MORE LEGISLATION FOR UTAH.

We publish in another column the new amendments to the latest Edmunds bill, offered by Senator Hoar on the 29th of April. It will be remembered that Senator Edmunds' new bill, designed as a supplement to the Act which popularly bears his name, was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and that Committee, through Senator Hoar, reported the bill back with several additional sections, providing for the compulsory attendance of wives as witnesses against their husbands, the management of "Mormon" Church funds by trustees appointed by the President and Senate of the United States, the disposition of P. E. Fund assets, etc. The present bill offers additional sections and a substitute section for Section Eighteen of the former amendments, so that this makes a complicated piece of patchwork.

We do not intend to make any comments on the latest amendments, unless it be a few remarks in relation to the section providing for the appointment of the Territorial Superintendent of District Schools by the Supreme Court instead of his election by the people, his payment out of the Territorial Treasury, and his authority to regulate the text books in the District Schools.

The Senators who make this recommendation have evidently been imposed upon by the falsehoods of Governor Murray and others concerning the District Schools of this Territory. Senator Hoar was deceived in a similar manner when he introduced that price of egregious folly known as the Hoar amendment, providing that certain officers in Utah were to be appointed by the Governor. Neither he nor the very great majority of the Senate understood anything about the real status of Utah affairs at the time of its passage, as is demonstrated beyond doubt by the debate that then occured. In the present instance he and his colleagues on the Judiciary Committee are just as much at sea.

It has been represented that "Mormon" Church books are used in the District Schools of Utah, and that "Mormon" tenets are taught therein. Governor Murray has endorsed this untruth officially, knowing that there was no foundation for it, and his official statement has been relied upon without further investigation. To remedy this supposed state of affairs, it is now proposed to put the control of the text books, used in the schools of the people, to some extent in the hands of a person entirely irresponsible to the people, which is a high-handed piece of autocratic assumption, and something beyond the constitutional purview of the Congress of the United States.

It is provided that this officer, who would be a United States and not a Territorial official—being appointed by United States Judges, who are appointed by the President and Senate of the United States—shall be paid out of the Treasury of the Territory. Congress has as much right to appropriate money out of the Treasury of the people of Utah as out of the vaults of the Deseret Bank or the Utah Central Railroad Company. We think a Superintendent, so appointed, would experience a tough time in getting his salary.

We do not anticipate the passage of these Hoar amendments, attached to the previous amendments, joined on to the Edmunds amendments, during the present session of Congress. They may in some modified form get through the Senate, which is doubtful, but we think it quite improbable that they will succeed in the House. And when they are brought forward for consideration—they have been merely ordered to be printed, without any other action at the present—it is to be hoped that correct information in regard to our District Schools, and their entirely non-sectarian character, will be impressed sufficiently upon the minds of some outspoken Senators to cause the presentation of the truth, in the Upper House, and to remove the influence of the falsehoods that have been told officially and otherwise to prejudice Congress and the country against Utah.

A WORTHY EXAMPLE.

The verdict in the Hopt murder case, the third given to the same effect, receives the universal endorsement of the community, by whom it was anticipated. The murder was one of the most brutal and cold blooded crimes of its class, and the evidence against the convict Hopt placed his guilt beyond all doubt. His own statement which was one of the most flimsy imaginable, instead of showing any probability of innocence tended to strengthen, if possible, the testimony for the prosecution.

It is a matter for congratulation that the feeling of intense animosity exhibited by some people against Hopt during the progress of the trial, did not culminate in a violent attempt to wreak summary vengeance upon him. If there ever was any imminent danger of such an occurrence we believe it is now past. The murderer has been triply convicted of his horrible crime, and will soon be under sentence of death. Notwithstanding the failure, through legal technicalities, of the execution of either of the two previous judgments, there is reason for anticipating that the third will be carried to a final consummation, which is "devoutly to be wished." Surely the fatal errors committed by the courts on the two previous trials have not been repeated this time, and we believe that great care has been taken against any new ones of a vitiating character entering into the proceedings. In this view there would not be the shadow of an excuse for any attempt at laying violent hands upon Hopt. Even if the prospect of his ultimately meeting the just reward of his crime were much more remote than it appears to be there would be no sufficient excuse for such an unlawful action. Breaking the law to wreak vengeance on a lawbreaker, places the executioners on a par, in the eyes of the law, with the object of popular wrath.

