

DESERET EVENING NEWS
TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.
6 a. m. 45
7 a. m. 44
8 a. m. 44
9 a. m. 45
10 a. m. 45
11 a. m. 45
12 m. 45
1 p. m. 45
2 p. m. 45
YESTERDAY'S RECORD
Highest 64
Lowest 44
IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.: Boston, 56; Philadelphia, 58; Washington, 44; Chicago, 70; Minneapolis, 54; Cincinnati, 74; St. Louis, 72; New York, 60.
EARTHQUAKE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Sept. 9.—Specimens from north-west of here tell of earthquake shocks felt in Boulder, Loveland, Longmont and Fort Collins. No damage was done. The shocks caused doors and windows to rattle and at Boulder, the houses shook quite perceptibly.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS.
THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.
It issued Mondays and Thursdays and contains all the cream of the Daily and Sunday News.
LOCAL BRIEFS.
W. S. Varian will address the Socialists at their headquarters tonight.
The new $3,000 Lincoln school at Springfield was dedicated Monday evening and State Sup't. Nelson delivered the address.
The county teachers will meet in the L. D. S. university building next Saturday morning, when Adolphe Pratt will lecture on the principles of drawing.
F. W. Curtis, a workman in the machine shops at Pocatello, is in St. Mark's hospital with an arm badly mashed by being caught in the machinery at the shops.
Principal William Eaton of the High school will be at the West side building today, Friday and Saturday, at 3 p. m., to meet students intending to enter, and to arrange their studies.
The new Salvation Army hall at 320 State street, was opened today, and special services will be held this evening, conducted by Maj. George Reed of San Francisco, assisted by Capt. and Mrs. Hunt of Pocatello.
Ex-Sheriff Tom Lewis and Davis Harmon have returned from a mining trip to Skull Valley. They report the country as utterly desolate and advise sheepmen to avoid the place away from that "forsaken locality."
A water pipe broke on E street near South Temple last night, and so softened up the roadbed of the street railway track, that a wagon loaded with dirt sank its front wheels hub deep in trying to cross, and blocked travel this morning for nearly half an hour before it could be extricated, and the streetcars were obliged to transfer their passengers.
The owners of horses killed for gladiators in the Green river country want to know who is to pay them for their loss. There is no provision in the statutes holding the state responsible, and the only inference is that the owners must stand the loss. Other cases of gladiators have been traced from the Green river cases to different sections, and the secretary of the state board of health is after them.
By the death of Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, Bishop Tuttle of St. Louis becomes the primate of the Episcopal church in America, and would be archbishop if such an office existed. The bishop was ordained 36 years ago, as bishop of Utah, Idaho and Montana. He resided in Montana until 1899, when he removed to Salt Lake, and the following year, started to build St. Mark's cathedral. In 1888 Bishop Tuttle was made bishop of Missouri, and he then removed to St. Louis, where he still resides.

THE KING GOES FOR THE PRESIDENT.
At Democratic Meeting Last Night He Tells What He Thinks Of Him.
DOES NOT FAVOR LOCAL TICKET.
Judge Judd Refers to Olden Times And Says the Present Party Outlook is Bright.
The Utah Democratic club held a meeting last night in the office of its secretary, George D. Alder, in the McCormick block. There were present 13 representative Democrats, among them answering roll call being James H. Moyle, J. C. Leary, R. P. Morris, Judge W. H. King, John Halverson, J. R. Letcher, Lou Johnson, George D. Alder, E. W. Wilson, Ray Van Cott, T. P. Lewis, D. O. Wiley, Jr., and as an honored guest, Judge J. W. Judd of Tennessee.
ADDRESS BY JUDGE JUDD.
The meeting was presided over by President James H. Moyle, who called upon Judge Judd, former resident of this city, to speak. The judge, who was one of the charter members of the Utah club, spoke interestingly of early day political struggles and then launched out upon a broader field by referring to the outlook for the Democratic party generally. He said that the two wings of the party were getting together in the east and that the outlook for a Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign was excellent. He advised the club to maintain the party organization in every precinct, that the party might remain intact, "throughout the history of the past," said the speaker, "success has come to us immediately after what seemed our darkest period. When victory was thought to dead we have rallied, and by making a fight, have won the day."

THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Judge King was the next speaker. He spoke of Democratic unity and advised greater attention to "the weightier matters of the law" to the exclusion of minor issues, over which the party had wasted much time already. "At various times in the past," said he, "I have given too much attention to minor issues. We have paid more attention to the fruit than to the branches and trunk of the tree. This year, however, I believe we are more united than ever, and I am satisfied that when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and the others meet in the convention there will be no division."
The judge then referred to the silver issue, stating that it could be abandoned without meeting a financial principle of Democracy, which, he said, are the rights of the individual against the rights of the collectivity; the rights of the states against the rights of the nation. He charged that the tendencies of the Republican party were monarchical and said that there was something mean and sordid about the possession of the states which made the possession of the nation a disgrace. He said that the government was founded for the private interests of himself and his class. He wound up a dissertation on the trusts by exhorting the president-elect to stand up to the trusts and said: "Of all the Janus-faced individuals whom I know, the states have made the most of. I have never had the misfortune to meet his equal." "Professing opposition to the trusts," he continued, "the president is doing all he can to protect the trusts, and the states are making the president a tool. He is encouraging everything that makes for war and fastening the chains of militarism on the country." The judge then referred to the Cleveland and Bryan would be found together after the next national convention in opposition to the public financial legislation and the policy of militarism and trusts.
THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Coming down to the local situation Judge King said he was of opinion that it would be unwise to put a ticket in the field this fall. Said he, "It is not a good idea to get under a load when that load is going to fall and bury you. I think we have learned from the past that it is not wise to collapse. This city is now bonded almost to the limit, and if a crash came and the Democratic party was in power, the people would hold us responsible. We could expect that the city would be in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think." J. R. Letcher, the next speaker, said he was in favor of putting up a ticket, and that the city was in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think."

THE GUN WENT OFF.
Pawnbroker's Carelessness Comes Near Resulting in a Tragedy.
A stranger walked into a pawnshop at 137 South East Temple street yesterday afternoon and asked for a loan on a Winchester rifle. The proprietor of the shop was examining the gun and pulled the hammer back to see if it worked properly. Suddenly there was a report and a bullet went crashing through the wall and into Gallagher's restaurant. Sam and John Gallagher barely escaped being struck by the missile. The bullet also passed between Dave Collier and Albert Chase who were seated at the counter. It was another case of "I didn't know-it was loaded," but fortunately no one was injured. The bullet lodged in the wall of the restaurant.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.
Couple Began Acquaintance Over The Telephone Wires.
(Special to the "News.")
Missula, Mont., Sept. 9.—The romantic marriage of Art Keene of Helena and Miss Lottie Hamilton of Wallace, Ida., occurred in Helena today. Mr. Keene for two years was night operator of the night office of Bell Telephone company at Wallace. Both commenced their acquaintance by talking to each other over wires and finally got to writing each other, then they met, fell in love with each other and married.

ROBERTS' COMPLETE WORKS.
"Outlines of Ecclesiastical History," $1.75, $2.50. "The Gospel," 75c. "The Bible," $1.50. "The Bible for God," $1.50. "Succession in the Presidency," 25c. 50c. 75c. "Rise and Fall of Napoleon," $1.25. "Missouri Preservation," $1.25. $2.25. Deseret News Book Store, Salt Lake City, Utah.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.
Investigate the advantages offered by the University of Utah for a broad, liberal and practical education. Read the University advertisement on page 8 and send for catalogue and illustrated booklet. Very respectfully yours,
D. R. ALLEN.

LAST EXCURSION TO OGDEN
Sunday, Sept. 13th.
Under auspices Opal Club, via Oregon Round trip $1.00. Special train 9:30 a. m.
Raised From the Dead.
C. W. Landis, "Porter" for the Oriental Hotel, Chanute, Kan., says: "I know what it was to suffer with neuritis, deaf I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and I was raised from the dead. I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposited' my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am telling the truth too." 25c. 50c. and $1.00 at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

OUTING EXCURSION.
To Northern Points.
Saturday, Sept. 13th.
Via Oregon Short Line. Usual low rates and liberal limits. See agents. City Ticket Office 201 Main street.

DESERT EVENING NEWS
TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.
6 a. m. 45
7 a. m. 44
8 a. m. 44
9 a. m. 45
10 a. m. 45
11 a. m. 45
12 m. 45
1 p. m. 45
2 p. m. 45
YESTERDAY'S RECORD
Highest 64
Lowest 44
IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.: Boston, 56; Philadelphia, 58; Washington, 44; Chicago, 70; Minneapolis, 54; Cincinnati, 74; St. Louis, 72; New York, 60.
EARTHQUAKE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Sept. 9.—Specimens from north-west of here tell of earthquake shocks felt in Boulder, Loveland, Longmont and Fort Collins. No damage was done. The shocks caused doors and windows to rattle and at Boulder, the houses shook quite perceptibly.

