XLIX CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 12. — On motion of Plumb, the Senate resumed the consideration of the bill to forfeit a part of the lands granted to the State of Iowa in aid of railroads. After some discussion the bill was passed.

The Chair placed before the Senate the resolution reported from the Judiciary Committee on the relation between the President and the Senate as to the right of the Senate to have papers and information relating to suspension from office, and Mr. Kenna of West Virginia took the floor in opposition to the report of the majority of the committee.

In the course of a long speech Kenna said no man denied the right of the Senate to call on the President for private papers, even for private letters in his pocket, but no rational man would deny the President equal right to decline to send them if he chose to do so. He read a letter from Sherman, Secretary of the Treasury, relating to the removal of Mr. Arthur from the Collectorship of New York, the letter being addressed to Mr. Conkling, as chairman of the Senate Committee. In that letter, Sherman said that to make an official reply would compel him to disclose matters contained in papers of a confidential character filed in the Department, and require him to discuss questions "totally immaterial to the nominations sent to the Senate," also that "no law requires the President to give reasons," etc. The people, Kenna continued, were unable to change their officials except through the Executive. When the people elected Grover Cleveland to the Presidency, it was for the purpose of effecting such a change as would make the Government conform to the popular will. It was that the former Marshals and Collectors and Postmasters and Consuls and Ministers should go, so far as necessary, and that if necessary to carry out the purposes of the Government in good faith, then that they should all go. In conclusion, Kenna said: When President Cleveland assumed the functions of the office of Chief Executive of this Government, I don't believe there is a person in this land who had any reason whatever to doubt that he came to the discharge of his duties of the high office determined so far as in him lay, to devote a conservative and patrotic spirit to the discharge of his duties. I believe I speak within the bounds when I say that this is what the country knew. That the one great idea of serving his country in an acceptable manner in the high position for which it had selected him, was his only aspiration. I would fail to express my own candid conviction now if I did not say that, looking back on a long line of his predecessors in that high office, and confronting as he may the issues presented here, he will be the first in surrendering its high prerogative. The Senate may continue, as his message indicates, to ply him and his various subordinate departments with harassing and embarrassing issues; it may defeat every nomination that stands before it for consideration; it may assert in any measure arbitrary or otherwise every prerogative granted or not granted in the Constitution, but I mistake that man if he does not stand firmly to his post, maintain his sworn duty under the Constitution of his country, maintaining every prerogative of his high office and transmit it unimpaired to his successor.

Senator Cullom obtained the floor and after executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 12. — On motion of Morrow, of California, a resolution was adopted accepting the invitation of the Senate that the House attend in a body the funeral services for the late Senator Miller, to be held in the Senate chamber to-morrow.

The Speaker announced the appointment of the following committee to accompany the remains of Senator Miller to California: Messrs. McKenna, Spriggs, Louttit, Morgan, Hepburn, Taylor and Millikin.

Swope of Pennsylvania, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, reported the bill granting a pension of $2000 a year to the widow of General Hancock. Placed on the private calendar. [The report which accompanies the bill gives a brief outline of the services rendered to the country by Hancock, and closes by saying: Your committee, considering this as one of the exceptional cases in which it becomes their duty to recommend a departure from ordinary precedent and policy, heartily and unanimously recommend the passage of the bill.]

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

AMERICAN.

Wired from Washington.

WASHINGTON, 12.—The special committee of the House charged with inquiry into the issuance of Pan-Electric Telephone stock, to the government officers began its investigations to-day.

The House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads gave a hearing this morning to a number of people who advocated Postal Savings Banks.

