

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

To-night at the Theatre, "Green Bushes."

Doubtless the Oscar Wilde lecture will draw a good house at the Theatre on Monday night.

The press give very flattering notices of the "Green Bushes" minstrel troupe, which will appear at the Theatre on Tuesday night.

Messrs. M. Kenzie and Margetta in the respective parts of "Connor O'Connell" and "Master Grinvald" will carry the audience to-night at the Theatre.

From Mr. Edwin Stratford, of Ogden, we learn that the weather during the last few days has not been anything like as stormy there as it has been in this valley.

An editor telegraphed to a person in the Mississippi inundated district: "Send full particulars of the flood." The answer was at once received: "You will find it in Genesis."

The wool growers of Salt Lake County have resolved to deal directly with the eastern markets, themselves, or through agents, who will do the selling business for them. A very sensible conclusion.

Conference visitors from the north would be gratified at the statement published yesterday, to the effect that tickets held by them are good for return on the 12th, instead of the 10th, as previously understood.

The U. P. bridge at Devil's Gate having been damaged by freshets, passengers and mail had to be transferred yesterday. The train was 30 minutes late. A force of men has been sent to the spot to make the necessary repairs.

Our readers will remember the accident which befell H. A. Heywood at Salt Lake last year. He was acting as agent for the Thunder Powder Company, and relying on the company's representations concerning its safety, tampered some of it in a hole some time last year, and an explosion took place. Heywood lost one eye, had the other permanently injured, and lost 15 teeth and a part of his jaw. He has been having his left arm badly broken. He has asked the company for $20,000.—Ogden Item.

The San Francisco Examiner said of the "Strategists," who will perform at the Theatre on the 17th: "The 'Strategists,' in spite of the drawbacks of Holy Week, have been crowding the theatre night after night, and although in their second week the interest and laughter have not subsided one jot. For the company there will be a brisk rivalry between three special combinations, and from the favor that has been extended to the performers at this place of amusement, there is little doubt but they will get the lion's share of public patronage."

Theatre.—To-night our Conference visitors who contemplate spending the evening in the Salt Lake Theatre may confidently look forward to the presentation of a genuine old-fashioned drama, such as used to make the rafters ring. Green Bushes is not a new play but it is an eminently sensational one and never falls in its appeals to the passions of the audience, and having witnessed its recent presentation by the same company we can assure the audience that they will undoubtedly enjoy a genuine treat, as most of the principal characters are in the hands of the old favorites, while Miss Jennie Harris, of Beaver, makes her first appearance in this city in the romantic character of "Nellie O'Neil," and Mrs. S. H. Clawson appears as "Geraldine." It would be a work of supererogation to inform the public in regard to the acting of Mr. McKenzle, who plays the role of the Irish patriot, "Connor O'Kennedy," a character eminently calculated to put that gentleman upon his mettle, and when we further announce that the piece is enlivened by a genuine old-fashioned pugilistic encounter between the two renowned champions of the fist arena, Messrs. Graham and Margetta, and animated with other side-splitting comicities of those two gentlemen who refuse in character that fit them like a glove, the half has not been told. For further particulars call early at the Box Office for tickets, or you won't get a seat.

The members of the 37th Quorum of Seventies will meet in the Council House, to-morrow afternoon, at half-past 4 o'clock.