THE KING GOES FOR THE PRESIDENT.
At Democratic Meeting Last Night He Tells What He Thinks Of Him.
DOES NOT FAVOR LOCAL TICKET.
Judge Judd Refers to Olden Times And Says the Present Party Outlook is Bright.
The Utah Democratic club held a meeting last night in the office of its secretary, George D. Alder, in the McCormick block. There were present 13 representative Democrats, among them answering roll call being James H. Moyle, J. C. Leary, R. P. Morris, Judge W. H. King, John Halverson, J. R. Letcher, Lou Johnson, George D. Alder, E. W. Wilson, Ray Van Cott, T. P. Lewis, D. O. Wiley, Jr., and as an honored guest, Judge J. W. Judd of Tennessee.
ADDRESS BY JUDGE JUDD.
The meeting was presided over by President James H. Moyle, who called upon Judge Judd, former resident of this city, to speak. The judge, who was one of the charter members of the Utah club, spoke interestingly of early day political struggles and then launched out upon a broader field by referring to the outlook for the Democratic party generally. He said that the two wings of the party were getting together in the east and that the outlook for a Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign was excellent. He advised the club to maintain the party organization in every precinct, that the party might remain intact, "throughout the history of the past," said the speaker, "success has come to us immediately after what seemed our darkest period. When victory was thought to dead we have rallied, and by making a fight, have won the day."

THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Judge King was the next speaker. He spoke of Democratic unity and advised greater attention to "the weightier matters of the law" to the exclusion of minor issues, over which the party had wasted much time already. "At various times in the past," said he, "I have given too much attention to minor issues. We have paid more attention to the fruit than to the branches and trunk of the tree. This year, however, I believe we are more united than ever, and I am satisfied that when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and the others meet in the convention there will be no division."
The judge then referred to the silver issue, stating that it could be abandoned without meeting a financial principle of Democracy, which, he said, are the rights of the individual against the rights of the collectivity; the rights of the states against the rights of the nation. He charged that the tendencies of the Republican party were monarchical and said that there was something mean and sordid about the possession of the states which made the possession of the nation a disgrace. He said that the government was founded for the private interests of himself and his class. He wound up a dissertation on the trusts by exhorting the president-elect to stand up to the trusts and said: "Of all the Janus-faced individuals whom I know, the states have made the most of. I have never had the misfortune to meet his equal." "Professing opposition to the trusts," he continued, "the president is doing all he can to protect the trusts, and the states are making the president a tool. He is encouraging everything that makes for war and fastening the chains of militarism on the country." The judge then referred to the Cleveland and Bryan would be found together after the next national convention in opposition to the public financial legislation and the policy of militarism and trusts.
THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Coming down to the local situation Judge King said he was of opinion that it would be unwise to put a ticket in the field this fall. Said he, "It is not a good idea to get under a load when that load is going to fall and bury you. I think we have learned from the past that it is not wise to collapse. This city is now bonded almost to the limit, and if a crash came and the Democratic party was in power, the people would hold us responsible. We could expect that the city would be in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think." J. R. Letcher, the next speaker, said he was in favor of putting up a ticket, and that the city was in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think."

THE GUN WENT OFF.
Pawnbroker's Carelessness Comes Near Resulting in a Tragedy.
A stranger walked into a pawnshop at 137 South East Temple street yesterday afternoon and asked for a loan on a Winchester rifle. The proprietor of the shop was examining the gun and pulled the hammer back to see if it worked properly. Suddenly there was a report and a bullet went crashing through the wall and into Gallagher's restaurant. Sam and John Gallagher barely escaped being struck by the missile. The bullet also passed between Dave Collier and Albert Chase who were seated at the counter. It was another case of "I didn't know-it was loaded," but fortunately no one was injured. The bullet lodged in the wall of the restaurant.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.
Couple Began Acquaintance Over The Telephone Wires.
(Special to the "News.")
Missula, Mont., Sept. 9.—The romantic marriage of Art Keene of Helena and Miss Lottie Hamilton of Wallace, Ida., occurred in Helena today. Mr. Keene for two years was night operator of the night office of Bell Telephone company at Wallace. Both commenced their acquaintance by talking to each other over wires and finally got to writing each other, then they met, fell in love with each other and married.

