

UTAH STATE FAIR WILL BE A HUMMER

Applications for Space to Exhibit
Already Away Ahead of Former Years.

GOVERNOR VISITS GROUNDS

President J. G. McDonald Goes Over
The Situation This Morning—
Building for the Artists.

This morning President J. G. McDonald of the Utah State Fair association, accompanied by Governor John C. Cutler and Secretary H. S. Ensign, visited the state fair grounds in order to look over the situation and outline improvements and additions as indications are that the annual fair is growing to such dimensions that additional space is necessary.

On returning, President McDonald stated that while nothing definite had been decided upon, it was agreed that the existing accommodations were inadequate to take care of the exhibits scheduled.

The interest taken throughout the state in the coming fair is decidedly marked," he declared, "and from all over Utah inquiries are coming in for space. We can confidently state that this year's exhibition will surpass all others in the history of the fair. The manner in which Salt Lake manufacturers are applying for space is simply embarrassing. Three manufacturers already have applied for 75 foot frontage, while Z. C. M. L. seeks to front nearly three times its usual space. Where we are going to put them all is the problem. One exhibitor promises to display $50,000 worth of furs if we will accord the necessary space, and so it goes.

ART BUILDING.

"The fact that the Utah artists will have a building of their own this fall will relieve the pressure somewhat, but even then the space is inadequate.

Regarding the artists, I want to say that they will find conditions vastly different from those which have heretofore prevailed. Instead of being skied up in the gallery and stuck off in a corner, they will be given quarters where their work will be displayed to the greatest advantage.

"Among the striking exhibits this year will be that of the Agricultural college at Logan. This institution has asked for additional space and also is entering the livestock department strong with 18 stalls showing cattle and horses that were reared on the farm. The state institution and claimed to be second to no imported animals.

"The department devoted to swine which never has been a strong feature will this year take a jump and a number of pedigree pigs have already been entered. Applications are coming in from all over. This morning we received entries from Dr. Wayne, Illinois, for a number of Percheron, French coach and German coach stallions.

"And so one might go all along the line down the list with the same old story of double space required from A to Z."

STANDING COMMITTEES.

There are a few changes in the fair organization from last year. The standing committees, as announced in their corrected form, are:

TONE UP THE STOMACH

Get Rid of the Gas,
Headaches and Dizziness.

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, some loathe the sight of food. Often there is a feeling as of weight on the chest, a full feeling in the throat. Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom.

A very delicate stomach requires easily digested food but nature never intended that the food should be digested before it is eaten. The stomach must be strengthened to perform its own work and what it needs is not food already digested but a tonic. The processes of digestion are controlled by the blood and nerves, and medical science has produced no better digestive tonic than

OFFICERS OF THE FAIR.

The officers of the fair for this year will be: President, James G. McDonald; vice president, Maurice K. Parsons; second vice president, F. J. Hendershot; secretary, H. S. Ensign; treasurer, Elias A. Smith. Directors: J. G. McDonald, M. K. Parsons, Mrs. Priscilla J. Ritter, William C. Winder, Joseph A. Silver, Lester D. Freed, Frank J. Hewlett, all of Salt Lake City; T. H. Smith, Logan; John H. Seely, Mt. Pleasant; Robert R. Irvine, Provo; Mrs. N. A. Empey, Salt Lake City; F. J. Hendershot, Ogden.

HOW TO GET STRONG.

P. J. Daly, 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case, a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. DEATH OF MRS. HIGGS.

On September 10, Elizabeth Hannah Park Higgs, widow of the late Thomas Higgs well known in this city and who spent some 17 years in Mantel, Sanpete county, died at her residence in the Tenth ward in this city. She was born in England, on May 2, 1827, and joined the Church at Derby, England, emigrating to Utah, in 1856. She arrived with Edward Martin's handcart company on November 30, of that year. The company was detained by unusually early snow storms, and many of the emigrants died from exposure in the mountains. The handcart was to be gradually abandoned as the relief teams from the valley were met. Mrs. Higgs was then a young girl, strong to withstand the fearful exposure that she with others was subjected to. After arriving in the valley, she lived some time with the family of President Brigham Young, and in the early '60s married Thomas Higgs with whom she had two children, Alpha Higgs, the present General Secretary of the Y. M. M. L. A. and also counselor to the bishop of the Tenth ward, and the late Jesse B. Higgs, for a long time state secretary of the Y. M. M. L. A. of the Salt Lake stake before the division. At the time of his death he was also a member of the bishopric of the Tenth ward where he acted as counselor to the bishop. Mrs. Higgs was a woman loyally devoted to her children, and was faithful to the gospel. She was a woman whose life and labors were reflected in her sons, and those who are familiar with them will readily recognize the value of her labors in this regard. She was an honest, upright, faithful and energetic woman, loyal to her friends, to her children, her faith and her Church. The burial will take place from the Tenth ward meetinghouse on Sunday, September 13.

ELIZABETH H. P. HIGGS.

George W. Bodle, a former resident of this city, died in Denver on the 8th inst., at the age of 46, and the remains have been shipped to this city, for interment in Mt. Olivet. The funeral will be held at 3 p. m., tomorrow, from the residence of his brother, Charles H. Bodle, 252 east First South street. The deceased was formerly connected with the operating department of the Northern Pacific and Rio Grande roads until his eye sight failed him, when he secured employment with the Pullman company. He was a member of the O. R. C.

INTERURBANS ARE TOWN'S GREAT NEED

So Declares Frank J. Hewlett on His Return from Idaho and Oregon Visits.

HOW THEY DEVELOPED BOISE

The City Is Thriving Center of Busy
Surrounding Territory Built Up
Because of Them.

"I may have had other opinions in the past, but I certainly feel now that what Salt Lake most needs, and most keenly suffers because it lacks, is an interurban railroad system to build up the country round about.