In the telephone investigation to-day Mr. Joseph Pulitzer of the New York World said his name had been connected with the publications touching certain telephone stocks. He assumed the responsibility for the publication of those facts. "I and I alone am responsible and no one else," said Mr. Pulitzer. "No human being has tried to influence me in any manner whatever. I do not know a human being to-day so far as I am aware who, as a stockholder or who as being interested in the Bell Telephone Company, influenced me. I had no motive other than that arising from the feeling that the publication of the facts were in the nature of news and in the nature of a public service. He had been lately introduced to Senator Harris and knew Mr. Garland, and personally liked him very much. Outside of the two gentlemen named in the publications he did not know any person in Congress who had any interest in the Pan-Electric Company, and he did not think there was any.

William B. Webb, Secretary of the Territory of Montana, was confirmed to-day.

As required by law, Secretary Lamar has submitted to Congress a list of about 4,500 Indian depredation claims. The total number of claims call for an amount approximating $15,000,000.

The body of the late Senator Miller will be taken from the capital about 9 p. m. to-morrow and escorted to the depot of the Baltimore & Potomac Railroad. The remains will be placed in a special car provided for them, and will be guarded by eight members of the Loyal Legion until the departure of the train at 7:15 p. m. The route of the funeral train will be via the Pennsylvania Central, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Union and Central Pacific roads. It is due in San Francisco at 11 o'clock on Friday morning next.

J. H. Rogers, the inventor, said he had invented a number of electrical devices which had been transferred to the Pan-Electric Company. He gave his story of the organization of the company with General Joseph E. Johnson, General Alexander and Senators Harris and Garland as incorporators, who were not to pay any money for their interests. Governor Brown of Missouri came into the company on the same terms. Some other parties embarked in the enterprise but paid for their stock. The company sold State rights usually for from $5,000 to $10,000, a royalty on the instruments and a certain proportion of the local stock. The aggregate of the dividends paid out of the company was between thirty and fifty thousand dollars. Witness believed that the stock he had been selling was of value depending in part on the correctness of Garland's opinion as a lawyer, and he depended not only on Garland's opinion but on the fact that the Pan Electric instrument was superior to the Bell instrument and on the possibility of selling the instrument to the Bell Company. The suit brought by the government last summer against the Bell Company was not the object of investigation, and witness said that the only conference he had with any of his associates prior to the bringing of the suit had been with Mr. Young some time in July; his father was also present. The conversation was held at the house of the witness. Young called there and witness asked him whether the government would bring suit. Young replied, "Yes." Rogers said: "If Garland has promised he will do it." Young said that Garland had had a delicacy about bringing the suit himself and everything would be left to Mr. Goode. Rogers (senior) asked whether Goode would act if the matter were left with him. Young said that was all right; Goode was our friend, or friendly to us, although not openly, and he (Young) believed he would rather have Goode than Garland. Suit was instituted about one or two months after that conversation. Witness had no conversation with Goode in regard to the suit.

Street Car Riot in Canada.

TORONTO, Ont., 12.—The street railway troubles assumed a serious aspect to-day. According to the instructions of the president of the company the running of cars was left in the hands of the City Commissioners, and late this morning a car manned with a force of police left the stables and started out over the Front street route. The mob immediately appeared and started obstructive tactics, and before the car had proceeded very many blocks the street was completely blocked by coal carts, express wagons, etc. The police were powerless to attempt to get the car through. The abandoned car was then turned toward the stables where the mob attacked and completely wrecked it. The driver and conductor were seized by the rioters and severely injured before they were rescued by the police. A squad of mounted police here came upon the scene and charged the mob, using their batons freely. Several of the mob were struck by stones and injured, while a policeman was knocked off his horse but was not seriously hurt. Two arrests were made and in spite of the efforts that were made to rescue them, the prisoners were taken to the station.

Soon after another car was started. The police were reinforced, and strong detachments were located along the route. The mob repeatedly charged and attempted to disable the car, but the police succeeded in getting the car through. The batons again were freely used, and with good effect. The ringleaders were arrested. At the present time but few cars are running in Queen and Yonge streets. Each car is manned by half a dozen policeman. The Police Magistrate has instructed the Chief of Police to call out the militia if necessary, but the Chief thinks the force he has at his command at present, is sufficient to enforce the laws.

