

ARGUMENTS ON IN SPENCER CASE

Taking of Testimony is Completed Before Judge Diehl This Morning.

TRY TO IMPEACH DAUGHTER.

Deputy Sheriff Sperry and Mrs. Wallace Testify, but James C. Bertoch is Excused.

The taking of testimony in the case of Samuel G. Spencer closed shortly after 11 o'clock today, after which arguments were heard until the noon recess.

The first witness called this morning was Deputy Sheriff C. A. Sperry, the purpose of whose examination being the impeachment of Louie Spencer, the 17-year-old daughter of the defendant. The same questions were put to Mr. Sperry as had been propounded to Sheriff Emery yesterday, relative to certain alleged admissions made to the officers at the Wallace home on the night of Aug. 26, 1907. Mr. Sperry was permitted by the court to answer three questions; namely, that Miss Spencer admitted that she had seen her father in bed with Iva Wallace, and at different times with the same person and each of the Spencer girls.

Mrs. Wallace, mother of Iva Wallace, answered affirmatively the same questions as propounded to Mr. Sperry, after testifying that she had been present at the time.

DID NOT TESTIFY.

The prosecution then called James C. Bertoch in rebuttal. The defense objected to any testimony that he might give, on the ground that it was not proper rebuttal. He had not, counsel contended, testified at the proper time, and there was nothing for him to rebut. The objection was sustained and Mr. Bertoch was excused.

ARGUMENTS NOW ON.

Asst. County Atty. Meyer then made the opening argument for the prosecution, followed by Atty. Adam J. Dunsmuir for the defense. The latter had not concluded when Judge Diehl announced a continuance of the case until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

TROUBLES OF ITS OWN.

The waterworks department is working all its outside men to the limit. The cold weather and the carelessness of householders taken together makes much for the department to worry about. All hands are busy turning off water from houses where water jackets in ranges and service pipes and distribution pipes have burst. The superintendent is endeavoring to adopt a plan requiring all householders to shut off the water from pipes exposed to the cold and thus prevent freezing.

WATER CASE STILL ON.

The taking of testimony in the action brought by the Progress company against Salt Lake City was resumed before Judge Morse in the Third district court this morning. The case has reached its thirty-second day of trial. The examination of John Brainford was the most important business undertaken this morning. He claims a water right in the South Fork of Big Cottonwood creek and the nature of his claim was gone into along the lines upon which the examination of all previous witnesses has been made. C. S. Kinney, this morning withdrew as attorney for the Lower Ellison ditch and H. A. Smith was entered of record in his stead.

WANTS SEELEY'S RECORD.

Pacific Athletic Union Compiling Data About Tramp Athletes.

The Pacific Athletic union, an institution controlling football on the coast, is planning to make a gallery of athletic hobbles, "to clear the coast decks of crooked athletes." It is stated in a letter to a Salt Lake, asking for Seeley's local record.

The object of the gallery is to compile data about men who drift from college to college, appear on foot ball teams, do very little studying, and remain in undergraduate life more years than the normal four, and the use of the data is to protect Pacific coast colleges from using such men on their teams, or being deceived through a lack of knowledge of their practices.

The letter received here requests the local record of Player Seeley, for addition to the data already collected about him by Director Sidney Flexotto, of the Athletic union. Seeley is known to have played at Williams college 10 or 11 years ago, at Stanford seven years ago, and on other teams since.

Other men who are being listed in the category are Hoston, Hone, Sleaker, Gregory, and a number of famous athletes who have made their way through a number of colleges during an undergraduate period. The gallery is to be from the record so far gathered it.

It is shown that this type of man after being driven out of the larger eastern and western universities, is showing up more and more frequently in western football, where the fight for another controlling spirit has not yet been generally made.

"TOM" SHOW FOR FEB. 3.

Salt Lake Press Club to Present Again Best Offering Ever Seen Here.

The historic walls of the Salt Lake theater will be in dire danger Feb. 3. The Press club's Tom show is to be the attraction on that date and if the run doesn't "bust women" it will stretch it, anyhow. There's going to be lots of local color in the show, gag, local hits and all styles of new and good things the coming affair, it is expected, will be more of a success than anything yet attempted by the talented writer-actors. The play has been brought up by playwright Joel Priest; Harry Culmer will act as manager and John D. Spencer and other experienced individuals will help to push the good thing along.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. ELLIS.

Was Daughter of Apostle Orson Hyde And Well Known in Salt Lake.

News of the death of Mrs. Della Hyde Ellis reached her family during Christmas time. Mrs. Ellis has frequently visited her old home and has kept friends in remembrance. Her last visit to this city was made two years ago, when she met many of those whom she knew in girlhood.

Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells pays the following tribute to Mrs. Ellis: "Della Hyde was born in Kanesville, now Council Bluffs, Iowa, Dec. 28, 1849, and was the daughter of Apostle Orson Hyde and his wife Marinda Johnson Hyde. After leaving her home in Nauvoo, Illinois, for the west, Apostle Hyde and family, including little Della, came to Utah in the early fall of 1852, and settled just opposite the temple block on the north side. Their daughter Della grew to womanhood in the Hyde home. Her mother, Mrs. Orson Hyde, was one of the grandest women the writer has ever known. Della was often spoken of as the 'flower of the flock.' She was certainly a beautiful and attractive young woman.

"After her marriage she first resided in California, and afterwards for 18 years in Boston. More recently, however, she has lived in Seattle, where she leaves two sons, one of them a prominent lawyer in that city. Several months at the Battle Creek sanitarium, in Michigan. She leaves a large number of relatives in this city and state. Mrs. Laura M. Miner, Frank Hyde, Emily Chase, Alonzo E. Hyde and the youngest sister, Mrs. Joseph Bull, who was her constant companion in her early life, and who feels most keenly the separation, and regrets that she could not be with her in her last hours of suffering and pain."

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

Report of Municipal Treasurer Shows Condition Jan. 2.

Chief Deputy Frank Godbe of the city treasurer's office has rendered a statement of the condition of the city's funds as required by the new ordinance passed by the council upon the suggestion of the special auditors who have been going over the city's account books for the past year. The statement shows the condition of the city finance at the close of business Jan. 2 and is as follows:

General funds.	Cr.	Dr.
Contingent	$18,587.18
Street		$ 5.45
Waterworks	6,446.13
Water supply	122.04
Sewer		199.87
Water bond sinking	8,557.99
Sewer bond sinking	2,093.00
Bond interest		7,068.41
Total	$44,442.67	$7,353.73
Cash on hand	$37,088.94

Added to the cash on hand is a remittance of the city's portion of the last tax collection, amounting to $11,639.21, which is apportioned as follows: Contingent, $34,350.53; street, $38,444.34; water supply, $8,587.63; sewer, $715.64; library, $2,562.54; bond interest, $26,478.53.

It will be seen that with the tax receipts the city will be able to wipe out all its overdrafts and start the year's work with a neat cash balance on hand.

KEMMERER COAL UNDERBIDS UTAH

Reduction of Twenty-Five Cents At Mines Went Into Effect Yesterday.

IS CHEAPER TO THE RETAILER

Notice of Drop in Price in Form of Circular by Manager of Mines To All Agents.

The situation in coal is that every center where it is mined is again fighting for new territory, after a long period of agreements by which one company restricted its operations to a certain limit, where its resources could be absorbed. The Utah Fuel Co. is pushing out into Nevada, and California.

The Kemmerer Fuel people are pushing more vigorously into Utah, and today Kemmerer coal is 25 cents cheaper to the retailer than it has been. If the retailers follow the example of the Utah coal dealers and drop the delivery charge to 50 cents the ton, coal should be on the retail market this week for 50 cents cheaper than it was a few weeks ago, or $5.50 per ton, instead of $6.00, which was charged till Utah coal dropped to $5.75.

NOTICE OF DROP. The announcement of a drop in Kemmerer fuel comes in a general notice from the mines, by E. J. Quealy, general manager, to all agents. It reads: "On and after today (Jan. 6), the mine prices on Kemmerer coal will be as follows:

Lump and nut	$2.25
Run of mine	1.75
Slack	1.25
All per ton of 2,000 pounds, mine weights. These prices apply on all unfilled and standing orders on which shipments are made on and after Jan. 6, 1908.

WHAT IT MAY BE.

The freight rate to Salt Lake is $1.75 per ton. The retail margin is supposed to have been $1, which would make the new price, if it reaches the consumer, complied by the following schedule:

Price at mine	$2.25
Freight to Salt Lake	1.75
Retail margin	1.00
Household	.50
Total to consumer	$5.50

The reduction is important to consumers from the fact, chiefly, that it is the first indication of a break at the mines, and the entrance of coal mines into the movement for lower prices. So far all reductions have been managed by the retailers, who have trimmed their delivery price.

TO SHOOT HIS HEAD OFF

Councilman Martin Takes Himself Fernstrom's Remarks About Grafting.

