The rivers emptying into the Colorado, are all running high, and an immense flood is pouring into the Salton sea. "The government has projects under way in many localities. The reclama-tion service is doing great work in bringing barren districts into produc-tive shape. Utab is getting a gener-ous share of attention in this respect. A dam is to be built across the Sevier river at Hatchtown in Garfield county. This is to back-up a supply of water which will be used to irrigate what is known as the Panguitch bench dis-trict. The government is considering plans for this dam at the present time. The dam will be constructed along modern lines, at the expense of the government. Several thousand acres will be offered to settlers at a price high enough to pay for the erection of the dam. The usual price of $2 for des-ert land will be charged with an addi-tional sum for water titles which will be include I in each sale. This is but one of many projects now under way in Utah and neighboring states and I mention it because it is new and just being planned. CONSOLIDATION CONTROVERSY.

Quarters Are Too Small-The local custom house office is to be enlarged, as the present accommodations are enas the present accommodations are en-tirely inadequate to the demands made upon them; and the assistant secretary of the treasury when here, not long ago, agreed with Collector Greenwald that more room is impera-tive. The offices should be in the Federal building, and an effort was made to secure the circuit court cham-bers. But this was found to be im-possible, and as there is no other room in the Federal building, the custom house must remain outside until an addition can be made to the struc-ture, which in the course of events must come before long.

Rexburg Liked It—The Christmas number of the Descret News was an elegant edition, the best by far that has reached this office. Typographic-ally it could not be excelled, while the 100 pages of reading matter it contained was the work of literary artists. The selection of subjects was simply immense. The number is a credit to the state of Utah, as well as to those who labored to accomplish such a gigantic task of turning out such a magnificent addition. The News such a magnificent edition. A forestry plant-ing station is to be established on the strip of land adjoining the Deer Flat reservoir. Two thousand acres have been set aside for this purpose. State Board of Health Receives an Appeal for Aid.

CONSOLIDATION CONTROVERSY. "The college is, of course, against consolidation, but has kept out of the controversy and intends keeping out of it. When the proper time is at hand the institution will present facts in support of its attitude and then let the coming legislature cast the die. Personally, I am not in favor of con-solidating the university and college because each school has its distinct field, each reaches a certain class of students. We teach, for instance, a six-year course in engineering. This covers the ordinary high school course. Hundreds of young men, some probably 25 years old, attend the college because they can acquire an elementary education while learning a trade or profession. They do not feel like entering a university with The state board of health received an appeal for aid last evening, from the town of Sigurd, Sevier county, where of the 24 families in the place, 12 have ty-phoid fever in their homes. In one famby a mother and three daughters are ill with the fever, and Inspector Clark of the state board has gone south to inves-tigate. Prof. Jones has had charge of the mechanical engineering department of the college engineering department of the college for the past 11 years, coming to Ufah from Idaho. Speaking of matters per-taining to engineering Prof. Jones says there is a big demand throughout the western country for engineers, both civil and mechanical. "The govern-ment is using first class engineers faster than we can graduate them," he said while seated in the Kenyon lobby last evening. "It needs clever young men to carry ahead its various irrigation and reclamation projects. little or no education. There is little or no duplication in the courses. Our course in engineering has direct bear-ing upon stricty agricultural studies. Irrigation-hydraulic engineering---es pecially, goes hand in hand with farming. Our engineering department is under the direction and tutorship of two teachers; it costs something like $2,000 annually in salaries and expenses. As taught in the college it has an agricultural phase while in the university it applies more to min-ing. Salt Lake is centrally located when the intermountain mining dis-triet is considered but Logan is cen-trally located in the agricultural distraity located in the agricultural dis-trict. These are my opinions, now at the end of my tongue. There are numerous reasons, more worthy of no-tice, to be advanced in support of the anti-consolidationists. Both sides will enter their views when the time
