DUBLAN, MEXICO.
PHENOMENAL GROWTH.
Building Much Needed Meeting House—Holiday Festivities.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.
Colonla Dublan, Mexico, Jan. 1.—The people of this place feel to congratulate themselves on what they have achieved in the last year. The Bishop reports a good harvest of the grove people, let alone they still hope for storms that will help them to a good crop next year. The material growth of this colony is phenomenal. The number of new residences that have gone up in the last year is surprising and many of these new homes would be ornaments to more pretentious places.

The Union Mercantile company has added a large warehouse to its already existing building. The new store is full of customers from far and near all the time.

Work is just commencing on the walls of the new meetinghouse. It is greatly needed, as the old one will not hold half of the growing people, let alone the children, and this is a typical "Mormon" community with many children, and the little ones have a time to find room in the Sabbath school. The Saints of Dublan have had heavy losses to carry in paying for their land and getting out water ditches, which are not disposed of yet, but just as soon as these are lifted the people expect to push their public buildings, as they show their faith by their words.

The past week has been a round of pleasure and old and young enjoyed themselves in the holiday festivities. There is much yet to do to bring this country up to what is intended. This is not a good place for the iller to come as it requires work to build reservoirs and dig ditches and a lot of this will be done before they obtain the best results.

"Little Cold" neglected—thousands of lives sacrificed every year. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures little colds—cures big colds too, down to the very verge of consumption.

V. Hill, informing them of the cruel death of their boy. He was a young man 20 years of age, of good, steady habits and truly devoted to his parents. The murders have been taken. Mr. Berry has gone to the scene of the tragedy.

JUAREZ, MEXICO.
PROSPEROUS SEASON.
Thriving Mercantile and Manufacturing Institutions—Season Cold and Dry.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.
Colonla, Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 30.—We are just now having unusually cold weather for this region, yet it is still very dry and the roads are dusty.

There is much improvement going on in this colony, and a goodly number of new residences have gone up in the last year, and others are under construction. The excavation for the foundation of the new academy is being made, and it is anticipated that next Monday the corner stone will be laid with great ceremony.

The season just past has been fairly prosperous, though some of the fruit was injured by insects.

The shoe factory is now running satisfactorily and under the able supervision of James Peterson it is turning out a class of goods that bids fair to stop importation.

The mercantile affairs of the colonies is in the hands of the Union Mercantile company, which conducts good stores at colonies Juarez, Dublan and Diaz.

The stake academy is a great boon to the people, who, though poor in purse, are blessed with liberal spirits and a love of education, and give that institution hearty support.

A feeling of unity exists among the people, who think that Mexico is a good place for Latter-day Saints, though it is a hard trial for "Mormons."

He secured several jobs, the last one being the painting of the bank saloon, which he partly finished and suddenly disappeared and has not been seen or heard of since. He was staying at the Peck hotel, where he left an overcoat, cap and several little personal belongings. At supper Tuesday evening he told Mr. Peck that he was going away to the bank saloon to do some work and left the hotel without overcoat and in his working clothes, which were well coated with paint. He worked at the bank for a few hours and was last seen about 10 o'clock Tuesday evening, when he appeared to be sober. He had contracted to do several jobs and had some money due him for work done here which he left uncollected. It is

Russell Sage's Advice Is Conservative.

Bent in bodily frame, but possessing the maturity of business judgment that age, splendid intellectual endowments, and experience confer upon a man, Russell Sage wisely commends real estate as the best form of investment.

He says: "Young man, invest your savings in moderate priced city property and then keep hustling at your trade, profession or your job. At forty your real estate investments will make you independent."

Mr. Sage's opinion ought to go a long ways, for he has proved by his accomplishments how valuable his business advice has been to himself. It would be well for you, who read this, to plant your dollars in real estate that cannot wither or blow away like shaky mining stocks and the securities of over capitalized corporations.

We would advise our readers, who have money to invest, to see Mr. J. Donnann Reavis, Salt Lake's leading real estate dealer, who is always prepared to provide you with safe investments in improved and vacant property, his specialty being new and substantial houses. Mr. Reavis has provided more homes for rent payers during the last nine months than any one in the state. He makes it a habit to furnish you a home upon a small cash payment, allowing the balance of the money to be repaid in easy monthly installments, that are often less than rent.

That Mr. Reavis is upright in his methods is shown by the fact that he has transacted business with many prominent citizens, including Bishop T. R. Cutler, P. M. Teets, A. O. Garrett, Orville Williams, George L. Swenson, C. H. Thompson and many others. This also is evidence of the fact that he is looked upon with respect by many of our most prominent business men.
