LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

EASTERN.

HANNIBAL, Mo.—The brother of the late General Canby died here yesterday.

NEW YORK.—Bids for government gold, to-day, amounted to three and a half millions, at 16:35 to 16:91. A million and a half of gold was sold at 16:78 to 16:91. The specie shipments were one hundred thousand dollars, in silver bars.

Susan O'Neil was fatally injured by falling from a window in the fourth story of a house in Eighteenth Street; there are suspicions of pushing her out.

PATTERSON, N. J.—The trial of Van Aruke Bogart for the murder, by poison, of Ransom F. Burroughs, in December, 1871, commenced this morning. A jury was obtained in an hour. The court over-ruled challenges based on the plea that the jurors had read evidence and formed an opinion, unless the counsel could prove that the jurors could not give an impartial verdict according to the evidence.

BOSTON.—In the bankruptcy case of Bowles Bro's. & Co., a hearing was had to-day, before Judge Lowell, upon the question of the creditors accepting or rejecting the offer of Nathan Appleton for a compromise. Jno. C. Ropes, counsel and assignee, stated that the amount of Appleton's assets, as computed by him, was less than two hundred thousand; assignee Henry Stephens reckoned the assets of Bowles Bro's. & Co., when collected, would be from $35,000 to $55,000 in Boston. A Van Wagner, of New York, himself a creditor, and counsel for many creditors, objected to the acceptance of the offer. He was willing in his own behalf and in behalf of the creditors he represented, to accept fifty per cent. outright of their claims. The assignee stated that he presented the offer as it was made by Appleton, and he placed the responsibility of its acceptance or rejection upon the creditors. The offer being opposed by the creditors, and being conditioned upon their acceptance, was not passed upon by the court. Charles Bowles defended their estate from partial and depreciatory reports, urging its immediate release from law and ruin, and supplementing Appleton's offer with a plan for funding and gradually extinguishing the debts. The firm propose to call another meeting of creditors for final action.

The bankrupt Humboldt Fire Insurance Company, of this city, have declared a dividend of sixty-six per cent on adjusted claims. The creditors have until November 7th to present their claims.

WESTERN.

SAN FRANCISCO, 12.—A court martial convened at Boyle's camp, Tule lake, June 9th, for the trial of six diserters; their decision will be rendered in a few days.

Gen. Davis, in conversation with the special correspondent of the Bulletin, on June 11th, gave the following statement:

"When I arrived in the field I found the troops engaged in war with Indian, outlaws and murderers, the wards of the General Government, who had revolted against authority, and were fighting mercilessly, neither giving nor expecting quarter. I then thought that the captives taken in future should be executed upon the spot, as the surest and speediest method of settling the Modoc problem. When captured while fighting against the military forces of the U. S., and as a separate nation or tribe, I was disposed to deal with them accordingly. Since the capture I have ascertained that the authorities of Jackson County, Oregon, found indictments against certain members of the band, but I have not deemed it proper to turn them over to the civil courts, because they were waging war against the Government at the time of the murder upon which the indictments are based and were found; also for the reason that after capture they were prisoners of the Government and not directly amenable to the civil laws. During my command here I have observed that citizens, when desiring protection for person or property, or indemnification for loss, invariably appeal to the authority of the U. S., but now that the war is over and the marauders are captives, both the public and local authorities want to take the punishment of the offenders into their own hands. The threats of the people, and the recent bloody act in this neighborhood, when four old and defenceless captives, en route from Fairchild's ranche to camp, were murdered by civilians, indicate that a trial by civil law would be a useless farce, as the people have made up their minds that the prisoners are guilty. It is suggested that a military commission will be ordered to try the criminals. If the idea is carried out, the officers composing the court should be of high rank, and men who have had no immediate connection with the Modoc difficulty. Such a commission would probably try each case separately, and would require about six months to perform the work, to say nothing of the immense expense to the government involved in such a proceeding. Besides, everybody, civil as well as military, knows that the Indians are guilty of murder in the first degree and ought to be hanged. I thought, to avoid unnecessary expense and the farce of a trial by doing the work myself. Owing to the dilatory manner in which the Modocs were treated by those in charge in the beginning of these difficulties the Indians obtained fearful advantage over us, and slaughtered so many people that the country was astonished and even shocked and now I fear they will get the advantage in the closing scenes through this same fear of disturbing the minds of the citizens of the frontier. Justice has already been tardy in coming, and is approaching from so many different directions and in such questionable shapes and garbs, that I doubt her success in meeting the requirements of the case. The Indians do not recognize the jurisdiction of the civil or military courts, because incapable of comprehending their workings. These Modocs cannot understand what is meant by a court; they have been interrogated on that subject. They would regard a court-trial upon its technicality and testimony as a kind of jugglery, and, if convicted and sentenced, they could not be made to understand that justice had figured in the business at all. They believe they have committed deeds that merit death, in fact the real murderers have daily expected to be hanged. They believe the military has the power and right to inflict the punishment of death on the murderers, and the arrests which occurred in Oregon and California are badly mixed. My proposed course would have settled the question. By a single stroke the Gordian knot was to be cut. The Indians are cooped up in tents—men, women and children, guilty and innocent alike fearing massacre all the time. They must remain in this condition of suspense for months to come. I had procured lumber, chains, ropes and tackle, and other paraphernalia of execution, and had selected Friday last as doomsday. On Thursday forenoon I drew up the following declaration of charges, and read them to Jack later in the day:

