DEAF AND DUMB, SICK OR SMOOTH?

Questions that Have Arisen Regarding a Well Known Ex-Convict.

HAS FASTED FOR A WEEK

Was About to be Removed to a Hospital, when an Officer Interposed and Prevented It.

The police are in a quandary concerning one of the city prisoners. Whether to believe he is a fraud and stubborn as a government mule, or deaf and dumb and sick is what puzzles them. The prisoner is William Ryan, allas

Thomas Jefferson, an ex-convict, at present serving time in the city jail for vagrancy.

On February 14 he was released from the State prison after serving three years for burglary, and about two weeks later was taken in custody by the police and charged with vagrancy. When arrested he made signs to the officers to indicate that he was deaf and dumb and wrote to Judge Tim-mony, in court that he was rendered so by typhoid fever. The judge re-marked that he believed Ryan was afflicted with a complaint similar to that which troubled a couple of scrip-tural characters who gained notoriety principally for their tendency to pre-varicate; or in other words, he believed Ryan was an unmitigated faisifier and gave him ninety days in jail with Eph Kelly.

Since his incarceration Ryan has-as some of the officers believe—feigned ill-ness. For a week he has scarcely eaten a mouthful. Yesterday Jailer Kimbali became sufficiently alarmed to summon City Physician King who ordered Ryan sent to the hospital.
Arrangements were being made today

Arrangements were being made today to send Ryan to the hospital but one of the officers profested asserting that he was not ill but merely working a smooth graft to get out of jail, and so his removal was delayed.

Yesterday guards at the State prison came down and seaw Ryan and identi-came down and saw Ryan and identified him. They state positively that he was neither deaf nor dumb and was simply playing possum. Jailer Kimball declined to accept this theory, and in the meantime the man is in jail.

ARRIVALS AT "UNCLE" SOL'S. Couple of Germans Engage in a Fight and Change Their Abode.

C. W. Westman and Gus Anderson, a couple of German hobos, and chronic imbibers, were arrested this morning by Officer Barlow and partly marched and partly dragged over to the police station. Gus looked as though he had slept in a slaughter house, for his person was besmeared with Dutch gore. Westman, who is about 38 years of age, insisted that he was 65, and judging from his appearance he had enwere used, and he is evidently responsible for his companion's bloody appear-

"See vat I haf got!" bawled Anderson, holding his hand from which the bark had been removed. "He kleked my knuckles off mit his pig vooden shoes, yah, mit das pig vooden shoes. I vork in der mines, undt every vere. Oh, I don't like him, he kick me mit his pig vooden shoes!"

AMUSEMENTS.

The man who wrote the "Chimes of Normandy" could not compose music that was ordinary, and in "Paul Jones" most charming and tuneful vein. It was listened to with decided pleasure by a fair sized audience at the Grand last evening, and the unanimous voteseemed to be that while as a stage production it lacked the splender of "Wang," it went far ahead of it in the way of musical enjoyment. Miss Emmett, who took the part of Paul Jones. must be credited with a decided hit; although she forces her voice occasionthe key, still she has so big a voice and her stage presence is so fine that she quite captivated her audience. Her several numbers were warmly applaudded last night, notably her rendition of the beautiful theme which ends the first and second acts. She was well seconded by Miss Mortimer, who got a big recall for her rendition of "Cupid and I" from the Serenade, in which Mr. Smith, the flutist, accompanied her very creditably. Mr. Felch did not have all the opportunity the audience would like to have him given, but he and Mr. Lett were given no end of recalls for their topical duet. Not very much can be said of the work of Mr. Psche or of Miss Dale. The male chorus was strong chorus was not as efficient. The opera a very charming one and well worth listening to. It goes again tonight, to-morrow night and tomorrow afternoon.

MORE IN IT THAN NOW SEEMS TO BE

Meaning of the Increase in the Western's Common Stock.

PARK CITY LINE TOO GOOD

For Lecal Business Alone-Will Some Day Have Eastern Trains Running Over It.

