The annual entertainment in aid of St. Ann's Orphanage will be given in the Salt Lake theater on the evening of the 18th inst. The orphanage has now some 200 inmates, and the expense of maintaining such an institution is no small figure, no matter how much economy may be practiced.

About 200 French-speaking people listened to an interesting lecture by M. Frantz Funck-Brennan at Rowland hall on Saturday afternoon. The subject treated upon was the life of Queen Marie Antoinette, her character and history, and the part she played in the great French revolution. The gentleman left for San Francisco yesterday. He was pleased with his visit to Salt Lake, and said that he was very much taken up with the western country in general.

The state statistician, having been granted permission by the state senate, is destroying today two and a half tons of two years old returned blanks. These have to be destroyed, according to law, for two years after the publication of the report for which they furnish the material, and then "by and with the advice and consent" of the senate, and on application of the statistician, the blanks may be burned.

A local militia summary court officer imposed a fine of $5 not long ago on a delinquent militiaman, and the officer was subsequently accused of being altogether too hard on the man. However, in this connection it is interesting to notice that a member of a New York city regiment was lately fined $57 because he was tired on reaching home one drill evening, and concluding that he would not attend company muster and inspection that evening. And pay him fine he is thrown into Ludlow street jail.

Saturday was pension day at the county clerk's office and considerable trouble was experienced on account of the failure of the pensioners to present their original certificates in getting their pension papers fixed up by the clerk. There is an animated contest on foot among local Woodmen of the World relative to the state convention, which is to convene in this city on Wednesday of this week. That convention four delegates will be elected to represent the Utah camps at the jurisdiction convention, which is scheduled to be held in Los Angeles. It is said that the two largest local lodges, camps 13 and 33, have formed an alliance which lacks but a few votes of being able to control the situation. But getting word of what was going on, camp 408 is making a strong effort to induce Ogden, Provo, Murray, Eureka, Davis county, Moab and others to help thwart the scheme of the first mentioned lodges. The struggle is well up to a political campaign from a point of warm enthusiasm.

Local business conditions the past week have been characterized in the various trades about as follows: The dry goods market report a fair averting trade, very fair considering that the season with them is "between hay and grass." The shoe trade for the last two weeks has been rather light and quiet, but dealers look for good business in the immediate future. The clothing trade is also quiet, and likely to remain so until there is a break in the weather one way or another. The drug trade is good, with fair demand for all lines of goods. The hardware trade is steady and prices firm in all lines of goods, and there is a fine trade reported in East and West tools and in hardware. In fact local dealers say there is promise of an unusually good trade this spring in hardware lines. In notions and men's wear trade at present is quiet, owing to the uncertain weather.

FOR LOSS OF AN ARM.
Jury Gives Plaintiff Verdict for the Sum of $12,500.

The jury in the case of C. A. Onasch against Salt Lake City and the Utah Light & Railway company, the trial of which was concluded in Judge Lewis' court Saturday evening, has returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $12,500. Onasch sued to recover $25,000 damages for the loss of his left arm, which was so badly crushed by a street car on March 21, 1903, that it had to be amputated. At the time the accident occurred the intersection at the corner of East and Temple streets was being paved and plaintiff, in attempting to board a car, stumbled over a peg placed in the street by the city engineer in making his surveys and fell under the car. It is very probable that the case will be appealed by defendants.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the cure of colds, coughs, croup, whooping cough, and all the ailments of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shiel, 29th Cong. Rep. St. Chicago. Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold, my throat being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop. I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses and after a few days I was able to sleep. The inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day and right on talking through the campaign and I thank this medicine that I won my election in the city of Chicago. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.
