CARL JENNINGS UP FOR TRIAL.

Brought from State Prison for Hearing on Charge of Burglary.

HUNTSVILLE SALOON BURNED.

Stone's Liquor Dispensary Completely Destroyed by Fire—Supposed Work of Incendiary.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—Carl Jennings, a youthful criminal, is no doubt beginning to realize that the way of the transgressor is hard. He was brought to Ogden yesterday from the state prison in Salt Lake by one of the guards, on an order from Judge Howell to bring him to this city to answer to the charge of burglary. He is serving a term in the penitentiary for house breaking, having been convicted of the charge in Salt Lake City.

A complaint charging him with the crime of burglary in the first degree was read to him in the municipal court by Clerk Jensen yesterday afternoon, and he was given a preliminary hearing on the charge.

M. Oiswang, manager of the Ogden knitting works, was the principal witness for the state. He testified that last April the factory was broken into in the night time and a large quantity of silk shawls, sweaters and other knit goods were stolen. Some of the stolen articles which had been recovered by Detective Pender were identified by the witness.

B. Kohn and wife, the Twenty-fifth street second-hand dealer, testified that last April the defendant called at their place of business and sold them the stolen property. They were positive in their identification of the prisoner as the man who sold them the goods. Other witnesses were examined whose testimony was along the same lines. The court after hearing the evidence, found the defendant over to answer to the charge to the district court under $500 bonds. He was this morning taken back to the penitentiary to finish his term there, which will not be up until next May.

OPPOSE WATERWORKS DEAL.

Real Estate Men Want Matter Deferred for New Council.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—At the regular meeting of the Ogden Real Estate Men's association, which was largely attended yesterday, a number of matters were discussed pertaining to Ogden's future. The association was almost unanimous in the opinion that it would be advisable for the city council to postpone any action on the waterworks proposition until the incoming council had taken their oath of office. A committee was appointed to formulate some plan to be presented to the city council, which will provide for the beautifying of the grounds between the sidewalks and curb throughout the city. The association will also recommend that the council sprinkle some of the streets with oil, as an experiment, as the oil settles the dust and keeps it down much longer and is found to be much more satisfactory than sprinkling with water. Other matters for the advancement of Ogden were briefly discussed.

LOST ON THE DESERT.

Herman Kuchler has a Hard Experience Trying to Find Sheep Camp.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—Herman Kuchler, the sheep man, had a rather thrilling experience last week out in the mountains near Grouse creek, about 100 miles northwest of Ogden. He had gone out to Kelton, and from there took a vehicle to go out near Halls mountains to look after a band of sheep. Shortly after leaving Kelton, when he had gotten up into the mountains, a fog came up from the lake and enveloped the entire mountain around where he was driving. It became so dense that he could drive no further, his team having already taken the wrong trail. Without either food for himself or his team, Mr. Kuchler camped by the roadside over night. The next morning it was clear, and to his surprise he had got on to a road that led him back almost to his starting point, to which place he drove. He suffered from the cold so much during the night that it took him several days to recuperate so he could renew the journey to the sheep.

VALUATION REDUCED.

Appraisal of Judge Dee's Estate Cut Down $16,510.85.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—Yesterday afternoon Atty.-Gen. Breeden came to Ogden and with Dist Atty. Halverson and the attorneys for the late Judge Dee's estate went over the appraisal of the estate as made by the regularly appointed appraisers, in order to determine the amount of inheritance tax due to the state on the same. The appraisers for the estate, Messrs. Richards & Pratt and Judge Rolapp, were of the opinion the estate had been appraised too high and they investigated, to which Atty. Gen. Breeden consented. The estate was valued at $488,215.56 by the inheritance tax appraisers Archibald McFarland, T. A. Whalen and A. D. Shurtliff, including all of the real estate, bonds, mortgages and cash. In the readjustment of the appraisal made yesterday afternoon it was reduced $46,510.85, which to the estate is quite a saving in tax. Mr. Dee's estate is next to the wealthiest that has been left by anyone in Ogden City.

DISTRICT COURT BUSINESS.

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Will be Heard Tonight.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—In the second district court the case of W. B. Wedell, the real estate dealer against J. L. Hill was completed and a verdict, "no cause of action," was rendered by the jury. The case was brought by the plaintiff to recover $155 alleged to be due for commission on sale of real estate for the defendant.

The case of Matthias Gilles against Jeanette Reberg is now on trial in the district court. The suit is brought to recover on a mechanic's lien, secured by the plaintiff on a house he built for the defendant, on which he alleges there is a payment yet due, for which he obtained as security for the same a lien on the house.

Tonight at 7 o'clock Judge Howell will take up the habeas corpus proceedings brought to test the constitutionality of the juvenile court in the

TRIBUTE TO JOHN PINCOCK.

Life of One of God's Noblemen an Inspiration to All.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—The following is a tribute to the memory of John Pincock, who died last Saturday morning, written by his grandson, Dr. H. B. Forbes, of this city:

Honest John Pincock is dead after a useful and honorable life of 75 years. His was a life of earnest effort and generous deeds unmarred by a single selfish thought or act.

He was characterized by an uncommon simplicity of mind that is akin to the simplicity of truth and honesty and megal courage that is rarely seen. Coupled with these was a contentment of mind, an open countenance, a sunny disposition which diffused happiness and sunshine all about him.

His life was, and will remain, an inspiration to those he leaves behind and like the golden wheat of autumn, which has fulfilled its destiny, he died matured and ripe and has gone to a well-earned rest and unfeared repose without a single enemy or having knowingly injured anyone.

