Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Quarantine at Manti—The state board of health has ordered a quarantine at Manti in a case of symptomatic anthrax among livestock.

Two Shifts Working—There are two shifts working on the new Auerbach theater, making 16 hours of straight work per day with electric lights at night, thrown in.

Cincinnati Investors Here—W. H. Osborne of Cincinnati and party of investors are at the Cullen, having come on for conference with the promoters of the Irrigated Lands company, with a view to agricultural developments in this state.

Dies After Operation—Mrs. Joan L. Gray of Park City died yesterday afternoon at the L. D. S. hospital, following an operation. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the Thirtieth ward meeting-house, with interment in City cemetery.

Clock's Hands Idle—It was found necessary to send to Chicago for certain machinery to repair the clock at the Utah National bank, and the delay has kept that timepiece idle. The desired mechanism will be here this week, so the clock can resume business at the old stand before long.

They Pay as They Go—Two Y. M. C. A. boys from Montgomery, Ala. were in town yesterday selling daily papers on the streets, wherewith to replenish their exchequer in "a trip around the world." They realized $5.95, and left for San Francisco, en route to San Francisco.

Stands at the Top—The Y. M. C. A. received last evening an engrossed roll of honor showing the standing of the 10 highest associations, in boys' educational work among the associations of the country, in the late international contest. The Salt Lake Y. M. C. A. came in first in this.

Colorado's Militia—The National Guard boys report that Colorado sent nine companies of infantry to the Wyoming encampment, and that during the summer, Colorado had 3,000 men in the guard. There are now six troops of cavalry and a battery in the guard, but neither was sent to Wyoming.

Shooting at Fort Douglas—At yesterday's shooting at the Fort Douglas butts, the ranges used were 200 up to 600 yards, where the guardsmen made a good showing. Those doing especially well were Earl McFarland and Private Black of Nephi, Lieut. Winch of Manti, and Lieut. Wilcox of the signal corps. The shooting closed earlier than was expected, owing to a shortening of the day by a late start.

Set Captain's Leg—Yesterday afternoon the physicians who have been in attendance upon Capt. John B. Burbridge, who was badly injured in an automobile accident with Charles A. Quigley a week ago last Sunday, set the fractured leg. Capt. Burbridge did not take an anesthetic and stood the ordeal of the leg setting. After the bones had been set, the leg was encased in a plaster cast, and it is believed the captain's recovery will be speedy.

Levy is Brought Back—Last evening Chief G. Peterson, secretary to Chief of Police Pitt, returned from Ogden, where he went to take charge of Caleb Levy, arrested in Ogden a few days ago and held there for Salt Lake police. Levy is the man who was taken in and given food and shelter by J. Bergman, 35 east Fifth South street, and who was charged with clothing and feeding the man who befriended him. Levy admits stealing the articles and will be prosecuted for grand larceny.

BENEDICT STATES REASONS. Former Inspector Says Salt Lake Should be Forestry Headquarters.

Former Inspector R. E. Benedict of the forest service says that if the service headquarters for this district are located in Salt Lake the allotment of sheep and cattle and the grazing fees for each forest, the settlement of all disputes and the leasing of the land of large timber contracts, permits for power plants, hotels, summer resorts, and other special uses will be made here instead of being scattered at present. The office will also decide all matters in regard to land claims, homesteads, desert lands, mining claims and state lands and all hearings will be held here.

The area of the forest is close to 20,000,000 acres, the grazing capacity is over 3,000,000 sheep and 250,000 head of cattle and horses, the stand of timber is 20 billion feet and the number of people who are dependent on the forests in one way and another is probably close to 100,000. The revenue last year was $300,000 and in a few years it will approach $1,000,000.

Mr. Benedict says Salt Lake should have the headquarters of the district. It is the natural center, a large portion of the users of the forests come here to attend to business matters. It is the headquarters for the stockmen, and the state of the district can be more easily reached from Salt Lake than from Ogden.

AMUSEMENT MAGNATES ENTER INTO A "GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT" REGARDING POLICY.

Amusement Magnates Enter Into A "Gentlemen's Agreement" Regarding Policy.

