The largest and most elaborate event of the week was the reception and musical given on Tuesday night at the Congregational church by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Charles Miller. Both the church and parlors were handsomely decorated, the church with yellow and white chrysanthemums, palms and ferns, while the parlors in which the guests were received were bright with chrysanthemums, carnations and palms, and the two side rooms, where refreshments were served, were done in yellow, the entire arrangement being most effective. The program was a delightful one, Mrs. Miller rendering beautiful organ selections, and Mr. Hugh Douglas a number of equally enjoyable musical vocal solos, with Miss Judith Evans as an official accompanist.

Following was the program:
Fugue in E flat (Saint Ann).....Bach
(a) The Question.....Liszt
(b) Cantata d'Amour.....Lemare
(c) Hasten Your Speed, My Steed,
My Steed.....Lehmann
Hugh Douglas.

Allegretto.....Wolstenholme
Triumphal March from "Naaman"
Costa
Saut d'Amour.....Eliar
(a) The Question.....Liszt
(b) The Answer.....Wolstenholme
(c) Aus Meinen Grossen Scherzen
Franz
(d) "Eyes of Blue".....Speaks
Hugh Douglas.

Suite Gothique.....Boellmann
(1) Choral.
(2) Minuet.
(3) Priere a Notre Dame.
(4) Toccata.

On Thursday night Mrs. E. Bonnet was hostess at a delightful musical given in honor of Miss Antoinette Lambourne, the rooms being filled with a large number of friends, and some well known artists in the city taking part. The hall was decorated in palms and potted plants, the parlor and library in pink chrysanthemums and similar, and the diningroom in pink carnations, the table having a centerpiece of the flowers placed on a square of Battenberg over pink silk, with broad ribbon streamers in pale green stretching from this to the four corners, where they were caught with cut glass vases filled with carnations. The candlesticks were shaded in green, and the whole was very effective. A delightful program was rendered by the five club, Miss Edna Dunyon, Miss Grace Radcliffe, Prof. Anderson, Prof. Schettler and Will Shiley.

Last night the first formal hop of the season was given at the post, a large number of people from the city being present to enjoy the pleasant affair. The receiving committee will be Col. and Mrs. Benjamin Lockwood, Capt. and Mrs. John Stuart, Capt. and Mrs. Bryant Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Lund.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Madsen entertained at an informal but very pleasant evening party on Wednesday, the time being enjoyably spent with cards, music and other social pastimes, and about 25 guests being present.

Mrs. Henry Irwin entertained at a bridge tea at the Newhouse home on Monday, her guests numbering about 16. The rooms were prettily decorated, and the winner at each table was awarded a basket of violets. The guests were Mrs. Ernest Baumbarger, Mrs. R. H. Channing, Mrs. David S. Murray, Mrs. J. A. Daugherty, Miss Katherine Judge, Miss Anna McCormick, Miss Catherine Geddes, Miss Lella Stingley, Miss Dorothy Kinney, Mrs. Arthur Bird, Mrs. Edward S. Ferry, Mrs. Walter G. Filer, Miss Alice Goodwin, Mrs. George Jay Gibson and Mrs. A. V. Calagahan.

An elaborate home event of the week was the reception given by Mrs. Fitch and the Misses Fitch on Tuesday in honor of their guest, Mrs. Ahmud of London. The house was effectively decorated, the hall in green with palms and vines in abundance, the reception room in yellow, with large chrysanthemums and ferns, and the diningroom in red and green, the table having a centerpiece of carnations, while about the room were baskets of ferns and potted plants. Mrs. R. S. Channing assisted in receiving, and others who assisted were Miss Mary Smedley, Miss Mary Kervin, Miss Mary Moore, Mrs. Montague Ferry and Mrs. Arthur S. Bird.

The holiday idea was in artistic evidence at the card-party given by Mrs. J. F. Dunn on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. William O'Meara. Stinging Christmas bells were hung from the chandeliers to the doors, holly and mistletoe banded the mantels, while tall vases filled with sprays of mistletoe, holly and ferns were everywhere. In the diningroom the same colors were used, the centerpiece for the table being a mound of red carnations, while sprays of holly and ferns were strewn over the board. The tables in the contest were hand painted in holly, an dith prize were awarded Mrs. Richard Savage and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Savery were given a reception last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hall by the members of the First Congregational church, prior to their departure to Tacoma, Wash., to reside. The rooms were handsomely decorated and music, dainty refreshments and other details made up a delightful evening.

Miss Lella Fowler gave a pleasant

PICTURE HATS OF VELVET WITH FLOWERS AND RIBBON.

Velvet, flowers and ribbons are seemingly the chosen materials for millinery. While there are also many ostrich and other feather ornaments being used, it is almost the exception to see a hat which has neither velvet or ribbon in its makeup. Hats of the picturesque type, as well as those in the more practical every-day styles, show a free use of ribbons. The velvet covered shape is practically the leading idea in winter millinery modes. Where the felt shape is used it has either brim facings or covering or a crown trimming of velvet. Milliners cling closely to this idea of velvet and of ribbon. Their customers like them, and their best results come from the use of these two materials. Fancy ribbons are a new note in millinery. The chene printed taffetas of very soft lustrous weaves are being used in millinery as well as the solid colors. An attractive hat with medium high crown and broad brim, raised with a high band on the left side, is velvet covered, and has a simple trimming of soft white ribbon on the bandeau and the under brim. About the crown is a wreath of roses and foliage, the roses repeating the color tone of the ribbon.

at a delightful evening party on Monday in honor of Miss Cora Wilcox, who is visiting Miss Myra Sowles.

