COAL SITUATION IS BETTER.

Indian Railway Cough—Trial Jurors Drawn—Religious Class Convention—Other News Items.

POCAHONTAS, Nov. 21.—The Oregon Short Line has an intermittent coal telephone service for its conductors north, east and west of Pocatello. That it is practicable is demonstrated by its quiet service for the last two years.

Some 15 cabooses running in and out of this city have a private telephone connected with the dispatcher's office. About half a dozen other cabooses at Idaho Falls and Montpelier, Ida., and Laramie, Wyo., have these modern conveniences, as have also each wrecking car and the private cars of the road superintendent.

The arrangement consists of a Columbia cell battery, No. 6, having a ground wire attached to one of the ends of the co-axial cable, which in turn connects with the telephone. The battery is placed in the co-axial cable, and the telephone is connected to the other end of the cable. The battery is connected to the ground wire, and the telephone is connected to the other end of the cable. The battery is connected to the ground wire, and the telephone is connected to the other end of the cable.

This service, being intermittent, is adapted for territory where there are long distances between stations, hence its use is not called for on the Utah division.

Idaho Businessmen Urge Representation to Fight Measure Benefiting Mail Order Houses.

Special Correspondence.

Notes, Idaho, Nov. 21.

The League of Commercial Clubs ended yesterday afternoon a very interesting and profitable three days session in this city.

The clubs coming within the limits of the organization were well represented. A new set of officers for the coming year was elected and matters of great importance to the state were discussed, on a number of which important action was taken.

An action, which is being taken by the members of the clubs as being of great importance, was taken yesterday, in which representatives of railroads shall be excluded from the conference.

There will thus be raised from the league the alarm which have attached to it of being under the dictation of the railroads.

FOR RAILWAY COMMISSION.

The executive committee of the league was instructed to take a poll of all the clubs in the league and take immediate action in accordance with the prevailing opinion among the clubs on this question.

Resolutions were adopted favoring Senator Hayburn's amendment to the rate law and commending the action of the senator in demanding that the New York banks ship gold west to relieve the present financial situation.

A resolution was also adopted looking toward procuring of express transportation rates on building material shipped into southern Idaho. A further resolution reads as follows:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this convention that an executive board should take up with the Postal Telegraph-Cable company the question of that company building its line through Idaho and extending its service to the states in the southern portion of the state."

AGAINST PARCELS POST.

After much discussion a resolution regarding the parcels post measure was adopted. It reads:

"We recommend that our representatives in Congress be asked to oppose that feature of Postmaster General Meyer's parcel post scheme, which advocates the carrying by mail of parcels weighing up to 11 pounds, as this would enable the large mail order houses and department stores of the east to compete and to crush out the smaller merchants and retailers of our towns and villages."

The new set of officers elected for the coming year are:

President, C. M. Hill, Twin Falls; first vice president, B. P. Shawhan, Payette; second vice president, William Northrup, Boise; secretary-treasurer, Kelly Atkinson, Boise; members of the executive board: E. M. Heisch, Weiser; R. R. Greenwood, American Falls; E.