HARMONIOUS CO-OPERATION. Primarily the Object is to Stop the Overbuilding of Theaters and Over Supply of Attractions.

Manager Winch of the Orpheum today received from headquarters in New York details of a "gentlemen's agreement" whereby practically all theaters in the United States are now links in a single chain. This compact includes first-class and popular priced houses and vaudeville and burlesque managers are included also.

This huge combination which was effected a week ago today takes in every form of theatrical amusement and every kind of playhouse. While David Belasco and Harrison Grey Fiske were not directly represented at the meeting from New Amsterdam theater, New York, where the union was accomplished, they are held in its grip through their Shubert affiliations which are reported to be in full sympathy with the new order of things in the dramatic realm. Belasco and Fiske independence, it is claimed, if it continues, will be nominal.

Under the "gentlemen's compact" entered into the overbuilding of theaters and attractions is to be checked. No pool of profits is contemplated and there will be no actual consolidation of properties.

THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT. Present at the meeting in the office of Klaw and Erlanger last Thursday were:

Marcel Klaw and Abraham L. Erlanger, representing their own interests and those of Charles Frohman.

B. F. Keith of Boston, F. F. Proctor and E. F. Albee of New York, representing the Keith & Proctor vaudeville circuit.

S. Z. Foll, the New England vaudeville manager.

Percey Williams of New York, owner of vaudeville houses in Manhattan and Brooklyn.

C. E. Kohl, representing many theaters in Chicago.

Samuel Scribner of the Orpheum circuit, who, with Meyerfield of San Francisco, is king of the vaudeville field west of the Mississippi.

Lee Shubert, for the Shubert company of New York, managing a chain of first-class houses here.

George B. Cox, the Cincinnati Boss, who controls theaters in Cincinnati and has affiliations with the Shuberts.

H. M. Ziegler, also of Cincinnati, representing Nixon of Philadelphia, representing Nixon & Zimmerman, who control houses all over Pennsylvania and Ohio.

John H. Havlin of Stair & Havlin, owners of popular price theaters all over the country.

M. C. Anderson, controlling Ohio theaters, and member of the Shubert-Anderson company, managing the New York Hippodrome.

Samuel Scribner and L. Weber, for the "eastern wheel" of burlesque houses, and Herman Fehr of Milwaukee for the "western wheel."

J. J. Murdoch, for the Western vaudeville circuit.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT. A formal statement of the meeting sent out by John A. Murray for Klaw & Erlanger gives a general idea of what was done:

"Mr. Marc Klaw called the meeting to order.

"On motion of George B. Cox, A. L. Erlanger was made chairman and H. M. Ziegler secretary of the temporary organization.

"A resolution was at once passed empowering the committee to appoint a committee representing the various interests represented at the meeting, it being understood that each interest was to select its own representative. As the result of this action the committee to draw up a plan of operation, which would be submitted to the entire organization at its next meeting, and, if agreed upon, to form the basis for permanent organization. Marc Klaw, E. F. Albee, Lee Shubert, Percy G. Williams, Samuel Scribner, Martin Beck, J. H. Havlin, J. J. Murdoch, M. C. Anderson and H. Fehr.

OBJECT OF MEETING. "The object of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of a general harmonious co-operation toward that end. No merger was discussed, nor was one contemplated. One of the subjects which took up considerable time was the fact that new theaters were constantly being erected, for which there were no suitable attractions to fill the time, and the further fact that, as legitimate theatrical managers did not feel warranted in leasing these additional houses, these theaters usually fell into the hands of over-night speculators, who had no permanent or sincere interest in the theater, and who were in no way contributed to the general welfare of the theatrical situation.

"The committee above named was requested to take up this matter, and to draw up a plan of operation, which would be submitted to the entire organization at its next meeting, and, if agreed upon, to form the basis for permanent organization. Marc Klaw, E. F. Albee, Lee Shubert, Percy G. Williams, Samuel Scribner, Martin Beck, J. H. Havlin, J. J. Murdoch, M. C. Anderson and H. Fehr.

