

CUPID'S MISTAKES LEAD TO DIVORCE

Judge Morse Untangles Six
Cases Where Marriage
Was a Failure.

VANCE MUST PAY ALIMONY

Mrs. Ward, Formerly His Wife, Must
Account for the Money Paid by Her One-Time Spouse.

Five divorces and one delinquency claimed the attention of Judge Morse yesterday. Friday afternoon has come to be known as divorce matinee, little else than matters matrimonial being considered on such occasions. The plaintiffs in each instance were women, and the reasons assigned for seeking annulment of marriage ties were somewhat varied, with charges of non-support predominating.

George W. Vance was called before Judge Morse to show cause why he had not contributed to the support of his children, as directed in a decree of the court issued last March. At that time Vance's wife, Anne E. Vance, obtained a divorce and was granted $20 per month alimony. She subsequently married one Albert Ward, and Vance sought to have the order as to alimony set aside, unless he could have the custody of the children. Vance claimed that his wife was running around with Ward. This was before her second marriage, and that the children were permitted to have too many liberties. Ward deserted his wife three weeks after marriage.

Judge Morse decided yesterday that Vance should pay the $20 per month previously decreed. This money is to be accounted for by Mrs. Ward, and not to be used for herself, except in buying food.

CASE OF THE BENNETTS.

Fred R. Bennett is a fighter, not only in martial combats but in marital affairs, according to the testimony of Caroline N. A. Bennett, who is now known by her maiden name, Hazard. The divorce acquired by the plaintiff was based on cruelty, non-support and desertion. Bennett was formerly a soldier in the United States army and saw service in the Philippines. During most of the time since his marriage, three years ago, he has been in the employ of the Utah Light & Railway company, and a motorman. He was accused by his wife of staying out late at night, even frequently remaining away all night. At such times, the wife alleged, he would be drunk, and would display before her eyes the photos of a woman of whom he was very fond and whom he would marry if his wife should die. He had made love to her sister, Estella Phillips, who lived with them in the house, and who, when he was drunk, would be threatened to kill his wife. Similar threats were made at other times, since because he was asked to get a bucket of water. The desertion of the plaintiff is alleged to have occurred in September of this year.

FOUR OTHER MISFITS.

Walter East deserted Hilda P. East in September, 1907, according to the wife's allegations, and she was granted a divorce with $10 monthly alimony and $50 attorney's fees. The couple married in this city Jan. 28, 1907.

May Corbett accused Neph Corbett with failure to support her and their children. Edward Corbett, aged five, and William Corbett, aged three. She received the decree asked for and was given the custody of the youngest child, while the father was given the older one.

Prayer J. Vass failed to support his wife, Lucia Vass, and the court granted the legal separation asked for. The couple married May 22, 1889, at Cincinnati.

Eliza Stewart was granted a divorce from Joseph Stewart, and defendant was required to pay alimony in the sum of $10 per month for the support of his minor children, three in number. The failure to provide was alleged to have covered a period of a year and a half, the wife supporting the family by taking in washing.

SUSTAINS JUDGE LEWIS.

Supreme Court Affirms Decision in Cole Banking Case.

In an opinion handed down Friday, the supreme court of Utah sustains the decision of Judge Lewis in the district court in the case of the Cole Banking company against C. G. Sinclair and Dr. J. A. Hensel. The suit involved a note for $173 given by Dr. Hensel on an insurance policy, with the understanding, declared by the court, that he was to be employed by the company as examining physician. The promise given by Sinclair, the company's agent, was not fulfilled as to the employment of Dr. Hensel, but in the meantime the note passed into possession of the Banking company, who sued for the amount and got judgment. The insurance company, it seems, secured the note for a consideration on their part, passed it to an innocent party, and Dr. Hensel was called upon to foot the bill.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGED.

Alleging non-support on the part of her husband, Nellie May Vassmer has filed suit in the district court, asking for a divorce from Albert F. Vassmer. The couple married in Fair City, Jan. 17, 1906, and there is one child, Naomi Isabelle, aged 18 months, whose custody the mother asks for.

MCCORMICK EXTENDS SUIT.

The Koala Manufacturing company is made defendant in a suit filed in the district court by W. S. McCormick & Co. The cause was brought to recover $500, alleged to be due on a promissory note executed Sept. 16, 1908, secured by 500 shares of stock of the Koala company. John T. White is made a joint defendant.

SAYS SHE HAD FURNITURE.

W. E. Washburn swore to a complaint in the county attorney's office yesterday, directed against Mrs. Herbert Smith. The latter is accused of secreting goods mortgaged to complainant and refusing to divulge their whereabouts.

MASTICATED AN EAR.

In a complaint issued from the office of the county attorney yesterday afternoon, Tom Urin is charged with the crime of mayhem, alleged to have been committed upon the person of Mark Dunkley at Bingham. The men engaged in a fight, and Urin is accused of having chewed off the ear of his opponent.

SUES ON ACCOUNT.

Suit was entered in the district court yesterday afternoon by the Consolidated Wagon & Machine company against the Trotter Land & Investment company, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $2,425, as balance alleged to be due on a note for $4,925, given for ploughing out.

BEFORE BOARD OF WORKS.

Sidewalk Paving and Repair of Sewer Are Considered.

Two matters important to taxpayers claimed the attention of the board of public works at its regular meeting last night. The first was sidewalk extension No. 195, concerning which so many complaints have been made, and to the protests previously filed with the board two additional ones were added last night. These were affidavits from Hyrum Bull and James B. Whyte, and both found fault with the paving that is being done near their respective homes on Eighth East and Windsor avenues.