"If Salt Lake could see what the Boise interurban is doing for Boise, its people would flock into the interurban business, and not rest a minute until this great want was supplied."

This is the opinion brought back from a trip through Idaho and the northwest by Frank J. Hewlett, who last night returned to Salt Lake enthused over the wonderful development going on in the territory that is within the Utah trade zone.

"One sight in Idaho was more wonderful than anything I ever recall having seen," he declared. "It was pioneers on their way into a splendid Idaho valley to settle there and make their homes. In covered wagons the long train stretched along the road to Camas valley, 10 miles wide and 40 miles long in the Halley country. They had with them the goods to make life pleasant from the start, pigs, milk cows, chickens, and building tools. In the valley the town of Taft is just securing its postoffice. Then there are the towns of Soldier and Corral, and each of these towns must inevitably send its trade to Salt Lake City."

"At Gooding I found them putting up a $30,000 hotel in a town not a year old, and they already have a bank and four stores. At Fruitland I talked to a Dr. McBride who had just put up a lumber yard under his fruit trees to keep the limbs from breaking, and his lumber amounted to $280 for the job."

"My Dunn, superintendent of the Payette Valley railroad, I found over his ears in work, running the road to its fullest capacity night and day getting fruit and melons out of the Payette country. He sent his regards to his Salt Lake Press club friends and the railroad boys."

Mr. Hewlett declares that Salt Lake will hear much from the Idaho country within the next few years and that activities there mean the rapid passage of the frontier west, and the building up of the country faster than was ever dreamed, a short time ago.

WORK ON NEW THEATER.

Foundation of Building on State Street
Nearly Completed.

The excavation north of the Knutsford hotel on State street, which will be used for the foundation of the new theater is assuming quadrangular dimensions and is now nearly complete and it is expected that within a week the masons will be at work laying the foundation for the structure. A night shift of several teams was recently put to work on the site.

Those who are pushing the venture are M. Daniels, owner of the land, Max Florence and Margaret, and Grant of the Cort circuit in Salt Lake. The new playhouse will handle the offerings of the Cort melodramatic circuit and it is intended to have the new playhouse in running order before the present season is very far advanced. Max Florence, owner of the Elite electric theater, will be the manager. In the neighborhood of $75,000 will be spent on the theater and furnishings.

ANOTHER COFFEE WRECK.

What's the Use When There's an Easy Way Out.

Along with the coffee habit has grown the prevalent "American Disease"—nervous prostration. The following letter shows the way out of the trouble.

"Five years ago I was a great coffee drinker and from its use I became so nervous I could scarcely sleep at all nights. My condition grew worse and worse until finally a physician consulted declared my troubles were all due to coffee.

"On a visit some friends deprived me of coffee to prove that it was harmful. At the end of about eight days I was less nervous but the craving for coffee was intense, so I went back to the old habit as soon as I got home and the old sleepless nights came near making a wreck of me.

"I heard of Postum and decided to try it. I did not like it at first, because, as I afterwards discovered, it was not made properly. I found, however, that when made after directions on the package, it was delicious.

"It had a soothing effect on my nerves and none of the bad effects that coffee had, so I bade farewell to coffee and have used only Postum since. The most wonderful account of the benefit to be derived from Postum could not exceed my own experience." "There's a Reason."

He draws a salary of $5,000 a year from the Denver association. NO BOOZE FOR PRISONERS.

Chief of Police Tom D. Pitt has issued orders to the effect that hereafter meals from restaurants or other places will not be served to prisoners in the city jail. Heretofore it has been the practice of prisoners to draw on their account in the desk sergeants' office and send messengers out for a tray of food. In this manner prisoners have been able to secure liquor and on more than one occasion the salter have found prisoners under the influence of whisky. It is to put a stop to this that Chief Pitt has issued the new order.

SLAYER OF HAWKINS GIVES HIMSELF UP

David Logan Walks Into Office
Of Chief of Police at 8:15
Last Evening.

ACTS ON ATTORNEY'S ADVICE

"It Was Either Kill or Be Killed,"
Says Negro's Attorney—Man Had Been Hiding in Lodging House.

David Logan, the negro who on Thursday morning shot and killed Dick Hawkins, colored, in "Candy Bill" McKenzie's dive at 33 Commercial street, surrendered himself to the police at 8:15 o'clock last evening.

Logan had communicated with his attorney, Sam King, and the latter advised the man to give himself up. Atty. King declared that Logan had a good defense, and that it would be shown that he shot Hawkins in self-defense. "It was a case of kill or be killed," said counsel, "and the fact will be shown when the hearing is held."

HIDING IN LODGINGHOUSE.

Since the shooting Logan has been in hiding in the Plumas lodginghouse, 549 west Second South street. Thursday Logan sent a note to Henry Bogan, to the police headquarters where Logan was taken into custody, booked for murder and locked up without bail. Acting doubtless upon the advice of his attorney, Logan refused absolutely to talk about the case and would not make any statement or answer questions asked him by Chief Pitt, Lieut. Shannon or Detective Sheets.

King stated that Logan had not made any attempt to leave the city and that he had been in town all the time since the fatal shooting. The attorney of Logan did not create any stir whatever about police headquarters but a few persons about the station knew that Logan had given himself up. He appeared to be perfectly cool and did not seem to be worried in the least over his arrest.

HAWKINS' MOTHER NOTIFIED.

The body of Hawkins still lies at O'Donnell's undertaking parlors. The dead man's mother, residing at Peoria, Illinois, has been notified of her son's death but so far no word has been received from her. The remains will probably be buried by local colored people. Arrangements have not been completed for an inquest but a complaint charging Logan with murder in the first degree will be drawn up by the county attorney in a short time.
