LOCAL NEWS.

WANTS WORK—A young man about 19 years of age, is desirous of obtaining a situation. He has been accustomed to care for horses and prefers that kind of work. He would take a situation on a farm, or Saturday morning, July 25th. The speakers were Elders Robert Patrick, John Gray and Brother McGregor. Deceased was much respected, his career in the Church having been more than ordinarily useful. Before leaving his native country he had been for him during the period of his suffering and the sadness produced by the news of his death.

A Beautiful Picture—Brother Martin Lenzi, who is an adept in certain lines in painting, called upon us today and exhibited a picture which is a gem. It illustrates a group of people, a shell, coral, sponge and sea-weed, and a bunch of flowers in a goblet of water, placed upon a table—all portrayed in the most natural manner imaginable. Brother Lenzi is getting well along in his painting, being almost seventy, but his powers as a delineator from nature, especially in the line of fruit and flowers, seem to improve rather than diminish.

Funeral Services—The funeral services over the remains of Elder James Gallacher, of the Second Ward, were conducted at the residence of his son, John Gallacher, on Saturday morning, July 25th. The speakers were Elders Robert Patrick, John Gray and Brother McGregor. Deceased was much respected, his career in the Church having been more than ordinarily useful. Before leaving his native country he had been for him during the period of his suffering and the sadness produced by the news of his death.

Twenty-four in Fountain Green.—We learn by letter from Rees B. Llewellyn, of Fountain Green, that through not having a telegraph office at that place, the news of General Grant's death did not reach there until the people were formed in procession for the purpose of celebrating Pioneer Day; in fact, they were already marching to the meeting house. Immediately on receipt of the news the flags were lowered to half-mast and draped, and the program prepared for the day set aside. When the people had assembled in the meeting house the sad news was publicly announced and a number of speeches were made upon the life and character of the illustrious dead, and expressive of the sympathy which had been felt for him during the period of his suffering and the sadness produced by the news of his death.

AN ABSCONDING EX-JUROR

WHO DEVELOPS INTO A FULL-BLOWN FORGER.

On Wednesday last, C. J. Smith told his friends in this city that he was going out to the lake, and would return in the evening. Instead of taking the advice of Horace Greeley and going west, however, he took his departure for the east, and was last seen at Evanston.

His absence from Utah is likely to be permanent, as it has been discovered that he has forged the name of a citizen of Salt Lake to a check for $150, which was duly cashed before he left town.

Smith was one of the trial jurors who convicted President Angus M. Cannon of unlawful combination with his wife, in making an "assault" with the prosecution.

One of the other jurors who tried Mr. Cannon was a bigamist, now a forger comes to the front, and what the next development in that line will be a matter of some interest.

Be this as it may, the fact is becoming more and more clear that not a few of those who take part in sending "Mormons" to the penitentiary for acknowledging and supporting their families are the real criminals whose proper place is behind prison bolts and bars.

Jail Delivery.—A rather remarkable escape from jail occurred at the city prison last night, or rather about one o'clock this morning. It seems that it has been the custom to confine what are considered the "hard cases" among the prisoners in the lower story of the jail, and that the late weather, owing to the air being so extremely close in the cells they have been allowed to sleep in the hall.

A stove pipe hole passes through the ceiling of the dining room to the room above, where prisoners were also confined but no one supposed it could afford a possible avenue for escape. The incident of last night, however, proved that it could. By placing a bench end which had been provided in the dining room for the prisoners to sit upon it was converted into a ladder upon which to ascend to the aperture.

With the assistance of prisoners in the upper room (notably Frank Wheeler, who some time since was released from the Penitentiary and had been arrested for being drunk and disorderly) the prisoners confined in the lower story managed to work their way through this opening into the room above. From here three of them, J. G. Kinney, otherwise known as Wood, and two others, the latter being identified by the counterfeiter who had been bound over to await the action of the grand jury and imprisoned for want of the necessary $800 as security; and Henry Wilson, who had thirty days of his term of imprisonment for resisting the officers, to serve, succeeded in escaping through a window.

It seems that a table knife had been secured by one of the prisoners while at work in the gravel bed on Thursday last, and by means of a penknife in their possession this had been converted into a saw, with which they sawed through two of the bars, making an opening eight or ten inches wide, through which three prisoners made their exit. Another, Mark Murray, tried to get through, but his body was too large.

The night watchman on duty at the City Hall heard a slight noise and going outside without his pistol saw the third one of the prisoners just as he had dropped from the window. He threw a stone at him which knocked the prisoner against a wagon wheel and seemed to momentarily stun him, but he jumped up and scaled the fence and succeeded with the others in escaping.