A protest and petition signed by several hundred taxpayers in the district affected asked that the work of paving be stopped for the present, and that some of the inspectors be discharged. The "inspection" of these works was declared to be of the roughest and most worthless kind. It was explained by Carl Badger, who was present at the meeting that the Ninth ward was divided into two sections, and the work was being done in the most haphazard manner. The board accepted the $50 voted by the council to purchase material, which inspectors could determine the just proportions of cement, gravel and sand, but there will be no immediate work done by the city. The board will be called to order by the contractor Campbell, who was before the board to explain reasons why the wooden stage pipe line was not in place, and the work was being done in the immediate future by a force of men to be put to work Monday morning. Mr. Campbell said the urgency of the matter had not been previously made plain to him. Several hundred feet of pipe had been uncovered, he said, and repairs made by caulking with oakum, and the work would be pushed to completion.

CONCERT WELL RECEIVED.

Testimonial to Albert K. Houghton Attended by Appreciative Audience.

A small but appreciative audience gathered last evening in the First Methodist church in attendance on the testimonial concert given Albert K. Houghton, the baritone, who came from New York last spring and located in this city. With the exception of two changes, the program was carried out as printed in last Saturday's "News." Miss K. Houghton, the contralto, made a decidedly favorable impression. She has a sweet, melodious voice that sweeps along with graceful flow and a natural charm. William Cook received a recall for his "Ten Years' Remembrance." Mr. Houghton's song, "The Song of the Night," was very well received. Mr. Houghton sang his part in the "Tommyboy" song with feeling and care and artistic expression.

AT THE UNIVERSITY.

The men of the senior, junior and sophomore classes met yesterday to determine whether or not the campus rules should go into force Monday morning or not. The rule governing the "preps" seemed to be the source of much trouble. The rule provides that no "prep" shall appear on the campus with any covering on his head whatsoever. Some of the men thought this rather harsh on the "preps," and it was left with the original campus rule committee to decide whether or not the preps should wear a cap prescribed for them and if so the committee will design the cap. It seems that the "preps" have decided to fight the rules. The matter of deciding where those who refused to comply with the rules was discussed, and it was decided that a list of the names be obtained of the men who would not comply. These to be dealt with as will be decided by a committee composed of five men from each of the three upper classes.

The State Biological club met at the University last evening. Percy Snow gave a discourse on the "Origin of the Lynx." The State Biological club met at the University last evening. AMUSEMENTS.

Orpheum.—Patrons of the Orpheum yesterday afternoon were given an opportunity to see an act that, for novelty and entertaining features has not been surpassed. Artists sketching before an audience are not uncommon to the vaudeville stage, but artists like those of the Orpheum are rarely found before the footlights. McKenna, a product of San Francisco, and Marcus, a Quaker city cartoonist who has won laurels in his fanciful drawing of familiar, heavy, worked upon a canvas with yesterday afternoon. One artist starts his entertainment at one end of the wall and the other begins at the other end, gradually, and with surprising speed, they come together with a finished product that charms and amuses. The act is very good, and while writing for the finished picture to appear the audience is entertained with a glimpse of the step-by-step process of the artist which is a feature of the act.

AMERICAN MUSICIANS.

Substantial Prize for Best Operatic Score by Native Born One.

New York, Nov. 21.—Much interest has been aroused by the announcement that the Metropolitan Opera House directors will award a substantial prize for the best operatic score composed by a musician born in the United States. This is to be done to stimulate and encourage American writers to come forward.

According to arrangements so made, they may use any text they desire, with the understanding that it has not been used before. The book is to be written by a librettist of any nationality. Full details of the offer are to be published in the near future.

TAMPERED WITH DANGER.

Finally Had to Give Up Coffee Drinking.

Because the poisonous drug in coffee does not "kill right off" many persons do not think there is any poison there.

But there is. Caffeine, the drug in coffee, causes undue action of the heart which results in palpitation and nervousness. These undue cause chronic heart trouble which may shorten life.

"Palpitation, nervousness, insomnia and other coffee symptoms, are the danger signals nature throws out to the coffee drinker."

"While yet an infant on my mother's knee," writes a Penna. Lady, "she gave me sips of coffee. As I grew older, my appetite for coffee was indulged until I did not enjoy a meal without it."

"By the time I grew to womanhood, I began to suffer the consequences. My stomach had become disordered, and at night I could not sleep for hours on account of palpitation of the heart."

"I was induced to stop coffee, but as soon as I was better, I would again tamper with danger by going back to it. After several such experiences, I tried Postum."

"At first I did not like it. But I soon found by following directions on package that it was easy to make good Postum by my plate and it makes the meal a feast fit for a king."

"Best of all, while I enjoy my Postum, my health improves steadily. My sugar, who tells of acute indigestion from coffee, now enjoys real comfort from Postum, which we all have three times a day."

"There's a Reason."

HARRIMAN BUYS IN.

Said to Own Control of Wisconsin Central Through Geo. Gould.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from New York says: There has been but little connection between Harriman and the affairs of the Wisconsin Central but from an excellent source it is ascertained that he has practically secured control of that property. It is now assumed in certain good quarters that the recent election of George Gould to a Wisconsin Central directorship occurred at the suggestion of E. H. Harriman, and that Mr. Gould is in Wisconsin Central practically as Mr. Harriman's representative.

Though Mr. Harriman has not yet taken any official position in the Gould directorates it is understood that Mr. Gould is already following his suggestion in the handling of the affairs of the Gould roads. There have recently been very strong advices to buy Wisconsin Central and Wabash.
