

You will see that all the details and arrangements for the prompt and efficacious execution of this order are attended to. Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

W. B. ENDICOTT,
Secretary of War.

It is stated that the above order meets with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. From its terms it appears that Geronimo and the other hostiles are to be separated from their wives and families, who are to be sent to Fort Marion.

The Secretary of the Interior has ordered that certain lands in Walla Walla land district, in Washington Territory, lying on the branch line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, running between Wallula Junction and Walla Walla, now withdrawn for the benefit of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, be restored to

SETTLEMENT AND ENTRY.

It appears that this tract, which comprises about 23,000 acres, was overlooked in the general restoration of 1881 of these lands which by the change in the general route of the road was thrown outside its withdrawal limits.

Civil Service Commissioners Oberly and Lyman have decided that hereafter examinations of applicants, whether for appointment or promotion, shall be carried on under the supervision of the Civil Service Commissioners at Washington, and not to be left to the discretion of the local board of examiners. It is generally a fact that the members of the local board and appointing officers, with special inquiry, know the politics of the applicants, and for that reason it has been deemed expedient that the examining papers should be referred to Washington, where the grading will be done.

RICHMOND, 20.—The Knights of Labor to-day adopted the report of the Committee on Woman's Work. The report says the object of the organization is to agitate the principle which our order teaches of equal pay for equal work and the abolition of child labor. Your committee have elected such officers as were in their opinion necessary to carry on the work properly. Said officers to be empowered to appoint sub-committees in every district where there are women to look up the cases that may require attention or general investigation and report the same to the president of the committee. The officers elected are Mary Hannan, president; Mary O'Reilly, vice-president; Nettie Harrison, treasurer. The report recommends that Lenora Barry be elected as General Investigator by the General Assembly, said investigator to act as corresponding secretary and devote all her time to the work and keep a correct record of all cases acted on and report the same to the committees when they meet, which shall be at least TWICE A YEAR.

The following resolution was adopted by the General Assembly:

Resolved, That this General Assembly appeals for mercy for the seven men of Chicago who are condemned to be executed.

Resolved, That while asking for mercy for the condemned men, we are not in sympathy with the action of the Anarchists, believing that peaceful methods are the surest and best means of securing necessary reforms.

All business having been disposed of, Powerly made a brief speech congratulating the members upon the good work during the session, and urging them to depart, with the determination to push the work inculcating the principles of the Order.

T. O'Reilly, of the Telegraphers' District, New York, sang "One of the French Proletariat," the delegates joining in the chorus, and the General Assembly adjourned sine die.

RICHMOND, 20.—Governor Lee tonight received the following telegram from Washington:

Governor Fitzhugh Lee:

Mrs. Cleveland and ladies will not accompany me to Richmond, and my engagements are made to return to Washington at an early hour. I regret that I am obliged to forego attending the reception at your house on this occasion.

(Signed) GROVER CLEVELAND.

This action of the President creates surprise in view of the fact that only this morning it was announced that Mrs. Cleveland and the other ladies would certainly be in the President's party. Governor Lee had arranged for a reception at his house, and had issued invitations to prominent citizens to meet them.

SAN FRANCISCO, 20.—The steamer City of Peking arrived this morning bringing Hong Kong dates to September 23rd, and Yokohama to October 2nd.

Small pox is reported to have broken out in Okinawaken, Japan, where 257 persons are said to have been attacked, of whom 44 died.

Regarding the alleged secret treaty between Russia and Korea, which it was said would place the latter under the protection of the former, the Japan Gazette says: Advice from Tien-Tsin assert that the Chinese Government has definitely determined not to allow any power to annex any portion of Korea, and they are prepared to make any sacrifice in order to maintain the integrity of Korea. The Gazette further says if it is true there are reasons to expect trouble between Russia and China in the future should Russia make an attempt to assume a protectorate over Russia.

Telegraphic communication has been established between Seoul, Corea and Tien-Tsin.

The French recently had a brush with about 2,000 pirates near Hooloc, Tonquin. More than 500 Anamites were killed, their fortifications and magazines destroyed, and a lot of cannon and small arms captured.

CHICAGO, 20.—The third game in the contest for the world's championship was played this afternoon before an audience of 6,000. The game was fought hard from first to last, but the Chicagoans played with even more than their wonted vigor. Clarkson's work in the box was excellent, while Carruthers was not so hard to hit as on yesterday. The following is the score:

Chicago.....2 0 1 1 2 3 2—11
St. Louis.....0 1 0 0 2 0 1—4

Pitchers—Clarkson, Williamson and Carruthers. First base hits—Chicago 11, St. Louis 9. Errors—Chicago 7, St. Louis 7. Umpire, J. Kelley.

