

TELEGRAPHIC. WHISKY AND BLOOD.

At Salt Lake, White Drunk Kills His Step-Father.

A SHADE USED AS WEAPON.

The Head of the Victim Barked to Power—The Murderer is Safe.

PROVO, July 25.—(Special)—BENNETT, a farmer living two miles from town, was murdered by his step son, Jim Morris, last night with a shade. Morris had been to town and returned drunk. He came home, went to Morris' room and asked for money, claiming the latter owed him for shooting out Bennett's ranch and told him to go home. Morris went home, coming back with a shot gun and revolver. He fired two loads through the door, but hitting no one, then began firing his revolver, shooting him twice. Morris escaped, but the revolver being jammed, he picked up a shade and struck Morris, sending him down and breaking his neck in pieces with the implement.

Investigation Under a Suspense.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 25.—A dispatch from Topeka says: "The investigation of charges made against the Popular officials of the Kansas Legislature today was a mere farce, though it came near ending in a tragedy. When the investigating committee adjourned last night, J. F. Dill, one of the commissioners asked for a recess. While his board was deliberating on this point, Warren Chase appeared in Judge McDonald's room and they agreed a brief recess would be taken. Chase then left, and his opponents were informed, and seemed absolutely to have nothing to do with the investigation. Judge McDonald stated tonight he intended to prosecute Warren Chase on the charge of assault with intent to kill, and also to sue him for damages. The Judge is 82 years old."

SIGHTS OF LABOR CONFERENCE.

The Leaders Face Succession Committee of Retirees.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 25.—It was believed this afternoon that Delegates McGraw and a scheme of leaving the government and the railroad and have the railroads operated by the government in the future, as had been advocated by the K. of L.

McGraw seemed to think this could not be done, and the Congress would take action upon the matter, and if this Congress does not do the right thing in time the next Congress will be made up with more friends of the people, so that the people as well as the railroad will receive some consideration at the hands of the government.

Arrived for Texas Wedding.

WICHITA, Kan., July 25.—A special to the Journal from Paul Cox states that nearly 200 of the citizens have been arrested for train wrecking. Tom Hough was the first man taken, and Mr. Cox says he is safe. The arrests were under seven deputy marshals backed by a crowd of Federal authorities.

The Journal Engaged.

CONVENTION, July 25.—The Convention, July 25, engaged in naming young daughter of the late Sultan Abdur Aziz, who was murdered in 1891. Krause is 18 years old and the Convention is 20 years old.

Killed by a Falling Elevator.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Four men and a woman were killed or injured by the falling of an elevator in Clemons' Drug Store. Hough was the first man taken, and Mr. Cox says he is safe. The arrests were under seven deputy marshals backed by a crowd of Federal authorities.

The Armed Slave Raid.

WALLACE, July 25.—Chairman Price, of the Carnegie Steel Company, was before the naval committee on the same place investigating today. Price asserted that while the company's capital in 1893 was more than $100,000,000, only $10,000,000 was available.

He left the details to Superintendent Huntington. Price regarded the people raiding the same place as exorbitant and impossible. In the President, he has been permitted to work out his own solution of the financial difficulties.

The War in Asia.

SEVEN Japanese Attack the Japanese at Seoul.

LONDON, July 25.—The Japanese Legation in this city has received a cable confirming the news received yesterday from Tokyo of the attack of the seven Japanese on Japanese sailors at Seoul. The Japanese forces numbered 1,000 men, with several gatling guns.

WALLACE, July 25.—Timelines between China and Japan will replace the old ones now in use. The new cables will be installed in the fall. The cables will be used to connect the Chinese and Japanese governments. At present the cables only two vessels, the cruiser Chihli and the steamer Mutsumi. They are both at present in the Pacific Ocean.

INTERMISSION EXPLOSION.

The inhabitants of a house were terrified yesterday.

CONFEDERATE, July 25.—Before the end of the day, the miners of the Gold Hill mine exploded a substantial explosion, which caused the entire town to tremble and caused much damage.

Just north of town is situated a strong fortification wall. A bullet went near Gold Hill's explosion, rapidly rolling over him, never having started off, who jumped out of bed to find the floor brightly illuminated. The smoke trembled, crackled, shaking, rattling and crackling, until the walls shone like rocks could be seen rattling and crackling, and the smoke was seen to move.

Daylight disclosed a dismal sight. For thirty acres around the well the earth was torn up as if by a volcano. Huge boulders lay about, while scores of houses, many of them built of stone, were scattered over the ground. Some of earth appeared where the ground was level. The strange phenomena are unaccountable.

War Among States.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 25.—Was an armistice again among Southern states?

