WEDDING BELLS

On Thursday Miss Irene Armstrong entertained at a card party in honor of Miss Louise Cannon, the decorations being in Japanese parasols, Japanese fans and coins, the dining room being especially pretty in pink and white with Japanese emblems suspended over the table. The guest of honor was presented with a dainty hand painted plate. About 20 were present.

One of the prettiest wedding receptions of the year was that of Miss Agnes M. Conter and Joseph M. Goughly, who were married in the temple on Wednesday at noon. The event taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Conter, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the bridal couple standing under a canopy of flowers and vines, white carnations and roses, twined with smilax and a bank of palms forming the background. The living room was in pink and white, and had festoons of smilax and pink roses and carnations, with smilax and the flowers hanging in the doorway, while all about the room were vases of the same. The dining room was in red—a vase of red carnations being the centerpiece for the table, while streamers of red ribbons were brought to the four corners and fastened with large bows. The alcove for the punch table was banked with palms, and all about were flowers in the chosen shades. The bride wore a handsome gown of white satin with trimmings of red lace. She had a wreath of white roses and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. An orchestra furnished a delightful program, and about 150 were present. Mr. and Mrs. Goughly will be at home after Dec. 15, at 553 Third avenue.

On Wednesday, in Portland, Ore., the marriage of Mr. David Taylor of this city, and Miss Claire Thompson of the

An elaborate affair of yesterday

BONNET SHAPES RUCHED WITH CHIFFON AND RIBBON.

For dressy wear the bonnets are most elaborate, flats of felt or scratch beaver, slashed and bent into quaint shapes, or fascinating bonnet frames covered smoothly with velvet. The underbrim facing is a feature of all these dressy hats. There is a low band made very full and fluffy with ruching of maline or chiffon, this facing extending well out on the underbrim, into this fluffy ruffing of tiny button roses or rosettes of narrowst ribbons in delicate shades. Ribbons, flowers and ostrich feathers trim the outer portion of the bonnet. Fancy feathers are not considered proper, for small folks, and it is to be hoped that this rule will continue, for most of the plumage of this season is quite too unnatural to be counted good taste for children.

was the banquet given at the Alta club by the University football team.

Mrs. Dana T. Smith entertained her card club Tuesday and prizes in the contest went to Mrs. Fred Odell and Mrs. J. H. Richards.

One of the prettiest church weddings of the season was that of Miss Elizabeth McIntyre and Arthur G. Hertler, the latter of Lancaster, Pa. The ceremony was performed at St. Mark's cathedral, with Dean Brewster officiating. Miss Mary Moore, bridesmaid, and Mr. J. W. Hertler, the brother of the groom, best man. The decorations were in green and white, chrysanthemums and palms being used with streamers and bows of white ribbon. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the bride's home, pink roses being effectively used. The bride wore a blue broadcloth gown—away gown, with trimmings of lace in the same shade, and a black velvet hat, and carried American Beauty roses. Her bridesmaid wore a gown of black velvet trimmed with pink roses, and carried pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Hertler have gone to Pennsylvania to reside.

One of the week's weddings was that of Miss Alice Evans and Paul E. THE TEDDY BEARS GAME, TOO.

Teddy bear accompanies his small master or mistress to many of the child's festivities at this season, and his proper appareling is a matter of some moment today. He has his warm coat of plush and his natty cap, and his sweaters and little Russian blouse suits, quite the same as live folks. The girl who is here pictured bringing Master Teddy to a "Bear Party" is clad in a coat of one of the fashionable fur cloths, a rough honeycomb pattern, in the front ornamented with two handsome white silk frogs and cords. The tricorn hat is of squirrel, trimmed with the white curls. Teddy's coat and cap are of white fur also.