It is to be hoped that the culmination of the action of the law in Hopt's case will come soon. It is only after that and not till then that it can be expected that the fearful strain under which Sheriff Turner, the father of the murdered man who was cut down by his assassin in the flower of his youth, can be expected to slacken its tension of several years duration. Fortunately there are but few men that are in a lifetime subjected to such a terrible ordeal as that through which he has been passing, and the end is not yet. He has endured it thus far with fortitude that is heroic, the nature of his position being only second to any degree by those who have given close attention to the details of the remarkable case. The sympathy which the community have felt for Sheriff Turner has been re-awakened by the third trial of the cruel murderer of his boy, and public admiration for his character has been increased by the noble stand he has taken in favor of law and order, exhibited when, last night, he briefly advised an excited crowd, whose hearts were animated with a desire for vengeance upon Hopt, to "let the law take its conrse."

What the assumption and maintainance of such a position cost a man of Sheriff Turner's cast of mind will never be known by anybody but himself. He is known to be one of the most fearless, courageous men in the West, and that is saying all that could well be said in that connection, he having many times faced death in various forms. Consequently it was not the fear of any results to himself that caused him to refrain from encouraging and to deprecate the visiting of unlawful vengeance upon the head of the assassin of his son. But he felt that not only as an officer of the law but as a worthy citizen it was his duty to stand as an advocate and exemplar of good order.

Here was an example of forebearance; of the supremacy of sound judgment over the lower passions worthy of imitation. His heart has been torn with grief by the murder of his son; he has been at great expense in prosecuting the assassin; has spent not only money but a large period of time, exercising himself mentally and physically with most remarkable energy, and if he can cast his weight in favor of peace and law, what excuse can be formulated for those who have no immediate or personal interest in the matter involved in being carried away by sudden whirls and gusts of passion to the commission of acts of lawlessness?

THE NEWMAN CHURCH SQUABBLE.

We have informed the public in regard to the disgraceful quarrel that occurred in the Congregational Church of which Dr. J. P. Newman was the alleged parson. It will be remembered perhaps that the Church Society acted in opposition to and defiance of the Congregational principles, and in that way excommunicated nearly one half the members of the church. Deacon Ranney, who heads the anti-Newman division of the fight, stated that he and his supporters—after their expulsion and the declaration of the other faction that Dr. Newman was pastor by refusing to accept of his politically tendered resignation—would resort to the civil courts for redress. This step has been taken. The Ranney party have filed their complaint, reciting the history of the case and supporting their statements with corroborating affidavits, and asking for judgment of the court that Dr. Newman is not pastor of the church nor entitled to salary since the vote of the church meeting discontinuing his services, and restraining him from acting as its pastor, and restraining the trustees from recognizing him as such, or paying him any salary. A temporary injunction has been granted by the court in compliance with the petition of the complainants.

By the suggestion of counsel for the complainants, pending the litigation, Dr. Newman is permitted to hold the usual Sunday Services and the trustees to hold meetings but not to take any action therein, being only allowed to come to order and adjourn.

At the time of the expulsion of the body of members opposed to him and the refusal of his adherents to accept of his resignation, Dr. Newman triumphantly exclaimed, "I am pastor now." But, doubtless much to his discomfort, that still remains an unsettled question. The issuance of a temporary injunction shows that the civil courts take jurisdiction of the case, and there is no knowing which way they will jump.

NEW HOAR AMENDMENTS.