He died as he had lived, in peace, surrounded by loving relatives and friends; not wealthy in worldly attainments, but rich in the estimation of all and loved most by those who knew him best.

Words cannot exaggerate the beauty of his character. One of "God's noblemen" has gone from out our lives, but he has left as a heritage, a loving memory more lasting than worldly monuments. Peace to his honest soul.

He was laid to rest Monday in the Ogden City cemetery.

BLAZE AT HUNTSVILLE.

Cyrus Stone's Saloon Completely Destroyed by Fire.

Ogden, Dec. 21.—The building occupied by Cyrus Stone's saloon, on the main street in Huntsville, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown. About 3 o'clock the flames were discovered, and as there is no fire protection in the place, nothing could be done to save the structure, which was a frame one and burned like tinder. The loss will probably reach $1,000, a small portion of which was covered by insurance. The building belonged to Mrs. Anne Martin of Ogden. Suspicions are entertained that the fire was of incendiary origin. Persons passing the place at 2 o'clock, one hour before the building was discovered wrapped in a sheet of flames, state that there was absolutely no sign of a fire at that time.

WANT MORE FOR SUGAR BEETS.

Growers Meet and Discuss Advanced Prices—Memorial Services.

Special Correspondence. Provo, Utah, Dec. 21.—A large number of the best growers of Provo district attended the meeting called last evening in the courthouse to decide upon some united action to secure an advance in the price of beets.

H. T. Vincent called this meeting to order stating the object. Walter Scott was elected chairman and F. C. Johnson, secretary.

H. T. Vincent addressed the meeting, stating that when the farmers began to raise beets the sugar company paid $5 a ton. Farm land was then worth less than it is today, labor was cheaper and taxes were lower. Now the sugar company pays only $4.75 a ton and land, labor, taxes and everything else, including sugar, is higher. This condition, he thought, demanded the consideration of the farmers.

Remarks were made by Silas Allred, Herman Knudsen and T. H. Vincent, favoring steps being taken to secure better prices, and expressing the belief the sugar company would comply with a request for an advance.

T. H. Vincent moved that a committee of three be appointed to draft and present a communication to the Sugar company, asking an advance of 25 to 50 cents a ton.

William Carter was in favor of asking for a 25-cent raise on the different prices, $4.25, $4.50 and $4.75, based on the percentage of increase in the beets. Andrew N. Holdaway spoke of the advantage that had resulted from cooperation of cotton growers, tobacco growers, and wheat growers, in compelling an advance of prices for their products, and advocated that Utah beet growers and farmers should unite to secure the same results. The agricultural papers, said Mr. Holdaway, would not advocate any plan for farmers to obtain an advance price for their products, and would not publish any article advocating steps being taken to this end. They only published articles which showed the farmers how to raise bigger and cheaper crops. He quoted figures showing profits made by the sugar company, which would justify an advance in the price of beets. J. L. W. Goddard amended the motion by asking the advance be asked for at 25 cents a ton.

Chairman Scott favored the communication being circulated, and signed by all the beet growers.

Inspector Stubbs and others spoke in favor of obtaining the signatures of all beet growers in the district.

This idea was adopted and the motion unanimously carried. The following committee was appointed to draft the communication: Andrew N. Holdaway, Herman Knudsen and F. C. Johnson, and two beet growers from each ward were appointed to obtain signatures.

IVES-CROSS NUPTIALS.

Frederick W. Cross, 21, and Miss Gladys Ives, 18, both of Ogden, secured a license to wed, and were last evening married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Ives, by Rev. John E. Carver.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

Warren L. Wattis, who has been managing the Utah Construction company's railroad contract work in New Mexico, has come home to spend the Christmas holidays with his family. Pearl Barnes and wife have come to Ogden to spend the holidays with relatives.

Aima Lambert and wife of Salt Lake City are visiting in Ogden, the guests of Mrs. Lambert's parents, F. C. Woods and family.

J. P. O'Neil left for the east last evening, where he goes to bid on some construction work of the Union Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Wint Jones are going to Preston, Ida., to spend the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Jones' parents.

"Miner's Merry Burlesques" play to-morrow night at the Grand opera house, and Saturday matinee and nights, "Honest Hearts" will be presented.

Today the Ogden factory of the Amalgamated sugar company will receive cutting boots for this season, which has been a very short one, and which will materially affect the output of the factory for the year. The decrease is due to the partial failure of the beet crop, which was caused by drought and a small white fly that killed off the plants. On Saturday, it is expected, the making of sugar will be stopped for this season.

Officer Ezra Farr found a drunken man freezing to death on Twenty-eighth street early last evening. The fellow had fallen on the side of an open sewer, and his feet and legs were lying in the cold water. It required several hours hawing out at the police station before the man was pronounced out of danger.

Word was received from the chief of police of St. Joseph, Mo., yesterday to the effect that the relatives of John Shannon, who dropped dead in the St. Louis beer hall, had been located, and that the body should be held awaiting instructions, which were on the way by letter. Shannon died about a week ago, since which time efforts have been made to locate the relatives.

Fred Roberts was arrested about 9 o'clock last evening by Officers A. B. Vance and B. Jensen on a charge of petit larceny. Roberts is charged with having stolen a bicycle belonging to G. Brown. He had disposed of the wheel to a second-hand dealer only a few minutes before the arrest.

John M. Browning has received word from Washington, D. C., to the effect that "no other patent has been awarded him to add to his long list of firearms patents. As he has several patents pending in Washington, he does not know which one has been granted.
