

THE REMAINS

Will Arrive Here Over the Rio Grande Tomorrow Morning.

DUE HERE AT 8:30 O'CLOCK.

President Westroff's Family and Church Of feels Will Go Up to Ogden

AND MEET THE FUNERAL PARTY THERE

Time: 7:30. — Unenstein, an Account of the A. — 1 Member of the Family. — Unenstein, Life sketch.

President Woodruff's death coincided in time to the chief theme of the occasion and subject of thought throughout the city and State. The poems and expressions of condolence and sorrow were received from far and near.

Every man who speaks his name or is buried in his masonry did so with pompous which plainly showed the high station in which he held in his own mind.

[illegible]

Twenty Americans who were in Chicago held a meeting at the President's office this week today and discussed the President's death and funeral arrangements. The meeting was held at 11 o'clock this time. Those who were in attendance at the time were President Hiram, President Hull and Assistant, F. D. Hughes, Jr., Irving, and Young. After the meeting, the President's body was taken to the Washington Hotel. The President's body was taken to the Washington Hotel. The President's body was taken to the Washington Hotel.

A LONG TO THE WORLD.
 F. A. Woodhough, assistant passenger agent of the Great Western, in behalf of that company, declined the following letter to W. C. Spencer, Church headquarters agent:

My Dear Sir:—We will arrange for a special train to leave Salt Lake City on Monday at 1:30 P. M., pending meeting in the accommodation of President Smith and party. On the return trip the car will be attached to the train with Spencer.

In conducting this slight circumlocution we express to the Church officials our sympathy with them in the gratification to the Church and the world at large of one who has so thoroughly comprehended the respect and fidelity there who were fortunate in knowing him. Sincerely, the Illinois Western Railway Company, by F. A. Ward.

SHIRT LINE'S COURTEOUS OFFER
President Joseph F. Smith received the following letter this morning from General Manager W. H. Hamblin, of the Oregon Shirt Line:
—Dear Sir: If the Shirt Line can be any use to you in Australia, please let me know of it. If, please, Woodruff, we will be glad to furnish it. Yours truly,
W. H. Hamblin, General Manager.

FROM THE INDIAN PACIFIC
Governor Albert H. M. Cook of the Hawaiian Islands and President Smith of the Hawaiian Islands.

Only standing to advise you that I am in receipt of the following letters from Mr. Lamm, general commissioner and chief agent of the United Farmers of Canada, in the sentiments of which I warmly join:

"Kindly convey to the officials of the Methodist Church and the betrayed people our hearty sympathy in their time of trouble."
With respectful,
Walter Woodruff

PISCOLATE'S DEATH AND BURIAL.
 Remains Taken Left by Himself as to the Disposition of His Body.

Here, says our President Brigham Young, "meeting the tendency of the press to make expensive fables and stories dominating with a custom required the members of the West."

As for the question of the Tassies, I've often wanted them to leave their own homes and come to the apartment with me and their babies and stay in the same time, although President Wilson is a great big man and I'm not sure I could handle him.

With me my heart and soul—
 A portion of my heart I wish
 A kind welcome to my life, father and Mother, as an illness and an accident in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. I wish my body washed clean and clothed in clean white linen.

Priesthood, and put into a plain

The Late Wilford Woodruff, President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; dearly beloved by his people, and of whom no man can say aught but good.

[illegible]

A REMARKABLE CAREER.

Interesting and Thrilling Incident in the Life of a Great and Good Man.

Wendell Woodruff, fourth President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was born January 1, 1827, in Westmoreland, Vermont.

His father was called Avin, Hartford, Conn. He was the son of Asaph and Sarah Thompson Woodruff. His mother was Sarah Woodruff.

He was a good student, and lived in a good old age. They were among the earliest settlers in that region.

He was a devoted father, who was a miller.

In April 1871, he took charge of a small mill himself, and continued to that business until the spring of 1932. He then moved to Springfield, Oregon, to help his brother, Fred, in the family business. He was a very busy, busy man, and he was very successful in his business. He was a very busy, busy man, and he was very successful in his business. He was a very busy, busy man, and he was very successful in his business.

[illegible][illegible]

At Tennessee, in line with Elder Warren Parrish, with whom he labored in the early days of the church, he organized baptisms. During the year 1836 the 25th of June, William Woodruff was ordained an Elder by Warren Parrish. He organized a church at Nashville, Tennessee, and baptized thirty-one persons. After Elder Parrish had left for Kirtland, Ohio, he traveled throughout Tennessee, and held 120 meetings, baptized 40 persons and organized three branches of the Church.

In the fall of 1836, he returned to Ohio and joined the branch in Kirtland. He was ordained an Elder by Warren Parrish and joined the First Branch, settling on the way his residence in Ansonia, Conn. He was married in 1837 to a Miss Ann Parrish. He was born in North, Pennsylvania August 26, and he died in Kirtland, Ohio, June 10, 1890.

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

Will Arrive Next Tuesday

Washington, Sept. 8.—Sen. Mike and his staff of between four and five thousand volunteers are en route to this country from Puerto Rico and other islands to help fight malaria on a body upon their arrival. The official announcement came from the U.S. health department today.

The transports leaving San. Mike and the volunteers will arrive at New York City next Tuesday. It was suggested that the troops be ordered to wear masks and carry disinfectant.

New York has a few days and they

[illegible]