The following were reported by Mr. Hoar, from the Committee on the Judiciary, ordered to be printed, and intended to be proposed to the bill (S. 1283) to amend an act entitled "An act to amend section fifty-three hundred and fifty-two of the Revised Statutes of the United States, in reference to bigamy, and for other purposes," approved March twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-two, viz;

Strike out section 18 and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SEC. 18. That the provisions of section nine of said act approved March twenty-second, eighteen hundred and eighty-two, in regard to registration and election offices, and the registration of voters, and the conduct of elections, and the powers and duties of the board therein mentioned, shall continue and remain operative until the provision and laws therein referred to be made and enacted by the legislative assembly of said Territory of Utah shall have been made and enacted by said assembly and shall have been approved by Congress."

Add as additional sections the following:

SEC. 19. That whoever commits adultery shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding three years; and when the act is committed between a married woman and a man who is unmarried, both parties to such act shall be deemed guilty of adultery; and when such act is committed between a married man and a woman who is unmarried, the man shall be deemed guilty of adultery.

"SEC. 20. That if an unmarried man or woman commits fornication, each of them shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

"SEC. 21. That commissioners appointed by the supreme court and district courts in the Territory of Utah shall possess and may exercise all the powers and jurisdiction that are or may be possessed or exercised by justices of the peace in said Territory under the laws thereof, and the same powers conferred by law on commissioners appointed by circuit courts of the United States.

"SEC. 22. That the marshal of said Territory of Utah, and his deputies, shall possess and may exercise all the powers in executing the laws of the United States possessed and exercised by sheriffs and their deputies as peace officers, and they shall cause all offenders against the law, in his view, to enter into recognizance to keep the peace and to appear at the next term of the court having jurisdiction of the case, and to commit to jail in case of failure to give such recognizance. They shall quell and suppress insurrections and batteries, riots, routs, affrays, and insurrections, and shall apprehend and commit to jail all felons.

"SEC. 23. That the office of Territorial superintendent of district schools created by the laws of Utah is hereby declared vacant; and it shall be the duty of the Supreme Court of said Territory to appoint a Territorial superintendent of district schools, who shall possess and exercise all the powers and duties imposed by the laws of said Territory upon the Territorial superintendent of district schools, and who shall receive the same salary and compensation, which shall be paid out of the treasury of said Territory, and the laws of the Territory of Utah providing for the method of election and appointment of such Territorial superintendent of district schools are hereby suspended until the further action of Congress shall be had in respect thereto. The said superintendent shall have power to prohibit the use in any district school of any book of a sectarian character or otherwise unsuitable. Said superintendent shall annually collect and classify statistics and other information respecting the district schools in said Territory, showing their progress, the whole number of children of school age, the number who attend school in each year in the respective counties and average length of time of their attendance, the number of teachers and the compensation paid to the same, the number of teachers who are Mormons, the number who are so-called Gentiles, the number of children of Mormon parents and the number of children of so-called Gentile parents, and their respective average attendance at school. All of which statistics and information shall be annually reported to Congress, through the Governor of said Territory and the department of the Interior."

COURT BUSINESS IN OGDEN.

GRAND JURY EMPANELLED.

OGDEN CITY, Utah,
May 5th, 1884.

Editor Deseret News:

At the opening of the First District Court to-day, the Honorable P. H. Emerson, presiding.

THE GRAND JURY

for the term was empanelled without any difficulty. One man only was excused, and that was for just cause—he said he could neither read nor write the English language, which the law requires him to be able to do. The business of forming the jury consumed but a comparative short time, not to exceed two hours. The names of the gentlemen composing it are as follows: A. J. F. Bauman, Foreman; Thomas Emmett, Abraham Maw, Richard D. Brown, James M. Wade, Jno. Gleave, Michael Wahlen, George W. Murphy, Gillespie Waldrom, B. H. Tolman, W. T. Butler, H. Griffith, Jay R. Crandall, John M. Browning and John King.

THE EXAMINATION

Of these gentlemen as to their fitness and qualifications as jurors was made by Mr. Varian, assistant district attorney for Utah. The inquisition was conducted respectfully and with the greatest courtesy. No impertinent or irrelevant inquiries were made as to the religious belief, political status or social ethics of any one forming the panel, and not a single challenge was made during the proceedings.

After the oath was administered

THE CHARGE

Was delivered to the jury by HisHonor with his usual ability, perspicuity and in the spirit of fairness. He cautioned them against receiving the statements of vicious, spiteful persons, who, to be revenged on a neighbor for some trivial offense, will trump up some testimony and present it to the grand jury, with a view to get an innocent person indicted.

In the course of his charge the judge called the special attention of the jury to the late mock trial which resulted in

LYNCHING THE JAPANESE.

This infringment of the law His Honor characterized as murder, and urged them to be specially diligent in their inquiries into this matter and endeavor to find the perpetrators of the foul deed that they may be indicted for the crime and brought to punishment. If such and violations of law are allowed to pass, as in this instance, without a thorough inquisition being had into it and endeavors made to find the guilty parties and dealing with them for such illegal proceedings, no one can tell how soon and how often they will be repeated or who will be the next victims. Such lawlessness must be suppressed.

Of course every lover of law and order in this community will endorse these sentiments of Judge Emerson, and will the Grand Jury if they are successful in finding the offenders and bringing them to justice.

It is expected the term will be a busy one, but the Court hopes to be able to dispose of all the jury cases by the 20th of this month.

Broken Bank.

NEW YORK, 7.—The Marine National Bank is closed. J. D. Fish is president of the bank. A year ago the bank purchased Booth's theatre. The clearing house is considering the suspension. It is thought to be a failure or that it will lead to one.

The capital of the Marine Bank was $400,000. Its statement of September 22nd last showed a surplus of $130,000. Undivided profits, $92,345. John D. Fish is cashier.

A visit to the bank disclosed some fifty disconsolate depositors standing in the pouring rain around the closed doors. No admittance was given to reporters. No notice was posted on the door. The bank opened at the usual time this morning but before noon closed abruptly, without assigning any cause. The stock market is very active and there seems to be connection between the failure and the condition of affairs at the stock exchange. The depositors, judging from the appearance of those about the building, are of the well-to-do class. An explanation is promised for the afternoon.

It is said on the street that the bank's downfall is due to real estate transactions of Prest. Fish.

Stocks Demoralized.

NEW YORK, noon.—Stocks dull, railways weaker, the suspension of the Marine Bank has demoralized share speculation. Large blocks of long stock are thrown on the market. It is thought that several firms will go under. Prices broke ½ to 4, with the Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific preferred and Erie the weakest.

Pittsburg, 6.—The boom in oil went all to pieces this morning owing to the rumors of New York bank failures and unfavorable field news. The market is excited and panicky and the selling heavy. Opened at $1,02¾ and declined to 95¾, closed 99.

Lord Churchill Withdraws.

LONDON, 6.—The sensation caused by the withdrawal of Lord Randolph Churchill continues. It seems that Churchill, after becoming chairman of the Conservative Union Association, ignored the Marquis of Salisbury's central conservative committee. He claimed that the council of Union Association had controlled the conservative party and it had become a cancern. He appointed an executive committee consisting of himself, Mr. Gorst and Sir Henry Drummond Wolff. They, however, adopted a resolution that the council and central committee should work in harmony. Churchill, looking upon this as a vote of censure, retired from the association. The correspondence between Churchill and Salisbury is acrimonious, and it is said that reconciliation is impossible.

A motion for continuance by defendant argued.

SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me.

Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIAN."
148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilde of 76 East 54th Street New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 1882:

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

Dear Sir:—I am sometimes asked by students and others to recommend some good work containing reliable Maps and Statistics. I have not been able to do this heretofore without referring to expensive works of the kind which are beyond the pecuniary reach of most persons.

Cram's Atlas of the World, although not altogether without errors and omissions, will, I believe, in a great measure fill this want.

Its Maps are quite full in details, its Statistics are well selected, and its price is low. I recommend it to teachers, students and all who have need of such a work of reference.
