NELSON LOOKS GOOD AS EVER

Says He Will Fight His Way Up to the Top Again.

AND JOE GANS IS THE GOAL.

Darable Dane Proposes to Clear Away All the Best Men Before Tackling the King Pin.

The Los Angeles Times of Thursday directes more than a column of space to write up of Battling Nelson. Here is sporting editor of the Times

"Battling Nelson got to town last night, and is making himself solid with the fight fans by a line of action-talk which sounds like business. Incidentaly the Durable Dane looks more durable than ever, and seems to have a good hance of making good his boast that he an fight his way to the top again. of don't intend to do nothing but talking," said Nelson, "for I am going to let my fighting talk for me, I am going right ahead and meet all the good fellows up to Packey McFarland. Then let public sentiment force Gans Into the let public sentiment force Gans into the ring with me. I have done enough taking about Gans, but any time he wants to meet me I will have my side bet up, and if he continues to rour-flush. I will beat all the little fellows and have the public force him into areother match with me."

Nelson looks better than he has ever appeared here, and seems to be in tip-top condition. His eye is bright, his skin ruddy, and he has that "live" look that does more than anything ease look how that a fighter is "still in the ring." He looks harder than he did the last time he was in Los Angeles. Nelson claims that he did not "go back sifer his fight with Gans, and that he lost to Jinmy Britt only because he had eaten too big a meal.

WHAT A SHAME.

WHAT A SHAME.

was a shame to waste it," said on, in speaking of that extra steak an accommodating waiter placed to him, "and so I ate it." But it poor economy for Bat, for he figures he lost $50,000 cold cash in diminish-restige, loss of bets, and decrease is share of the purse. Son tells the story of his downbefore Britt;

d prestige, loss of bets, and decrease of his share of the purse.

Nelson tells the story of his downfall before Britt:

"I went to a cafe shortly after 6 o'clock and ate a good steak with just enough trimmings to give me a good square meal. While I was eating, a party of my friends entered and each ordered a steak, and the waiter brought in an extraone for me. It looked so good that I ate it, without thinking of the harm it might do me. When I got up from the table I immediately felt the effects. Then it came to me that If ever Britt went for my stomach he would bust me open.

"Sure enough; the first thing, Bingi right in the kitchen, and I knew that if Britt kept that up he would get me. I went through the full twenty rounds, but it was all I could do to stall him off in the last few rounds. That extra steak beat me, for before eating that meal I was in the best of shape and had advised all of my friends to bet on me. If I had had sense enough to throw the load off my stomach after eating I would have been all right, but I did not want to make it look bad before the crowd. That extra steak cost me $50,000, but it sire was a good one."

Ever since the battle with Britt, Nelson has been looked myon as a dead one, but he demopstrated in his bout with Jack Clifford that he still had his old-time flighting stamina in him. He is fairly aching to get into the ring with the best of the lightweights. He says he can easily do 130 pounds, and will take on any of the good ones even at that low weight.

TO MEET SCALER.

Nelson's first fight here will be with Kid Scaler, February 4. Bat firmly believes he can clean up the northern boy, and then is ready to take on Unholz. Nelson says he has promised Manager McCarey to fight the Boer here, but declares that if they met in Sait Lake City is that if they met in Salt Lake City could draw $12,000 as the fans are-crizy there and he and Unholz good reputations there. e Dane is enthusiastic over the pects of Sait Lake as a fight center, calms that it will be drawing all the battles of the United States soon. Interested in a sect to open a big arena there, which aimed to have a seating capacity of b.

is claimed to have a seating capacity of 20,000.

Nelson is anxious to meet McFarland in Salt Lake, and says that next to a return match with Joe Gans it would be the biggest card in the country. He says that McFarland has been sidestepping regularly, even though Bat has posted all kinds of forfeits to cover his.

Billy Nolan and Bat Nelson are stransets when they meet on the street, which hay seldom do, but Nelson says that if Nolan ever crosses tim again in the peaceful pursuit of the ring game, there surely will be something doing. Nelson says that so far as he has been able to make an estimate, Nolan is indebted to him for more than $20,000, but claims that he does not care so much for the money as he does for the injured feelings caused by Nolan's way of treating him.

A Nurse's Story

If you are a sufferer from headache, neuralgia, or pain from any cause you should read the following letter from a nurse.

lowing letter from a nurse.

"For sometime I have felt it my duty to write fou. I was having my doctor twice every week for headache. All he did for me was to give something to ease the pain. Sometimes the pain was so severe that I could not speak, and members of my family stood over me and gave me medicine every fifteen minutes until I was relieved. A sample of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills fell into my hands, I read the circular very carefully, and found my case described exactly. The next time my head began to ache I took the Pain Pills according to directions and I felt I was getting better, so I sent to the druggist for a box and took them until I was so much better that I was about the house all the afternoon. I have not had a doctor for headache since. When he met me sometime after he wanted to know how I was, and I told him what I had done, and he replied; "If you have found anything that will help you, stick to it;" and so I have. Being a nurse I have recommended them to a great many grateful people. One case I will mention. I saw a doctor go to a neighbor every week for months because she had such awful headaches; but for a long time I dared not suggest anything to her. One day I met her and I gave her a half a box of Anti-Pain Pills and she used them and has had no doctor since. She says they are a great blessing to her and said, "why didn't you tell me about them before." I could tell you of many similar cases."

whose regime last fall was at best only an indifferent success.

Ever since the close of the season just ended Newhall's name has been linked with that of possible coaches, and the announcement that Captain Burr has appointed Newhall one of the six members of the new commission that will be supreme in all matters of Harvard football, excepting only the scheduling of games, has given all but positive confirmation to the rumor.

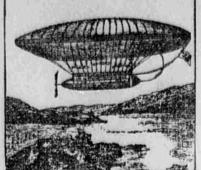

Burr himself, through his position as captain, is to be a member of the board, and the other five men with Newhall will be W. F. Garcelon, '95; G. R. Fenring, '98; J. W. Farley, '99; Percy Haughton, '98, and Andy Marshall '02, all noted footbal players of their time. This board will select the head coach, will stimulate interest among graduate players, will mold Harvard's football policy and in many other ways will show its authority. The fact that the name of Joshua Crane, Harvard's head coach of last fall, does not appear in the list is regarded as added evidence that Crane's term as football sponsor at Harvard is over.

Newhall is personally most popular with every student at Harvard, and be his fellow students of the senior class has been elected to several positions of importance on the class day and commencement committees. This winter Newhall is devoting his attention to hockey, being a member of the varsity seven.

Gothard mountains, experiments were made between another station on the Righi and a movable receiving apparatus, which was placed in a small valley in the Canton of Valais, at the foot of the Dent de Morcles.

Instead of fixing the wire of the receiving apparatus on the usual long poles, it was fixed on the sumits of two high peaks. All endeavors to communicate with the Righi station were fruitless, but the movable apparatus received many other telegrams from

ONE OF NATURE'S MAD MOODS.

The picture gives a very good idea of that turbine of destruction known as cyclone. This species of whirlwind has not yet been photographed successfully, but the drawing from which the accompanying cut was made was the work of an eyewitness of a recent cyclone in a southwestern state and is remarkably true to nature.

The rule for old people is one Cascaret daily. The bowels, like other muscles, grow less active with age. They need help.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation.

The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly,

For age is never so active as youth.

The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets.

And most of them need them dally.

One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels.

The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at sixty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics.

Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day.

What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm.

And there is no matter of choice here. The only such tonic is Cascarets.
