

WINS SUIT AGAINST BOB FOR DAMAGES

Salt Laker Gets Judgment for $499 For Damages Inflicted By Prizefighter's Lion.

ATTACKED BOY AT LAGOON.

Animal Was Allowed to Walk About Unmuzzled and Uncaged—Tore Lad's Arm and Body.

Robert Fitzsimmons, ex-champion pugilist and lion tamer, will in all probability be surprised when he learns of the action of the Salt Lake City court taken this morning, in which a judgment for $499 is given against him and in favor of Charles G. Birkinshaw, guardian ad litem for Charles W. Birkinshaw, a minor.

The judgment was the result of an action filed against Fitzsimmons, the Lagoon Resort company and the Salt Lake & Ogden Railroad company by Birkinshaw in June, 1905. On the 12th day of that fateful month, Fitzsimmons, who was then training for his fight with Mike Schrock at Lagoon, was exhibiting, by way of side attraction and incidental source of income, a wild, vicious and ferocious lion. According to Birkinshaw's complaint, said lion was allowed to walk about unmuzzled at the end of a rope, uncaged, among the people, and that while gazing upon the ferocious animal, his son, Charles W., was attacked by the lion's arm and body. The lion jumped on him and bit him and tore his flesh with its claws, and frightened and injured him so that he was unable to place him under the care of a physician. Plaintiff asked for damages in the sum of $499, and on the hearing of the case the Lagoon Resort company and the Salt Lake & Ogden Railroad company were absolved from responsibility and discharged, while the default of defendant Robert Fitzsimmons was entered, and judgment rendered against him in the sum prayed for by plaintiff, and costs.

WANTS THE TREES SAVED.

Citizen Protests Against Wanton Destruction By City Employees.

Editor Deseret News: As everybody is aware, property owners in Salt Lake City expect to plant trees in front of their grounds and care for them. Now, this has been the policy since Salt Lake was laid out, and the result has been that we have raised the avenues of beautiful shade trees which have been the principal object that struck strangers and caused them to say that Salt Lake was a beautiful city. Please tell me on what theory any man in Salt Lake City can so ruthlessly chop down and destroy these trees, especially where it is wholly unnecessary, in order to lay sidewalks or make pavements. This is being done to a degree that amounts to a violation of the rights of citizens, and a shameful destruction of property, for surely citizens who plant and care for the trees must have some ownership in them. In the cities great care is taken to preserve trees. In Los Angeles, I have seen them standing isolated and alone, with the pavements made around them to avoid destruction. Have citizens no rights that the municipality is bound to respect?

WEATHER TALK.

June will not have to see much more rain to have seen the average fall for the month. Up until the storm stopped last night 54 of an inch had fallen. The average for the month is 27 of an inch. One-half inch fell during the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock this morning. The weather man feels the storm has quit for a while. Today would be strong evidence that it had for the sun shined in welcome style. Tomorrow, Saturday, will be fair and warmer, says the weather man so today's treatment is to be enjoyed for another 24 hours at least.

Weather conditions, generally, are described by the daily weather map in this manner: The low barometric pressure extends over the east Rocky mountain slope, causing precipitation over the United States. The high barometric pressure extends over the Dakotas, Nebraska, Missouri and Arkansas. Precipitation was also reported in Virginia and North Dakota. Over the north Pacific and north Atlantic states and lake region the barometric pressure is high, causing fair weather over a large portion of the country.

Epilepsy, Fits

Convulsions, or Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance are Nervous Diseases. Most cases can be cured by strengthening and building up the nervous system. To do this a nerve medicine is needed. Dr. Miles' Nervine will be found efficacious and satisfactory. It has cured many cases of these diseases and we believe it will cure you. We can give you names of many who have been cured through its use. Write for advice.

"My son John had epilepsy for years, after having him treated by specialists for over 2 years he still continued to have fits. I had almost given up in despair, but knowing the virtue of Dr. Miles' Nervine, I concluded to try the Nervine. During June, 1905, I gave him a teaspoonful three times a day, then in July I gave it as directed, and I could see that he was improving, and he has not had a spell since August 23, 1905, and has taken no medicine since Jan.-07. I am writing the case just as it is hoping it will induce others.

They will remain in Salt Lake and Utah for several days, and then proceed to go through Idaho. They are looking for the best location in which to carry on stock raising and farming in either of these two states.