COLUMBUS, 20.—At 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the wheelshop of the penitentiary, and at this time that building is in ruins. The cooper shops are now burning. It will be scarcely possible to keep the blaze from the gasworks. No estimate can be given of the loss.

Later—The fire is now under control. Loss, $40,000, partly insured.

PHILADELPHIA, 20.—The annual encampment of the commandery-in-chief of the military order of Loyal Legion, commenced here to-day, ex-President R. B. Hayes, presiding. It devolves upon this session to elect a successor to General Hancock. Ex-President Hayes, since the death of General Hancock, is the senior ranking officer of the order.

Lieutenant General Philip H. Sheridan was elected commander-in-chief to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Major Winfield S. Hancock. The nomination of General Sheridan was made by Major-General John M. Schofield, and seconded by General Rutherford B. Hayes.

The greater portion of the day was spent in the discussion of the eligibility for membership of certain applicants, and twenty-four of such cases were passed upon.

The Commandery of Pennsylvania held a meeting at the Union League in the evening and invested the officers elect with their official titles. At the close of their meeting a banquet was tendered to the companions of the Commandery-in-Chief. General D. McGregor, Commander of the Commandery of Pennsylvania, presided. There were no formal toasts. General Sheridan was present and made some remarks. Short speeches were also made by ex-President Hayes and General Schofield, Cochran and others.

WASHINGTON, 21.—The President, accompanied by Secretaries Bayard and Endicott and Postmaster-General Vilas, left here this morning on a special train for Richmond, Va., to attend the fair of the Virginia Agricultural Association.

PITTSBURG, 21.—James G. Blaine, accompanied by a number of old school friends and personal friends, left for Brownsville, the home of his youth, this morning. While en route, Blaine will make brief addresses at West Elizabeth and Belle Vernon. The party will return to this city to-night, and Friday Blaine will visit Washington, Pa.

CHICAGO, 21.—Ex-manager Town, of Pullman, was taken before Judge Collins this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and taken to Joliet on the noon train.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., 21.—The owners of the schooner George L. Smith, which sailed for Grand Banks August 14, on a halibut voyage, have given her up for lost. She carried a crew of 14 men. This makes 27 vessels lost, of a total value of $173,000, and 116 lives so far this year, by which 28 wives were made widows and 58 children rendered fatherless.

FOREIGN.

DUBLIN, 18.—Miss Mary Anderson has subscribed $2,500 for the benefit of the sufferers of the Charleston earthquakes, the net proceeds of her performances here during the past week for that purpose.

Branches of the Irish National League in Counties Cork and Waterford have been making inquiries regarding the condition of the farms in these districts and have just made a report on the result of their investigations. They say that the harvests have been bad, that oats are selling at from three to five shillings per barrel, and that the heavy fall in stocks has rendered farmers unable to pay rent. On account of the bad harvest, the farmers demand a reduction of from 45 to 50 per cent. in rents, and where a reduction is refused they will pay nothing. A number of landlords offer a reduction of 35 per cent.

PARIS, 18.—The bill introduced by the Minister of Marine for the "completion of the French navy" proposes an outlay of $28,000,000 for the construction of men-of-war ships and of $12,000,000 for the construction of ports of refuge. It also proposes such concentration of the work under contracts that it shall be completed in four years instead of nine, which is the nominal time named for the whole outlay.

LONDON, 19.—The Times, commenting on the request of the Chief Commissioner of Police to the Social Democratic Federation not to allow the proposal to have the workmen of London to follow the Lord Mayor's show, for the purpose of exhibiting side by side the aristocracy and the poverty of the metropolis, says: "The head of the police is not a spiritual or moral adviser. When he speaks to those plainly meditating mischief, he should compel and not entreat them to yield obedience. It is quite possible that the Socialists may be enabled to boast they prevented the annual Lord Mayor's show. The outlook is very disagreeable. They offer the public the alternative of the risk of a serious disturbance or the sacrifice of the ancient pageant."

Champion, the Socialistic leader, was interviewed this afternoon by an Associated Press reporter. He declared that the Democratic Federation would not abandon its intended to the Lord Mayor's show, unless the Government promised to institute an inquiry into the condition and needs of the London poor and unemployed, similar to the inquiry made last winter after the riots. Champion declares if the police issue the order prohibiting the demonstration, the leaders will stay at home, but the people will be sure to make a demonstration anyhow, and he asked: "Who will be able to control them?"

