

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Editors George Fendall and W. T. Fendall Address the Congregation.

Religious services were held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, Sunday, April 28, 1902, Elder Angus M. Cannon, president of the stakes, presiding.

Prayer by Elder David Cannon. Singing by the choir.

The priesthood of the Twelve will be afforded in the administration of the sacrament.

ELDER GEORGE FENDALL was the first speaker. He read the fourth chapter of Isaiah. Who has the power, he asked, to interpret the scriptures? Holy men moved upon by the Spirit and no one understands the word without having that same Spirit. It is one of the strongest evidences of the absence of the Spirit of God in the Christian churches, that they never can agree on the meaning of any word of the Bible, although all hold that this book is the standard of their faith.

What is the sense of this difference of opinion? All are anxious to give an account of the things which they have done, but all seem to think that the only thing necessary to know is that Christ is a great Saviour. He is an individual, a man, and his person, his life, his death, his resurrection, his ascension, his coming again, are the things which are essential. When Christ and His Apostles preached the Gospel, they explained the way of salvation, faith, repentance, baptism, the reception of the Holy Ghost.

The prophet Isaiah said just encouragement with words of encouragement to the descendants of Abraham. They are to be comforted, for their sins are forgiven. With this message he was rejected by the people, because his appearance was not of all consolation and his doctrine came in conflict with those of all the sects of the age. It is important, however, to understand that Christ was right. If we wish to be saved we must have a righteousness which is not of our own doing, but which is given to us by the grace of God. The speaker further read a portion of the epistle to the Ephesians, exhorting the people of God to keep the unity of the Spirit, in the bond of peace. He said that the Lord has given us an opportunity to visit them of the principles of salvation. We cannot prove the truth as we do in these times, but we can offer them the truth in all love. A passage of the Book of Mormon was quoted showing how the Lord visited the people on this continent and preached the Gospel and gave instructions concerning baptism. These instructions agree with the Scriptures, and wherever there is a servant of God, he will preach the same doctrine.

All the trouble with Joseph Smith was that he was called of God. He was the first Apostle of this generation. On the one hand he was persecuted. Some will refuse to believe this, but the time will come when it shall be believed. To the Church belong the keys of the kingdom, and they were given in the beginning and were to exist as long as the Church existed.

HOMICIDE AT THE MUDDY. An Old Friend Writes from a Well-known Foreign Settlement.

WASHINGTON LETTER. Washington, March 21, 1902.—Senator Jones in the United States Senate are 'yes and for' but there was one of the first negatives on this week, when Senator Jones advised a resolution directing the committee on privileges and elections to investigate the charge of criminal embezzlement against and publicly name against Senator Hoar, of North Dakota. There has been considerable talk about the probability of such a resolution being adopted ever since the extra session opened, but without success, though it would do more than ever before. The opinion that Hoar, if such would, make a personal examination of the papers with the alleged bank embezzlement. Indeed, it is known that he did promise several weeks ago to make an examination, but he did not do it, and the resolution was not passed. The question now is, what will the Senate do about it? It would very well be to refuse to adopt the resolution, and the proposition made by some of the supporters of Senator Hoar to enlarge the scope of the resolution, by authorizing the committee to investigate the accounts of every Senator since the outbreak of serious consideration. The change is not made against Hoar, it is against the resolution, and it is against the proposition that the committee should specifically name and their names and the names of those who are charged with the embezzlement in the investigation resolution when it is passed. The matter is too important and too serious to be left to the discretion of the Senate to be treated from a demagogic, political, partisan standpoint. The House of Representatives is to make the people and the people are to make the House. It is not the Senate that should be made to do that which the people will not do. It is not the Senate that should be made to do that which the people will not do.

Secretary Cleveland raised a bill in the department of the State, and he has been the cause of the resignation of Mr. P. O. H. Clark, who for twelve years has been chief of the consular bureau. It is a matter of public knowledge that Mr. Clark got the idea that he individually and not the government was running the consular bureau, and that he had been a permanent fixture and consequently a higher man than the secretary of state, who is elected by the people. He has been a permanent fixture and consequently a higher man than the secretary of state, who is elected by the people. He has been a permanent fixture and consequently a higher man than the secretary of state, who is elected by the people.