ROBERTS' COMPLETE WORKS.
"Outlines of Ecclesiastical History," $1.75, $2.50. "The Gospel," 75c. "The Bible," $1.50. "The Bible for God," $1.50. "Succession in the Presidency," 25c. 50c. 75c. "Rise and Fall of Napoleon," $1.25. "Missouri Preservation," $1.25. $2.25. Deseret News Book Store, Salt Lake City, Utah.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.
Investigate the advantages offered by the University of Utah for a broad, liberal and practical education. Read the University advertisement on page 8 and send for catalogue and illustrated booklet. Very respectfully yours,
D. R. ALLEN.

LAST EXCURSION TO OGDEN
Sunday, Sept. 13th.
Under auspices Opal Club, via Oregon Round trip $1.00. Special train 9:30 a. m.
Raised From the Dead.
C. W. Landis, "Porter" for the Oriental Hotel, Chanute, Kan., says: "I know what it was to suffer with neuritis, deaf I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and I was raised from the dead. I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposited' my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am telling the truth too." 25c. 50c. and $1.00 at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

OUTING EXCURSION.
To Northern Points.
Saturday, Sept. 13th.
Via Oregon Short Line. Usual low rates and liberal limits. See agents. City Ticket Office 201 Main street.

DESERT EVENING NEWS
TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.
6 a. m. 45
7 a. m. 44
8 a. m. 44
9 a. m. 45
10 a. m. 45
11 a. m. 45
12 m. 45
1 p. m. 45
2 p. m. 45
YESTERDAY'S RECORD
Highest 64
Lowest 44
IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.: Boston, 56; Philadelphia, 58; Washington, 44; Chicago, 70; Minneapolis, 54; Cincinnati, 74; St. Louis, 72; New York, 60.
EARTHQUAKE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Sept. 9.—Specimens from north-west of here tell of earthquake shocks felt in Boulder, Loveland, Longmont and Fort Collins. No damage was done. The shocks caused doors and windows to rattle and at Boulder, the houses shook quite perceptibly.

THE KING GOES FOR THE PRESIDENT.
At Democratic Meeting Last Night He Tells What He Thinks Of Him.
DOES NOT FAVOR LOCAL TICKET.
Judge Judd Refers to Olden Times And Says the Present Party Outlook is Bright.
The Utah Democratic club held a meeting last night in the office of its secretary, George D. Alder, in the McCormick block. There were present 13 representative Democrats, among them answering roll call being James H. Moyle, J. C. Leary, R. P. Morris, Judge W. H. King, John Halverson, J. R. Letcher, Lou Johnson, George D. Alder, E. W. Wilson, Ray Van Cott, T. P. Lewis, D. O. Wiley, Jr., and as an honored guest, Judge J. W. Judd of Tennessee.
ADDRESS BY JUDGE JUDD.
The meeting was presided over by President James H. Moyle, who called upon Judge Judd, former resident of this city, to speak. The judge, who was one of the charter members of the Utah club, spoke interestingly of early day political struggles and then launched out upon a broader field by referring to the outlook for the Democratic party generally. He said that the two wings of the party were getting together in the east and that the outlook for a Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign was excellent. He advised the club to maintain the party organization in every precinct, that the party might remain intact, "throughout the history of the past," said the speaker, "success has come to us immediately after what seemed our darkest period. When victory was thought to dead we have rallied, and by making a fight, have won the day."

THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Judge King was the next speaker. He spoke of Democratic unity and advised greater attention to "the weightier matters of the law" to the exclusion of minor issues, over which the party had wasted much time already. "At various times in the past," said he, "I have given too much attention to minor issues. We have paid more attention to the fruit than to the branches and trunk of the tree. This year, however, I believe we are more united than ever, and I am satisfied that when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and the others meet in the convention there will be no division."
The judge then referred to the silver issue, stating that it could be abandoned without meeting a financial principle of Democracy, which, he said, are the rights of the individual against the rights of the collectivity; the rights of the states against the rights of the nation. He charged that the tendencies of the Republican party were monarchical and said that there was something mean and sordid about the possession of the states which made the possession of the nation a disgrace. He said that the government was founded for the private interests of himself and his class. He wound up a dissertation on the trusts by exhorting the president-elect to stand up to the trusts and said: "Of all the Janus-faced individuals whom I know, the states have made the most of. I have never had the misfortune to meet his equal." "Professing opposition to the trusts," he continued, "the president is doing all he can to protect the trusts, and the states are making the president a tool. He is encouraging everything that makes for war and fastening the chains of militarism on the country." The judge then referred to the Cleveland and Bryan would be found together after the next national convention in opposition to the public financial legislation and the policy of militarism and trusts.
THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Coming down to the local situation Judge King said he was of opinion that it would be unwise to put a ticket in the field this fall. Said he, "It is not a good idea to get under a load when that load is going to fall and bury you. I think we have learned from the past that it is not wise to collapse. This city is now bonded almost to the limit, and if a crash came and the Democratic party was in power, the people would hold us responsible. We could expect that the city would be in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think." J. R. Letcher, the next speaker, said he was in favor of putting up a ticket, and that the city was in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think."

DESERT EVENING NEWS
TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.
6 a. m. 45
7 a. m. 44
8 a. m. 44
9 a. m. 45
10 a. m. 45
11 a. m. 45
12 m. 45
1 p. m. 45
2 p. m. 45
YESTERDAY'S RECORD
Highest 64
Lowest 44
IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.: Boston, 56; Philadelphia, 58; Washington, 44; Chicago, 70; Minneapolis, 54; Cincinnati, 74; St. Louis, 72; New York, 60.
EARTHQUAKE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Sept. 9.—Specimens from north-west of here tell of earthquake shocks felt in Boulder, Loveland, Longmont and Fort Collins. No damage was done. The shocks caused doors and windows to rattle and at Boulder, the houses shook quite perceptibly.

THE KING GOES FOR THE PRESIDENT.
At Democratic Meeting Last Night He Tells What He Thinks Of Him.
DOES NOT FAVOR LOCAL TICKET.
Judge Judd Refers to Olden Times And Says the Present Party Outlook is Bright.
The Utah Democratic club held a meeting last night in the office of its secretary, George D. Alder, in the McCormick block. There were present 13 representative Democrats, among them answering roll call being James H. Moyle, J. C. Leary, R. P. Morris, Judge W. H. King, John Halverson, J. R. Letcher, Lou Johnson, George D. Alder, E. W. Wilson, Ray Van Cott, T. P. Lewis, D. O. Wiley, Jr., and as an honored guest, Judge J. W. Judd of Tennessee.
ADDRESS BY JUDGE JUDD.
The meeting was presided over by President James H. Moyle, who called upon Judge Judd, former resident of this city, to speak. The judge, who was one of the charter members of the Utah club, spoke interestingly of early day political struggles and then launched out upon a broader field by referring to the outlook for the Democratic party generally. He said that the two wings of the party were getting together in the east and that the outlook for a Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign was excellent. He advised the club to maintain the party organization in every precinct, that the party might remain intact, "throughout the history of the past," said the speaker, "success has come to us immediately after what seemed our darkest period. When victory was thought to dead we have rallied, and by making a fight, have won the day."

THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Judge King was the next speaker. He spoke of Democratic unity and advised greater attention to "the weightier matters of the law" to the exclusion of minor issues, over which the party had wasted much time already. "At various times in the past," said he, "I have given too much attention to minor issues. We have paid more attention to the fruit than to the branches and trunk of the tree. This year, however, I believe we are more united than ever, and I am satisfied that when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and the others meet in the convention there will be no division."
The judge then referred to the silver issue, stating that it could be abandoned without meeting a financial principle of Democracy, which, he said, are the rights of the individual against the rights of the collectivity; the rights of the states against the rights of the nation. He charged that the tendencies of the Republican party were monarchical and said that there was something mean and sordid about the possession of the states which made the possession of the nation a disgrace. He said that the government was founded for the private interests of himself and his class. He wound up a dissertation on the trusts by exhorting the president-elect to stand up to the trusts and said: "Of all the Janus-faced individuals whom I know, the states have made the most of. I have never had the misfortune to meet his equal." "Professing opposition to the trusts," he continued, "the president is doing all he can to protect the trusts, and the states are making the president a tool. He is encouraging everything that makes for war and fastening the chains of militarism on the country." The judge then referred to the Cleveland and Bryan would be found together after the next national convention in opposition to the public financial legislation and the policy of militarism and trusts.
THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Coming down to the local situation Judge King said he was of opinion that it would be unwise to put a ticket in the field this fall. Said he, "It is not a good idea to get under a load when that load is going to fall and bury you. I think we have learned from the past that it is not wise to collapse. This city is now bonded almost to the limit, and if a crash came and the Democratic party was in power, the people would hold us responsible. We could expect that the city would be in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think." J. R. Letcher, the next speaker, said he was in favor of putting up a ticket, and that the city was in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think."