The remaining prisoners who had come to from the first story, finding they were interrupted in their plan, dropped back into the room below, and crept back to bed. The intention to escape was foiled, and the whole of the prisoners confined in the jail would probably have been released had they been given a little more time. Those who escaped are known to have money with them, Kinney having, according to his own admissions to other prisoners, succeeded in securing a $10 greenback and some gold coins in his month while he was being searched by the police. The police were out to-day looking for the fugitives, and it is probable they will before long be behind the bars again.

Some Crooked Business.—On Saturday evening, about 7 o'clock, J. L. Dickinson, a member of the present grand jury of the Third District, and M. F. Simmons, who was a petit juror in both the Cannon and Musser cases, called upon City Marshal Phillips to make complaint against a man named John Hardy, whom they accused of having absconded with $800 of their money. The story they tell is substantially as follows: Between 2 and 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Dickinson went to Simmons and represented that he knew of a transaction by which he could, in two or three days, net a return of $1,500 or $2,000 on an investment of $250.

The plan was unfolded to Simmons, who furnished the money. Dickinson then went to Hardy, who was found at the Walker House, and from there both repaired to Hardy's room in the Palace Hotel. While there Dickinson states that he took the money out of his pocket placed it in an envelope, and handed it to Hardy to seal. The latter then wrote "O. K." on the front of the envelope, and made three crosses with the pen on the back, and sealed it up; the gum not sticking very well, he placed the envelope under a paper and pressed it down, and handed it back to Dickinson, stating that the transaction could not be made until Monday. Dickinson then returned to Simmons and gave him the envelope. The latter supposed it was all right, and did not look at it until an hour or two afterwards, when on examination he found that the envelope contained pieces of waste paper instead of his cash. Dickinson was called upon and expressed much surprise, giving it as his opinion that when Hardy put the envelope under the paper to make the gum stick, he drew out another envelope and kept the money himself.

The officers made diligent search for Hardy, but the individual was found to have departed for newer pastures. Marshal Phillips questioned the two men as to the advantageous "trade" they were going to make, but they were very reticent on the subject. Dickinson referring to Simmons and saying, "He knows all about it." Upon being pressed by the Marshal, Simmons finally remarked, "Maybe it was to buy bogus greenbacks."

Whatever may be the true status of the affair, or whether or not Dickinson was a "put up job" upon Simmons, and secured the whole or a part of the money, the present appearance indicates that strongly that these two model jergymen and willful tools of the anti-"Mormon" clique, who are "in sympathy with the prosecution" have been "bitten" while breaking the law themselves, and engage in a swindling scheme. The District Attorney will have an opportunity, on his return to this city, to investigate the dark dealings of some of his "pets."

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

COLLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—A negro herder, named Maquel Harrison, was killed by lightning 15 miles northwest of Tombstone, Arizona, on Wednesday afternoon. Severe thunderstorms have prevailed in that part of Arizona for several days.

—On Wednesday evening last about 9:30 o'clock, Wm. Kline was walking along Fifth Street, Ogden, when he was set upon by a couple of footpads, who knocked him down and began to rob him. Some other persons happened along at the same time, and Mr. Kline's assailants hastily decamped, making good their escape.

Dr. Wright performed rather a delicate operation on the eye of J. E. T. Bayn, of Hailey, Idaho, a few days since, with the aid of the new local anesthetic, hydro-chlorate of cocaine. A bit of steel had become imbedded in the ball, causing much pain and inflammation. A few drops of a four per cent solution of cocaine was dropped in, which rendered the eye temporarily insensible to light or pain, and the steel was easily lifted out with the point of a lancet.

—Major Logan, of the Fifth Infantry, returned to Miles City, Dakota, on Wednesday last, after a visit to the Northern Cheyennes. He found their principal grievance to be a desire to have relations from the neighboring visitors from Pine Ridge. They received him gladly, and a couple of hundred bucks were given to him for his services. He took the testimony of fifty of the leaders, including White Bull, Brave Wolf, American Horse, Black Wolf and Yellow Horse, and four interpreters, and carried on the investigation publicly, finding that the Cheyennes were dissatisfied with Agent Stephens, he endeavored to conciliate them, and succeeded for the present.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 27, 1885.

Editor Deseret News:

On Saturday night, a beautiful girl, about 16 years of age, was assaulted on Twelfth East street, near South Temple street, and came near losing her life, and would have suffered more had it not been for the timely arrival of a gentleman and his wife, who were in bed when they heard her scream. The wife, who happened to be awake at the time, called her husband and always sleep with his gun under the pillow, and who sprang out of his bed with his gun in his hand, rushed out on the sidewalk and confronted the brute in his night clothes. The fellow made tracks as fast as he could, with the wife's knife was kindly taken care of by the citizen and his family. The name of the brute is known. This should be a warning to all girls who are in the habit of going out at night to do some kind of work, with an escort capable of protecting them.
