The new creation by Mr. Swan, author of "Brown's in Town," entitled "Whose Baby Are You?" proved a surprise at the Grand last evening. People had expected a rag time opera crowded with specialties, but Mr. Swan's new creation is a wildly ludicrous farce, without a specialty in it, and while its plot has not the probability of "Brown's in Town," It is well played by a capable crowd of people who keep the merriment going at wild rate from beginning to end. The story would not bear analysis. It is s ludicrous, and in some places so utter ly without reason, that one is exaspe ated with himself for laugh ing at it, but he goes or laughing just the same. The main praise must be given to the gen goes on The tlemen of the cast, and Mr. Hope, a Walter, and Mr. Runnells, as the Baro did some very capable work. The ladie filled in" with industry, and Miss Wil liams, especially, looked very pretty in her boy's suit. The bill runs the whole week. Mr. Swan, the author, who presides at the box-office, says that the week everywhere ends better than it the attendance last night was good without being crowded.
