Baraine-Koenig Investigation—Assembly Committee Meeting.

The commission appointed to investigate the circumstances of the escape of Baraine implicates the jailers, and states that they were instigated by Col. Villette, but it acquits the garrison of the fort of complicity in the affair.

A meeting of the permanent committee of the National Assembly was held yesterday; Buffet, president of the Assembly, presided. Demahay, a deputy of the Left, complained of the continued rigorous treatment by the government of neutrals and foreigners. He also called particular attention to the speech of Captain Alphonse in La Vendee, in which he advised his hearers to follow the example of the inhabitant of that department at the time of the first revolution, to take up their arms against their enemies. Chardon, the Four, minister of the interior, replied that the government would inquire into the matter. Tirard, another deputy of the Left, complained of the unequal treatment of newspapers by the Government. Some, he charged, were favored, others were oppressed. He also made a speech against the restrictions placed upon the introduction and circulation of foreign journals, and the suspension of a newspaper in Bordeaux because it stated that MacMahon was coldly received during his recent journeys. Notwithstanding this, Paris figures are allowed to insult the others to hatred of each other. He demanded a cessation of the rigorous measures. La Tour justified the action of the government in suspending the journal in Bordeaux, and in prohibiting the circulation of other Bonapartist papers, because of the reproduction in their columns of attacks of a serious nature. He stated, however, that he regretted the necessity for such proceedings. Picard asked the government to enforce the decision of the Assembly abolishing the empire; he said that Berger, a Bonapartist candidate for the Assembly, in his address to the Loire, had issued a circular to the electors, ignoring this decision. La Tour said he disapproved this circular, but was unwilling to interfere because it would be an invasion of electoral liberty. Several members of the Extreme Right protested against the recognition of the empire, but in vain, because they were opposed to the interests of France. La Tour replied that France had acted in harmony with the other powers, and he added that a large body of troops had been dispatched to the frontier to preserve neutrality.

GO TO ENGLAND.

GREAT BRITAIN.
Transit of Venus Party—The Austrian Polar Expedition.

LONDON.—The American expedition to observe the transit of Venus arrived off Cape Town on the 5th of August.

The credentials of the new Spanish ambassador do not mention the republic.

Further details of the Austrian Polar expedition say that after abandoning the ship the party traveled on land in a long line and passed two months in the ice. The highest point reached was in latitude eighty. A large tract of land was discovered to the northward of Nova Zembla. The expedition arrived at Wards on a Russian boat. There was only one death during the entire voyage.

Carlists at Bilbao Again.

MADRID.—The Carlists are encroaching on the ground around Bilbao. The damage done by the bombardment of Puycerda is insignificant.

GERMANY.
Business Reviving.—We have already remarked the indications of a renewal of business throughout the country since the commencement of an active Fall trade in New York and Boston markets and in the reopening of several important iron works that had been for some time closed. Similar cheering reports are brought by the last mails from England, where a general failure of trade with respect to that on this side the Atlantic has existed for about the same time. The wheat crop promises to be of surpassing abundance. Trade is recovering in all its branches. Coal exhibits no tendency to rise in price, as it generally does after a protracted fall. The iron and steel industries begin to exhibit increasing liveliness. Cotton manufacturers are shaking off the lethargy that has so long rested on them. A careful analysis of the Board of Trade returns, and of the traffic statements of the railway companies of England, shows that steady accumulation of business has taken place, even over the great augmentation which occurred at the corresponding date last year. Pauperism is showing a steady decrease, and there is good prospect of an early rise in wages and increasing employment. Better times in the Old World will reduce the influx of needy emigrants here and so reduce excessive competition of labor, whilst the steady improvement of business here will increase the demand for labor. Things are mending.—Cleveland Herald.
