Fortieth Annual Conference.

TO-MORROW, the 6th day of April, 1870, is the commencement of the Fortieth Annual Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. In the morning at 10 o'clock the Saints will convene in the Tabernacle, and hold one meeting, when the Conference will adjourn until the 5th of May. This has been deemed the wisest course, owing to the absence, in the southern portion of the Territory, of Presidents Young and Smith; and also on account of the unfinished state of the gallery in the New Tabernacle. By the 5th of next month it is believed that the new gallery will be so far finished as to be ready for use by the public, and twelve thousand persons may then be comfortably seated within the walls of the spacious building. Under such circumstances it is presumed that Conference may be held in comfort, and that none who desire to attend will be under the necessity of staying away, for the lack of comfortable accommodation, as has been the case on many occasions in the past.

The assembling of the General Conference of the Church on this, its fortieth birthday, is more than ordinarily suggestive of thoughts and reflections connected with its history since its establishment in these last days. Since the 6th of April, 1830, many are the vicissitudes and trials which, in the providence of our Heavenly Father, His Church and people have been called to pass through. The powers of evil have prevailed to a great extent; true they have not succeeded in overturning the cause of Jehovah, neither will they, for, Revelation has declared that the Church, now established, shall never more be thrown down. But thousands of the Saints and their Prophet and Patriarch have suffered martyrdom at the hands of the wicked and ungodly. For many years past, however, the Saints, in their God-given homes in the Rocky Mountains have been abundantly blessed. The Lord has been with us on the right hand and on the left; He has blessed us in our basket and store, and is fast making of us a great people. But again, in His providence, dark clouds seem to be hovering near, and according to all human appearance a day of oppression and persecution is at hand. There is a striking difference between the persecution which now threatens and those of the past. Then we suffered at the hands of lawless mobs; now we are threatened with persecution by law. This is a strange anomaly in the 19th century! The most liberal government of the world copying after the bigotry and intolerance of centuries ago, and legislating as to what religious observances men and women shall and shall not believe and practice.

What the result of the present move against the Church of God may be, we cannot say; but of this we are assured: that in the future, as in the past, every step taken in connection with that church will be overruled by its Great Founder so as to result in the advantage and acceleration of His cause upon the earth. This is the abiding faith of every honest hearted faithful Saint of God; and if persecutions and troubles come we may rest assured that they come because they are needed. The chastenings of our Father, though they may be severe, are prompted by kindness and will be sanctified to the good of His children.

Under these feelings we hail with pleasure the fortieth birth day of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints!

Correspondence.

LAIE, OAHU, Sandwich Islands,

March 14, 1870.

Dear Brother:—In my last I promised you some political news. Brother Nepela lost his election by forty votes. The people here have become so advanced in civilized life that they are acquainted with all the "ins" and "outs" and intrigues of a political struggle, and to succeed here it takes money, just as it does elsewhere, and we thought it would not pay to invest, so our friend Nepela came out a little behind. If other respects we are prospering as well as could be expected. The school on our land has increased from twenty-five to seventy-five, fine healthy children. Our meetings are well attended on the Sabbath. We have a Sabbath school, where the native children are being taught the Desert Alphabet by Brother Hawkins.

In business matters we are fully up to our expectations. Since the 18th of November last we have taken off seventy-five tons of sugar and over two hundred barrels of molasses, and to give you some idea of the regularity of our work since that time there has been but one working day that we have not worked, and that was New Year's day, which we gave them for a play day. It takes some thirty or forty men to keep our works all in motion, and our working men have been so punctual that our works have not stopped one half hour on their account. I am happy to be able to speak so favorably of my native brethren as laborers.

To follow the example of our friends at home the foreign brethren have joined in with me as partners, and we will carry on the plantation on the principle of co-operation; and I trust by being diligent and with the help of Heaven, that we may be able to keep the good work alive.

With kind love to all in your office I remain your brother in the truth.

GEO. NEBEREN.

THE PRESS AND THE "PROTEST."

The Mormon protest against the Cullum bill, as it appeared in full in yesterday's special dispatches from Salt Lake, is in admirable temper, and is made by men who are evidently in earnest. With the argument contained in it we have no present concern, but to say that it is marked by great ability is to say only what will be conceded by all who have read it. But this formal appeal will probably not avail to defeat the Cullum bill in the Senate. The same influence that passed it in the House will drive it through that body. It was the influence of clamor, and the votes given to it, against the able opposition of Mr. Schenck, were given against the best judgment of those who cast them.

Notwithstanding the temperance and moderation which appear to have ruled the late action in Salt Lake, it requires no great discernment to perceive the determined spirit that lies behind it. If the Cullum bill shall become a law, it will produce war and bloodshed. No man at all acquainted with the condition of affairs can doubt this, and we do not know how these consequences can be averted in that event. It is evident that the Mormon people intend to exhaust peaceful means to prevent the invasion of their homes and firesides from what they deem the destroying arm of religious persecution, but we do not think we are speaking unadvisedly when we continue to warn all that the Cullum bill means violence, war, and the certain destruction of great interests.—Omaha Herald, April 2.