THE GUN WENT OFF.
Pawnbroker's Carelessness Comes Near Resulting in a Tragedy.
A stranger walked into a pawnshop at 137 South East Temple street yesterday afternoon and asked for a loan on a Winchester rifle. The proprietor of the shop was examining the gun and pulled the hammer back to see if it worked properly. Suddenly there was a report and a bullet went crashing through the wall and into Gallagher's restaurant. Sam and John Gallagher barely escaped being struck by the missile. The bullet also passed between Dave Collier and Albert Chase who were seated at the counter. It was another case of "I didn't know-it was loaded," but fortunately no one was injured. The bullet lodged in the wall of the restaurant.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.
Couple Began Acquaintance Over The Telephone Wires.
(Special to the "News.")
Missula, Mont., Sept. 9.—The romantic marriage of Art Keene of Helena and Miss Lottie Hamilton of Wallace, Ida., occurred in Helena today. Mr. Keene for two years was night operator of the night office of Bell Telephone company at Wallace. Both commenced their acquaintance by talking to each other over wires and finally got to writing each other, then they met, fell in love with each other and married.

ROBERTS' COMPLETE WORKS.
"Outlines of Ecclesiastical History," $1.75, $2.50. "The Gospel," 75c. "The Bible," $1.50. "The Bible for God," $1.50. "Succession in the Presidency," 25c. 50c. 75c. "Rise and Fall of Napoleon," $1.25. "Missouri Preservation," $1.25. $2.25. Deseret News Book Store, Salt Lake City, Utah.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.
Investigate the advantages offered by the University of Utah for a broad, liberal and practical education. Read the University advertisement on page 8 and send for catalogue and illustrated booklet. Very respectfully yours,
D. R. ALLEN.

LAST EXCURSION TO OGDEN
Sunday, Sept. 13th.
Under auspices Opal Club, via Oregon Round trip $1.00. Special train 9:30 a. m.
Raised From the Dead.
C. W. Landis, "Porter" for the Oriental Hotel, Chanute, Kan., says: "I know what it was to suffer with neuritis, deaf I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and I was raised from the dead. I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposited' my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am telling the truth too." 25c. 50c. and $1.00 at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

OUTING EXCURSION.
To Northern Points.
Saturday, Sept. 13th.
Via Oregon Short Line. Usual low rates and liberal limits. See agents. City Ticket Office 201 Main street.

DESERT EVENING NEWS
TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.
6 a. m. 45
7 a. m. 44
8 a. m. 44
9 a. m. 45
10 a. m. 45
11 a. m. 45
12 m. 45
1 p. m. 45
2 p. m. 45
YESTERDAY'S RECORD
Highest 64
Lowest 44
IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.: Boston, 56; Philadelphia, 58; Washington, 44; Chicago, 70; Minneapolis, 54; Cincinnati, 74; St. Louis, 72; New York, 60.
EARTHQUAKE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Sept. 9.—Specimens from north-west of here tell of earthquake shocks felt in Boulder, Loveland, Longmont and Fort Collins. No damage was done. The shocks caused doors and windows to rattle and at Boulder, the houses shook quite perceptibly.

THE KING GOES FOR THE PRESIDENT.
At Democratic Meeting Last Night He Tells What He Thinks Of Him.
DOES NOT FAVOR LOCAL TICKET.
Judge Judd Refers to Olden Times And Says the Present Party Outlook is Bright.
The Utah Democratic club held a meeting last night in the office of its secretary, George D. Alder, in the McCormick block. There were present 13 representative Democrats, among them answering roll call being James H. Moyle, J. C. Leary, R. P. Morris, Judge W. H. King, John Halverson, J. R. Letcher, Lou Johnson, George D. Alder, E. W. Wilson, Ray Van Cott, T. P. Lewis, D. O. Wiley, Jr., and as an honored guest, Judge J. W. Judd of Tennessee.
ADDRESS BY JUDGE JUDD.
The meeting was presided over by President James H. Moyle, who called upon Judge Judd, former resident of this city, to speak. The judge, who was one of the charter members of the Utah club, spoke interestingly of early day political struggles and then launched out upon a broader field by referring to the outlook for the Democratic party generally. He said that the two wings of the party were getting together in the east and that the outlook for a Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign was excellent. He advised the club to maintain the party organization in every precinct, that the party might remain intact, "throughout the history of the past," said the speaker, "success has come to us immediately after what seemed our darkest period. When victory was thought to dead we have rallied, and by making a fight, have won the day."

THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Judge King was the next speaker. He spoke of Democratic unity and advised greater attention to "the weightier matters of the law" to the exclusion of minor issues, over which the party had wasted much time already. "At various times in the past," said he, "I have given too much attention to minor issues. We have paid more attention to the fruit than to the branches and trunk of the tree. This year, however, I believe we are more united than ever, and I am satisfied that when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and the others meet in the convention there will be no division."
The judge then referred to the silver issue, stating that it could be abandoned without meeting a financial principle of Democracy, which, he said, are the rights of the individual against the rights of the collectivity; the rights of the states against the rights of the nation. He charged that the tendencies of the Republican party were monarchical and said that there was something mean and sordid about the possession of the states which made the possession of the nation a disgrace. He said that the government was founded for the private interests of himself and his class. He wound up a dissertation on the trusts by exhorting the president-elect to stand up to the trusts and said: "Of all the Janus-faced individuals whom I know, the states have made the most of. I have never had the misfortune to meet his equal." "Professing opposition to the trusts," he continued, "the president is doing all he can to protect the trusts, and the states are making the president a tool. He is encouraging everything that makes for war and fastening the chains of militarism on the country." The judge then referred to the Cleveland and Bryan would be found together after the next national convention in opposition to the public financial legislation and the policy of militarism and trusts.
THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Coming down to the local situation Judge King said he was of opinion that it would be unwise to put a ticket in the field this fall. Said he, "It is not a good idea to get under a load when that load is going to fall and bury you. I think we have learned from the past that it is not wise to collapse. This city is now bonded almost to the limit, and if a crash came and the Democratic party was in power, the people would hold us responsible. We could expect that the city would be in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think." J. R. Letcher, the next speaker, said he was in favor of putting up a ticket, and that the city was in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think."

DESERT EVENING NEWS
TODAY'S TEMPERATURE.
6 a. m. 45
7 a. m. 44
8 a. m. 44
9 a. m. 45
10 a. m. 45
11 a. m. 45
12 m. 45
1 p. m. 45
2 p. m. 45
YESTERDAY'S RECORD
Highest 64
Lowest 44
IN PRINCIPAL CITIES.
Chicago, Sept. 9.—Temperatures at 7 a. m.: Boston, 56; Philadelphia, 58; Washington, 44; Chicago, 70; Minneapolis, 54; Cincinnati, 74; St. Louis, 72; New York, 60.
EARTHQUAKE IN COLORADO.
Denver, Sept. 9.—Specimens from north-west of here tell of earthquake shocks felt in Boulder, Loveland, Longmont and Fort Collins. No damage was done. The shocks caused doors and windows to rattle and at Boulder, the houses shook quite perceptibly.

THE KING GOES FOR THE PRESIDENT.
At Democratic Meeting Last Night He Tells What He Thinks Of Him.
DOES NOT FAVOR LOCAL TICKET.
Judge Judd Refers to Olden Times And Says the Present Party Outlook is Bright.
The Utah Democratic club held a meeting last night in the office of its secretary, George D. Alder, in the McCormick block. There were present 13 representative Democrats, among them answering roll call being James H. Moyle, J. C. Leary, R. P. Morris, Judge W. H. King, John Halverson, J. R. Letcher, Lou Johnson, George D. Alder, E. W. Wilson, Ray Van Cott, T. P. Lewis, D. O. Wiley, Jr., and as an honored guest, Judge J. W. Judd of Tennessee.
ADDRESS BY JUDGE JUDD.
The meeting was presided over by President James H. Moyle, who called upon Judge Judd, former resident of this city, to speak. The judge, who was one of the charter members of the Utah club, spoke interestingly of early day political struggles and then launched out upon a broader field by referring to the outlook for the Democratic party generally. He said that the two wings of the party were getting together in the east and that the outlook for a Democratic victory in the next presidential campaign was excellent. He advised the club to maintain the party organization in every precinct, that the party might remain intact, "throughout the history of the past," said the speaker, "success has come to us immediately after what seemed our darkest period. When victory was thought to dead we have rallied, and by making a fight, have won the day."

THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Judge King was the next speaker. He spoke of Democratic unity and advised greater attention to "the weightier matters of the law" to the exclusion of minor issues, over which the party had wasted much time already. "At various times in the past," said he, "I have given too much attention to minor issues. We have paid more attention to the fruit than to the branches and trunk of the tree. This year, however, I believe we are more united than ever, and I am satisfied that when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and the others meet in the convention there will be no division."
The judge then referred to the silver issue, stating that it could be abandoned without meeting a financial principle of Democracy, which, he said, are the rights of the individual against the rights of the collectivity; the rights of the states against the rights of the nation. He charged that the tendencies of the Republican party were monarchical and said that there was something mean and sordid about the possession of the states which made the possession of the nation a disgrace. He said that the government was founded for the private interests of himself and his class. He wound up a dissertation on the trusts by exhorting the president-elect to stand up to the trusts and said: "Of all the Janus-faced individuals whom I know, the states have made the most of. I have never had the misfortune to meet his equal." "Professing opposition to the trusts," he continued, "the president is doing all he can to protect the trusts, and the states are making the president a tool. He is encouraging everything that makes for war and fastening the chains of militarism on the country." The judge then referred to the Cleveland and Bryan would be found together after the next national convention in opposition to the public financial legislation and the policy of militarism and trusts.
THE LOCAL SITUATION.
Coming down to the local situation Judge King said he was of opinion that it would be unwise to put a ticket in the field this fall. Said he, "It is not a good idea to get under a load when that load is going to fall and bury you. I think we have learned from the past that it is not wise to collapse. This city is now bonded almost to the limit, and if a crash came and the Democratic party was in power, the people would hold us responsible. We could expect that the city would be in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think." J. R. Letcher, the next speaker, said he was in favor of putting up a ticket, and that the city was in dire straits when we assumed control, but the people will not reason or stop to think."

THE GUN WENT OFF.
Pawnbroker's Carelessness Comes Near Resulting in a Tragedy.
A stranger walked into a pawnshop at 137 South East Temple street yesterday afternoon and asked for a loan on a Winchester rifle. The proprietor of the shop was examining the gun and pulled the hammer back to see if it worked properly. Suddenly there was a report and a bullet went crashing through the wall and into Gallagher's restaurant. Sam and John Gallagher barely escaped being struck by the missile. The bullet also passed between Dave Collier and Albert Chase who were seated at the counter. It was another case of "I didn't know-it was loaded," but fortunately no one was injured. The bullet lodged in the wall of the restaurant.

ROMANTIC MARRIAGE.
Couple Began Acquaintance Over The Telephone Wires.
(Special to the "News.")
Missula, Mont., Sept. 9.—The romantic marriage of Art Keene of Helena and Miss Lottie Hamilton of Wallace, Ida., occurred in Helena today. Mr. Keene for two years was night operator of the night office of Bell Telephone company at Wallace. Both commenced their acquaintance by talking to each other over wires and finally got to writing each other, then they met, fell in love with each other and married.

ROBERTS' COMPLETE WORKS.
"Outlines of Ecclesiastical History," $1.75, $2.50. "The Gospel," 75c. "The Bible," $1.50. "The Bible for God," $1.50. "Succession in the Presidency," 25c. 50c. 75c. "Rise and Fall of Napoleon," $1.25. "Missouri Preservation," $1.25. $2.25. Deseret News Book Store, Salt Lake City, Utah.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.
Investigate the advantages offered by the University of Utah for a broad, liberal and practical education. Read the University advertisement on page 8 and send for catalogue and illustrated booklet. Very respectfully yours,
D. R. ALLEN.

LAST EXCURSION TO OGDEN
Sunday, Sept. 13th.
Under auspices Opal Club, via Oregon Round trip $1.00. Special train 9:30 a. m.
Raised From the Dead.
C. W. Landis, "Porter" for the Oriental Hotel, Chanute, Kan., says: "I know what it was to suffer with neuritis, deaf I did, and I got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, and I was raised from the dead. I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposited' my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am telling the truth too." 25c. 50c. and $1.00 at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

OUTING EXCURSION.
To Northern Points.
Saturday, Sept. 13th.
Via Oregon Short Line. Usual low rates and liberal limits. See agents. City Ticket Office 201 Main street.

<