Colonel Phillips Shot for Speaking in Defence of Chinese.

PORTLAND, Or., 12.—Early this morning an attempt was made to blow up a Chinese wash house here with giant powder cartridges. The perpetrators evidently knew little of the use of dynamite, as they they placed it on the front porch, which was demolished, but the main part of the house was uninjured.

About midnight Col. J. K. Phillips, Commander of the First Regiment of militia, was assaulted near his residence in East Portland, by two men, knocked down and robbed. As he lay on the ground he was shot, the bullet passing through his lung, and it will probably prove fatal. Col. Phillips has been outspoken on the late outrage against the Chinese, and the leaders of the mob have threatened his life.

The Railway Men Secretly Negotiate with the Strikers.

ST. LOUIS, 12.—The officials of the Missouri Pacific Railway yard, have succeeded in making up a freight train this morning without encountering any serious opposition from the strikers and at 11:45 o'clock it left Eighteenth Street for the South.

The St. Louis & San Francisco road will resume business fully to-day, the Knights having consented to their use of the two miles of the Missouri Pacific track which they use in getting to their freight yards.

CHICAGO, 12. — The Inter-Ocean's St. Louis special says: Authentic information was received to-night that secret negotiations were begun yesterday for the settlement of the great strike. Communication between the Missouri Pacific officials and the Knights of Labor Executive Committee at Sedalia, was established yesterday through State Labor Commissioner Koehtzky, and to-morrow there will probably be at least a slight rift in the clouds.

New York, 12.—It is announced to-day that round trip first-class tickets from the Missouri River to San Francisco and Los Angeles and return, good for six months, are sold for $75. They have been quoted for several days, but they were good for only 90 days. Round trip first-class tickets from and to the same points, good for 90 days, are sold at $60.

Arrangements for a conference between Messrs. Strong, Goddard, Potter and Huntington, for the purpose of adjusting the transcontinental war, are progressing quietly. A meeting will not take place before Monday or Tuesday. Meantime, it is not unlikely that the views of each are becoming known to the others.

It is stated that three or four car loads of sugar are coming from San Francisco, shippers taking advantage of the low freights.

Mr. W. F. Towse, General Eastern Agent of the Missouri Pacific system of railroads, received the following telegram from Dallas this morning:

"We have instructed our agents this afternoon to take all classes of business except perishable freight and live stock to points on the Texas & Pacific. This opens El Paso and all the country west. This indicates that we anticipate no trouble on our lines to points reached by El Paso."

(Signed) W. W. FINLEY."

PATRONIZE YOUR FRIENDS

AN OBSERVER OF LOCAL AFFAIRS EXPRESSES HIMSELF ON THE POLICY OF SUPPORTING ENEMIES.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 11th, 1886.

Editor Deseret News:

How do the Utah people like that dispatch from Washington that stated that the last bill against Utah has giving great satisfaction to the leading gentiles here? What does it mean? How should these prominent gentiles know any thing about the bill unless it was written in Utah, handed around for approval, and then forwarded to Washington? and then forwarded to Washington?

How do you Latter-day Saints feel about your gentile friends. Those that you are daily fattening, giving your money to for their goods, their beef, their groceries, their millinery, their livery, and everything else they have to sell, while they, in turn, endorse villainous bills that aim at your disfranchisement, and degradation? They do it, for the dispatch says so. What else says so? Well, let us see, who have sat upon the juries that have convicted your friends, whether there was proof or not, and were just as regular as clock work about it, and just as truly as the cases came up before them?

Who of all these Gentiles that you have supported with your patronage, and who have sat upon these juries, have ever raised their voices against convictions? Not one. Would any one pretend to say that these same men would convict thieves or other criminals on such flimsy evidence with the same regularity? History gives no such records; and still you give them your money!

