When the Salt Lake team came to Ogden last evening, they were the saddest looking lot of ball players ever seen in any country and if their statements were true they had a license to be sad and stay sad for months to come. They feel they were robbed out of yesterday's game, deliberately, and with malice aforethought. The trouble arose over Greenwell, who recently appointed official umpire for the Ogden team. It was feared he would give Salt Lake the worst of it on every possible occasion, and from all every side he did. Before the game, Captain Webster raised an objection to Greenwell as umpire, but Captain Hesse had no other. Secretary Hesse was present and ruled that Greenwell should hold the indicator, and he did.

Nearly every time Meredith threw a curve ball it was called "ball one." The pitcher had to be labored with to go back to the box. The spectators, including Ogden fans, uttered angry protests but all to no purpose. In the fifth inning Borchers made a rank ball. It was obvious to everybody, but Greenwell allowed it. Salt Lake was passed to first and stole second while Williams was being struck out. Meredith sent out a single advancing Mac to third. Borchers then threw the ball to Pike and Meredith also called out. Of course that retired the side.

Things looked bad for Greenwell at that stage of the game. The players crowded around him muttering angry threats, but fortunately nothing was done. Another decision which caused a roar was when Clark hit over first. It was a foul by at least four feet but it was called safe.

Some of the Salt Lakeers said they were not surprised in the least when they learned Greenwell was to umpire. They claim he has a "natural" prejudice in favor of Ogden and against Salt Lake and has on every occasion given the local team the worst of it. At the next league meeting a strong and vigorous protest will be made, in the hope that another umpire will be chosen.

Said one baseballist: "If Greenwell permitted to umpire for Ogden, the Salt Lake team may as well give up in the spring or select an umpire for themselves; one who will guarantee to give them the best of every decision, and the best to look to do the rest."

The Salt Lake club went to Ogden yesterday and met another defeat at the hands of the White Wings. Salt Lake was in the eighth inning through Cope's hit, a wild pitch and two errors by Clark.

Meredith pitched a great game, striking out nine men. He caused young Casey to fan the breeze every time he came to bat and he was up four times. The detailed score is as follows:

OGDEN HIT THE DUST.

Had a Close Call from a Shut Out in Saturday's Game.

When the lobsomen came down here Saturday afternoon they thought they would have another easy time with the White Wings, thought they would make a peach and cream game and then return and tell their backers "they were done." It is to be hoped that these fellows down here don't have any more of these kind of games.

But when the game was up, it was found upon careful investigation that the crew from the north had bitten the dust and had a close call from a shut out. That disgrace was saved them, however, in the ninth inning, when two men were out. Up to that time Mr. "Pink" Hawley had been doing some of the greatest pitching ever seen in this part of the world. He pitched two hitless games and the hard hitting lobsomen were able to find him for until the ninth. Casey and Nagle went out and Hansen came up and singled. The old and venerable chief, Father, who was next and he did a most surprising thing. Taking advantage of "Pink's" momentarily carelessness he smashed one out to middle that was good for three sacks. Hansen scored but Gimlin expired on third for the next man up was foolish enough to poke one out to the professor and it was all up.

The event throughout caused much rejoicing. To "Pink" Hawley it meant that the hoodoo which has been following him around has at last evaporated. As before intimated he pitched gift edged ball and his was faultless. The only marbling feature to the whole thing was the fact that it was not a league game.

Following is the detailed score:

MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Question of Starting Another Season Will Be Determined.

A meeting of the International Baseball league officials has been called for tomorrow evening and each team will be represented. Logan and Pocattello will very likely send some one down to represent them. An effort will be made to play out the remaining games as soon as possible and begin a new schedule. It was feared that Ogden would not favor the scheme, but it was learned this morning that Manager Gimlin stated yesterday he was in favor of it. If the plan goes through, it will be a big boost for baseball here and will straighten out several ugly tangles.

Sporting Notes.