On Thursday Mrs. Melvin Sowles entertained at luncheon in honor of Miss Carol Wilcox of Spokane, covers being laid for six. The table was prettily decorated in red roses, and the place cards were hand painted roses in the same color.

Mrs. W. P. Boer entertained the members of her card club on Thursday.

Mrs. Allan Sanford entertained informally at tea on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Martha Royle King has issued invitations for a musicale next Monday night at her studio, the program to consist of the work of women composers. The list of songs and their local interpreters is an attractive one.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Colbath entertained informally at dinner on Wednesday.

Mrs. D. N. Straup has issued invitations for a luncheon to be given at her home on Friday afternoon, the 15th.

A few friends gathered at the home of Edward H. Eardley Tuesday night and gave him a birthday surprise party. The evening was enjoyably spent play-

WEDDING BELLS.

An interesting announcement of the week was that of the approaching marriage of Miss Annie Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cummings, formerly of this city, and Mr. George A. Knox, a brother of Frank Knox, of this city, the event to take place on Christmas day at the bride's home in San Francisco. The young couple have hosts of friends here who will extend good wishes and congratulations.

A brilliant bridal affair of the week was the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Palmer and Arthur D. Knowlton on Thursday, the event taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Palmer. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the drawing room in which the ceremony was performed being in white and green, the bride party standing before the bow-window, which was a bower of ferns and palms, while all about were white carnations, and sweet eysium, the mantel being banked in flowers and vines.

Potted plants and palms formed an aisle to the window through which the bride couple passed. In the library and dining room the holiday idea was carried out in red and green, the dining room being especially beautiful with its table covered with battenberg lace over red satin, cut glass vase with red carnations for a centerpiece, with red ribbon streamers extending to the corners, and candlesticks with red shades. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. I. Goshen, Miss Katherine Drew played appropriate music throughout, and assisting in receiving and serving were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Palmer, Mrs. E. S. Knowles and Miss Ruth Palmer. Miss Sylvia Conn, Miss Jean Horne, Miss Bess Pike, Miss Winifred Hardy, Misses Anne and Ruby Knowlton, Miss Lytle Winner, Miss Mary Parker, Miss Lucile McClelland. The bride wore a handsome costume of white silk mull, with real lace trimmings, and carried bride's roses. Mr. Knowlton will be at home after Feb. 1, at 483 Seventh St.

Mr. Horace Dunbar of this city and Miss May B. Baird of Jeffersonville, Ind., were married on Thursday of this week at the bride's home, the wedding being a very elaborate one. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar left for Salt Lake.

The marriage of Miss Antoinette Lambourne and Ernest Fowler will take place next Thursday. The following will be in the bridal party: Miss Lella Fowler, Misses Lillian and Minnie Lambourne, Miss Sue Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester James Lynn announce the engagement of their daughter Jenny to Alma Williams Cowan. The wedding will take place at the Episcopal church "St. Mary's by the Sea," on Jan. 8, Pacific Grove, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Richey of Mantl announce the engagement of their daughter, Ina, to Mr. Leo N. Foster of this city. The marriage will take place on Monday, Dec. 14.

USEFUL GIFTS FOR MEN

IF YOU'VE EVER GIVEN PRESENTS TO MEN, YOU KNOW HOW VERY PARTICULAR AND "FADDY" THEY ARE. FEW OF THEM WILL EVER GIVE YOU A SINCERE "THANK YOU" FOR PRESENTS THAT THEY CANNOT PUT TO PRACTICAL USE. PERMIT US TO SUGGEST SOME THINGS THAT WILL BE HEARTILY APPRECIATED—

SUITS AND OVERCOATS.—We have a make of clothing we are proud of, and justly so, too. It is labeled "Eff & Eff"—which is a guarantee of perfection in clothes making. Every piece of cloth used is first carefully tested for strength, warmth and dressy effect, then it is modeled into the most popular styles, with that care in every detail which only the most expert custom workmen can give. The finished garments are perfect examples of America's best clothing. If you see the clothing, you will admire it—those who wear it will be satisfied.

SUITS . . . from 10.00 to $35.00
OVERCOATS from $9.00 to $30.00

IF YOU WANT TO PLEASE A MAN with a Christmas gift, give him a House Jacket, Dressing Gown, Night Robe, Pair of Pajamas, a Cane or Umbrella, some Gloves, Ties, Suspenders, Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Sox or Handkerchiefs, a Muffler, Sweater or Hat. We have an elegant line of all Linen or Silk Handkerchiefs in the latest novelties. Every new thing in Ties and Mufflers is included in our stock. Choosing Presents for Men is easy at Z.C.M.I.

OUR BOY'S CLOTHING is just as good for the little fellows as the large suits and overcoats are for men. Every garment is cut in the proper style, from strictly high-class materials, and is honestly put together. You couldn't give a more sensible present to a boy than one of our pretty Suits or Overcoats. Of course we've everything else that will please the "little man"—almost as many things as for the Paps and Big Brothers. An entirely new line of Buster Brown Suits, Sweaters, Wool Tam O'Shanter, Stocking Caps, Cloth Caps, Hats, Stockings, "Mothers' Friend" Waists, Little Cans, etc.
