(Special to the "News.") Ogden, Dec. 29 .- Ed. O'Donald was ar-

ested last night by the police, and it s more than likely that a charge of robbery will be lodged against him. He entered Davenport's saloon or Twenty-fifth street and ordered a drink, which was given him. After moistening his epligiottis with the "hot stuff" he proceeded to take his depar-ture without going through the formal ity of paying for the goods. The bar-tender reminded him of this apparent lapse of memory, when O'Donald whipped a big revolver from his pocket, and informed the bartender that if he even hinted at such a thing as his pay-ing for the drink he would deposit ar ounce or two of lead in the whisky seller's frame. demonstration. The prisoners were conducted to the Conciergerie prison. The arrival of the fugitives was devoid of sensational incidents, as the French police had chosen an hour for their return here when Paris was only half awake. The crowd at the railroad station was comparatively small but a large force of police and soldiers, mounted and on foot, was drawn up in front of the station and guarded all the street approaches in order to prevent the possibility of a popular demonstra-tion. A number of chief functionaries of the prefecture were on hand to per-sonally superintend the prisoners' arrival

PRISONERS KEPT SEPARATE.

The men and women of the Humbert party were kept separate during the rip from Madrid to Paris and they were rought from the train in two separate parties. The women came first, leaning on the arms of officers. Mme. Humbert was dresssed in black and was veiled but was readily recognized by her stout figure. Her young daughter Eva was the most pathetic looking of the women. Mme. Humbert was followed by her sister Marie, who did not show the bravado she exhibited at Madrid but was pale and appeared disconsolate. Frederick Humbert, Mme. Humbert's busband, looked completely broken down. Romain D'Aurignac and his wife Emile maintained the caim defiant atti-tude they had shown throughout. M. which had served him as a disguise. The attitude of The party passed through double lines versal sympathy.

The return of the Humberts to Paris is the absorbing topic for discussion throughout the city, indeed throughout France, as no event since the return of Dreyfus has acoused such intense interest. All clauses of society are equaly interested as the Humberts tions were so colossal and so inter-woven with some of the foremost personages in France, that their return was viewed with apprehension. Crowds from all parts of the city were ready to assemble at the station and give the prisoners a disorderly reception, but the secrecy of the police baffled the plans of the mobs and permitted the Hum-berts to be landed silently and swiftly

Inside the grey walls of the prison. The public had doubted the sincerity of the government in ever attempting to bring back the fugitives, owing to the political and social shock which was sure to follow, but the arrival of the prisoners is now generally accepted as showing the purpose of the author-lities to spare no means for the prosecu-tion and punishment of the accused. The plans for the prosecution of the Humberts have not yet been announced.

VENEZUELAN NEGOTIATIONS.

They Now Wait on President Castro-Is Expected at Caracas Today-Not Thought He Will Consume Much Time In Making Up His Mind to Accept Conditions.

Washington, Dec. 29 .- The Venezue- | ropean powers in Venezuela. As soon an negotiations now wait upon Presiient Castro. Minister Bowen has been fally advised by the statement of the sult of its exchange with the foreign fices at London, Berlin and Rome, nd he has been charged to take the ise in hand himself and arrange the stails of the protocol which will preede the submission of the foreign daims to the arbitration of The Hague ibunal. In so doing, Mr. Bowen is actng, not as United States minister, but as Venezuela's representative. The ofcials here wish it to be distinctly understood that their functions ceased so far as the Venezuelan difficulty was erned when they brought the par-tes to the controversy together. By the latest Venezuelan advices it is poted that President Castro is expected Caracas today, and it is felt that he not consume much time in making his mind to accept the proposals ad out to him through Minister Bow-
