Sister Mary Alice of St. Mary's Academy Interred at Calvary Cemetery.

The funeral of Sister Mary Alice of St. Mark's academy, who died Sunday night, was held yesterday afternoon, with Vicar General Kiely officiating, with Vicar General Kiely officiating, and assisted by a number of local ciergymen. The interment was in Calvary cemetery. The speaker con-trasted the opening of the new year with the opening of the new life in the horeafter, saying that both are beginnings, the one being that of a brief period of time in preparation for the life to come, and the other being the beginning of an everlasting life on the part of the young soul just gone into eternity. on the part of th gone into eternity.

gone into eternity. The decensed was one of the young members of the order in this city, and by her charming and devotional char-acter had endeared herself to all who came in contact with her. The Knights of Columbus were represented at the funeral, and the pallbearers were Dr. M. A. Hughes, E. D. O'Donnell, F. E. McGurrin, J. J. Harvey, George G. Doyle and T. C. Laramie.

Story of a Country Teacher Who Came To Town and the Sequel.

Like an ancient inhabitant of his mundane sphere who blamed a woman for his fall from grace, so Hiram A. Southworth of Carbondale, a school teacher, says the cause for his de-parture from the path of sobriety, a bloody nose and the loss of $50, is a frail fair member of the gentler sex. Southworth left home to attend the gathering of teachers at Ogden, but as he was a triffe ahead of scheduled time, concluded to spend New Year's day in Salt Lake, and celebrate the day in Salt Lake, and celebrate the same. He met a couple of "good fel-lows" and they started out to have a time. His friends, Frank Jenkins and C. W. Cameron, suddenly became tired of Southworth's company and, accord-ing to the statement by the teacher, smashed him on the nose and relieved tim of $50. The matter was reported to the police and all three men were placed under arrest. Southworth refused to swear to a complaint and all were re-

To these conditions must be added heavy advances in the prices of materials, especially in mohair, mo materials, especially in mohair, mohair wool, cotton goods, and woolens—in some instances as much as 50 per cent. The result has been a very unsatisfac-tory condition of the industry, boil from the standpoint of the manufactur-er and of the workman. Most of the factories engaged in the manufacture of toys for the American market have been kept busy throughout the year, but other factories have suffered many interruptions from the conditions men-toned. All are, however, now working full capacity and some overtime to toned. All are, however, how working full capacity and some overtime to supply the home demand for the Christinas trade. Just now the centers of the toy industry are busier than they have been, even at this season, for several years past, due in a large measure to the various interruptions earlier in the season.

measure to the various interruptions earlier in the season. The toys manufactured in the Erz mountains of Saxony are mostly of wood, and the industry has therefore not been particularly affected by the advance in prices of raw materials elsewhere. While there are guite a number of factories, there is a very large "house" industry—work in the homes. The factory employes are per-haps a minority and are not so well or-guitized as at Nuremberg and other points. As a result the industry has been less subject to disturbance, either from strikes, demands for higher wages or unsatisfactory prices. The advance in the cost of living has, however, been keenly felt in the Annaberg section, as claewhere in Germany. Locally, however, manufacturers and agents at Martemberg, Olberhau, Grunhalnichen, Wordling how, and Zollitz have had a measure to the var earlier in the season Marienberg, Olberhau, Grunhainlehen, Waldkirchen, and Zoblitz have had a good scason and a fairly prosperous trade with the United States.

At 11:30 o'clock a moving picture exhibition for boys commenced the fun. It was followed by a basketball game at noon between boys from the First Presbyterian and First Congre-gational Sunday school league. At 2 o'clock the newsboys' dinner was given to nearly 100 youngsters, followed by brief speeches made to them by Golden Long, H. H. Runyon, O. L. Cox and J. G. White. At 3 o'clock a basketball game between the business men members and the execu-tive force was held, with a resultant victory for the executive force on a victory for the executive force on a score of 32 to 20.

An exhibition wrestling match be-tween Yokel and Gerarden resulted in two falls for Yokel in five minutes and three minutes respectively. In the evening the auditorium became the center of amusement, a musical pro-gram being rendered with moving pictures to fill the intermissions. Those taking part were the Y. M. C. A. Glee club and orchestra, with Miss Millie Willims and Master Charles Williams assisting. The entertainment closed shortly after 10 o'clock, and was the most successful in the history of the association.
