LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 18.

Serious Accident.—This morning a young man named George Pettel, of American Fork, while at work on the Denver and Rio Grande R. R., in this city, received a severe injury. He was accidentally struck a violent blow on the head by a tie. He bled from the nose, mouth and eyes, and was seized with vomiting. He was conveyed to his home in the South on the train.

Effects of an Accident.—This morning's train brought Mr. J. H. Lacey from Frisco, accompanied by his daughter Clara. Mr. L., some six weeks ago, had the misfortune to be thrown from a wagon and his right leg was broken, since which time he has been a great sufferer, through the bone not knitting. He finally decided to come to Salt Lake for treatment.

Burglary at Ogden.—On Saturday evening the furniture store of Mr. Jas. Gale, Main Street, Ogden, was entered by a burglar, who broke open a drawer and carried off a number of valuable papers, probably imagining he had secured a large sum of money. The loss of the documents puts Mr. Gale to serious inconvenience. The Ogden Herald gives the details of the affair.

The Toy Pistol Cases.—Yesterday we mentioned the fact of Master Leslie Woods being affected with paralysis and symptoms of lockjaw from the effects of a wound in the hand inflicted by a toy pistol. We learn that a son of Mr. John Gillett, of the 9th Ward, aged 13 years, died at 4 p.m. yesterday, from the same cause.

The lad Browning, in the 18th Ward, who was injured in one of his fingers in the same way, has not yet recovered, his hand having become quite stiff. We understand there are five cases of the kind in the city. Toy pistols should be abolished.

REDUCED TO RUINS.

THE GREAT WESTERN MATCH FACTORY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

About nine o'clock last night the Great Western match factory, in the Second Ward took fire, and was soon enveloped in flames, causing the entire city to be illuminated with a ruddy glow. Owing to the inflammable nature of the materials which the building contained, the blaze was a large one, great columns of fire shooting high into the air.

The firemen with their apparatus were on the spot as speedily as possible, but a match factory on fire is not a matter of easy extinguishment, and almost the entire building and contents were consumed, the only property saved consisting of machinery amounting in value to about $800.

The structure was adobe, 30 x 40 feet. The loss falls heavily upon the company, composed of ten individuals, all of whom are working men, whose entire surplus means is thus swept away as with a breath. The institution had been operating almost day and night lately, to get stock ready to fill orders, and would have been prepared to deliver over 100 gross of boxes to-day. They had on hand quite a large quantity of valuable chemicals, causing the entire loss to be not less than $3,000. This may not appear to be a very great amount of damage ordinarily, but to those in the circumstances of the parties who are the losers, it is considerable. The factory was a successful home industrial institution, the product being of good quality and improving, some excellent workmen having lately been obtained. It will take at least $2,000 to give the factory another start, but where is it to be obtained is a question not easily answered.

Parties who were on the spot speak highly of the manner in which the firemen acted. It was found impossible to get water for some time so as to bring a stream to bear upon the fire. In the meantime the Brigade boys climbed upon the burning building and got people to hand up buckets of water, which they dashed upon the flames. They also pulled down burning timbers to save the end of the structure where the machinery was located. When a stream was finally dashed into the blazing mass, the rapidity with which the flames were subdued, was quite remarkable.

The cause of the fire is at present unknown.

THE BURGLARY.

MESSRS. TAYLOR & SONS' CLOTHING TAKEN TOWARD THE SETTING SUN.

The police having occasion to suspect that the parties who committed the burglary on the premises of Messrs. John Taylor & Son, of this city, were attaches of the Robinson show, they started for Corinne yesterday for the purpose of arresting the thieves. It appears, however, that the "Burg on the Bear" gives the visitor a vivid idea of the poem of the "Deserted Village." It is a town of the past with a checkered history, in which cattle stealing forms no insignificant niche, to the sorrow of honest surrounding settlements. In the absence of people and ducats, the circus did not do any business to speak of yesterday, so instead of giving an evening performance, as was intended, the mammoth concern "folded its tents like the Arab, and silently stole away," bound for Elko, Nevada.

The officers did not follow the circus, (many other people do) but they learned while at Corinne that the bandmaster and a German member of the musical organization that blows out execrable sounds from brazen instruments had carried away a valise, two pairs of pants and some other articles from a boarding house in that lonely village.

It might be asked what that circumstance had to do with the burglary in this city? We might answer, much. Officer Pratt, on Saturday night, accosted a gentleman who was standing opposite the White House with a couple of musical instruments in his hands and a lot of loose clothing over his arms. In answer to a question he said he belonged to the circus and was waiting for the bandmaster. Couple this circumstance with the fact of the depredation of the bandmaster and German at Corinne, and then add that, according to the description of a Corinthian, the manly form of the aforesaid bandmaster was arrayed in a coat exactly resembling one of the garments stolen from the premises of the Messrs. Taylor, and you have a tolerably clear connecting link.

THE PARK CITY HOMICIDE.

THE SUSPECTED PERPETRATORS ARE BROUGHT TO THE CITY.

To-day Sheriff Allison, of Summit County, Deputy Moore and night-watchman Milton Thomas, arrived from Park City. They had in custody B. Pollock, W. N. Ingraham and A. Casterline, suspected murderers of William Kennedy.

An exciting incident on the trip from the Park occurred at Ogden this morning. Besides the parties already named, a brother of the murdered man came along. On arriving at that town, Milton Thomas stepped out upon the platform. Next Ingraham jumped from the car. Kennedy, it appears, did not notice that Thomas was ahead, and got the impression, so he says, that Ingraham was attempting to escape. He whipped out a revolver and fired at him, the bullet passing between Ingraham and Thomas, particularly close to the latter, the leaden messenger whizzing in such near proximity to his head as to cause a burning sensation. The officers then took Kennedy into custody, and they had four prisoners in place of three.

