

12 TRAINS ARRIVE TONIGHT.

Los Angeles Idmited, Due Here Yesterday, Will Get in This Evening From the East.

The big blockade on the Union Pacific which has prevailed since Sunday, was raised today and by this evening there will be twelve delayed passenger trains arrive in Ogden at Yesterday's Los Angeles intervals. limited is due to arrive at 6 o'clock or thereabuots. Yesterday a few trains came in, some 20 and others 23 hours late, and the passengers one and all told stories of snow drifts and heavy winds.

For the first time in several years the Union Pacific has had snow plows in operation in Wyoming and Nebraska in the month of October. Added to the blockade there have been wire and pole troubles prevalent in the storm region that have complicated the operation of trains, and reports on breakdowns from the storm zone.

In the wake of the trouble connections with the Oregon Short Line and Southern Pacific in Ogden have not been made, and this has thrown through connections to the coast via Sait Lake a round 24-hours or more behind time. To add to the trouble there has been no mail to speak of from the east for a couple of days.

A. E. WELBY HERE.

General Superintendent of the D. & R. G. Comes to Salt Lake.

General Superintendent A. E. Welby, accompanied by J. M. Walker, super-intendent of telegraph for the Denver & Rio Grande, is here going over the & Rio Grande, is here going over the situation in connection with the dam-age done by the big storm and the reinstating of telegraphic communi-cation between Salt Lake and Ogden. Mr. Walker reports that the worst damage was done by the wind on the system was between Kaysville and Wood's Cross, where 250 poles went down and the wires were all tangled up. At the present time the wires are up. At the present time the wires are being strung on trees and anything else sticking up which will hold an in-sulator. The replacing of the shat-tered poles will follow in a few days.

CHANGE IN CONTROL

Story That Colorado & Southern Goes To Rock Island and U. P.

York, Oct. 25 .- The Tribune says reports were current in financial cir-cles yesterday that control of the Colorado Southern railroad was soon to pace to the Union Pacific and Rock Is-land, which would hold it fointly. There has been frequent rumors that the Rock Island was to take over the Colorado & Southern, but the story of the joint control has not previously been heard. The traffic relations of the road named are close and friendly.

ROWING CLUB HOPEFUL.

Encouraged by Advent of New Local Interurban Roads.

The members of the Salt Lake Rowing club are feeling very hopeful of a rejuvenation of rowing on Great Sait Lake, with the advent of the new local Interurban roads running to the lake. The managements feel kindly toward the rowing interests, and as soon as a the rowing interests, and as soon as a resort has been established at Black Rock, near Garfield, provision will be made to locate the Sait Lake Rowing club there in convenient quarters, and transportation will be given to members transportation will be given to members who go out to actually row. Letters will then be sent to well known boat builders in the east, calling their at-tention to the opening at this point for the establishment of a branch fac-tory with a view to building boats of all kinds here. It is believed that only in this way can all the boats de-sired be secured, as the express charg-es on hoats practically doubles their original cost. Material for manufac-ture can be shipped in as freicht at ture can be shipped in as freight at slight expense. The club has one fourslight expense. The club has one four-oared shell at Saltair that was built in this city, and as far as can be seen it is just as good as any boat of eastern build. If the interest can be once more excited at this point, Ogden and Provo will not be slow in catching on, and starting clubs of their own.

Postoffice Employes Interested in Leoitosition to Congress

Local postoffice clerks and carriers are much-interested in the proposition of the postmaster-general to urge upon Congress the necessity of positive action in increasing the pay of clerks and carriers and the ing the pay of clerks and carriers and the establishment of the entire service on an eight-hour basis. As it is now, part of the service is on such a basis, and others are not, which is the occasion at times of more or less ricition and some feeling, es-pedaily about holider time when the great rush of the year starts it. It is argued here that 3,500,000 proposed by the P. M. LOOKS BAD FOR THE CITY. How the McWhirters Were Whisked Out of the Way-Means Only One Thing to the Public.

DESERET EVENING NEWS THURSDAY OCTOBER 25 1906

The great army of hungry crooks from all over America are looking for the scent of a city with a grafter for chief of police. Crooks are always willing to make a fair split up in return for the privilege of operating.

What kind of a reputation has been gained for Sait Lake City by the simple facts brought out by the story of the cold blooded highway robbery of the McWhirter brothers?

How long will it take Salt Lake to remove this reputation, with the pres-ent personnel at the head of the police department? partment? The facts brought out about the Mc-

Whirter robbery did not tend to prove that a simple felony was not committed, in the technicalities that free the chief in the technicalities that free the chief from the responsibility of a part in compounding it. Two honest Scotchmen were lured to a room to "nieet Col. Rice," a man who was supposed to live here. There "po-lice" officers wearing official badges rushed in on the room full of people, ar-rested them all, and searched them all, taking from the MoWhitters $2,200 in taking from the McWhirters $8,200 in the name of the law, ostensibly to carto the police station to deposit in ry to the their favor.

One brother informed Chief Sheets and Sergeant Hempel of this, while the supposed officer, wearing the badge of the department, was leading the other brother over the city "on the way to the station."

who had already been informed of his character. When Chief Sheets suggested that the fake officer go and get some of the money back, McWhitter insisted that a detective go with him. Sheets told Mc-Whitter this detective had been sent. Later when the other brother saw the man driving west in a buggy, with a companion, he brought to the chief that information it was the chief's dury to ferret out and search for, and was informed in his brother's presence that informed in his brother's presence that the second man was a detective. The second man was actually the other fake policeman

No effort was ever made to find out

No effort was ever made to find out any details from the McWhitters about the crime. They were bubbling over with their story. Yet it could not get a hearing in the police station. They told Chief Sheets the men had gone to the New England addition. William McWhitter found this out by detective work he did himself, when he was sent out from the police station alone "to hunt the criminals he complained of." The small boy sent out from McCoy's stable found the gang in revelry at the New England addition, but no man from the office of Chief Sheets went out to run down this clue brought in by William McWhitter, no man from the omce of Chief Sheets ever sought to know he men looked who turn-ed the trick, who they were, or what their record was.

It is uninfam-mable and incombustible. It dissolves all fats, and it is expected to take the place of such extremely dangerou solvents as carbon sulphide, benina, ethioroform, alcohols and ether. It dissolves certain gums and resins, mak-ing it probably available in varnish manufacture.