The Executive Committee of the Socialist Union has decided to hold their procession in spite of the warning of the police. The leaders estimate that 100,000 persons will take part in the demonstration.

Champion, one of the leaders has written a letter to the Chief of Police, saying if he can't guarantee peace, the Socialists themselves will be prepared to maintain order, provided they be given control of the police.

BERLIN, 19.—Reliable private advices from Baden affirm that the huietous reporting Emperor William as being in good health, are positively untrue. According to these advices the Emperor is subject to attacks of syncope and prolonged drowsiness, and recently was in a semi-comatose condition for twenty hours, from which the doctors were unable to rouse him. His condition is aggravated, it is said, by chronic disease of the bladder. It is feared it will be impossible with the utmost care to preserve his life for more than a few months longer.

SOFIA, 20.—Gadban Effendi, the Turkish representative, has informed the Bulgarian ministry that he has been instructed to act in concert with General Kaulbars, the Russian agent, whose arrival at Sofia, Gadban Effendi says he will wait before making for Turkey definite proposals to Bulgaria, strongly advising the ministry, however, in the meantime, to concede the Russian demands and postpone the meeting of the Great Sobranje to elect a successor to the Bulgarian throne. As soon as Gadban Effendi's information was received a special cabinet council was held to consider what he had presented. The result of this council was that Gadban Effendi was informed that the Bulgarian government would no more brook Turkish that it would but would resist both with the conviction that any misfortunes likely to overtake Bulgaria would never compare in seriousness with the retribution awaiting the infatuation of Turkey.

The report in Zankoff (Pro-Russian) circles is that Gadban Effendi has confidentially stated that the Czar has made arrangements with the Porte, the Czar guaranteeing the integrity of the Sultan's dominions, reducing the Turkish war indemnity and obtaining permission to garrison and fortify the Dardanelles, and to occupy Bulgaria with Russian, and Roumelia with Turkish troops.

ALARM FELT.

SOFIA, 20.—Alarm is felt here over the massing of Turkish troops, which is at present in progress along the Bulgarian frontier. The regency have published a decree convening the Great Sobranje on October 27th. All foreign consuls excepting the Russian representatives will attend the opening.

Russian officers disguised as merchants are actively engaged in Balahshan inspecting the citadel and passages to India. The traveler also reports that the Czar is displeased at the Ameer of Bokahara for refusing to enlist Russians among his troops.

OGDEN DEPARTMENT.

OGDEN CITY, Utah,
Oct. 19, 1886.

Editor Deseret News:

A TREMENDOUS atmospheric change has taken place here since Sunday. All day on Monday the wind blew strong from the south, the day was quite dark and gloomy, big clouds frowned on the mountains, and the air was very cold. After dark it became a little warmer, and many prognosticated a heavy storm. About eleven o'clock at night, rain, sleet and snow began to fall, and continued all through the night and until past noon to-day. This morning, about four inches of the downfall covered the ground. It was completely charged with water. The fruit trees in the orchard were entirely laden with the snow, bent to the ground, and some of them broken, large branches being torn from them. Scores of beautiful poplar trees were destroyed. They were stripped from top to trunk and the branches lay scattered upon the ground. Some of them are ruined. Other shade trees were damaged in various places throughout the city, but no other property was damaged as far as I have learned. About three o'clock p. m. the heavens again became clear and bright, and the air cold and frosty. The streets are covered with mud and pools of water. Work on the streets and at the depot grounds is stopped for the present.

LAST EVENING the police made a new and singular discovery. For some time past, although the tramp element has infested this city in considerable numbers, they have fought shy of the officers of the peace, and have managed to cover up their tracks to their hiding places. They had literally taken to the underground, and thus eluded the vigilance of the police. By an accident, however, the place of their concealment was discovered. Several of them were seen by some citizens to emerge from a "hole in the ground." The citizens notified the city marshal. About ten o'clock at night he went with several of his aids, surprised the light fingered gentlemen in their den, "turned the rascals out," and arrested five of them, placing them in the lock up.