TIERNAY FINDS FRIENDS.

Thomas Tiernay, the Denver electrician who was picked up on the streets last evening in a more or less demented condition and who was placed in the county jail to be cared for, is somewhat improved today, though he still shows evidences of unsound mind. He has a friend in this city, Mr. Brown, storekeeper for the R. G. W., who is looking after Tiernay. A dispatch has been sent to the latter's relatives in Colorado, and some of them are expected here soon to take him in charge. Tiernay suffers from epilepsy.

HEROES HANG TO HORSE

Bad Runaway With a Load of Children Averted by Citizens—Some Comic Sidekicks.

Maddened by the toots of automobiles, the doleful cries of a strong lunged banana vendor, the hissing of escaping steam from one of Pat Moran's engines, the noise of passing cars, the wailings of infants being wheeled around on shopping tours by their bargain hunting mothers, and a few other noises, an old horse attached to a Siebert Grocery company wagon, made a dash for the country this morning. Had the dash grown into a runaway, serious consequences might have resulted for the delivery wagon was filled with little children. But it didn't. The wagon South and Main street, with the driver away from his seat. Suddenly the animal broke into a gallop around the turn-up corner. Women screamed and bystanders fled. The horse, with cool head and steel nerves made a jump back at the horse's harness. Some clung, others didn't. One of the first to get a hold of the animal was Frank Groesbeck, traveling passenger agent for the Rio Grande. Frank traveled, too. The horse lunged and plunged, but Mr. Groesbeck hung with him like a comet. A Salvation Army man with his arms loaded with goods, and the animal, he said afterwards he thought he caught his heel on something, for the heel of his shoe was pulled off, but he didn't say what it was. The animal, however, kicked the Salvation Army man's legs from under him. The man rolled head over heels, anyhow. His papers scattered all over the street—and still the horse seemed determined to make a record run to Murray. Four or five big men were clinging to straps, forgetful of the danger to their toes.

The horse vaulted them and two stepped them in turn from one side of the street to another, threatening once to carry wagon, children and heroes into I. A. Benton's office through the plate glass window. But the animal, after the "Private" over the entrance, probably, so changed his mind and dragged his near-captors to the other side of the street, depositing on valiant into the ditch, with a splash. As he was about to enter a fire-sale of hats, his four feet were brought to the ground and held there. The children climbed out of the back of the wagon, somewhat pale from their experience, but smiling at its trimmings in spite of their fright; the driver appeared, and the crowd dispersed and lower Main street was itself again.

CLYDE SQUIRES HOME.

C. Clyde Squires, whose double page drawings have been a feature of Life this year, has returned from New York to spend the summer in Utah. He brings Mrs. Squires with him, and they will remain here until the fall, when they will again return for the winter's season of work in New York. Mr. Squires has spent a busy winter making drawings for Life and for Harper's Weekly, these two publications having kept him so busy that he has been forced to confine his efforts to these magazines. It is only a little more than two years since Mr. Squires had his first drawing accepted after several years of study in New York. In that short time he has forged rapidly ahead until now he has a place among the world's best illustrators.

TURNED OVER TO COUNTY.

Emmett Gaines, the unfortunate young man who was treated at the Volunteers free dispensary some time ago for scarlet fever and later for diphtheria, and who returned with a bad case of dropsy, is to be taken care of by the county. Dr. Calderwood, in the case and will send the young man to a hospital for treatment. It is understood he will be removed today and will be operated upon. He was at the Volunteers this morning in a private room on the door of which was a scarlet fever sign. It was explained that the sign was placed there to keep people away from the patient.

When Pain Follows Physic, the Physic is Wrong

Pain is always a symptom of injury. Gripping means that the physic is harsh—that it irritates. You injure the bowels when you seek to help them in that way. The bowel lining—like the skin—becomes calloused if you constantly irritate it. The hardened lining retards the natural functions. Then you have a chronic condition calling for constant physic. And the calloused bowels demand a heavier dose.

Such physic is wrong. It is wicked. It destroys the very functions that you seek to aid. You cause what you seek to cure. One should never take any laxative save Cascarets. They are gentle and natural.

They never irritate the bowels, never gripe. Every effect is curative. They are as harmless as they are palatable. One tablet is enough unless the bowels are calloused. The dose never needs increasing. Take them just as you need them to insure one free movement daily.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with C.C.G. on every tablet. The box is marked like this:
