It was claimed that, as Calton hal Englishman, about 60 years of age, been brought to the penitentiary for who had just come to this city cooffnement, he could not be taken back to Beaver on the 26th in time to be shot. This point would not affect the judgment, as the man of the Knights of Labor, and that Marshal could easily get him to a "convenient private place in the diss pose of attending the funeral of a man trict" on the morning of the day set for the execution. The fatal error lies in the fact that Judge Boreman sentenced Calton to be "publicly shot," on stepping out] down the steps the death warrant containing the same direction to the Marshal, while the by certain persons. The effect of this blunder is that the condemned man will have to be taken to Beaver and be re-sentenced.