So far as is known, there are no notches on the butt of Councilman L. D. Martin's revolver. In fact, it is not known that he owns and carries a revolver—maybe he does and maybe he doesn't. Nevertheless, he tried dreadfully hard to appear like a really and truly western bad man with blood in his eye just after the council session adjourned yesterday. Councilman Fernstrom had made some remarks, directed to no one in particular, concerning grafts that have put councilmen in other cities behind penitentiary walls. The cause was gas franchises in which some questionable conduct was involved. Martin thought the remarks were sent in his direction, and thereupon in his heart there was a ranking something that made him want to kill somebody. After the council adjourned he galloped up to Councilman Fernstrom and told him that if ever again he accused him, Martin, of grafting, he, Martin, would shoot his Fernstrom's head off. Fernstrom was unaffected.

FLETCHER TO BLAME.

Investigation Into Thistle Junction Wreck Results in This Decision.

At the conclusion of a rigid investigation officials of the Rio Grande announced they felt Herbert W. Fletcher was entirely responsible for the accident Sunday morning at Thistle Junction. This accident cost Fletcher his life. Members of train crews of both trains figuring in the collision were examined and all asserted stoutly that Fletcher was too old a man and too good a railroader to have been asleep at his throttle. They were of the opinion that he was thinking of his old home in Virginia, which he was going to visit within a few days, and this took his mind away from his train, the track and the freight train ahead. Fletcher's funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Evans' undertaking parlors.

BIG DEAL IN REALTY.

Clayton Investment Company Becomes Owner of Richards Street Property.

A real estate deal of some interest was concluded yesterday afternoon, when the Clayton Investment company paid the full price of $25,000 for the property on Richards street, where the Auditorium rink now stands. The property belonged to the Zion's Savings Bank & Trust company, and the deal was begun a year ago, the price being $7,500. For business reasons the transfer was not made at that time outright, but the deed was placed in escrow, a deposit made, and interest paid on the amount remaining. The property is now valued at $24,000 per front foot, and had it been resold before the money stringency, it is claimed $250 per front foot could have been got for it. In fact the Clayton Investment company was offered after the deposit in escrow, about twice what they paid. The property management is paying about $160 a month rent, so that the investment is a profitable one from the start. The money on the Richards street deal is being advanced in a way that is very gratifying to local owners.

FOR A DETENTION HOME.

Juvenile Court Commission in Session Going Over the Question.

The juvenile court commission is holding an important meeting in the governor's office this afternoon. In addition to the members of the commission present, Mayor Bransford, the county commissioners, Judge Gowen, Superintendent Reynolds of the Newhouse home, Probation Officer Guardello Brown and others interested in the working of the juvenile court are present. The meeting has been called to consider the matter of providing a detention home in Salt Lake for the boys of the county and city. The city's position is that it has no authority for the expense, due to its defective law drawn by former Judge Willis Brown, which is filled with defects blocking almost every attempt of the officers of the court to better conditions among young boys and girls of the city. It is believed by interested parties that the meeting this afternoon will result in an understanding between both city and county and that a detention home will be provided.

TWO-STEPPING CONTEST.

One of the largest crowds of the season attended the Auditorium last evening to witness the first event of a week's two-stepping contest on roller skates. Last evening's contest narrowed down to a fight between Miss Mabel Anderson and partner, against Miss Ruth Sindar and Earl La Mont. The former were finally adjudged the winners and will enter the finale on Saturday evening. The second round takes place this evening after the grand match. It was announced that Miss La Mont had resigned his position as floor manager. Bert McArthur was appointed in his place.

NEW TRANSFER RULES.

Street Car Company Says Privilege Has Been Abused.

Notices appeared in the streetcars today, that on and after Jan. 15, no transfers would be issued to passengers unless requested, and then only at the time fares were paid. Inquiry at the company's offices indicates that there has been a great abuse of the transfer privilege. It has been the habit of passengers, according to company officials to ask for a transfer not only when they paid their fares, but when getting off the car, as though their luck been given them and then to give the transfers to their friends.

Moreover, the company officials say they have found that some conductors would give transfers to members of their families in lieu of fares, which could be readily done, as the slips could be punched for any hour that the recipients desired to use them.

Altogether, the management of the street railway found that the company was being badly imposed upon, and has now taken measures to stop it.

EX-OFFICIALS OF BOSTON INDICTED BY GRAND JURY.

Boston, Jan. 6.—Indictments were returned today by the grand jury against former Sup't. of Streets James H. Doyle, and six former aldermen.

The grand jury has been investigating the purchase by the city of land on Codman street, contracts for street paving and the purchase of prizes for athletic events held by the city on July 4 and during the old home week.