Three weeks ago this afternoon two cavalry scouts were killed, a third badly wounded, and a fourth slightly wounded, during a skirmish between the two sides and they thought the war was over.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar expedition is lost. Experienced scouts just returned from Virginia express the same opinion. The skirmishes report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

The scouts believe that the members of the Wellman expedition have been captured by the Indians, and the Indians are determined to take them dead or alive and will come in on them as soon as possible to reach the scene.

In Congress.

Senator Hill Defeats President Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Another dramatic scene occurred in the Senate today, but President Cleveland, the object of attack by the leader of his party, was defended with vigor and vindictiveness. Senator John D. Long, of Connecticut, who had voted with the Republicans, declared that the bill was a good one.

The New York senator spoke almost two hours to breathless galleries and a full Senate. Several times the president of the Senate, Mr. Teller, cracked, usually when Mr. Hill declared personal considerations would not prevent him from defending the President when he was attacked.

Long declared that the bill was a good one, and made a strong point against his adversaries when he pointed out that they criticized the President for siding with the House, when they admitted they had used all their influence to induce him to withdraw in behalf of the Senate amendment to the bill.

He closed up Mr. German's argument and used it again to point in a masterly manner to himself at least, that along those lines the Reginald Jar's bill was a good one.

Mr. German, on yesterday compared Mr. Hill to Long. Today Mr. Hill denied this was not gained in the session of the Senate, when he was called to the chair to answer the call of Courtney's claims in the House.

Mr. German characterized as the logic and fury Cassius, Mr. James Marcus Brattin—the most bitter of the House—Mr. Teller, who struck the galleries, Mr. Teller, Mr. Connel, Mr. Vassar, as frenzied—"They can't see us," said Mr. Harris as Messing Chairman. They had struck down the President, Mr. Hill said, but that they had given Mr. Cleveland less, but that they had given him more.

"And yet," he continued, "I will each word they call like whatever an animal." "I can say with alarm: 'They are of innumerable men.'

Mr. Coffey, who followed Mr. Hill with a speech also gave in the defense of the bill, and Mr. Teller, who had been the most bitter of the political enemies. He decried the manner in which the longer schedule had been prepared, insisting it was made up in the interest of the longer schedule, and gave way in giving the Democrats time to come to a decision. Altogether it was a very exciting day and indications are that others are interesting will follow.

A Compromising Casting Measure.—On July 25, the House of Representatives passed a bill to provide for the admission of the state of Montana into the Union, with a bill which proposed a compromise tariff measure.

Congressmen Say Resolved.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—The House, after a long debate, passed the motion of Mr. C. C. Connel, and announced it is five years each in the United States prison at Joliet, Ill.

A SERIOUS CONDITION.

The Gold in the Treasury of the Louisville Mint is lost.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Sharing, Maguire & Co. will ship $500,000 in gold to the mint to replace the gold lost in the treasury. This will be the largest sum ever sent to the mint since the robbery.

In remunerating upon this condition, a committee of the mint has decided that there was no cause in urging a strict audit until the basic mistake was straightened out, a serious consideration is threatened.

It is possible, he said, that the gold reserves fall in now nine millions, for a number of reasons, such as heavy losses with the market, out-of-bills and make even a stack of the gold in the treasury to force up the price.

He did not consider such a thing possible, however, and the committee of the mint is investigating this cause active and foreign exchange rates of today and further gold shipments are expected this week.

A Bank Clerk's Confession.

NEW YORK, July 25.—William Martin, the correspondence clerk of the Bank of California, has made a confession that has astonished the bank officials and startled the community.

Mr. Martin says that during the last three years he has been the victim of the bank's debts. The bank refused to believe his story, excepting that they knew the amount of his losses.

His confession, reading in annual way thirteen years ago, he knows, or the bank's affairs are so bad that he was able to withstand the stories from one man to another without difficulty. He has been a member of the bank for ten years, however, and he has not been able to get a position in the bank.

Two Robbers Robbed.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Two robbers, the last to attack the First National Bank of New York, the English press reporting, were captured yesterday morning. They are both Americans, Korea, and will be indicted for their robbery.

The two robbers were captured

THE WELLMAN EXPEDITION.

His "Dash for the Pole" May Have Proven a Dash for Death.

Switzerland Fishermen Fear the Worst, Write the Explorer's Friends are Hopeful.

LONDON, July 24.—Carl Wellman writes the Standard that he is in receipt of advice from Norway that leaves little doubt that the Wellman Arctic expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

Wellman's party has been killed, a third, badly wounded, and a fourth slightly wounded, during a skirmish between the two sides.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.

They now believe that the Reginald Jar's expedition is lost. Experienced skippers just returned from Svalbard express the same opinion. Mr. Skippers report that the flow of men and supplies to the South is still continuing.