Two railroad meetings of some interest and considerable magnitude are to be held in this city this month. On next Tuesday, April 3, will occur here the annual stockholders' meeting of the Central Pacific railway company; and on Monday, April 30, will be held a special meeting of the stockholders of the Rio Grands Western. The former being the regular annual meeting, so much interest does not ordinarily attach to it as seems to cling to the latter. The fact that, as before said in these columns, the stated purpose of the meeting is to vote upon the proposal to issue an additional block of common stock in the sum of $5,000,000, arouses the interest of people generally and railroad men in perticular. So many guesses are made as to the object of this additional stock issue that it may be well to tell what the officers announce as the reasons for this latest move. They recite that in order to provide additional capital when and as equired for the best interests of the ompany as set forth in the circular to the stockholders dated March 7, 1889, a first consolidated mortgage was au-thorized last year. Issues of bonds have been made thereunder, the proceeds of which have enabled the com pany to make a very valuable addition to the property. The continuing pros perity of the country served by the road, say the directors, has resulted since that date in further large developments of its local business, accomanied by the steady growth of traffic to and from the now rapidly develop ing Pacific country, and has greatly increased the earnings of the company, as also the standing of its securities. It is the judgment of the directors that it will be now to great advantage to make additional provision for new capital in the form of stock, not calling for fixed or prior charges, and it is therefore recommended that there be authorized an additional issue of the common capital stock to the extent of $5,000,000. In view of the fact that the Western has kept its earnings up to a high point and that its financial solidity is attested in the news that its stock has been scoring some big advances in the market of late, this additional issue of five millions is full of meaning to the "wise ones" in the railroad field. There are all sorts of tales, borne hither and thither, of all sorts of projects in view. The latest one is to the effect that the Western is going to "get out from un-der" the Denver and Rio Grande and the Colorado Midland in the matter of Denver and other Colorado connections. The man who seems to know points to the Park City branch of the Western and is bold enough to say that the Western is not putting all those improvements in on that little feeder just for the sake of Park City business. Denver running over that bit of line," was confidently predicted today. "The Itio Grande Western is now under the lash of the Denver and Rio Grande and the Colorado Midland in the matter of a Denver connection, and if these two systems chose to do so they could n it mighty uncomfortable for the Utah line. Going out of this city by way of the Park City branch you will some day see in operation a short line to Denver that will cut down the haul between these two cities by about two hundred and twenty miles. These big improve-ments in the Park City line and this new issue of stock will certainly result in some extensive and interesting de velopments in railroad affairs in Utah."

Railroad for Oregon. Washington, March 27.-Representatives Wilson, of Idaho, and Cushman and Jones, of Washington, appeared before the House river and harbor committee today and urged the appropriation of $454,000 for a Portage railroad at the Dalles, Oregon, Railroad Sold. Toledo, O., March 27 .- The Clover Leaf railroad was sold here today fo $12,200,000 to Messrs. Hartshorn and Peyton, representing the bondholders reorganization committee. Samuel Ountermunder, of New York, bid $12,-100,000. He represented William C. Taylor, who, it is said, is at the head of a syndicate of New York bankers. The sale to the bondholders is taken to mean that the road will remain an in-dependent line and that Samuel Hunt, the present receiver, will remain in charge. Thus ends the bitter litigation of seven years' duration.

Paris Telegram Asserts that the Bargain for Further U. S. Expansion is Complete.

London, March 27, 4:30 p. m .- A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. from Paris says: The sale of the Danish Antilles to the United States has practically been completed.

NOTHING KNOWN IN WASHING-TON

Washington, March 27 .- The state de partment has not been advised that the Danish government intends to introduce bill in the present Danish parliament providing for the sale to the United States of the islands of St. Thomas and St. Croix. The opinion prevails here that if any such measure is introduced at this stage it will be through the independent action of some persons not directly connected with the government of Denmark. The reason for this be-lief is found in the fact that the nego-tiations which have been in progress between the two governments in rather indefinite fashion for some time past have not yet reached a stage where executive action would seem to be necessary.

It is said that our government knows of no interest superior to its own in connection with the transfer of title to these Danish West Indian islands, and even if some other government has through previous negotiations, secured what it regards as an option on the islands, the same would be of no avail as against the pre-eminent rights of the United States, should our government incline to the purchase of the islands and the Danish government be willing to sell at all,

DEATH OF A NOBLE WOMAN

"Aunt Susannah" Spencer Passes Away in Her Seventieth Year.