NO POOLING OF PROFITS. According to newspaper reports of the meeting, Mr. Klaw made it clear that there was no merger in the understood sense of that term. He could conceive of no way in which there could be a pooling of profits and a division of the fees, each theater, as an independent theater, would continue to control its property apart from the various groups that had been formed. It was not even remotely thought that any one would be forced to come into a syndicate.

Other interpreters of the program explained its main purpose. Primarily the object is to stop the overbuilding of theaters and the oversupply of attractions. If there is business enough in a certain town for three theaters, and not for four, the man who wants to build the fourth house will find himself up against the proposition of getting attractions to keep it going. If he cannot get them outside the combination he will not build the theater.

Chicago is pointed to as one of the cities where there are too many theaters, resulting in conditions damaging to the theatrical business as a whole, and calculated to disgust the playgoing public. Possibly the scheme will do work itself out that where there are too many theaters to give all of them fair living some of them will have to close up.

END TO CRUEL WAR. Another advantage to the makers of the "gentlemen's agreement," about the "gentlemen's agreement," which the doubt anywhere, is that it will put an end to wars which have been waged with no resulting benefit to the players and with heavy losses to the promoters. One of these was the long vaudeville fight between Keith and Proctor, which at last resulted in a merger of those interests. Then followed the invasion of Percy G. Williams, and a battle lasting many years before surrender and harmony.

The recent attempt of Klaw & Erlanger to break into the vaudeville field, which lasted a year, they are said to have sunk $1,000,000. At the present time the burlesque people are still engaged in a fight among themselves, which has dissipated the handsome profits formerly gained in that branch of amusement. These two warring factions have come into the new agreement.

ACTORS NOT AFFECTED. Absolutely no change will be made, it is said on authority, in the present policy as to salaries to actors and others engaged in the extensive industry. While the profession of acting was not represented at the New Amsterdam conference, its interests, as before, are in the hands which makes it possible for them to get higher salaries and safer engagements than were the rule before the era of consolidation began.

All chieftains of the drama have been looking forward for a year to the logical completion of the project first begun with the Klaw & Erlanger booking scheme, and rumors of the coming of a powerful union, now accomplished have been abroad for some time. But Broadway was hardly prepared for such a thoroughgoing consolidation as the one outlined here.

"VIRGINIA RUSSELL." By Irene Dickson Schuler, Daughter of Judge Wm. H. Dickson of This City.

A fair and ingenious young girl, with a weak brother and a stalwart and wholesome lover, assembled at Manti, during the summer, for opening this clever novel. The man is strong and sensible, the woman sweet and winsome, and the tale is told in a charming manner that bespeaks a future for this talented writer. The delineations of character are marvelously strong, and so realistic that one feels as though the actors on the stage were real, and one's own loved friends were the man and woman.

The manliness of Helmer, and the simple frankness of Virginia, are admirable. Every girl who reads this story will wish that she had a Helmer for a lover, and every boy will sigh for such a Virginia.

FOUR BOYS ARE HELD. Must Answer to Juvenile Court for Obstructing Roadway.

Otis Jensen, Reuben Spencer, Fred Hatt and Joe Hatt, four boys residing in the southern portion of the valley, were yesterday bound over to the juvenile court on the charge of attempting to wreck the automobile of Secy. J. E. Jennings of the Automobile club. The boys, who are from 15 to 17 years, and on Saturday night they built a mound of earth across the road leading to the bridge across the irrigating canal near Bluffdale, and kept it filled with rocks and boulders, with the evident purpose of interfering with the passage of automobiles. They had also placed beyond the mound a number of old shovels and spade points, apparently for puncturing purposes.

Mr. Jennings passed over the obstruction with his machine, but fortunately the mound was not so high that the result would have been a fatality. The matter was reported to Sheriff Emery, who at once detailed Deputy Heckstead to Bluffdale Junction to round up the offenders. After some sluthing, the four boys were suspected and placed under arrest. They were taken before Justice Williams, where they confessed to the offense, and were bound over to the juvenile court. The boys said they thought it would be a huge joke to set up barricades for passing machines, but they now realize the seriousness of the offense. The club officials say they will press the case to make an example for others.