A little trouble arose between Captain Webster and Mr. Griffin after the game at Ogden yesterday afternoon. The boys were in their room at the hotel when Mr. Griffin entered and remarked that he understood nothing was to be done about the game. It seems that he had been agreed upon, but some of the boys tried to hint with the result that nothing was accomplished. When Griffin spoke about it Webster got a little angry and said that the management was interfering with his method of running the game and he had decided to quit. With a man who works very hard to win, and to lose goes against him. He was feeling badly over the way everything had gone and was discouraged. Mr. Griffin stated this morning that he had received no written resignation from Webster as yet and hoped he would not quit the club. He appreciates the fact that Webster has done much towards keeping the team in good shape, and he would not like to lose him.

The manager of the Salt Lake club stated today that he expected just what he got from Greenwell yesterday. He was willing, he says, to let any other man in Ogden umpire the game rather than Greenwell. Mr. Griffin said he tried to induce President Beardsley to go to Ogden for the sole purpose of witnessing the umpire's rank work, but Mr. Beardsley was unable to go.

At the race meet tomorrow night, the feature will be a ten mile motor race between John M. Chapman and Charles Turville. There will also be a two-mile open amateur, paced by a tandem, and a one mile handicap professional.

In Saturday's game Hansen seemed to have a great deal of trouble in adjusting his mask and on two occasions made unnecessary delays to the game. A fan insisted that the trouble was not with the mask but with the catcher's head.

Meredith, who was on the bench during the game with Ogden Saturday, played a pretty cute trick on the lobsomen. A man was on first and Dr. Webster was on second, while Meredith was coaching at third. There was a smashing drive to right by the successor and the doctor ran to third. Just as he reached the sack Meredith started for home on the dead run. The fielder shot the ball to Hansen, who, with a fierce light in his eye, got ready to smite the runner. Hansen was some angry when he saw it was Meredith.

Will Morrow and his wife are now in Denver, where Morrow will play center field with the Denver Western league team, and will do a whole lot towards strengthening the club. Morrow is a good man in more than one position, and was one of the leading batters of the Utah league. His position is behind the wind and he will probably play there in Denver.

This evening the "Wheelman's" Protective association will hold a meeting in Judge Timmony's court room. Several matters of importance will be attended to.

With reference to the fight at the Salt Palace track Friday night, a controversy and yesterday morning that "Race Horse Dick" Green's trainer was sticking up for his rights, also that the N. C. A. rules stipulate that no racing men shall make protest to the officials except through their trainers, and this is what Dick was doing when an officer approached him and told him to keep quiet. "Dick" did nothing. The kind. He said nothing whatever to the officials, but was talking in a Sufferers from hay fever and summer catarrh will be interested to learn that there is a new, simple, inexpensive but effective home treatment for this obstinate and baffling disease, and that a little booklet fully describing the treatment will be mailed free to anyone by addressing the F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Doubtless this statement of a cure and positive preventive of hay fever will be received with skepticism by the thousands who have found the only relief every year was a change of climate during the summer months.

cattle and during the recent excited fluctuations of values affecting native offerings, the southern market has expanded but not natural changes. Southern steers sold at an extreme range of 2.90 to 4.25, cows at 2.50 to 3.10 and heifers up to 3.40.

Hogs continue to arrive in large numbers though the past week will show a liberal falling off as compared with the week before. The best of grades of hogs have improved in value and sold at 3.50 to 3.75, higher on Thursday at 3.50 to 3.75; light hogs, 3.50 to 3.75, average, at 3.40 to 3.50, and pig weights at all the way from 3.25 to 3.50.

The western range sheep, principally from Utah and Wyoming, have been coming pretty freely during the past week, and have met with a welcome reception. Lambs advanced 10c to 15c, early in the week, but settled back as the week advanced. Native lambs sold up to 5.00 on Tuesday, but 4.50 was the best price obtained on Thursday, and 4.50 to 4.80 would have probably bought the best Wyoming wethers, weighing at around 100 lbs. sold at 2.50 and 100 lbs. of the same weight charged hands at 2.50 to 3.75. The demand for range muttons is strong. Fat sheep are worth 2.75 to 3.25, and stock sheep 1.50 to 2.50.

Receipts of stock for the past week were 75,000 cattle, 75,000 hogs and 30,000 sheep, as compared with 80,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs and 15,000 sheep for the preceding week, and 21,000 cattle, 49,000 hogs and 12,000 sheep for the corresponding week last year.
