HARD TO PLEASE.

It might reasonably have been thought, from the earnestness with which many persons urged the granting of the right of suffrage to the women of Utah as the panacea for all the evils which are supposed to afflict the inhabitants of this benighted region, that when that measure became law by the action of the Legislative Assembly and the approval of the Governor, a cry of joy would have ascended from every corner of the land and peans have been sung in honor of the event. But, strange to say, there have been no such evidences of joy exhibited. True, the action of the Legislative Assembly, granting unto women the right to vote in this Territory, has been noticed by the press; but that is all. The measure has not excited the attention, which, from the clamor there has been made over it in the past, it might have been thought it would have received. We do not even hear of Miss Anna Dickinson going into ecstasies over the new privileges which have been bestowed upon her sex in this Territory. The official who was her chief companion while she remained in this city, and from whom, doubtless, she derived the views of affairs here which she gives in her lectures, does not appear to be any better pleased with the admission of the women of this Territory to the ballot box than the object of his platonic affection, the gentle Anna. He writes to the Chicago Tribune over the nom de plume of "Douglas," evidently in a bad humor about the enfranchising of the women. Poor creature! he is hard to please. With him and the rest of his class, the "Mormons" are "damned" if they will, and "damned" if they won't.

It is not, however, of the views of this "Douglas" we would speak; his misrepresentations and falsehoods plainly show that he is no gentleman, and, that he is, therefore, unworthy of notice. But we would call attention to the fact that this great movement has achieved success, and yet there is no exultation over the event among the whilom advocates of the measure. We think the secret of this silence is to be found in the fact that the women of Utah have given expression to their views in so unmistakable a manner lately in the mass meetings which have been held throughout the Territory. Deceived by the falsehoods of correspondents and lecturers concerning the condition of women in this Territory, many people have imagined that could the sex be endowed with the power to express its preferences at the polls, its members would speedily put an end to that system which they supposed was degrading woman and destroying her individuality. But what an egregious mistake! Simultaneously with the intelligence that the avenues to the ballot-boxes are open to women in Utah comes the startling announcement that they, with rare unanimity, have declared patriarchal marriage to be an excellent institution for woman—an institution which affords her the highest happiness and the greatest security, and society the most complete protection against the worst evils of civilization! No wonder those who have derived their ideas about Utah from the false reports of newspaper correspondents and lecturers are dumbfounded, and hesitate about approving the Bill granting the women the right of suffrage. Their surprise is not lessened when they are assured—as they have been by several eastern papers—that the speeches delivered by the women in defense of the institution which it was expected they would quickly tear down whenever they obtained the power, were as able and eloquent as any delivered by the most famous advocates of woman's rights, and were superior to their usual efforts because much calmer and more moderate in tone.

The late action of the sex in this Territory is so opposite to that which was expected of them that correspondents and others, who endeavor to illuminate the understandings of the people East in relation to Utah affairs, are casting about for explanations which they hope will prove satisfactory to those who read their effusions. "Douglas" tries to explain it by saying that what the women of this country "have left of value upon earth, they have by virtue of polygamy," and, therefore, they petition for it to be left alone. The simplicité either wishes his readers to ignore the fact that the women of all classes and conditions were unanimous in their decision in favor of the objectionable institution, or to conclude that all the women of this Territory are in polygamy.

This illustrates the desperate shifts which men who would—"make the worse appear the better cause," have recourse to in bolstering up their views.

Friends of Order—Speech of Ollivier—Struggle preceding of Congress, etc.

PARIS.—A meeting was held last evening for the purpose of organizing a society called the Friends of Order. Several hundred people assembled. Speeches were made and resolutions adopted denouncing the recent rioting disorder in Paris.

At a political banquet last night Ollivier made a remarkable speech. He urged all political parties to give the ministry their assistance and advice and not to keep aloof because of errors that had been or might be committed by the ministry. He hoped that the different parties would not be discouraged because mistakes had occurred, but would continue to point out improvements. He closed with a prediction that in spite of difficulties and accidents unforeseen the ministry would succeed.

