The week has been as quiet as the preceding summer ones, the dancing party given by Col and Mrs. Holmes last night being the largest event. There have been a number of weddings and a few dinners have helped out the week.

were present to enjoy the event. Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. F. C. Hodder gave a delightful party, the occasion being her birthday. The table was laid for 12 and handsomely decorated with flowers. Those present to enjoy the affair were Mrs. Simmions, Mrs. Sam Lester, Jr., Mrs. P. Reeben, Mrs. Robert McCail, Mrs. Earl Nel-son, Mrs. E. Neruna, Mrs. Dave Sug-den, Mrs. Albert Rieben, Mrs. P. The sixtleth anniversary of the birth of Bishop James C. Watson of the Sixth ward, was fittingly celebrated Monday night last when the people of the ward, to the number of about 400, assembled in the meetinghouse to do honor to their respected leader. The affair was under the auspices of Bishop's counselors, Alexander Burt and A. E. Poulton, and the Relief Socirty, and was one of the most enjoy-able gatherings in the history of the Sixth ward. A splendid program of songs, recitations, etc., was rendered and remarks of a reminiscent character were made by Elder Joseph E. Taylor and other lifelong acquaintances of the honored guest. There was also a sketch of the Bishop's life by Miss Edith Hunter and other interesting numbers, all adding to the enjoyment of the occasion. But the most enjoyable of all was a sumptuous spread in which those present participated with hearty good will, discussing the vlands in a manner at once showing heartfelt appreciation. During the evening the Bishop was presented with a life size oll painting of himself, the presentation speech being made by Mrs. Alice Butterworth, thanking the people of the ward for theirkindly feelings and assur-ing them of the pleasure it was to be associated with them. The picture will be hung in the meetinghouse alongside a similar portrait of Bishop Hickenlooper, Bishop Watson's predecessor.

An enjoyable event of the week was the tea party and handkerchief shower given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. A. C. Busath in honor of Miss Lizzie Busath. The rooms were decorated with flowers of the season and asparagus plumosa, and presented a very pretty appearance. Refreshments were served and the afternoon spent in games and conversation.
