robert Swift, a prospector, rode in town after the sheriff and a doctor—three men had been shot up near Dry Fork. We immediately started out to learn the particulars, but found a mystery hanging over the occurrence as usual, and a disposition to keep it quiet.

The battle, for that was what it was from what we learn, took place on the hill to the right or north of Dry Fork canyon, about twenty miles from Vernal, this morning about daylight, and was the outcome of a dispute over a mining claim, or rather a jumper.

It seems Swift and E. B. Coleman had a camp there, and Dave Milton and the two Stanton boys, former blacksmiths in Vernal, had a camp there also. Swift was at his camp and Milton and the Stanton boys at theirs this morning when Matt Warner, William Wall and E. B. Coleman rode up and the shooting commenced but from which side first we could not learn, nor the nature of the dispute.

After the firing ceased, which was kept up on both sides for some time, it was found that one of the Stanton boys was shot in the neck, Milton had been shot through the breast two or three times, and the other Stanton was shot in the right leg. It was thought that Dave Milton's wounds would prove fatal, but the Stanton boys' injuries were not serious.

The sheriff being over in Brown's park prospecting, Marcellus Pope, deputy sheriff, and I. T. Holdaway, coroner, left for the battlefield with a spring wagon to bring in the wounded, about noon.

Bro. Goddard, Here's a Correction.

HARRISVILLE, Utah,
May 9th, 1896.

To the Editor:

On page 634 of the WEEKLY of May 2nd, under the heading "Hand Cart Mission," and signed George Goddard, I find it stated that Captain George Rowley left Florence June 9th, 1857, and arrived in Utah Sept 14 ... 1857.

I copy from my journal: "Having through the blessings of God saved some money, I left Manchester, England, for Liverpool April 5th, 1859, where I purchased a passage on the ship William Tapscott under Captain Bell, Elder Robert Neslen being president of the company. After a tedious voyage we landed at Castle Garden, New York, May 13th, 1859. The next day we started by steamboat and railroad a distance of 2,000 miles to Florence. Here my funds gave out; but through a much unlooked for providence I was appointed by George Q. Cannon to drive an ox team for Capt. George Rowley, starting June 7th, 1859 (and not June 9th, as stated in News) traveled to Salt Lake Valley, a distance of 1,000 miles, arriving there in the afternoon of Sunday Sept. 4th, 1859 (and not Sept. 14th, as stated in News). Here we were greeted by hundreds of our co-religionists, who provided generously a bounteous supply of all that nature could desire.

Please correct friend George's chronology and oblige. PETER LAYER.

One of the best evidences that Ayer's Hair Vigor is an article of exceptional merit is the fact that the demand for it is constantly increasing. No one who uses this incomparable dressing thinks of trying any other preparation for the hair.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then, don't be an invalid.