"Headquarters Department of Columbia, in the field, Tule Lake, Cal., June 18, 1873.—Jack: since the white men first began to travel through or settle in the country occupied by the Modoc people, of which you claim to be one of the chiefs, the Modocs have been known as a band of merciless robbers and murderers. The history of your tribe is filled with the murders of the white race. Even among your Indian neighbors you are known as a domineering and tyrannical tribe. The old settlers in the country report as many as three hundred murders committed by you within the limits of the present generation. Along the shores of this beautiful little lake, in view of which we now stand, there are the graves of over sixty victims of Modoc barbarity, all murdered by your immediate ancestors in one brutal act. They were peaceful emigrants, men, women and children, passing quietly through the country on a public highway. For these many crimes no adequate punishment has ever been visited upon the guilty, either as a tribe or individually. Upon the contrary, the government has tacitly overlooked them. A few years ago, regardless of these acts of treachery, it gave you a reservation, land for a home, where if you chose you could remain and enjoy the annual bounties of the government unmolested. You all went upon the reservation thus provided and a particular tribe has remained. But you and your band seem to have preferred the warpath. You left the reservation, you spurned the kindness of the government, and even resisted the soldiers in the execution of their duties to force you back to the reservation. You hastened a war, emulating the bloody deeds of your fathers. You too again strewed the shores of Tule Lake with the slain victims of your bloody band. All these victims were peaceful citizens unsuspectingly slaughtered while at their daily avocations. You then fled to your stronghold in the lava bed and prepared for war and defied the power of the government. Still the President at Washington ordered the soldiers to desist, until his commissioners could have a talk with you, and if possible avoid the shedding of more blood. Their efforts were fruitless. After much delay and many attempts at conciliation on their part you decoyed the commissioners into your hands and murdered them. You have murdered every soldier who has fallen into your hands armed or unarmed. These acts have placed you and your band outside of the rules of civilized warfare, in other words you have made yourselves outlaws. As such, since my arrival here as successor to Gen. Canby, whom you murdered with your own hands, I have made unremitting war upon you until at last you have been captured after much expense to the government and the loss of many valuable lives. Now that I have recounted to you the history of your tribe, and the recent acts of yourself and band, I will close this interview by informing you that I have this day directed that you and confederates, members of your band, be executed at sunset to-morrow in the presence of the troops, paraded for that purpose, your people and the assembled citizens of the country."

While I was preparing a list of those whom I intended to execute, a courier arrived with instructions from Washington to hold the prisoners until further orders. After the execution I intended organizing a force for the purpose of starting for Columbia and probably for Lapwai, for the purpose of seeing and talking with as many chiefs as possible while en route. I knew that the prompt execution of the Modoc outlaws would facilitate peace talks among the Indians of Oregon and Washington Territory, as well as California, and have a tendency to quiet the Indians all through the country. The Indians all know that we have captured the Modocs, and they will quickly learn the news if the death penalty is inflicted. The achievement would result in a mutual benefit to both Indians and whites. With the prestige the troops have gained, we could do a great deal of good by such a campaign.

SALINAS CITY, 12.—John Larlberar suicided last night by hanging; he had been a soldier and was honorably discharged in 1868. He had been for some time very intemperate.

STEAMER SPRINGS, 12.—C. M. Collins, proprietor of the hot springs, while repairing his bath, fell into the hot water; his recovery is doubtful.

CALISTOGA.—There is great excitement here, owing to the discovery and full development of a perfect ledge of auriferous quartz, from five to seven miles long, assaying from $10 to $80 per ton in gold and silver, and from 3 to 20 feet in width. The location is an easterly slope of the St. Helena mountains, six miles from here.