Eight hundred conscripts to-day formed line and, with a grape banner at their head, marched through the streets to the publication office of La Marseillaise where they halted and sang the Marseillaise, after which they quietly dispersed. The police made no attempt to interfere with the proceeding.

The religious organs have advice from Rome, which represent that the Pope, in response to a request from a great majority of the bishops, has distributed among the members of the Council a scheme, proposing the definition of the dogma of infallibility, with a notice that the suggestions of the fathers on the same will be received until the 17th inst. Dispatches from other sources say that in consequence of the introduction of this scheme the French government has made a demand on the papal court that a special envoy from France be permitted to assist at the Council; also that Cardinal Antonelli has acknowledged the receipt of the demand and promises to answer it in a few days. The Ultramontane journal Le Monde, states positively that the Pope has required the Ecumenical Council to fix upon the definition of personal infallibility within a week.

HAVANA, 8.—The Captain General has issued a proclamation in relation to the murder of Greenwald and the execution of Beaumont, in which he says that at the time of the assassination Greenwald was under the protection of the Spanish flag, and that the assassination outraged the law and disgraced the flag and that the assassin had been justly executed for his crime. Although Beaumont was a member of the volunteer forces, the honor of the corps to which he belonged must be vindicated by his punishment.

SALT CREEK.

March 1st, 1870.

Elder Geo. Q. Cannon.—Dear Bro.,—Since leaving Provo, the members of our company have enjoyed themselves much in meeting with the Saints, and if agreeable to you I will give a synopsis of our meetings, traveling and other incidents peculiar to a journey of this nature.

We held meeting at Payson on Monday evening, which was addressed by Brothers Lorenzo D. Young, B. Young, Jr., C. Savage and Pres. Geo. A. Smith. Excellent instructions were given, and the people of Payson were strongly urged to finish their meeting house, the one in which they meet at present being unsafe, unhealthful and not at all creditable. John W. Young, L. D. Young and C. Savage were taken violently ill in the night, but have since recovered and are now able to take their rations.

March 1st, drove to Santaquin and filled an appointment previously made to hold meeting. Pres. Geo. A. Smith and B. Young addressed the people, urging upon them the necessity of restraining the appetites of the children and to prepare a generation that will be capable of redeeming the earth. Some men thought they were competent to conduct financial matters much better than the Prophet Joseph Smith, and for him to turn his whole attention to spiritual matters; but his work was temporal and spiritual.

We arrived at Salt Creek and held meeting in the evening. Pres. Geo. A. Smith, Brigham Young Jr., Charles R. Savage and Pres. B. Young occupied the time. The speakers exhorted the Saints to live faithful to God.

Took an early start on Wednesday for Scipio, and nooned at Chalken Creek, snowing and blowing. Arrived at Scipio at 4:15 p. m. where Brothers L. D. Young, John G. Holman, John W. Young, B. Young, Jr., A. M. Musser and Pres. B. Young spoke. The property of building a better meeting house was freely discussed by the Elders. Left Scipio 9 p. m. Held meeting at Holden—formerly known as Cedar Springs. Elders L. D. Young, John W. Young, B. Young Jr., and Pres. G. A. Smith exhorted the people to continue serving the Lord and to beautify their gardens; and arrived at Fillmore at 4:30. Held meeting in the evening in the unfinished wing of the State House.

Pres. Geo. A. Smith, Elders C. R. Savage, J. G. Holman, L. D. Young and John W. Young addressed a crowd of the collection of WASMONGERS and the Saints seemed to feel a general determination to serve the Lord.

March 4th, left Fillmore at 7:40 a. m.; found the roads very muddy. Held meeting at Kanosh. L. D. Young, B. Young Jr., and Pres. B. Young expressed themselves much pleased with the new meeting house which has been built since harvest and adds much to the appearance of the place. Left Kanosh at 1:15 p. m. Began march better. Arrived at Cove Creek 4:50 p. m., quite tired, and prepared to receive the warm welcome extended us by Bro. Ira M. Hinkley.

The health of the company has been excellent since leaving Payson. Our party from Salt Lake has been joined by Bro. J. G. Holman, and Bishop A. J. Moffit of Mant, which now gives us a train of some ten vehicles.

Your Brother,
B. Y. JR.
