Ogden, March 4.—The city officials are determined to stop the selling of tobacco to minors and a few more fines of $50, as was imposed by Judge Murphy against A. Ellis, will impress this fact upon the dealers in tobacco. Three loads of tender years were the principal witnesses for the prosecution, each one testifying to having purchased from Ellis tobacco which they smoked. The only defense Ellis could introduce was that he thought the boys were getting the tobacco for their fathers.

About the first work that he did when he came to Brigham was to go to the mountains and get out timber to make a weaving loom, the only tools he had being a hatchet and drawing knife, with which he finished the loom. This loom he used for 50 years or more, and it is still in commission, and valued now as a family relic.

HARVEST OF THE REAPER.
Four Deaths in a Week in Iron County's Capital.

Special Correspondence.
Parowan, Iron Co., March 2.—There has been a great deal of sickness here for the past two weeks and four deaths have occurred within six days. Feb. 26 Josephine Adams, the 14-year-old daughter of James J. Adams, succumbed to a severe attack of pneumonia. The funeral services were held on the 28th at the meetinghouse, where a large congregation gathered to honor the departed; a large number of her Sunday school classmates followed the casket in the funeral procession. Josephine was a very gentle and lovable girl and was much esteemed by all who were acquainted with her.

On the 28th Mrs. Harriet Norris, wife of William Norris, passed away after a severe illness of about a week, the immediate cause of death being congestion of the brain brought on by a severe attack of the grip. Mrs. Norris was born in Nottingham, Eng., Aug. 13, 1842. In 1862 she came to Salt Lake City, where she resided for nearly two years. In 1864 she was married to Mr. Norris, and the same year came to Parowan, where they have resided ever since. She was a lady of refinement, and was well spoken of by all her neighbors, four of whom spoke at the funeral services, which were held on the 29th, at the meetinghouse. The speakers were: L. N. Marsden, George Fowler, S. J. Ward, John Stevens and Bishop Richards.

On the 29th Eva Rowley, the 6-year-old daughter of Wm. G. and Ida Rowley, passed away of typhoid, following an attack of the grip. The funeral was held at the family residence yesterday at 1 o'clock.