Let us look how it is with them. How many Gentiles patronize "Mormons?" Go to the "Mormon" stores and butcher shops, and stand there a few hours, and you will see but few gentiles. Let a "Mormon" go east and commence business, build churches, abuse the people of the city or State in which he lives. How long would the church stand? How many customers would he have in the place? How many should he have? Suppose a butcher or store keeper should go to Connecticut, or Vermont, or New Hampshire, and start a business in a Catholic community, and abuse the people, daily through a newspaper started and kept up by their patronage, how would he manage to live? Who ever heard of a Jew purchasing of a gentile anything that a Jew had for sale, even a meal of victuals? And why should the Saints keep these people on the fat of the land, instead of giving their money to their own friends?

"But" says one, "I can do better with my gentile friends than I can anywhere else." This I know to be false; you can get just as fat meats of a "Mormon" butcher as of a Gentile, and just as much for the same amount of money; and the same with everything else. Do you suppose these people are here for their health? No, they will tell you. How is it that so many wagon and machine men that come here poor are now so rich as to afford to build fine residences on the corners of the block, and then build high fences between themselves and their poor "Mormon" neighbors; while the Saints in the same business continue poor? Does this show that they sell cheaper than the Saints? Is it to be wondered at that they call the Saints dupes when they dupe them daily, and have done so for years?

The printing presses that abuse you every morning and evening call your children bastards, your wives and sisters vile and lewd, and your fathers and brothers thugs, robbers and murderers. Who supports them? Who takes these papers and reads them? Not Saints: but show a Gentile who does not take and read them, and further, believe every falsehood they publish about these people.

I hold that we have a right to help our friends, and let enemies alone; treat them kindly but do not take them to bed with us, if we do we will continue poor.

Look at the fortunes that have been made in Utah by outsiders and taken away from the Territory. If this money had been left in Utah, how many factories could have been built, and how many people made happy?

Let us all wake up to our own interest and that of our own people.

Yours, A FRIEND TO UTAH.

Chester Loveland's Death.—We mentioned a few days since the demise of Brother Chester Loveland, and promised to publish a sketch of his life which we were not then in possession of facts sufficient to give. We have since received the following from a Brigham City correspondent. His death occurred at his house at Call's Fort, in Box Elder County, at 6:30 a. m., March 5th, the cause of death being erysipelas;

"He was born Dec. 30, 1817, in the town of Madison, Geauga County, Ohio; was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the month of June, 1837, by Elder Josiah Butterfield, at Kirtland, Ohio, and on the same day received a patriarchal blessing under the hands of Father Joseph Smith. He was married to Fanny Call February 15th, 1838, and removed to Geauga Co., where he lived two years, and then removed to Hancock County, Ill. He passed through the persecutions of the Saints of those days, had his house burned by mobocrats and lost most of his property at Green Plains.

"He was sealed to Rosannah Winters in the Nauvoo Temple, January 15, 1846, left that place in 1846 and settled on Mosquito Creek, where he remained till 1850, in which year he came to Utah and settled at Bountiful. There he was sustained as Bishop's Counselor, and also held the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the Nauvoo Legion.

"He was sealed to Celia Simmons in the fall of 1853, was called on a mission to Carson Valley in 1855, returned in 1856 and moved his family thither and succeeded Orson Hyde in the Presidency of the mission. He was called home on the arrival of Johnston's army, and during the defensive operations in Echo Canon acted as commissary. He removed to Call's Fort, Box Elder Co., in 1860, and in 1865 was called by Pres. B. Young to remove to Brigham City, Box Elder Co., to take charge of the military, where he was elected colonel. He was also elected as the first mayor of Brigham City, which position he held with honor and credit for two terms—four years.

"He was married to Rosetta Snow Nov. 17, 1866.

"In 1868 he was called and appointed as captain of a company to go to the frontier after the emigration, which appointment he filled honorably.

"He was sealed to Louisa Faulkner, Sept. 5, 1868, and at the time of his death was the father of 31 children, 30 of whom are still living; 57 grandchildren, 42 of whom are still living; 25 great-grandchildren, most of whom are still living."