This afternoon, in company with Marshal T. H. Ballantyne and officer Jas. M. Brown, the writer visited the tramps' underground road. At the iron works in this town there is a large elevator which was formerly used in hoisting ore, etc. The platform is of great size and is lowered to some distance below the earth's surface. In close contiguity is an aperture of a culvert that was used to carry off the water from two large tanks. It is about four feet wide, three and a half feet high and about seven rods long—and empties into a large mill race belonging to the foundry. It is of course now dry. Into this culvert it seems the tramps entered at the north end—and proceeded southeast until they nearly reached the other end—when another aperture was found which opened into a good sized chamber beneath the platform of the elevator, which forms a roof to the room. Here the members of this gang ensconced themselves and slept as snugly as so many pigs in the chamber of the sty. If accident had not discovered their cover, the searches of the officers for them there would have been fruitless. When we reached their late abode to-day, their bedding and other effects were removed and the other members of the gang (who doubtless were at the time of the arrest prowling around seeking what they could devour) were gone.

BUSINESS in the police court has been quite dull for a week or more, but to-day justice has a big harvest. The five tramps who were arrested last night were ushered into court this morning and had a lengthy interview with the justice on the situation. At the close of their conference the justice told the gentlemen they would be the guests of the city, each of them for twenty days, and if they desired to contribute anything to the treasury they could exhibit themselves on the public resorts provided for such guests and exercise their muscular talents for the gratification of admiring beholders. The Marshal was instructed to provide for them in a befitting manner.

Two vagrants were brought before His Honor to-day. They also were required to contribute each ten dollars, or an equivalent thereto in improving the highways for the benefit of way-faring men and citizens of this metropolitan town.

A YOUNG gentleman who had for some time associated himself with the spirit of "John Barleycorn," and had become considerably elated, and by a peculiar inspiration was enabled to see several objects multiply themselves through his optics, was introduced to the police justice, and was also induced to contribute half a score of dollars to the treasury. He then took his departure. Probably he was a wiser and better man for the intelligence he received at the interview. A number of other distinguished visitors will be at court to-morrow.

SEVERAL burglaries attempts were made recently to enter the residences of some of our citizens in the east part of town. But they were unsuccessful. The would-be burglars escaped without being captured. There is no doubt that had not the den of thieves been raided last night, we should have heard of quite a number of house breakings, shop liftings, or highway robberies during the dark nights which now prevail. But fortunately their pastimes in this respect are thwarted, at least for the present.

THE BUILDING boom in Ogden has not been so great this year as it was in '84; still there have been a goodly number of residences erected in this city during the present year; also quite a number of business houses have gone up, and others are in course of erection. Many old shanties have been burned, and some have given place to substantial, respectable establishments which are creditable to the proprietors, and add much to the appearance and enhance the value of the property in their neighborhood. In 1887, it is probable the boom will receive an impetus and Ogden will make another advance to the front.

ARTESIAN wells have been sunk in many parts of this city, and in nearly every settlement in Weber County. In some instances the volume is not so great, and the quality of the water is not so good as desirable, yet the wells are of much value to those who possess them; and in a few instances they render their owners independent of any other source for water for culinary and other purposes. It is thought that in the near future these flowing wells will be so common as to make it an object for the city waterworks company to materially reduce the price of that article and to extend mains to any locality where they may be desired. It is the intention of many here, as soon as they can raise the requisite means, to have flowing wells on their premises, whether there be city water works or not.

ALL is peace here at present, but we expect a considerable variety about the first of November.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

In this court at Provo, on Monday the 18th inst., the Pearson case was resumed. Three witnesses were examined through the day.

Frederick W. Chapman was sworn; was justice of the peace at Nephi; acted as coroner at the inquest over the body of Green; saw the bullet hole in the body near the heart.

Ernest Green was sworn; was brother to the deceased; identified the body; had his clothes, memorandum and pocket books that were sent to me after the shooting; thought the defendant and the deceased were on good terms before the shooting; saw the body in the court house at Juab.

W. P. Boreman was sworn; had seen the defendant at a saloon about 4 p. m. January 10, 1886; Pearson had a knife and pistol; he said he had spared Green's life once but would not do it again; they went out of the saloon towards their horses; Pearson told Green not to advance or he would shoot him; still advancing, Green told him to shoot if he wanted to; Pearson said he would, and at the same time fired; Green fell and expired in about ten minutes.

Mr. Jas. Hartly was called and sworn; was bartender in the saloon at Juab; saw the proceedings; thought Pearson and Green had drunk several times at the bar, and took some beer with them.

On Tuesday morning court resumed. Testimony was continued.

Mr. Hartly testified to the shooting; saw Pearson shoot Green; was only a few feet away; some conflict arose about paying money at the bar; part of the money went on the floor and a scuffle ensued; this was before the shooting.

Testimony of the same witness on cross-examination was being given Tuesday afternoon.