Her Demise was Unexpected and Will Cause a Shock to Her Friends -Tribute of One Who Knew Her.

"Aunt Susannah Spencer is dead," were words that were spoken with sadness many times today. Expressions announcing the closing chapter of the mortal career of an honored man or woman always bring more or less sorrow with them. But it is not often that the sad tidings of death are spoken with such deep feeling as they were in the case of the deceased. Mrs. Susannah Neslen Spencer was one of the noblest of her sex. Said one distinguished Utah woman concerning her: "She was the best woman I ever knew; and when I say that, I do so with a full appreciation of the gravity of the statement. Her life was one of spotless purity, self-abnegation and good deeds. As a wife she was devotion and honor itself-as patient and brave as woman ever was. As a mother she was the incarnation of maternal solicitude and loved her children better than her own life. In the broad field of wo-manhood she lived quietly and unostentatiously, scattering seeds of kindness wherever she went and benefitting all with whom she came in contact. It may be truly said of her that the world is better for her having lived. Her death is a distinct loss to the commun-The deceased was a native of Lowes

No. 224 E street, at 4:50 yesterday afternoon, in the seventieth year of her age. She had not been in the best of health for a year past, but was not taken seriously ill until a week ago yesterday, and even then her condition was not regarded as being dangerous. It was not regarded as being dangerous. It was only on Sunday that the apprehension of the family was aroused. When the end came last evening they were overwhelmed with grief for their love of her was very great. Her suffering was severe at times though death itself was perfectly painless, and as placid as a summer's dream. Her last moments were simply a reflex of the beautiful life she had lived and she passed tiful life she had lived and she passed away while pronouncing benedictions upon the heads of her children and tes-tifying to the divinity of the Latter-day faith of which she had been so true an exponent,
Many of the early timers will remember the deceased as the daughter of Samuel and Eunice Neslen, who lived for many years in the large old house where the handsome modern residence f Judge Hackness now stands on South Temple street. She came to Utah on September 20th, 1853, and spent the re-mainder of her life in Salt Lake. Be-sides her husband and children she leaves the following brothers and sisters to mourn her demise: Robert F. Neslen, William F. Neslen, Mrs. Samuel Tuck-er, Mrs. William F. Foster, Mrs. George M. Ottinger, Mrs. Samuel Dean and Mrs. John Sharp, Jr.

So 'tis done: the curtain drawn On life's mingled bliss and blight; And a wondrous flush of dawn Risen on her marvelling sight -With her spirit's glad release-All the mortal warfare past Shows the flower-starred fields of peace Spreading for the thornway passed,

In Memory of the Deceased.

A beautiful spirit has laid down the burden of life and taken up its im-mortal existence. We who loved her shall miss the sweet smile and gentle word, but our loss is her gain, and we submit to the brief separation, rejoic ing in the knowledge that she is no dead, but that she will meet us in her eternal home. Mrs. Spencer's life has been one of sincere devotion, and it can be truthfully said of her, no life has any shadows which she cast upon it. She has gone where no shadows are Religion is a life, or it is nothing. To give one's self to Jesus, implies much. In Him to live, "and move and have our being," is to live in our daily walks of life near to the perfection of life. and help to bring upon earth the spirit of peace, of good will—the millennium. In the life of Mrs. Spencer was all of this portrayed, and she will always live in the memory of those who knew her as a beautiful example of Christ-like faith and trust.

Secured by Johnny Reiff, His Mount Winning by Three Lengths-His Brother Finishes Third.

London, March 26 .- The flat racing season opened today at Lincoln. The weather was cold. The presence of Sloan, Martin and the two Reiffs, Lester and Johnny, and the fact that they were engaged for most of the races of the meeting and were to ride promising sprinters, added interest and gave interest and flavor to the sport. The first race was the trial plate and was secured by Johnny Reiff in a somewhat hollow fashion, his mount winning by three lengths. The horse ridden by his brother, Lester, finished third. The re-