Pollock, who is said to have made a statement in regard to the murder, is a young man, tall and brawny, with a large head and exceedingly broad features. He is a very nervous and excitable. His statement does not implicate himself, but circumstantially the other two.

Ingraham is a thickly built, black-haired man, about thirty years old, with a tallowy complexion and profligate appearance. It is alleged that he boasted, shortly after the fracas in which Kennedy lost his life, that he had laid one man out.

Casterline is an Italian. He is a young man, small of stature, slim build, restless and wiry.

Sheriff Allison, who has a good reputation for efficiency as an officer, and Mr. Moore have been busy hunting up evidence in the case which, though circumstantial, is clear, making a very complete chain, and it is probable they have got the parties who perpetrated the deed.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 19.

Wants to Hear From His Brother.—A brother of Pierre C. Lilliens Ryold is anxious to know whether that gentleman is living in this city or vicinity, and if so, desires him to communicate with him. Address in care of B. V. Wolf, notary public, Middletown, Orange County, New York.

Effects of Frost.—On the night of the 8th inst., a heavy frost visited Sanpete Valley. It destroyed not less than one-fifth of the wheat of the town of Ephraim, while that of Manti and some other places was slightly damaged. The entire corn and potato crops of the whole valley were more or less injured.

Escaped.—On Monday the two ogress jewelry men who were sentenced to fifty days at hard labor for assaulting the young men Wagstaff and Vaughan by presenting pistols at their persons and threatening to shoot, were at work for the city, on the State Road. They seized an opportunity to escape by rushing into some tall grass in the vicinity and succeeded in getting away. They have not yet been caught.

West Jordan Primary.—Yesterday, Sisters E. R. Snow Smith, Zina D. Young and E. C. Clawson, were at West Jordan, attending the Primary Conference and fair at that place. The meeting, which commenced at 10 a.m., was attended by 180 members of the association, besides their parents and others, the house being well filled. The exercises—singing, reciting, etc.—were all creditably rendered.

The afternoon was spent in the grove, where a picnic dinner was partaken of. The fair was very commendable, being an exhibition of specimens of the handwork of the juveniles, who displayed much ingenuity and taste, the articles embracing the useful and ornamental, and a combination of both.

Attempted Self-destruction.—Last night John Sholderbrand attempted to "shuffle off" his "mortal coil" with a coil of rope. He was found by some parties who were passing up City Creek Canon, suspended by the neck from the bridge which crosses the stream near the old sawmill, below Mr. John Blake's place. The rope was too long, and the poor fellow's feet were on the ground. He was cut down by some of the people living in the neighborhood, and taken to the City Hall by officers Andrew Smith and W. Salmon.

Mr. Sholderbrand is a man of more than ordinary ability, being an artistic penman and fair accountant, but has indulged an unfortunate taste for intoxicants, which was the cause that led him to make "theatempt to end his life. He revived to-day and went home.

Jubilee.—An Ephraim, Sanpete correspondent sends the following, under date of July 18th:

We had a very pleasant gathering here to-day of the children from the southern part of the Stake, this being the second Sunday School Jubilee this year, the other having been held at Moroni two weeks ago for the children belonging to the northern wards of the Stake.

At ten o'clock a.m. the different schools formed into a procession and marched past President C. Peterson's residence to the bowery, led by the Manti Brass Band. The proceedings in the bowery consisted of class exercises from the Sunday School Cards, Book of Mormon and other Church works, singing by the different choirs, solos, duets, recitations, etc., interspersed with lively music by the Brass Band from Manti, which contributed much to the enjoyment of all present. Short but interesting speeches were delivered by Supt. H. P. Miller of the Sevier Stake, John H. Hougaard, Prest. C. Peterson and Supt. J. B. Maiben. The brethren mentioned the pleasing fact that the attendance at our Sunday Schools in this Stake had been doubled during the last six years.

OBSEQUIES.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE SISTER HARRIET W. TAYLOR.

Yesterday the remains of the late respected Sister Harriet Whittaker Taylor were conveyed to the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms, escorted by a procession, which formed at the residence.

The services at the Hall were conducted by Elder George Crismon, Counselor to Bishop Thomas Taylor. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Joseph Horne.

President Joseph F. Smith delivered a very instructive and comforting discourse, mostly in explanation of the hopes inspired by the Gospel, and the power and glory of the resurrection.

President Angus M. Cannon also addressed the assemblage. His remarks were mostly upon the noble traits of character exhibited in the life of the deceased, which he had observed during a long acquaintance with her. His discourse was calculated specially to comfort the bereaved relatives who were present in large numbers.

The benediction was pronounced by Counselor D. H. Wells.

The closing exercises were rendered by the 14th Ward choir.

A Live Western Manufacturing Co.

We learn from Mr. W. B. Slosson, Vice-President of the "Brown" Medicine and Manufacturing Co., that the enterprising Co. he represents has more than doubled its sales in the last two years, as a result of judicious advertising, and from the fact that this Co. always put up honest and pure medicine. Dr. Robt. J. Brown, who has the oversight of the medicine department has had 25 years experience in preparing medicines for this western climate, and it is no wonder that western people prefer them to those made in the east. Brown's Blackberry and Ginger, Peppermint, Liver Pills, Arnica Liniment, Arnica Salve, Cough Balsam, Tar Troches, &c., are already household words in Utah, and the sales increasing with a rapidity unknown in medicine. We are glad to chronicle so complete a success of the largest medicine manufactory in the west. [d202 s w]
